Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I love the dunes, but the traffic and the noise have negatively impacted my enjoyment. Considering the excessive traffic, it is no surprise that wildlife is negatively affected as well.

Limiting or moving toward a manageable use of the dunes would be helpful in saving this resource for the future.

Ending off-road vehicle use at Oceano Dunes is right for so many reasons: reduce noise and air pollution, mitigate climate change, protect dune wildlife, move toward net-zero carbon emissions. Please begin a phase-out process.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

It is critical that we do everything we can to support our coastal ecosystems. It is a mistake to allow this type of destructive recreational activity to occur when there are many other available options. Put our environment first and implement the CCC recommendations. We have to be aggressive in our protections of our natural resources here because no one else will. Do the right thing.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

After living in Southern California for 25 years, I know how important it is to preserve the natural environment. There is so many options for recreation, it would be best to save a small area to be a natural preserve. Keep cars out of the dunes.

Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Our children have already inherited climate change, which affects us all and will take years and millions of dollars to correct. The step to protect Oceano would be immediate and fairly straightforward. We must do everything we can to protect what we have while we still have it. Thank you!

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I once used an ATV on a sand dune. It was fun and I do not need to do it again but what really struck me was the lack of any environmental awareness. There were no best practices mentioned. There were no garbage cans visible anywhere. People were just tearing up the sand dunes and clearly having fun but no sense of community or respect for the region. Minimizing the areas used in this fashion is good

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

Dear Coastal Commissioners,
Please support the February 16, 2021 staff recommendations for the Oceano Dunes SVRA and reject the State Parks' draft PWP/DEIR.

These thoughtful recommendations would finally resolve the long-standing conflict in the dunes and it's the right answer for the Central Coast, from the perspective of public health, wildlife protection, environmental justice, economic vitality, compliance with the Coastal Act, and equal access for all to the coast.
And please shorten the OHV phase out plan to no longer than three years. Five years is too long by any measure.

Thank you.
Liz Murray.....Nipomo Resident

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I grew up in California, born and raised. I have watched so many beautiful areas degraded by development. I have seen the gradual disappearance of so much of the wildlife I used to see on beaches and in the hills. Please save these dune areas from the damage that has been done and all the damage that will be done. Californians deserve some small areas of pristine beauty and the protection of the natural world.

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I have advocated for a vehicle free dunes for over 20 years. Now is the time to secure this valuable resource for all the people to enjoy without the threat of excessive air pollution, dust pollution and being crushed by lawless vehicles. Vehicles DO NOT belong on the coast.

Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I grew up on the rough So. Cal Coast, and I still enjoy visiting it with family and friends. I cannot imagine the destruction that off road vehicles have done to the sand dunes and the plants and creatures who live there! Please protect this precious resource from further harm!

Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I am suffering with the destruction of atv, loud motorcycles and speeding dangerous modified vehicles. This issue is personal to me because these people destroy wildlife, wildlands, home values and make the quality of life for all hell. I do not support these vehicles destroying habitat and the enjoyment of ALL OTHERS to be safe and have wellbeing. There destructiin and noise should not be tolerated. They bring misery and destruction everywhere they are.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

There just is no excuse for allowing dune buggies or other vehicles, except for occasional, non-obtrusively driven State Park vehicles, on State beaches.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

California is known around the world as a leader in protecting the environment, please use your authority and protect this very unique and special place in California for not only our residents, but everyone on the planet as well as for the inhabitants (the critters) of the Oceano Dunes area, they were here before us and we do NOT have the right to destroy their world as well as ours.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

There is no reason to not protect this fragile area. No vehicles should be allowed on the beach. This must be off limits to them so that the rest of us, and the majority of people without dune buggies and needing these "thrills" can enjoy our natural environment without fear. Thank you.

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please protect our beautiful environment and all its animals that live there!

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

Subject: Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area

Categories: Public Comment

The Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (SVRA) is managed by the California Department of Parks and Recreation (CDPR) who encourage off-highway vehicle (OHV) riding on the dunes. This OHV riding destroys the sand crust and produces sand dust which is carried towards numerous residential areas on windy days. In the past this dust has produced the worst air quality in the nation and for 60 to 90 days a year it violates state air quality standards. The dust penetrates the lungs and causes a myriad of serious medical problems especially to seniors and children. The OHV riding also destroys Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

The California Coastal Commission (CCC) staff for the last four years has recommended various modifications to CDPR's practices for Oceano Dunes. CDPR has stalled meaningful action but recently developed of a Public Works Plan (PWP). The overdue PWP was finally submitted last December and has been rejected by the CCC. A year ago, CCC staff stated that OHV riding on the dunes was inconsistent with the Coastal Act and recommended that State Parks eliminate OHV riding over a 5-year transition period. CDPR rejects this.

I strongly oppose CDPR's development plan which provides no benefit to the local communities while burdening those communities with highly objectionable levels of traffic, noise and air pollution. More specifically, I:

1. Support all the CCC staff recommendations.
2. Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).
3. Support the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue by January 1, 2025. Vehicular traffic in the SRVA should be limited to street-legal vehicles only and limited to within the corridor of beach located west of the dunes.
4. Support year-round protection of the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.
5. Support the Commission's actions to bring environmental justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.
6. Urge the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.
7. Believe CDPR is misinterpreting its mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.

8. Find that Professor Patel's (CalPoly) report shows that the economic arguments made by ATV advocates are false and there are excellent alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper.

I strongly urge CCC to chart a course for SVRA that serves the local communities, benefits the majority rather than a small minority of the users of SVRA and that is environmentally responsible.

To whom it may concern,

We recently relocated to SLO county due to the pandemic and we have loved our time here thus far. We have enjoyed our time exploring neighboring beaches and we've especially loved our relatively peaceful long walks on the beach.

Unfortunately we have been less happy with the decision to once again allow camping and off road vehicles on the beaches. Recently when the beaches opened back up to driving vehicles we jumped on the chance to drive down the beach and see what all the fuss was about. We did this a few times and just this past weekend went back to Pismo to see how things were going now. We were troubled to see how busy it had become and how fast everyone was driving. Small children visiting with their families were happily running around in between cars, both parked and speeding by! It was truly frightening!

During your time taking input and comments I'd like to offer the following recommendations:

I support :

- Year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.
- The phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue by January 1, 2025.
- The Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.
- Urging the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.

Given most of the OHV riders on the dunes come from the Central Valley, they need to find a place in the Central Valley to ride. This would avoid their commuting cost and the ESHA destruction and air pollution their vehicles cause both on the beach and during their commute to Oceano Dunes.

I believe Parks is misinterpreting their mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.

I look forward to hearing others comments and upcoming meetings on this project.

Kind regards,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Kimberly McCullough

Categories: Public Comment

Dear Members of the California Coastal Commission,

I have been visiting the Central Coast since the mid 1970's and currently reside in Nipomo. When I purchased my home, I was well aware of the current use of OHV's on the nearby dunes. Though I miss the freedom to walk freely and without worry on the dunes, it was a compromise I was willing to make. What I did not ever imagine would be the proposed California State Parks plan to develop sensitive coastal land currently owned by Phillips 66 Santa Maria Oil Refinery. This plan is so out of touch with the environment and local residents on so many levels, it is laughable to even think they are serious. My thinking is that the State Parks will use this far reaching plan for their negotiations and put pressure on CCC to make many more concessions.

While I am fully in favor of compromise, in my opinion, the CCC has been more than yielding to the State with the numerous extensions they have approved over the past number of years. The time has come to hold the State accountable for the proper use permits, end or limit the OHV usage on the dunes, determine and enforce a daily limit of street legal vehicles on the beach (including overnight camping), support year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA, and support alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper in ways that enrich and support the lifestyle of all its residents.

I do not support development so close to Oso Flaco Lake, nor do I want to hear rounds of ammunition being fired from the proposed weapons range. The increase in noise pollution from the State's proposed OHV tracks would greatly impact the quality of life which brought many of us to the Central Coast.

Please do everything in your legal capability to thwart this proposed offensive assault on the quality of life for ALL living things here on the Central Coast.

Sincerely,

Debra Stup

Dear Commission Members : I retired in 2007 and in January 2008 and moved here to Nipomo . I have asthma and have ,unfortunately, developed a heart condition.

Since I have lived here the air quality has becoming increasingly bad and monitor the air quality from receiving the daily emails from the San Luis Obispo Pollution Control District Forecasts . There are many days I alter my activities and stay in doors rather than expose myself to the poor air qulit- this should not be the case!

The dunes and environment are being destroyed by allowing the use recreational vehicles ; in my opinion the policy need to be changes so NO vehicles except emergency/safety vehicles be allowed on the dunes. If people want to come on the dunes allow them to walk .

Breathing clean air is a higher public policy priority than recreational vehicle use which is destructive to the environment and endangers the local citizens and wildlife.

I hope you will vote to protect the health needs of the citizens who live here and prohibit the use of recreational vehicles on the Oceano Dunes.

Chair Padilla, Commissioners, Executive Director Ainsworth, and Commission Staff,

Although the Commission (thankfully) will not be taking any action on it, the draft Public Works Plan (PWP) is a total non-starter and unmitigated disaster. Pun intended. Like trying to build a lasting structure with blocks of sand.

Where does one start? The draft PWP and its DEIR are: incomplete; inaccurate; misleading; based on incorrect factual and legal presumptions about "allowed baseline conditions" that are not allowed in the manner suggested, existing, codified legal "entitlements" that do not exist, and alleged existing/completed CEQA analyses that have never been completed; lacking in information required for any PWP (like 14 CCR 13353(5), proposing major development projects not even authorized by the ODSVRA's current General Development Plan, and profoundly unresponsive to – actually overtly dismissive of – the Commission's crystal clear directives (aka blueprint for success) issued in July 2019. Perhaps most significant, while giving lip service to an undeniable obligation to submit a PWP that conforms to the Coastal Act and applicable Local Coastal Plans, State Parks appears dead-set on insisting that it, not the Coastal Commission, gets to decide what constitutes appropriate "balancing" and "compatibility" in the Coastal Zone. There is a "first among equals" in the current setting -- and it is NOT State Parks.

With no reasonable prospect for an approvable PWP anytime soon, staff has rightly framed things things in a way where positive, productive, progress can be made through amendments to the existing permit.

As to the specific CDP changes staff has recommended for Commission consideration and action on March 18, I say: Total Ditto, with four (4) exceptions:

1. At page 13, the Staff Report characterizes the Coastal Act and "the OHV laws" as being "co-equal" state laws. I respectfully disagree, and could cite to numerous provisions supporting a different conclusion, perhaps none more on point than Public Resources Code Sections 30321 and 30402 that totally tilt the power dynamic in favor of the Coastal Commission. While I do agree that, if and to the extent possible, the statutes should be harmonized, equality cannot and does not exist where one party has the authority to classify, create and fund certain land uses while other party has sui generis power to permit the use, condition the use, and if necessary deny the use if it cannot conform to rules applicable to the location of the use. The authority given only the Coastal Commission through the Coastal Act is what makes the Coastal Commission "first among equals" in the Coastal Zone.
2. At pages 10-11 , the Staff Report references the proposed Habitat Conservation Plan ("HCP") as something State Parks wants to keep "separate." Since it's conceivable that the HCP could be acted on within the next five (5) years, the proposed conditions for an amended CDP should make clear that State Parks will not be permitted during any phase-out period to extend OHV riding into any areas identified for OHV expansion in the HCP (namely, the 6 Exclosure Area, East Boneyard, or 40 acres of trails near Oso Flaco).
3. Next, thought should be given to requiring reconciliation, perhaps on a sliding scale, between any early reduction of riding activity under proposed Condition 1(a) and OHV capacity limits proposed in Condition 3(f).

4. Finally, in the absence of an explanation as compelling as the one made for phasing out OHV activity, there's the corollary question of why the phase-out period should not be shortened. Why not three (3) years?

It appears that now is the time for a long-warranted paradigm shift at the ODSVRA. The day of Coastal Act reckoning has arrived for State Parks in 2021, similar to another day of reckoning for State Parks (air quality matters) before the San Luis Obispo County Air Pollution Control District Hearing Board in 2018.

