

What's In Chapter 3 of the Coastal Act?

Policies that identify and protect environmental & other public resources within the coastal zone.

Policies that address the physical siting and design of development based on hazard risk.

Policies that identify types of land and water uses that receive rights, privileges, or protections relative to other types of land uses.

Policies that address the types, level, siting and pattern of development in consideration of overarching land use planning, constraints and requirements.