There, against incredibly ferocious opposition where no argument was spared in trying to protect and defend the status quo, the APCD Hearing Board stepped up to discharge its duty to enforce APCD rules and protect public health – ultimately in the form of a Stipulated Order of Abatement. The Coastal Commission now needs to fulfill its exclusive role as protector and preserver of the Coastal Act in an equally – if not even more -- charged setting. Coastal Act compliance and conformance, too, will not occur without an intentional demonstration of conviction – and courageous action – by the Commission.

I ask that you please consider the following in your deliberations:

- There is a key difference between classifying and regulating. State Parks has the right to classify (and re-classify) park units. The Coastal Commission, alone, has the authority, duty, and responsibility to regulate uses and operations of State Park units in the Coastal Zone. While the Commission cannot require the re-classification of a unit, the Commission can revoke a CDP or deny a Public Works Plan if the unit cannot be used, operated, and managed in a manner that conforms to the policies, planning requirements, and standards of the Coastal Act and applicable Local Coastal Plans.

- Since 1982, State Parks has conceded the Commission's regulatory role and has subjected itself to Coastal Commission regulatory authority. It may be noted that State Parks does not have any permitting jurisdiction over the Coastal Commission.

- The 1982 Coastal Development Permit (CDP 4-82-300) has been amended several times, each time with State Parks' involvement and approval. This constitutes renewed and continuing acknowledgement of the Commission's regulatory authority over State Parks.

- Laws authorizing the existence and operation of State Vehicular Recreation Areas ("the OHV laws") have been enacted, amended and rewritten (most recently 2017), but none of those laws or amendments ever lead State Parks to deny or reject the Coastal Commission's exercise of regulatory authority over SVRA development in the Coastal Zone. There is nothing in the "OHV laws" that guarantees the existence of a SVRA in the Coastal Zone.

- In July 2020, State Parks received and did not contest Consent Executive Director Cease and Desist Order No. ED-20-CD-01, another certain acknowledgement that the Coastal Commission has not only the power to grant and condition but also the power to enforce and insist on compliance.

- State Parks has been on notice for years that core conditions in the 1982 CDP have never been satisfied, and staff has now provided reasons galore why the situation would be only worse if the draft PWP was approved. State Parks has no basis for claiming surprise, discrimination, victimization, detrimental reliance, or denying the inherent discretionary authority vested in the Coastal Commission to address and resolve permit violations.

- CDP 4-82-300 is a zoning tool, in the nature of a conditional use permit. It does not create or attach rights, entitlements, or vesting in the manner that a permit would for building a residential dwelling in an area pre-zoned for R-1 density homes. State Parks has known that the permit was conditioned, that its essential "term" is not unlimited but for one year at a time, that it is subject to change, and that several core permit conditions have never been satisfied. Park activities has been allowed to continue "in violation" as a matter of discretion rather than as a matter of right. There is no basis here for State Parks attempting to lean on equitable doctrines like promissory estoppel.

- In suggesting and then pursuing the idea of a Public Works Plan to possibly supersede the CDP, State Parks again acknowledges – in an even more comprehensive and current way – the underlying authority of the Coastal Commission and holders of Local Coastal Plans to regulate the activities of State Parks at Pismo State Beach and the ODSVRA.

- State Parks leadership made requests for more time and made repeated promises to the Commission that it would be addressing all of the Commission's concerns and directives from 2019 in the draft Pubic Works Plan. This is another obvious form of State Parks' acknowledgment that the Coastal Commission ultimately calls the shots in the Coastal Zone. See again Public Resources Code Sec. 30321 (listing matters within the jurisdiction of the Coastal Commission).

- State Parks openly concedes in the draft Public Works Plan itself that State Parks has an obligation to propose a plan that complies with, and conforms to, the Coastal Act and applicable Local Coastal Plans. If State Parks' plan cannot meet the standard it admits applies, the plan must be rejected.

- In baseball terms, the Coastal Commission calls balls and strikes in the Coastal Zone – and State Parks is not part of the umpiring crew. In addition, deference is given to the exercise of the Commission's discretion in making judgment calls, interpreting and applying the rules (aka Coastal Act provisions), and balancing rights and interests of parties affected by the Commission's decisions.

- Regardless of classification or funding, no State Parks unit gets an exemption or pass from Coastal Commission regulation in the Coastal Zone. Again, State Parks is just as bound by Public Resource Code Section 30402 as any other state agency: "All state agencies shall carry out their duties and responsibilities in conformity with this division."

- Should it choose to adopt staff's recommended permit changes, the Commission will have an overwhelming administrative record, a very strong, well-stated, and well-documented staff report, and massive amounts of evidence to support findings of approval.

- Each sitting Commission member has the same obligation to uphold and enforce the policies and provisions of the Coastal Act and applicable Local Coastal Plans, to frame Commission decision-making around conformance with those policies and provisions (and not extraneous matters), and to ensure that Commission decisions are articulated clearly and through findings based on substantial evidence in the record. There is no reason to delay or kick cans.

The action the Commission is being asked to take may not be easy, but is action only the Commission can take. There is no other person or body to look to, and doing nothing (preserving the status quo) will accomplish nothing to resolve what must be resolved What staff is recommending is fundamentally and profoundly the right thing to do – not just for today but for generations to come.

Sincere thanks for your service, and for your commitment to protecting and preserving the Coastal Zone as only you can do.

I am in support of the coastal commission proposal for the Oceano Dunes.

I live in a community directly impacted by the environmental hazard that off road vehicles create to the air quality. The sand particles in the air have caused unnecessary lung conditions in many residents. Look at the data...Nipomo has some of the worst air quality in the country due to declining habitat of the sand dunes. The protective plants and natural resources need to be restored to help with the environmental hazard created by off road vehicles.

I believe that there are many other recreational uses for this beautiful habitat that we must protect for ourselves and future generations.

Please make a decision that serves the health of the larger community and our environment versus the specific mostly transient community of off-highway vehicles.

Concerned citizen,
Cathy Robeck

Dear Chairman Padilla and Coastal Commissioners: Please support the February 16, 2021 staff recommendations for the Oceano Dunes SVRA and the State Parks' draft PWP/EIR. These thoughtful recommendations would finally resolve the long-standing conflict in the dunes and it's the right answer for the Central Coast, from the perspective of public health, wildlife protection, environmental justice, economic vitality, compliance with the Coastal Act, and equal access for all to the coast.

Coastal Commission,

As a citizen of Nipomo, I am very concerned about the air pollution from Oceano dunes activity. I have allergies and asthma and would appreciate the dunes return to a natural state without OHV activity. I'm tired of being stuck at home many days of the year because the air quality alert has been issued. Here are my major points of support:

- Support all the CCC staff recommendations.
- Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).
- Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue by January 1, 2024.
- Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.
- Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.
- Urge the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.
- Given most of the OHV riders on the dunes come from the Central Valley, they need to find a place in the Central Valley to ride. This would avoid their commuting cost and the ESHA destruction and air pollution their vehicles cause both on the beach and during their commute to Oceano Dunes.
- I believe Parks is misinterpreting their mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.
- Professor Patel's (CalPoly) report shows that the economic arguments made by ATV advocates are false and there are excellent alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper.

Thanks,

Chris Cassin

The one redeeming benefit during this past COVID year was the fabulous walking on the beaches with out vehicles. Great to actually see snowy plovers, horse's and large amounts of beach walkers not fearful for getting run over.
Living in the direct wind current comming of the dunes carrying unhealthy particular matter, health is of concern to my family.
The California Coastal Commission's proposal is the only way to proceed.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners

Please support and implement your staff?s recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend State Parks? Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue ramp, preserve the plover exclosures, leave Oso Flaco as it is, and all other short-term management measures you have held in abeyance since July 2019, when you gave State Parks a year -- now stretching to 18 months -- to put these measures into effect on their own.

Above all, start the clock on the phase out of OHV activity.

The Park would continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking and swimming, horseback riding, birding, fishing and hiking the dunes; the kinds of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California, with the exception of Oceano. Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park?s closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California?s coast.

The residents of the town of Oceano can?t walk on their beach without taking their lives in their hands, and they are watching the coastal dunes complex ? their defense against rising sea levels ? being eroded away. The plume of health-destroying particles from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road activity continues to stretch to Nipomo and Guadalupe. All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to protect the Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area. You must do so now.

Thank you,

Dear CCC,

I am a resident of Nipomo and am writing you to encourage that you move to prohibit OHV traffic at Oceano Dunes. I am a frequent visitor to the park and walk long distances on the beach. Those areas open to OHV traffic have become an eyesore with garbage, firepits, and traffic. Road signs, garbage dumpsters, and large bales of hay are a constant reminder that this area is not in a natural state. It saddens me to see the natural birdlife trying to go about their normal lives with monster trucks rolling through the sand flying every kind of offensive political and assault weapon flag.

I am shocked that the State Park system seems to be in support of this madness. Their priorities must be money, because they certainly are not good stewards of this beautiful dune complex.

Thank you have having the courage to intervene and protect this now rare dune environment. You have my full support in closing Ocean Dunes to OHV vehicles.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Betty Cooper

By this message, I am submitting my objection to the draft PWP developed by California State Parks for the following reasons:

I believe that the draft PWP does not adequately protect sensitive species at Oso Flaco, Arroyo Grande Creek, and other locations along the Oceano Dunes. My wife and I enjoy bird-watching and hiking without noise and dangers created by off-road vehicles.
I believe that the proposal to expand Parks facilities on the Phillips 66 property would further degrade the natural resources of the Park and would also degrade the economy of Grover Beach and Oceano; the proposed facilities would not enhance local business but would instead drive away visitors and locals from spending time or money in our local communities.
I support the Coastal Commission staff recommendation to eliminate OHV use over a 5-year transition period; to provide low-cost vehicular access/camping on the beach between West Grand Avenue and Pier Avenue; to close the Pier Avenue entrance in Oceano; and and to make additional changes to protect natural resources in the Park, including protections that would improve air quality along this section of the Central Coast.
In summary, it is very clear that the draft PWP is not consistent with the California Coastal Act or the City of Grover Beach Local Coastal Program or with the San Luis Obispo County LCP. It is bad for the environment and bad for the local economy.

We support all the following CCC staff compromise plan recommendations:

- Upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).
- Phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue over a maximum of 5 years.
- Year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.
- The Coastal Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.
- Urging the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.

OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California. Realistically, the local residents, especially low-income residents, only have their local beach.

And of course, another major concern is the effect of the poor air quality on the health of all area residents.

The dunes have been open for decades for good clean family fun and camping. Until Trilogy and the like there was never a problem. There isn’t one now. Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Hello there,

Thank you for reaching out to the local community via the flyer delivered to our door.

I will outline my thoughts to improve the experiences for as many people possible while mitigating some of the issues.

1) Raise the cost to enter the beach via car immediately...it is too cheap and gets too crowded.
That money should then be used to improve beachgoer safety by having more active parks officials patrolling the beach.
Create a safety zone for beachgoers, limit car traffic along the beach to within 100 feet of the tide line. We have too often walked the beach to see OHV use on the sand in front of the homes along Strand avenue. Contrary to what may be told, there are many people that violate the 15 mph limit.

2) Eliminate camping
It causes massive traffic jams on Pier Ave, I have waited 30 minutes just to get to my house and many other residents experience the same
The spending is over exaggerated. We all go camping, common practice is to buy food and provisions prior to leaving, RV's do not bring in the type of revenue locally that the "Dunes" advocates state. Frankly their reporting on finances is misleading and harmful
It takes away from renting local hotels/motels that actually bring revenue to the five cities area

3) Develop the Phillips 66 Santa Maria site

4) Once the Phillips 66 site is built and a new gate created to the dunes, close Grand ave entrance, create parking and entertainment activities for beachgoers at grand avenue that includes a boardwalk to Pier ave.
Allow vehicles south of Pier ave, but no OHV vehicles...require all OHV vehicles to enter the Phillips 66 site entrance

5) Restrict Vacation rentals in the area around the Strand in Oceano. There is not enough room for all the visitors, campers, and day use that frequent on the weekends. The current residents need to be protected. Vacation rentals also take away from motel/hotel rentals and the increased vehicle traffic in the neighborhood damages the roads...drive them yourself and see how bad they are.

If a well thought out plan is enacted, Oceano can be a destination for all families and not just the very small minority that uses off highway vehicles. While they spend a lot of money on their vehicles they don't spend a lot at local businesses. Do not let the special interest group buy their way to destroying our dunes and beach recreation area. Pismo beach doesn't allow vehicles on their beach and they seem to be pretty successful in bringing in tourism...and we have a lagoon and the dunes...use them well.

Dear Chair Padilla and Commissioners,

It's about time! And kufos to Coastal Commission staff!

I am writing in total support of your staff's recommended future vision for the Oceano Dunes. Decades of mismanagement, intransigence, degradation, delay, broken promises, and commitment to off-road recreation over anything else has been a significant disservice to those who live and work in the area. It is also clear that you cannot trust State Parks to do anything it is not forced to do.

Your staff is demonstrating considerable courage in coming forward - at last. I realize taking this stand takes an enormous amount of backbone. But the park in its current state violates the Coastal Act and local coastal plans, causes significant health risks for local residents, and tramples on Mother Nature. Please demonstrate the same courage and approve your staff's proposal. Thank you.

We support California Coastal Commission proposal :
Phase out Off-roading as soon as possible
Non-vehicular recreational access
Implement enhanced habitat protection measures, including in the Southern portion of Park and near Phillips facility

We don't support California State proposal to develop 1780 Acres. That area should be turned into a public beach and walking areas and connect the current Oceano beach area to the North of it. Additionally, a walking entrance from Highway 1 across from Trilogy back entrance can be created. The beach can only be accessed by walking path (similar to Bob Jones Trail from Highway 101 to Avila beach). The parking facilities can be off of Highway 1.

Aloha dear Com

Aloha Dear Commissioners and Mark Gold;

Thank you to the Coastal Commission staff for your diligent attention to this proposed public works plan. Thank you for your careful assessment of the environmental impact report and the PWP presented by State Parks.

The Staff Recommendations are excellent, and of course we want this to happen much faster with both a draw down of vehicular recreation and more importantly with the rapid development of new sustainable recreation and the space to actually do such things on the beach.

Covid 19 has exposed huge disparity and inequalities in our communities of color and has shown a light on marginalized peoples. We must do all we can to effect polices and regulations that create more fairness and offer the most sustainable economies and land uses.

The PWP/EIR offered by State Parks does not consider the times we find ourselves in. The new Public Works Plan does not address the issues of sustainability and accessibility, nor of inequities and negative consequences of vehicular traffic. In fact, the PWP could well cause more damage, possibly irreversible damage. State Parks has proven it is not able to govern itself in a way that is in support of its own mission. State Parks cannot be trusted to do the right thing and operate within the law. State Parks must be compelled to do the right thing.

How can the new plan and the phase out actually do the most good for the most people. How can the Ocean Beach State Park be redeveloped to help reverse the harm caused by years of abuse. I think a new state park can be a real viable economic engine for the communites of the central coast. People will come! People will spend money and make beautiful memories.

We all seem to understand that that continued use by OHV and all motorized vehicles is unsustainable. Even State Parks seems to agree with that reality. At the same time we have no evidence that they will embrace the new future. It is apparent that State Parks refuses to address the issues and concerns of the Coastal Commission and the public. It is clear that they show no desire to help the affected communities of Oceano and Nipomo. State Parks OHVncannot operate within the law because that is impossible. If this is true, why give them FIVE MORE YEARS to commit abuses.

In this world struggling to survive in the midst of climate change, rising seas, staggering loss of biodiversity and extinction, unbreathable air, ocean pollution from oil and micro plastic, rising temperatures and drought it is ever more important for people connect with and appreciate nature. It is the reality is that we are all dependent on nature for survival. We are at a tipping point.

San Luis Obispo County is a destination for visitors from the rest of the state, country and the world. Allowing the OHV community to control and destroy this fragile coastal ecosystem for five more years is wrong headed.

The time is now to embrace a new future. The Oceano Beach and Dunes including Oso Flaco Lake must be protected and preserved for all people to appreciate, enjoy, and reconnect with nature. It's time for a new vision of how our economy can develop to support a sustainable future as a beautiful natural attraction. I believe in this new vision. I so want our California State Parks to be a vital partner in creating this new

Thank you so much for your diligent efforts to protect and preserve the environment for future generations while you allow mother nature to protect us.

Sincere Thank You!

Dear Commission Members,

I am a Oceano homeowner who has watched the madness permitted by State Parks for a number of years with frustration and concern. The abuses are endless and accurately documented in your report of July 12, 2019. Action is long overdue and you must stop tossing the political football. This can has been kicked down the road long enough so it was exasperating, to say the least, when I read State Parks tone deaf PWP report published in February of this year. It is an insult to those of us who must witness an endless number of dangerous incidents occurring each week on this beach. When this "Interim" solution was agreed to in 1982 it was never envisioned we would still be discussing a solution in 2021. Close both Pier and Grand Avenue entrances. We don't want or need cars on our beach. We don't need to dodge the inevitable ambulances, and other vehicles hurrying back and forth from the Dunes carrying the wounded.

Ms. Stehl of Parks, in her public comments, states that they want to perform a "Carry Capacity" study as the latest version was performed fifteen years ago. This is nothing more than a blatant stall and they can save their money. Carrying is well beyond capacity. Lines of massive RVs stretch from the Pier Avenue entrance down to the camping area making family use of the beach dangerous; allowing children to play in the sand impossible and spending time at water's edge, without one's head on a swivel, foolhardy. Is this what the people of Oceano want? The answer is NO. Trucks race up and down the beach in flagrant violation of the speed limit without repercussion and often the abuser is someone in a Parks vehicle! Residents have complained for years but nothing is done by Parks who are more concerned with generating revenue than providing public service. Is that their Charter? Is Parks a For Profit Organization?

They are clearly not serving the greater good and I am sure you are aware of the Parks abuses reported by the LA Times in December of last year (link is below). The organization is out of control and it does not appear anyone is interested in serving the needs of California citizens by investigating and correcting the situation. In our case, the toothless lion that is the Coastal Commission refuses to act despite Parks being in violation of or at odds with:

1. The SLO LCP (Local Coastal Program)
2. ESA – Endangered Species Act
3. California Native American Tribal Council
4. SLO County APCD (Air Pollution Control District)
5. CDP 4 82-300 which of course Parks is dismissive of and believes lacks jurisdiction to resolve via the Coastal Commission

In short it is difficult to locate a group besides ATV users, and the Parks department, who believe continued use of the Park in the manner in which it has been employed makes sense. I'm certain those who wish for a continuation of this reckless behavior and callous disregard for the will of the people, as evidenced by the entirely out of touch PWP Plan, such as Dan Canfield, James Newland and specifically Kevin Pearce the District Supervisor of the Oceano Dunes District, have their reasons but they do not represent those of us directly impacted.

Driving on the beach is a "days gone by" practice out of touch with climate and safety concerns. Even Daytona Beach is far more restrictive than Oceano where vehicles continue to speed on the beach well after dark with the complicity of Parks while nearby Dune residents report riders "recreating" past midnight. How are we to believe anyone is listening to us? How much longer do we have to press you to be heard? Injury has not been enough, even death to stop or even alter this practice so the only alternative is to end it altogether. People have no confidence in Government's ability to act – only prevaricate and ignore. It has been 40 years after all. Think that has been more than enough time to end this "interim practice". Aren't you embarrassed?

Years ago cars were permitted on the beach in Pismo but access was later banned. If Pismo Beach can make this decision why not the rest of the Five Cities? It is true that we are an unincorporated area of San Luis Obispo county but the people who make their homes here should have more of a say than visitors who come to our area once a year, don't you think? The Five Cities has done a fine job over the past several years developing and improving the attractiveness and value of the area BUT OCEANO IS IGNORED! It is a poor community who should have a chance to grow but that will not happen so long as the sand and dust generated by Recreational Vehicles the size of the Bates Motel traverse Pier Avenue. Businesses will not relocate under those conditions and Oceano will continue to lag behind the other four cities. This cowardice is shameful.

The Plovers are important, as are the Terns, but people are also deeply affected. How about taking us into account? We are aware that the Coastal Commission has attempted various schemes to compel action in the past, including those mentioned above, but without edict Parks will refuse to comply. They will deny your authority, even defy the Governor and the Federal Government. What compels you to act for the good of us all?

I have included a few pictures of the beach during and after quarantine. We were surprised and gratified to see so many people enjoying the beach, gathering at sunset, carrying chairs, surfboards, fishing gear and leisure items down to the water. It was well populated daily. It was a vision of the possible. Every other California beach enjoys this tranquility, why not us?

The picture entitled "Gull Hit on Purpose" is as intended. I witnessed numerous drivers after reopening who apparently blamed the birds for their lack of access and intentionally attempted to hit them with their vehicle. The picture titled "Beach Damage" tries to demonstrate that drivers will not confine their passage to a limited area but use the beach as a playground so that children may not. Finally "Beach without Cars" was taken by my wife on a beautiful sunny day and shows people able to set up EZ Ups and BBQs without the need to drive and unload.

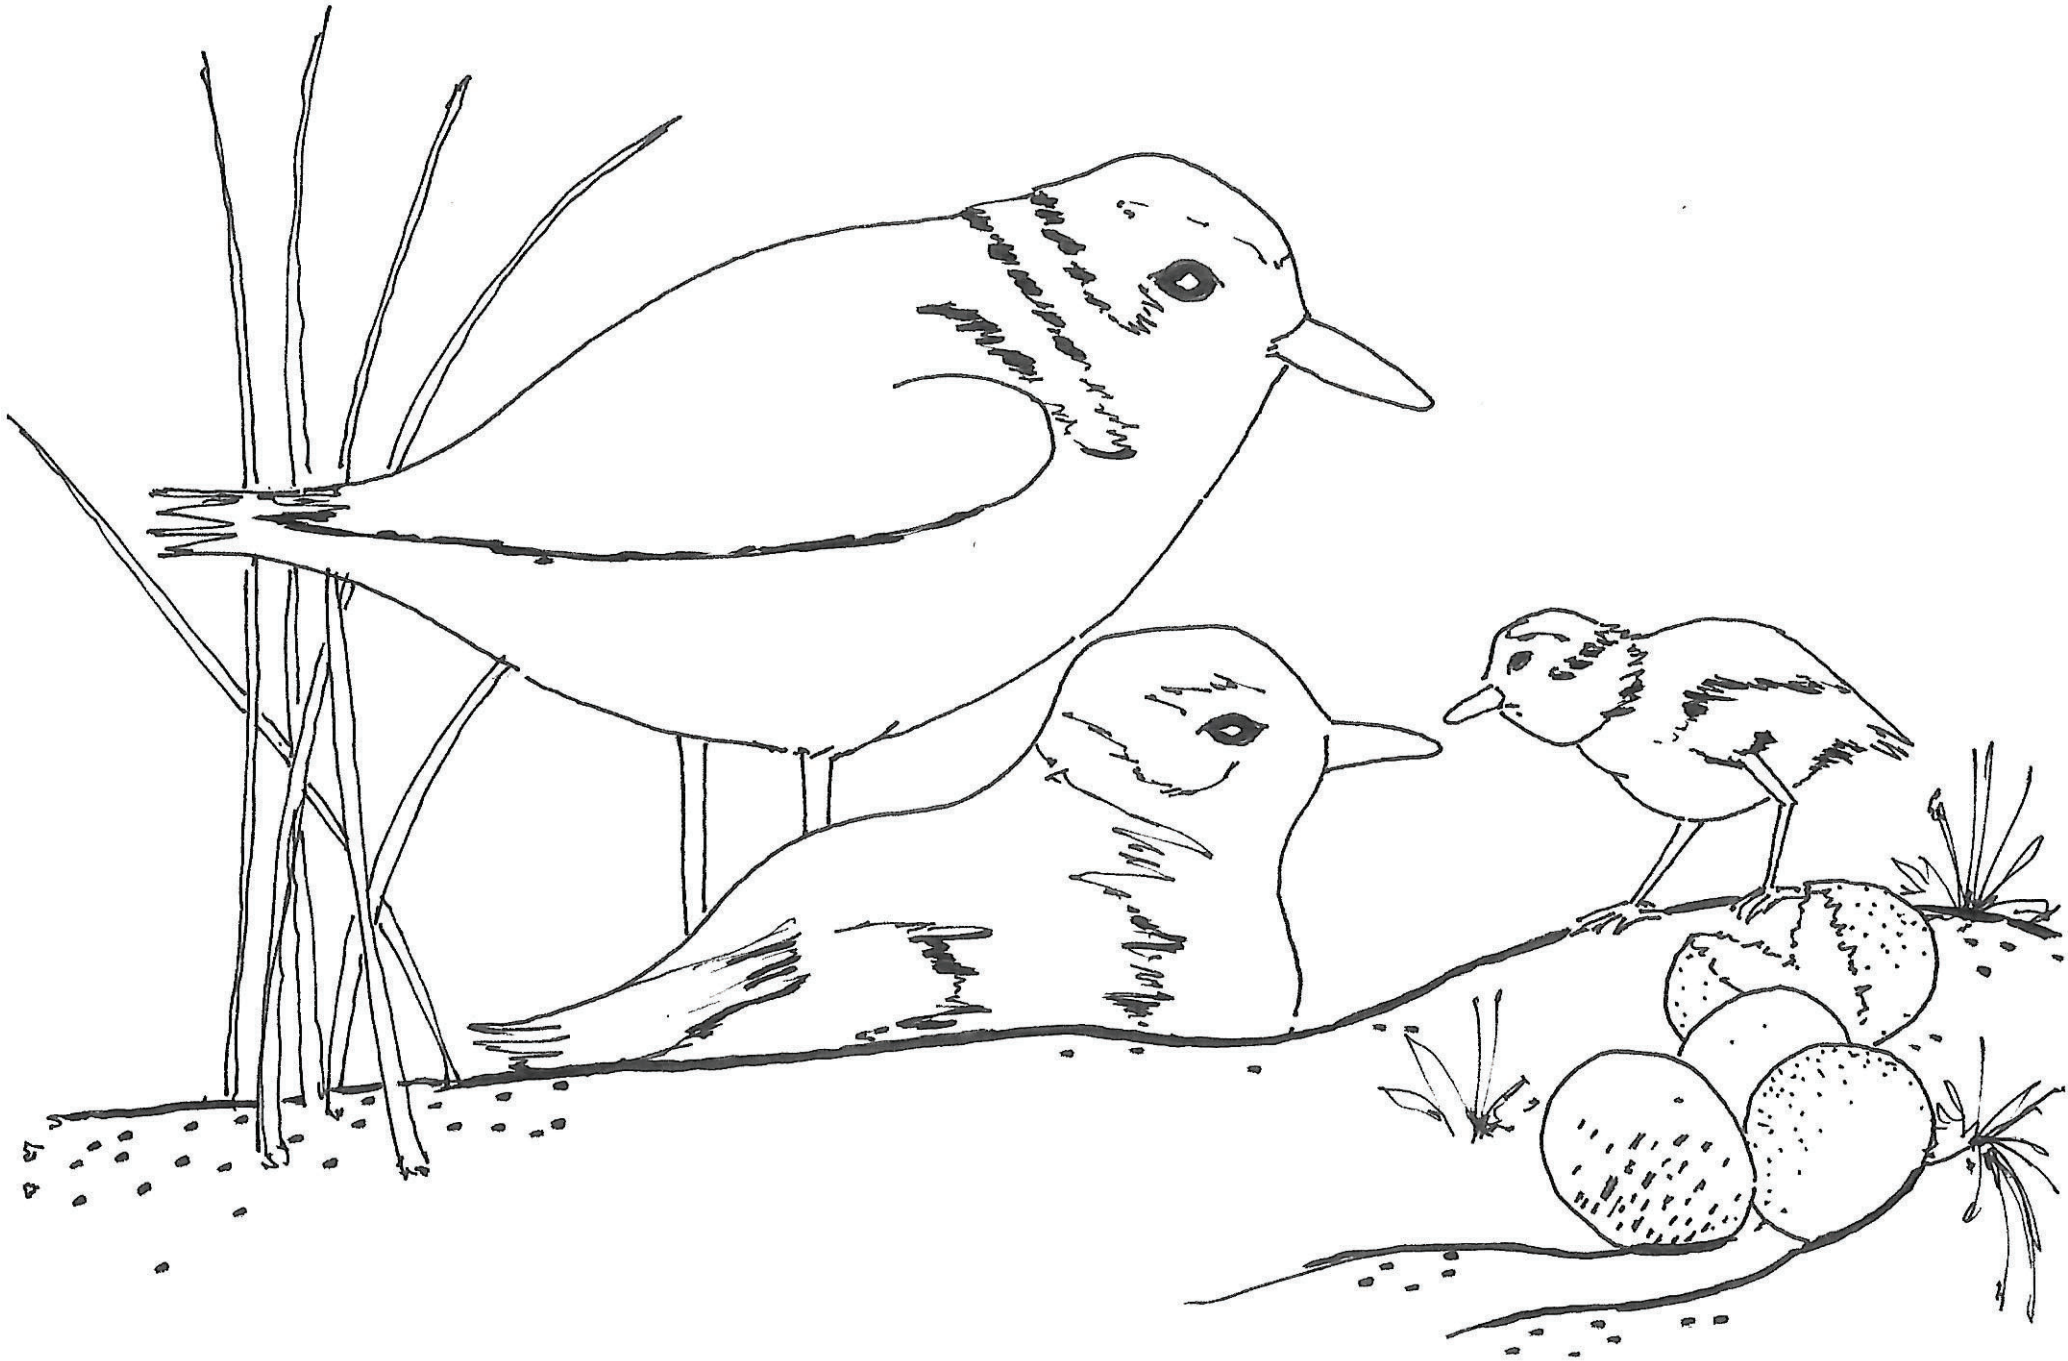
Dear Chair Padilla and Coastal Commissioners,

I am writing this letter as an individual and not in my official capacity as Mayor of San Luis Obispo as we have not taking council action on this item. I write to convey my support for your staff's vision for the Oceano Dunes SVRA. The State Parks Off-Highway Division's Public Works Plan does not address the multitude of issues that arise from its operations and, in fact, expand off-road vehicle riding.

It has been clear for a very long time that Park operations do not conform to the Coastal Act for which you are responsible or to local coastal plans. The environmental damage, threat to public health, negative impact on the Oceano community and assault on wildlife have been allowed to continue. I say, "no more."

Your staff has provided you with a roadmap for the future of the Park that addresses all of these concerns, opens the beach to a broader number of recreational uses, gives Oceano a chance to thrive, protects the environment, wildlife and human health. Despite the opposition's economic argument, the experience of the city of Pismo Beach and its closure to vehicle traffic demonstrates what a positive influence alternative beach use can be.



I hope you will support what I consider to be a long-overdue and much-needed transition that closes the book on this desecration of our area's natural resources.

Thank you for your consideration.

As you are aware the closure of the beach to vehicles did not destroy the local economy in fact people and tourists kept coming to walk, hike, ride horses AND the natural habitat returned. I am 70 years old and marveled at the sea life and nature that returned without all the destructive activities in the dunes and on the beach. Please watch this little video I made of my walks along the beach throughout 2020 when cars were not allowed. https://youtu.be/21cThktkKcA

This entire coastline is God's gift. Let's not continue to destroy nature with oil, gasoline, air pollution and destructive vehicles. Let's create beach spaces and towns for family activities that bring plenty of revenue to local businesses but also support the wildlife and land, sea and air. Build happy playful towns with shops and motels and restaurants and activities that are clean and sustainable. Sure some current businesses will need to change from offering gasoline-powered machines to offering horseback rides or boat rides, hamburgers, fish and chips or happy places with umbrellas, live music and cocktails instead. Let's have a positive, healthy, and grand vision of Oceano and the central coast line and sustainable health, peace and prosperity will manifest!

Please ban vehicles from Oceano and the entire Coastline. Let's protect nature.

I have been a Nipomo Mesa resident for fifteen years. During that time I have developed a love and respect for the Oceano Dunes and surrounding natural environment. I spend time photographing in the Dunes, walking around the Oso Flaco area, visiting both the Pismo State Monarch Butterfly overwintering site and managing the Monarch Dunes nineteen acre monarch butterfly overwintering site. Until 2020, I led a group of Monarch Dunes/Hancock College volunteers each September in an Oso Flaco contingent of the ECOSLO Coastal Cleanup. I hope we can get back to that effort in 2021.

I am strongly opposed to the current State Parks proposal, with the exception of the improvements to the monarch butterfly overwintering sites. Much of the needed replanting has already taken place there, and I would suggest that improvements like restrooms, parking, kiosk, etc. be put off until we know for certain whether or not the overwintering behavior of the Western monarch population is going to continue. I am strongly in favor of those improvements to the monarch sanctuary only, as it is along Hwy 1, does not involve disruption to any other natural habitat and is much needed if thousands of people continue to enjoy the annual winter monarch overwintering at that site.

I am strongly in favor of the California Coastal Commission proposal to phase out the off-roading, open recreational areas south of the pier for day use, and I am especially in favor of the enhancement of habitat protection areas, including in the Oso Flaco Lake region and on the Phillips land. In 2008-2010, I went on several tours of the Phillips property, conducted by the Land Conservancy, which was doing habitat restoration in that area. I would love to see that effort reinstated and if development and public access is allowed, I would caution that it be done with the utmost care to preserve and protect and restore that natural environment. Please protect the natural beauty of our California Coast.

Obviously, hundreds of additional campsites, weapon range, storage facilities, off-road tracks, residences for park staff (well, wouldn't that be nice, free housing on the beach paid for by the state), trucks and vehicles would NOT be in keeping with any of the California Coastal Commissions stated goals/responsibilities. It would only increase damage to an already compromised eco-system and add to the serious air pollution issues in our area. If done correctly, more tourists and visitors would come to the area and the economic impacts could be improved. Bird festivals in January, welcome the monarchs in November, Chumash cultural events year round, all underlining a respect for the land we are so lucky to share.

Please do the right thing, however delayed, and restore and protect this valuable coastal dunes area for all people to enjoy, now and in the future.

As a concerned citizen and homeowner on the Nipomo Mesa I would like to voice my oppositions regarding the proposed improvements for the dunes area and the Oso Flaco area. These improvements and changes would greatly affect my property value and already bad air quality issues. The location of my home is in close proximity to the dunes riding area and already greatly affected by noise, particulate matter and traffic. These proposed improvements would only increase these issues and therefore decrease my home's value. For all of these reasons, I respectfully submit my opposition to these improvements and the full re-opening of the riding areas.

As a concerned citizen that lives in the Oceano Dunes area, I would like to point out the various reason why the off-road vehicles and motorized vehicles should permanently be excluded from being on the beach in this area:

*Proliferation of particulate matter into the air due to the motorized activity is very unhealthful for human beings to breathe.

*Tearing up the precious dunes with vehicle activity is just a real shame! Why allow a natural preserve to be decimated?

*Terns, snowy plovers, etc. should not have to be ran over and killed just so people can recreate.

*Why allow people who do not even live in our area come and destroy our natural beauty? Sure, there are riders from our area but the vast majority come from the central valley, decimate our area, then pack up and go home without realizing the horrible consequences they have left us with.

*Pollution from these vehicles should not be allowed to pollute our air.

*It has been proven that during the covid period where riders were not allowed, the area did not suffer financially! This cannot be used as an excuse to allow the riders to devastate our area by polluting the air, leaving their litter, wrecking the Oceano Dunes habitat and having a negative impact on our already fragile infrastructure.

*Future plans that have been discussed re relocating dunes entrances, Oso Flacco development, etc. are plans that would just add fuel to the fire. Those plans are completely ridiculous!!

Thank you for considering to do the right thing by shutting down the vehicle activity at the dunes.

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Dear Commissioners-

Pismo Beach CA. 1971

This has been going on far too long. State Parks has failed to regulate the Park consistent with the conditions in the Coastal Development Permit from 1982. Since initial issuance of CDP 4-82-300, the Commission has expected State Parks to update its entrances to the Park to prevent adverse effects to ESHA and promote more typical beach access. Nearly forty years later, the entrances remain unchanged.
They also is severely degraded ESHA of unique dune habitat and harming the species it supports.
The public has witnessed CDP violations over and over again, including State Parks not ceasing on vegetation, riding through Arroyo Grande Creek, and "take" of endangered species. To manage sand dunes for OHV use, State Parks has graded many areas in the Park with heavy equipment, disturbing shorebird habitat and exacerbating erosion. There is no plausible reading of the Coastal Act that would allow such destructive activities in designated ESHA.

As you know, ESHA is defined as "any area in which plant or animal life or their habitats are either rare or especially valuable because of their special nature or role in an ecosystem and which could be easily disturbed or degraded by human activities and developments.

Thank you for your consideration,

To Whom It May Concern:

The purpose of this letter is to lend my support to the plan proposed by the California Coastal Commission with regard to the future of Oceano Dunes.

The time for driving on the beach in California has passed. Just as the California Air Resources Board was created in 1967 to address the extreme smog prevalent across our state, this dinosaur—tearing up the sand dunes with motorized vehicles, resulting in unhealthy levels of particulate matter being introduced into the atmosphere—must not be allowed to continue. California banned the use of DDT in 1972, and lead based paint was no longer being sold by 1978. By 1992 leaded gasoline had been phased out. All of these measures were taken in an effort to preserve the health of the state and its people. Banning the destructive off-roading that threatens the well being of Californians, the coast, plants and wildlife is overdue and must be initiated.

I have recently moved to the Central Coast from Southern California where I have resided since 1974. Thinking that this was a good place to retire, I was looking forward to purchasing a new home in the Trilogy community of Nipomo. Now that I understand the severity of the particulate matter in this area, I think living closer to San Luis Obispo is a wiser decision. And in speaking with neighbors, I know that I am not the only person reconsidering the Nipomo/Oceano/Grover Beach/Arroyo Grande area as my "forever" home. You cannot put a price on your health. Smart money will go elsewhere.

The impact on tax revenue for the state and county must also be recognized. Property values are higher outside of the "plume," and for good reason. Off-roading has hurt the local tax base over the long run, and the weekenders who are destroying the dunes overwhelmingly do not live in this area.

Thank you for your support of phasing out the destruction that off-road vehicles have done to the sand dunes of the Central Coast.

Sincerely,

Ruth A. Peterson

I am a resident of Nipomo.

I am writing to express my views of support to the CCC staff recommendations relative to the Parks' Public Works Plan.

I support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

I support the phasing out of vehicles in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue within 5 years.

I support year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including the Western Snowy Plover.

I support the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

Please do not increase vehicular traffic in the Dunes. Conservation of the natural environment and habitat is significantly more important over the long term than any short term economic gains.

Our first choice would be for you to please consider the California Coastal Commission's plan to protect our coastal resources.

If there is a compromise with the State Parks, please take out this monstrous plan for off road vehicles of any kind. Reason: noisy and polluting. Campsites? No need as there are plenty of campsites at Pismo State Beach.

To the Coastal Commission:
Thank you for the opportunity to offer my comments in opposition to continued vehicle use of the beach and dunes at Oceano.

My wife and I reside in San Luis and walk on area beaches at least twice a week. Each time we go, we spend money in our local economy. During Covid we walked on Oceano beach south of Grand Ave., and in the dunes, frequently- since that area was finally closed to vehicles. It is such a beautiful undeveloped area. In 2020, for the first time ever, we saw a small flock of the endangered species- Least Tern, along the beach north of Pier Ave. They are critically endangered because their habitat is being destroyed. Since vehicles have returned to the beach the Lesser Terns are gone. The conflict with vehicles running along the beach is so negative that we don't walk south of Grand Ave., any longer. Its also interesting to note that we often see people park on the beach then walk north tword Pismo rather than south past their own vehicles. Why is that?

For so many reasons expressed by so many people for so many years, we ask you to Please adopt your staff's recommendations and transition Oceano beach and dunes to a vehicle free space. Please make this email part of your record in the March 18,2021 public hearing.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter and for your public service.

Dear Commission:

Nipomo, and the surrounding area, already has the worst air in the Nation. In the Nation. That is a powerful and very disturbing statement. We are in violation of our own state standards. Mitigating the particulate pollution presents many challenges because of both the natural and man-made disturbances in the Dunes. One such attempt is restoring the Dunes to their natural habitat which would "hold" the sand in place. Another, is to reduce, or ideally eliminate, the OHV riders destroying the dunes.

I hope you realize that the Public Works Plan is directed against that end. The addition of cars, campers, ATV's and development will destroy the fragile environment up and down the Dunes and directly affect the health and well-being of nearby residents. Note: the impact of this development plan on the community of Trilogy Monarch Dunes.

Furthermore, Oso Flaco is one of the last serene, accessible parks that is home to many species of birds, mammals, reptiles and the like that are enjoyed by quiet, respectful neighbors every day. It would be devastating to lose this peaceful place.

I understand that the town of Oceano supports the current off-road activity, rentals and tourism, but it does not need to be expanded. It is what it is; it does not need to be more, but rather less. This is for the health of our parents, our children and ourselves. You and me. And for our future.

Please do not approve the Public Works Plan. There are better ways to enhance our coastal community while keeping it safe.

Thank you for your time and attention to this very important matter.

Yours truly,
Mary Ellen McCammon

I would strongly urge the Coastal Commission to phase out off roading on the Oceano Dunes. I support the non-vehicular recreational access of the beaches south of pier avenue for biking, hiking and other activities.
We need to protect the natural habitat.
Please do not allow State Parks to develop the Phillips 66 refinery property and preserve the Oso Flaco Lake area as a natural place of beauty and serenity, not a place to build camp grounds and storage facilities.
I live in this area and pay taxes here locally and have enjoyed the beautiful Oceano beaches since the pandemic forced closure of OHV activities.

I agree with the Coastal Commission's vision of the future Oceano Dunes. I feel very strongly about this future vision.

As an avid runner and member of San Luis Distance club I often run on the beach from Pismo to Oceano. I am also grandmother of 3 children who love the beach as much as I do. The vehicles on the beach are dangerous, frightening and pollute the air. The wildlife is absent and the drunk, wreckless people take over our beautiful beach, especially in the summer.

For a spectacular beach habitat this is totally out of line. It definitely does not meet the guidelines and mission of the State Parks.

For all of the humans and animals please stop this misuse of our coastline

I live in Massachusetts and I also visit my mom who lives in Nipomo. We have taken walks along the trails in Oso Flaco and enjoyed the open space. We also protect open space where I live, and work to protect the waterways and animals that live there, and I hope that you will choose to do the same.

You are proposing expanding the area and paving over valuable agricultural land, destroying more dunes and spoiling an unspoiled area at Oso Flaco that includes freshwater lakes with many varieties of birds and wildlife, with a trail that goes to the ocean where we have enjoyed many peaceful walks along the ocean.

1) It is not consistent with the Coastal Act and the Grover Beach and San Luis Obispo County Local Coastal Plans, which are the standard of review for the Public Works Plan.

2) The draft PWP does not address the multiple issues and impacts associated with the use and intensity of use in the Park. Degrading of habitat, harming protected and native species, causing air quality and public health problems, and ignoring Tribal Rights and Environmental Justice Rights are not OK.

3) The draft PWP/EIR barely mentions the air pollution created by its present operations. Then it goes on to double the size of the riding area and brings the air pollution closer to Mesa residents.

4) It proposes to develop the Oso Flaco Lake area. which would be devastating to the presently protected wildlife and plant life found there.

5) It proposes a HUGE development at the Phillips 66 refinery site that would create more air pollution, noise, traffic, and light pollution in what is presently an environmentally sensitive habitat area.

This plan is flawed and unacceptable.

Please do not approve it.

Dear Commissioners,

Enclosed is a message my little granddaughter, Tenaya Rosalie Rippner, age 17 months, colored for you. We love to walk and play on the beach. And, G-Ma is already teaching her how to protect the environment.

While she cannot understand the issues before you regarding the Oceano dunes and beach, I certainly do and I advocate on her behalf. This letter addresses the first Coastal Commission staff recommendation, i.e., the "Five-Year Transition". Specifically, what does "phasing out OHV uses over five years" mean?

Might "phase out" mean that the current levels of environmental degradation, species disruption, noise pollution, and unnecessary CO2 footprint caused by OHV use continues for five more years before it ends? Might it mean a 20% reduction in all of this damage each year for 5 years? If so, who is going to define, manage and monitor this decrease? And why a 5-year phase out? Why not a three-year phase out? Why not a one year notice for ending all OHV use? This recommendation does not spell out how this phase out is to occur, who is to be in charge of monitoring it, or what penalties prevail if not accomplished.

By history, State Parks has demonstrated they would not be a good monitor or enforcer of any such transition period, especially since they do want to increase not end OHV presence in the dunes or on the beach. So, how would the Coastal Commission plan to monitor a five-year phase out plan?

I think this recommendation places CCC in an untenable position—OHV's violate the law. They are destroying the environment. They should not be in the dunes or on the beach. They need to be gone now, immediately. Giving them another five years is just "kicking the can down the road," or beach in this case. The COVID crisis demonstrated that a total shutdown is not only possible but has primarily positive impacts on the environment, the local economy, and the many human and non-human visitors seeking refuge in this beautiful area. End OHVs.

Thank you.

Dear California Coastal Commissioners,

I'm writing today for two reasons. The first is immediate, the second is ongoing.

The first:

I understand that the State Parks are planning a huge new off-road vehicle playground. The areas proposed for the new additional land, for riding and camping, include environmentally sensitive flora and fauna. I would strongly request that you phase out the off-road vehicle use instead, and consider using the land as a nature preserve. Currently, the Oso Flaco Lake area is a lonely example of a nature preserve that has quiet human recreation, which is more in harmony with the needs of the many animals and plants that live and breed there. Perhaps something along these lines would be more appropriate.

The Second:

I regularly have great concerns about the underwater noise pollution that impacts the many fish, mammals + other animals of the sea. Please always do all that you can do to minimize these conditions and thus create more comfort and ease for our coastal ocean dwelling animals.

Thank you, sincerely,

Josephine Laing

Subject: Oceano Dunes OHV Park

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

I purchased a townhouse in the Trilogy – Monarch Dunes community over 6 years ago after having spent a lot of time on the Central Coast of California as part of my business and family vacations. I know there is a push by some to do away with most or all of the Oceano Dunes OHV park (the "Park") for reasons, they give, that have to do with air quality and environmental degradation. I think those pushing for this are wrong, misguided and I support the continuance of the Park in its current form and for its current purposes.

Briefly, here are the reasons I support the continuance of the Park:

1. The Park has been operative for off road vehicles for generations without controversy, until very recently. The Park has shrunk in size from its historical foot print, so I find it difficult to understand how a reduced Park can all of a sudden cause the problems that some mention. Clearly, this is overreach and smacks of elitism.
2. Whatever small amount of fine particle sand is lifted in the air from the Park's use on windy days is insignificant. I live and play golf at Monarch Dunes just east of the Park quite often on windy days, and it's never been a problem for me or anyone else I've talked to.
3. The Park is an economic boon for Oceano Dunes and surrounding areas, and as is typical, the folks that want to eliminate the Park talk about replacement jobs but always lack specifics that are rationale and have a reasonable chance of occurring.
4. I walk the Oso Flaco trail often for exercise. The trail is adjacent on the south side of the Park. I have never, ever, encountered any respitory or other physical problems from whatever sand is kicked up from the Park.
5. The Park itself is miniscule in relation to the hundreds and hundreds of miles of California beaches. Closing it serves not purpose other than to take away an historical recreational activity which has brought pleasure to countless families over the decades.
6. California has set aside miles and miles of coastal area for protection of species such as the California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others. We don't need to take away another small area of land for their protection.
7. I come over from the San Joaquin Valley ("SJV") quite often and have lived in the SJV for 30 years. One of the reasons I purchased the townhouse and come to the Central Coast is for the good air quality on the Central Coast vs. the SJV. Whatever air quality issues the Park may contribute pale in comparison to what folks in the SJV experience on a regular basis.
8. I am not, at my age, an OHV rider; however, I see the families that make uses of the Park for OHV purposes and I can't help but feel good that these families are doing this together, it's healthy for all ages, and makes great family memories for children for the rest of their lives.

Thank you,

Subject: Please oppose restricting or ending powersports access to Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Subject: A More Equitable Transition at the Oceano Dunes

Categories: Public Comment

Both the Stanford Environmental Law letter and the Coastal Commission staff recommend closing the Oceano Dunes to vehicles. This will allow endangered species to have a better chance of survival, the damaged and eroding dunes to heal, provide safe beach access, equal economic opportunity and improve local public health. This is why the transition deadline date is so important at the Oceano Dunes. We should not have to wait or reward the OHV division again with another extension.

The most important public policy decision left to make is to decide on a firm, equitable and appropriate deadline date when vehicles will no longer be permitted on the Oceano Dunes. We all know that the OHV Division will wait and do nothing until right before the next deadline date and then request more time. A long transition will only cause more conflict, public health problems and environmental harm.

Natural Resources Secretay Wade Crowfoot stated that the "OHV trust fund is not a cash cow for the department."

If we already know that legally and environmentally that this is good public policy to close the Oceano Dunes to vehicles as soon as possible and the financial impact for State Parks is negligible, then we do not need a prolonged transition to close the Oceano Dunes.

With the compromise recommendations the park will continue to remain open to vehicles and have ambundant camping with substantial revenues and OHV trust funds still continuing to flow to the OHV division even after the deadline. In addition, the excessively high expense of maintaining and supervising the park at current levels for OHV vehicle activities, in the expansive area south of Pier Avenue, will be significantly reduced and a majority of the costs will be eliminated altogether.This will result in windfall savings for the division and corresponding lower operating expenses each year.

By closing the Oceano Dunes to vehicular use south of Pier Avenue on or before December 31, 2021, it will transform the Oceano Dunes into a model green park that is both environmentally and financially more sustainable for State Parks, visitors, businesses and for the first time bring environmental justice and equity to Oceano.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Linda Wilson

Dear Coastal Commission Members,

Please close the Oceano Dunes until dewatering is finished. We cannot allow it to pump any more freshwater without enabling threatened species, including tidewater goby, snowy plover and Black skimmer.

Last summer, without CDFW consent, was authorized during the pandemic, and even after a petition of Oceano residents, illegally removed over 1 million gallons of freshwater from the lagoon. Why is this allowed to happen? Why aren't the dunes closed? Why aren't the rules enforced? Why aren't the laws being followed? Why aren't the endangered species being protected? Why aren't the public being protected from the dangers of COVID-19?

It is unconscionable that Oceano Dunes is allowed to run over the lagoon by heavy ORVs, endangering and harassing threatened Western Snowy Plovers. Please suspend the use of ORVs at the ODSVRA. This is the only way to protect the plovers and their habitat. If I could, I'd be there with them. Please close the dunes and give your comments. I'm unable to be there in person due to the pandemic. I'll speak when the dunes reopen and I can safely be there with my family. Please protect the plovers and their habitat.

Please close the illegal ORVing, Sand Dunes of Death on the Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area, and let it begin to heal. It's been 10 months and it hasn't even begun.

Thank you for your time.

As a California resident living directly downwind from the Oceano Dunes State vehicle recreation area I support upholding the Coastal Act prohibiting vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas.

The California coast is a treasure to be protected and preserved for future generations. Don't let it fall out of balance for a few dollars in a few pockets.

So please listen to the northern Chumash tribal concerns regarding the stewardship of this land with honor and respect.

And seriously consider the studies that show the minor benefits of vehicle recreation which are far outweighed by the negative impact to the people and the planet.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

California Coastal Commission

Two Whom it May Concern:

As a resident of San Luis Obispo County for the past 26 years, I have waited patiently for action to be taken to protect both the environmentally sensitive habitat of our coastlines and the air that we breathe everyday as residents of this wonderful area. Allowing vehicles to drive on our beautiful beaches is a threat to numerous protected species as well as the human population.

From the vantage point of Highway 101, loose sand is often quite visible on the dunes. As I live in one of the affected areas, I regularly receive "text warnings" that there is an unacceptable amount of dust blowing into our neighborhood and the surrounding areas. We are told to "stay inside" to mitigate the effects of the dust on our breathing, but eliminating one of the major causes of airborne dust should be the first line of action to minimize the effect of blowing sand on our health. While the winds are here to stay, we have the ability of mitigate the effects of dune dust simply by allowing the dunes to be free of the vehicles that exacerbate the problem.

It is long past the time to put the entertainment of a group of off-roaders, most of whom aren't even from this area, ahead of environmental concerns, as well as threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes (California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead and more). Continued OHV riding on the dunes is inconsistent with protecting our environment and sensitive species that rely on us to protect them. These species need "year-round" protection that is not disrupted by the destruction of habitat and noise of OHV's. It is time we live in harmony and treat our coastline with honor and respect, in line with the beliefs of the first inhabitants of this area, the Northern Chumash tribes. We can enjoy our ocean and beach areas more fully through the use of non-motorized recreation (walking, camping) without harming the environment and the health of the local residents.

Thank you for your support.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We took delivery of a new home in Monarch Dunes, in mid December 2019. Our home directly overlooks the dunes (Eucalyptus Road) and thus we are directly exposed to any issue emanating from the west.

We fully support the ten point commentary that has been prepared. We are in full concurrence with all ten comments, from the full support of the recommendations of CCC staff to Professor Patel's report.

What we, and other new SLO county homeowners are at a loss to understand is: how can you support something that is a non essential activity, that takes place on public land, stirs up "dust" that contains dangerous material, and negatively impacts the lives of several thousand SLO residents, and significant tax payers?

We'd love to hear your response to the application under consideration.

Thank you.

I live near the end of Primavera Lane in Nipomo. This location gets all the dust which blows off the dunes. We were not aware of the air quality issues when we bought a house here for our retirement. My family and I enjoy going to Oso Flaco Lake, watching the birds, and enjoying the uncrowded beach there. At times the sounds of off-road vehicles interferes with our enjoyment of the area. The fact that people from other areas have enjoyed riding around in noisy gas-powered dune buggies on our beaches for many years does not mean that this type of activity is appropriate or responsible from an environmental and ecological perspective. With our growing understanding of the damage caused by these vehicles to air quality and to protected birds, it is time to either end this activity, or at least to curtail it in a meaningful way.

Hello there...
I have lived in Pismo Beach for 19+ years. I have never spent much time at the dunes, because of the loud vehicles, big parties, garbage and pollution. As COVID began to shut things down, I had extra time on my hands. I re-found the DUNES in March 2020. Oh man, what a spectacular place, serene, calm and so peaceful. Let's keep it that way. I am extremely thankful I had 11 months on the quiet beaches with other locals, running, walking and watching the many thriving bird species. Please, please, close the dunes to vehicles! The endangered species and locals deserve the place!!!!

Thank you,
Carolyn Silas

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

David Rockwell

Re: Comment – Coastal Development Permit for the Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area

Dear California Coastal Commissioners, Chairs, and Staff:

As a native of California (Fresno), 50+ year resident in Orange County, and a former staff member of the California Coastal Commission, I support the staff report, the recommendations, and findings for approval of the Coastal Development Permit (CDP) 3-13-1892 for Oceano Dunes SVRA. The Coastal Commission's purview over public access and usage of Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) by Off-Highway Motor Vehicles.

I have used the ODSVRA for over and thoroughly support the Commission's position and recommendations. Pismo Beach, Grover Beach, Arroyo Grande, and the Nipomo Mesa Ecological Reserve Complex, Coastal Dunes Plant Habitat (CDPH).

Over my lifetime, the Guadalupe-Nipomo Dunes Complex is a unique, very special place that is a beautiful and diverse ecosystem. It provides a protective barrier for beaches and dunes from erosion. It includes the Pacific Flyway for migratory birds, a mosaic of coastal dune habitats to house the many, including the Threatened Western Snowy Plover, Endangered Least Tern, Steelhead trout, and Tidewater goby. As you know, related to your review, The Nature Conservancy has purchased, restored by managing, and conserved hundreds of acres, parcels in the Callendar area, including the Arroyo Grande Creek Habitat Restoration Area. The Nature Conservancy is assisting the County of San Luis Obispo with the ODSVRA's Dune Stewardship and Conservation Plan, and the Habitat Conservation Plan (HCP) for the Oceano Dunes SVRA.

To whom it May Concern,

It has come to my attention that there are prospective developments regarding the usage and expansion of accessibility to the Pismo dunes. As a native of the area, I have witnessed year after year the affect of the already over-populated beaches, dunes: accidents, fatalities, air pollution and a tremendous impact on our extraordinary natural environment. I am adamantly opposed to ANY further development of the dunes and or nearby areas for off-road vehicles. Our California coast should remain pristine and not used as a tool for generating revenue.
Thank you very much for your critical attention to these recent proposals.

Sincerely,

I'm a fairly new resident of Nipomo. We had no idea about the air pollution here. What a shame this could be improved by simply stopping the vehicles driving on the dunes. We're from New England where this practice is never allowed. Considering the many accidents, including deaths, that have occured as well, why is this continuing to happen?

I agree completely with everyone who has stood up against driving on the dunes. It must be stopped ASAP.

Hello! I am a nurture educator in SLO, where I mentor children from the ages of 3+ in the art of being in sync with the natural world around us. These children are the keystone to ensuring our lands are maintained and preserved for generations to come. And many of them are only five to 10 years away from making such deep impacts.

Dear Oceano Dunes Review Committee,

I understand how beloved the dunes are to those who come for long weekends of riding on their "toys," my family used to participate in those weekends once long ago, too. Everytime we went to meet friends from the valley, I knew how detrimental the effects we were placing on the wildlife and flora of such a unique area. These dunes are for everyone, yes-- but for everyone to enjoy as a preserved piece of natural space. Weekend visitors come for just one thing, to get some steam out, but they do it recklessly and without thought of their impact on the environment. Then they go home and don't have to think about the footprint they've left behind.

So please, for the love of our future generations, do all you can to preserve the dunes and sensitive habitats. Wintering species are most at risk-- reduce or prohibit recreational use during peak wintering months; and reduce the capacity of recreational use all together. The true locals, the animals and plants, are the ones that have to live with the repercussions, and that is just not fair.

Warm regards,
Kolie Swavely

Dear Coastal Commission. We have lived here for 25 years and understand how precious the dunes area of the central coast is as a natural habitat. During the recent pandemic we walked and shared access to the peaceful beach and dune area that had previously been dominated by noisy and destructive vehicles. In our world there are vehicles invading every space of our existence. Why then can't we go for a walk on the beach in peace? Walking on the beach during the pandemic, we witnessed hundreds of people enjoying the resurgence of natural beauty.

We implore you to make permanent vehicle free access for everyone.

Dear Coastal Commission,

I moved to Trilogy at Monarch Dunes in Nipomo three years ago. One of the reasons that I enjoy the Central Coast is being able to visit the beaches. I was very surprised that cars can drive on the beach as well as ATV's. It doesn't seem very environmentally responsible. Air quality is definitely worse with the lack of native plants that cannot grow with the ATV riding.

I Support all the CCC staff recommendations.

I support the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue over the next 5 years

I support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

I Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA

I believe in equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California.
Local residents only have their local beach.

Thank you for your continued work in protecting the California Coast.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Mike Johnson

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Sharon Hull

Also additionally the aforementioned proposal of closing access to all off road activities @ Oceano Dunes would also very consequently cause deep unrecoverable impact to nearby surrounding businesses that often cater to off road participants & tourism in the nearby towns. During a crisis of the current COVID 19 pandemic while businesses struggle to remain open this proposal does not make any logical sense whatsoever! Be smart about this and do the wise thing!

We think it will make sense for the closure of vehicles in the dunes at Oceano Dunes State Park. Otherwise, restricting vehicles would be better for the environment.

But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

To Whom it may concern,

Living on the Nipomo mesa on the beautiful California coast should be an idyllic experience.

But our health is at risk every day that off road vehicles are allowed to grind up particulates that we breathe.

Please consider these important measures and considerations below:

1) Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).
2) The phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue.
3) Endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others should be protected.
4) Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties.
5) Northern Chumash tribal concerns should be treated with respect and considered.
6) The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over.

We appreciate your time and consideration in protecting the health of the members of our community.

Sincerely,
Linda Del

Dear Oceano Dunes Review,

The earth, ocean and dunes were all created by God.
We have a special place here at the coast where we drive our vehicles onto the sand and enjoy the beach with steps away.

Opening the dunes back up to recreational usage must not happen. The dunes and beaches are raped and pilged over and over with guests who don't respect this beauty.
Trash and crude users fill our beaches, and local streets when they come to use them.
Driving along the coast and parking for day usage is enough.

Let the recreational vehicle users go to the desert and other vast areas that are vacant to have fun.

We've been enjoying the dunes for many, many years but it has gotten out of control with all these high powered vehicles, etc and seam to attract more trouble than good.

Please consider keeping the dunes closed. Let peace and quietness and waves crashing prevail.

Thank you from 5th generation locals of the Central Coast.

Our right to breathe clean air trumps your right to ruin vegetation and cause silica in the air that is harmful for everyone.
You will not be harmed by not riding a dune buggy but we will be harmed by the sand in the air you caused by riding the dune buggy.

Attn: Oceano Dunes Review

I am writing this letter out of concern for our beautiful natural beach and geological wonder!
I have lived in Oceano for forty years and have seen a decline in the safety on the beach and dunes. Every year there are more and more large trucks and off road vehicles that speed up and down the beach. Many under the influence of drugs of alcohol.
With growing numbers of these vehicles, their are few park rangers to police them.
You would not allow hundreds of large vehicles speeding up and down Grand avenue without any stop lights or a safe place for pedestrians to walk. Why would you allow this unsafe behavior on our beloved beach?
People come from all over the world to enjoy the beauty of the beach and sea. They love to smell the clean ocean breeze and listen to the waves and have the freedom to walk barefoot in the sand! Some picnic,fish, ride horses. Kids all ages enjoy the wonders of the beach without being connected to an i-phone.
Besides visitors, the residents who have lived here in Oceano and those that have bought homes recently have done so out of love for the peaceful ocean atmosphere and clean ocean air.
I know that some would argue that there is plenty of beach north of Grand for pedestrians. Unfortunately, with the growing population and popularity of Pismo Beach, most weekends, holidays and summers are very crowded. If Pier Ave entrance was closed, it would provide a longer stretch of beach where people could feel safe and not so crowded.
Besides, the people that live here and pay taxes may have opportunities for small businesses. They could create/design a charming beach town on Pier Ave with a variety of restaurants and quaint shops that tourist would be eager to visit. (Like the village of Arroyo Grande or Pismo Beach)

Off road vehicle recreation needs to be moved to an area where it could be policed and under supervision. Deaths and severe injuries are increasing every year.
Let’s find a place, perhaps the Phillip’s Oil Plant property to accommodate these people. But please let us not sacrifice our beautiful beach that the majority of people and their families enjoy naturally!!!

Concerned Oceano resident and home owner.

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

Please consider passing a no vehicle law for the Oceano Dunes. Due to Covid 19 many more people were able to enjoy the Dunes and beach area without the assault of ATV's, motor homes, large trucks waving flags and blaring their horns.

It is a very sensitive place for flora and fauna alike and, of course, the majestic ocean. I have seen first hand the damage that is done to the Dunes with vehicle access.
The residents of homes in Oceano are mostly unable to use this precious resource due to the vehicles largely ignoring the speed limit, not to mention the noise pollution as well.

It appears to me that the State Parks is only in it for the monetary gain not the preservation of this beautiful natural are.

Thank you.

Subject: THE PERMANENT OPENING OF OCEANO DUNES OHV

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

To whom it may concern,
Hello, my name is Tyler yost and I have been enjoying oceano dunes and creating memories with friends and family for 23 years now. When I was young, I remember having access to nearly 3-5,000 acres of dunes as apposed to the current 1,460 acres that we had prior to the Covid Epidemic. As of the last day the dunes were open to the public, we had access to less than 10% of the 15,000 acres of dunes in the oceano area. The other 13,740 acres are closed to OHV use and limited to recreational hiking, as well as to protect the western snowy plovers habitat. On a different note, according to the Center for Biological Diversity in 2000, there were 976 western snowy plovers observed breeding on the coastline of central California. Today, 20 years later, the population has increased exponentially with the population of observed Western snowy plovers to be at 2900 on the pacific coast. Mind you that these birds are known to breed from the Washington coast line all the way to Baja California per the US Fish & Wildlife service. So currently, the populations show continuous improvement, these birds were listed as “threatened” on the endangered species list back in 1993. The populations have continued to rise since then due to habitat rehabilitation and so forth. I am all for the conservation of wildlife, and the protection of threatened species, but to close the approximate 12 miles of coast at oceano dunes where there is over 3,000 miles of coastline and habitat from southern Washington to Baja California for a small bird who’s population is expanding slowly year after year is absurd. I am for the sand, and I propose that we continue to have OHV use at Oceano dunes for generations to come. As a community, we can come up with some sort of agreement. I would like to invite anyone reading this a chance to see how enjoyable and meaningful to friends/family access to oceano dunes for OHV access and camping truly is.
Sincerely,

1. Support all the CCC staff recommendations.

2. Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

3. Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue. If you feel 5 years is too long, recommend the time frame you prefer. I prefer by January 1, 2025

4. Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.

5. Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

6. Urge the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.
7. Given most of the OHV riders on the dunes come from the Central Valley, they need to find a place in the Central Valley to ride. This would avoid their commuting cost and the ESHA destruction and air pollution their vehicles cause both on the beach and during their commute to Oceano Dunes.
8. I believe Parks is misinterpreting their mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.
9. Professor Patel's (CalPoly) report shows that the economic arguments made by ATV advocates are false and there are excellent alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper.
10. OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California. Realistically, the local residents, especially low-income residents, only have their local beach.

PWP Team & Coastal Commission Staff:

We are writing to voice our objection to the PWP for for Pismo State Beach and Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (SVRA).

We call attention to statements from State Parks Mission Statement web page https://www.parks.ca.gov/?page_id=91

"To provide for the health, inspiration and education of the people of California by helping to preserve the state's extraordinary biological diversity, protecting its most valued natural and cultural resources, and creating opportunities for high-quality outdoor recreation."

"Together, state park system lands protect and preserve an unparalleled collection of culturally and environmentally sensitive structures and habitats, threatened plant and animal species, ancient Native American sites, historic structures and artifacts... the best of California's natural and cultural history."

It is overwhelming obvious that the current PWP disregards Parks' own mission, is flawed and totally unacceptable.

We agree with Concerned Citizens for Clean Air that the PWP should not and cannot be approved for the following reasons among others:

1. It is not consistent with the Coastal Act and the Grover Beach and San Luis Obispo County Local Coastal Plans, which are the standard of review for the Public Works Plan.

2. The draft PWP does not address the multiple issues and impacts associated with the use and intensity of use in the Park. Degrading of habitat, harming protected and native species, causing air quality and public health problems, and ignoring Tribal Rights and Environmental Justice Rights, are not OK.

3. The draft PWP/EIR barely mentions the air pollution created by its present operations. Then it goes on to double the size of the riding area and brings the air pollution closer to Mesa residents.

4. It proposes to develop the Oso Flaco Lake area. which would be devastating to the presently protected wildlife and plant life found there.

5. It proposes a HUGE development at the Phillips 66 refinery site that would create more air pollution, noise, traffic, and light pollution in what is presently environmentally sensitive habitat area.

We support the current recommendations of the California Coastal Commission including and especially:

1. Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue in 5 years, preferably sooner.

2. Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

Further, we believe that Parks is completely misinterpreting their own mission and mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding. There are many more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.

We have lived in or near California beach communities for nearly 40 years and are staggered that the beautiful beaches in our current community are treated with such disrespect by the very agency that is charged with protected them. To those that make economic arguments about the necessity of OHV, we disagree. It's the beach! People will visit and patronize local businesses regardless. Just look at the historic development and prosperity of beach communities communities like Newport Beach, Huntington Beach and Seal Beach. OHV riding is holding our community back from similar development, growth and prosperity!

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. I am writing to lend my support to the California Coastal Commission's actions to bring Environmental justice and coastal access & recreation, equitably to the communities of San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties which are under represented by the Off-Highway Motorized Vehicle Recreation Division of California Parks and Recreation (Parks).

I believe that studies performed outside the Parks jurisdiction indicate that there is more benefit, or at least as much benefit, in closing down the OHV areas which add to the poor air quality on the Nipomo Mesa where I reside. Should OHV enthusiasts wish to recreate on sand, there are other areas in California with less sensitive habitat in which to do so - Habitat that doesn't affect the California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover and California Red-Legged frog to name just a few. The Park's reckless disregard for the environment baffles not just me, but others such as the Northern Chumash Indian tribe, and local citizens who would prefer to use the beach area in a quiet, safe manner.

In addition, I support phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue and I believe this should be completed by January, 2025.
The top priority of the State Parks should be to provide a safe, clean, enjoyable experience for anyone who would like to peacefully enjoy the natural, ever-shifting beauty of the dunes - Not destroy the environment for financial gain with complete disregard for those who would otherwise plan to enjoy it.

Thank you for your time,

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please do the following:

Support all the CCC staff recommendations.

Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue by January 1, 2025

Dear Members of the CCC

It is about time that you stop enabling the State Parks to defiently evade responsibility to work with the local community to mitigate the dire effects of dune buggies on residence & the environment.

Under no conditions should State Parks be allowed continue to operate the park in the requeless & disrespectful mannert that they have for the last 40 years.

The Park should be shut down until such time that a plan be approved by your agency that respects everyone concerned.

Please do the right thing.

PS. I have every reason to believe you will cave. A special shout out to "Mr Kick the can down the road”

As a senior Nipomo resident I very much concerned about the poor air quality and associated health risk due to OHV operations. Additionally the quality for us locals to enjoy our beach is hampered greatly by the Central Valley residents that come here instead of staying near their homes. The noise and constant reckless driving ruins the day. Why would we allow vehicles at all to endanger the sensitive environment?

Please, let's protect our dunes and greatly improve the quality of the beach.

I am writing in support of California Coastal Commission staff recommendations to eliminate OHV riding on the Oceano Dunes State vehicle recreation area over a 5 year period.

My wife and I (both retired) live on the Nipomo Mesa downwind from this area and directly experience the huge negative impact that OHV riding has created for air quality in our community. Air Quality Index Maps showing Nipomo as the worst in the nation is beyond comprehension and reflect seriously misplaced priorities for our citizens. The impact on health and quality of life is real and tangible. There are times when we cannot leave our home because of the degraded air quality. It is past time for the Commission to do the right thing for the vast majority of citizens in this area as well as protect the sensitive habitats that are obliterated by the OHV usage.

Being able to access and utilize our marvelous beach areas is a big reason we live here. OHV usage makes these beach areas unusable for ANY other groups or usage and, in particular, keeps local residents of modest means from being able to enjoy the beach.

We've seen the counter argument from the OHV community warning of a huge negative impact on the local economy (as well as the recent SLO Tribune article debunking that claim). Theirs is a spurious argument intended to reserve a big swath of beach area for use by a limited clientele. We would like to share our experience with living in another beach area that we think is relevant to the Central Coast: We owned a beach condo in the Florida Panhandle area (Panama City Beach) for many years. Population in that area of the state is similar to this area. NO vehicular usage of the beaches was allowed and the resulting economic benefit for the area was hugely positive. There are many more people who want to spend the time (and money) staying/playing/recreating at the beach than there are OHV riders. The area economy will actually thrive better without the OHV usle.

Plus the OHV community does have other options: 70 other public OHV areas in California plus eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding.

Please do the right thing for the vast majority of the citizens in this area by implementing the CCC staff recommendations and preventing any further degradation of air quality in our area.

To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing to you as a resident of Grover Beach, a community near the Oceano Dunes parks and beach. My husband and I moved to the Five Cities area for its natural beauty, for a wonderful job opportunity at Cal Poly, and to enjoy a kinder, slower pace of life. We are looking forward to being members of this community for the rest of our lives.

The period between March 2020 and October 2020 when the dunes were closed to all vehicles was difficult; I had to chaotically start teaching all my courses online and somehow support my students during intense personal and professional problems, and my husband had to transition to a new job. Taking a relaxing walk on the dunes was our only respite. The fresh air, the movement, and the amazing ecosystem kept us both going.

The dunes came back to life during those times. We observed the wildlife blossom and breathe a sigh of relief. We also observed the community share in the dunes in ways we hadn't before. There were many young families taking a much needed break from online learning, people walking their dogs, or simply taking in the sun. Personally, I started to learn how to surf! I spoke with one kind stranger who told me she had only ever interacted with the dunes from her truck. She was amazed with how different it was interacting with the dunes and the beach on foot, and how much of the nuanced beauty she missed. I was grateful that our community was seeing how we can reprioritize or reexamine the ways we interact with nature and one another.

Now, the beach at Oceano Dunes has turned back into a highway. It is difficult to take walks because there is always a fear of drivers in cars being unable to see you. The wildlife is gone. It is no longer easy to access the beach for on-foot recreation, not to mention the oil slicks and fast-food containers now littering the beach. There is nothing on the beach that can be truly enjoyed on outside of a vehicle any more. The Coastal Commission itself has determined that off-road and vehicular recreation and an environmentally sustainable stewardship of this area are incompatible in this 2019 report (link)

We have already given up so much public space to vehicles. This recent article from The Atlantic (link) eloquently describes the way that single-occupancy vehicles have completed domineered the creation of urban landscapes. It seems unreasonable to me to have vehicles dictate the structure of rural and natural landscapes as well.

I realize some of the arguments others have made in support of vehicular recreation at Oceano Dunes was economic in nature. I am definitely sympathetic to the difficult financial and economic realities of others. Fortunately, a colleague of mine at Cal Poly, Dr. Pratish Patel, has published definitive evidence that, in fact, lodging revenue has increased during the time the dunes were closed for off-vehicle recreation. Professor Patel calls this "smoking gun evidence" that the economic recovery and robustness of the area is not tied to off-road vehicular recreation, but pedestrian and other human-powered recreation such as biking, surfing, walking, and swimming. You can read more about that in this article in the San Luis Obispo Tribune (link). These are simply facts and hard data that support the closing of the dunes to vehicular recreation without negative economic impact to the area. In fact, we stand to improve economically! This study also resonates with my personal experience. Were it not for my residency in Grover Beach, I would never go out of my way to go to Oceano Dunes to try to relax in a parking lot.

Thus, I urge you to taking into account the environmental impact, the economic evidence, and, most importantly, the local community members of the Oceano Dunes area—people like me--- who are advocating for a livable space. Let the community's needs resonate above misguided and incorrect narratives.

Sincerely,
Laura Ríos

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

We need all Coastal Regulations upheld to clean up our air here on the Mesa. Stop the selfish people who think riding vehicles on our sand dunes is acceptable…IT IS NOT!

We have thousands of acres available for such activity on our California deserts. Many of us are suffering from the abuse caused by the poor air quality blown at us eery day from the Dunes…STOP IT!

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

Please prohibit driving OHV on the Oceano dunes as the air quality in Nipomo is excessively high, as the Coastal Commission has determined, along with the Coastal Act and the San Luis Obispo County n Grove Beach Local Coastal plans.

Since the pandemic the air quality has been much better since there was no vehicles driving on the dunes in Oceano. We live in the Trilogy development on the Mesa. We are also against any other development that would bring RV's and cars to our main road Willow. We support all the CCC staff recommendations.

Dear CCC,

My wife Jan and I live in Nipomo, directly downwind from the off-road section of the Oceano Dunes beach.

1. We support all the CCC staff recommendations regarding phasing out off road vehicles on the beach. Cars and trucks on the beach destroy the native vegetation and bird nests.

2. We support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

3. We support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue as soon as possible. We also support NO driving on the beach around here. We want the beach for the 280,000 residents of SLO County.

4. We support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California You know the names of the species involved, so I will not repeat.

Thank you for your time reading this.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

John Bengtson

As a Trilogy resident I:

1. Support all the CCC staff recommendations.

2. Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

3. Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue. If you feel 5 years is too long, recommend the time frame you prefer. I prefer by January 1, 2025

4. Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.

5. Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

6. Urge the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.
7. Given most of the OHV riders on the dunes come from the Central Valley, they need to find a place in the Central Valley to ride. This would avoid their commuting cost and the ESHA destruction and air pollution their vehicles cause both on the beach and during their commute to Oceano Dunes.
8. I believe Parks is misinterpreting their mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.
9. Professor Patel's (CalPoly) report shows that the economic arguments made by ATV advocates are false and there are excellent alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper.
10. OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California. Realistically, the local residents, especially low-income residents, only have their local beach.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

James Miller

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Denise Dorey

Dear Commissioners and interested participants,

I live in Trilogy Monarch Dunes. The continued allowance of vehicles operating in environmentally sensitive habitat areas defies logic. First it contributes to unhealthy air quality in the region and second it damages highly sensitive environmental conditions and threatens various endangered species.
Continuing to allow OHV activities in these areas conducted by primarily people who reside in the Central Valley, is unfair to the local residents, despite arguments that the OHV people were here first. That is a ridiculous argument. If a course of conduct is inappropriate but has been allowed doesn't grandfather that bad conduct in perpetuity. Simply put, our beautiful pristine beaches that should be accessible to everyone should not be overrun by gas guzzling machines breaking the crust on the dunes thereby allowing dangerous particulates to escape into the air we are breathing. There are certainly more appropriate areas far away from the ocean for such activity. There must be a good reason that 99.99% of all the beaches in the United States don't allow vehicular traffic. I request a quick phaseout of these OHV activities on the Oceano Dunes and object to any requested expansion of these activities by State Parks.

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Jimmy Richardson

Re: Oceano Dunes Review

From: Ed and Susan Cox; 931 Jacqueline Pl., Nipomo, CA

- I write in support of the CCC Staff recommendations for the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).
- The staff recommended a five-year phase-out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue, Oceano, CA. I encourage you to make the phase-out faster.
- The Oceano Dunes habitat for endangered species includes many natural species, which are in danger of extinction if their habitat is not protected. Imagine their plight as a family of five drives their OHVs through their habitat! I support year-round protection for these species.
- In addition to the animal species at risk, the natural vegetation that holds down the sand cannot grow while being bombarded by OHVs. This results in increased sand particles being blown by the offshore winds onto large areas of the Central Coast, creating the worst air quality in the nation on many days per year. Why do you want to permit this? Because of the vocal outcries of the OHV community?
- Granted, it is exciting to ride on beach sand versus desert sand, but there are many other opportunities for OHV enthusiasts to camp and ride in California.
- Phasing out the OHV riders on the beach would then allow the locals as well as tourists to safely walk and camp on the beach while protecting the indigenous animals and allowing the vegetation to gradually return. This approach serves those who live on the Central Coast and have a great interest in protecting our natural habitats.
- I urge you to adopt your Staff's recommendations and not be swayed by the highly energetic voices of the OHV-ATV advocates.

Thank you for your attention to this serious issue.

Nipomo, CA

P.S. Is it safe to assume that all the members of the Coastal Commission are free of financial interests in the OHV-ATV businesses and are therefore truly objective?

1. Support all the CCC staff recommendations!

2. Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA)!

3. Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue by January 1, 2023.

4. Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.

5. Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

6. Listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect. We should all be treated with honor and respect!!

7. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. I enjoy walking the beach and have personally felt threatened by the big trucks that speed closely by me. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.

Bottom line: THE PARKS DEPARTMENT HAS HAD YEARS (AND YEARS) TO COMPLY AND OFFER SOLUTIONS! THEY HAVEN'T AND THEIR TRACK RECORD INDICATES TO ME THAT THEY DO NOT INTENT TO COMPLY. PLEASE BRING AND END TO THIS SERIOUS MATTER.

Thank you for reading my comments.

Subject: Please Vote for Clean Air for the Central Coast

Categories: Public Comment

Dear Coastal Commission:

As a Central Coast Resident and local business person, I URGE YOU TO Vote For CLEAN AIR FOR THE CENTRAL COAST.

I, along with my Central Coast family and friends:

1. Support all the CCC staff recommendations.

2. Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

3. Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue. If you feel 5 years is too long, recommend the time frame you prefer. I prefer by January 1, 2025

4. Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.

5. Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

6. Urge the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.
7. Given most of the OHV riders on the dunes come from the Central Valley, they need to find a place in the Central Valley to ride. This would avoid their commuting cost and the ESHA destruction and air pollution their vehicles cause both on the beach and during their commute to Oceano Dunes.
8. I believe Parks is misinterpreting their mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.
9. Professor Patel's (CalPoly) report shows that the economic arguments made by ATV advocates are false and there are excellent alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper.
10. OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California. Realistically, the local residents, especially low-income residents, only have their local beach.

Respectfully….

Subject: Comments on State Parks PWP

Categories: Public Comment

I wish to express my objections to virtually all of the most recent State Parks PWP for the Oceano Dunes area. State Parks continues their tone deaf approach to the Dunes, with no regard for the health and well being of the people that actually live in the area.

Specifically:
1. I support all of the CCC Staff recommendations on the subject.

2. I think that all off road vehicles should be banned from the dunes, and all other vehicles should be severely restricted.

3. The evidence is clear that vehicles on the dunes are causing unhealthy air downwind. Since I live downwind from the dunes this is a particular concern to me. There are many days when the air is too unhealthy for us to venture outdoors. In good conscience, how can this be allowed to continue?

3. The proposed plan for the Oso Flaco lake area is completely out of touch, environmentally dangerous, and again ignores the residents of the area.

4. The proposal ignores the desires of nearby citizens who want to walk or camp on the beach without worrying about being run over by an OHV. There are far more such citizens than there are OHV riders.

5. The concerns of the Northern Chumash Tribe for their sacred sites should not be ignored.

6. OHV riders have eight other inland parks and 70 other public areas that allow OHV riding. Closing the dunes does not deprive them of places to ride.

In conclusion, I hope you will listen to the local residents, who are most affected by the current situation, and not the OHV lobbying group.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As a 5 year neighbor of the Oceano Dunes SVRA, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

Living approximately 3 miles from the dunes, I could hear the ATVs occasionally, but never in 5 years did I experience any dust issues. I believe the dunes provide a vital role in our local economy.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California. Realistically, the local residents, especially low-income residents, only have their local beach .

Dear Coastal Commission:

As a Central Coast Resident and local business person, I URGE YOU TO Vote For CLEAN AIR FOR THE CENTRAL COAST.

I, along with my Central Coast family and friends:

1. Support all the CCC staff recommendations.

2. Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).

3. Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue. If you feel 5 years is too long, recommend the time frame you prefer. I prefer by January 1, 2025

4. Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.

5. Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.

6. Urge the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.
7. Given most of the OHV riders on the dunes come from the Central Valley, they need to find a place in the Central Valley to ride. This would avoid their commuting cost and the ESHA destruction and air pollution their vehicles cause both on the beach and during their commute to Oceano Dunes.
8. I believe Parks is misinterpreting their mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.
9. Professor Patel's (CalPoly) report shows that the economic arguments made by ATV advocates are false and there are excellent alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper.

10. OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California. Realistically, the local residents, especially low-income residents, only have their local beach.

Sincerely,

I wholeheartedly support the CCC recommendations.
Have you considered more regulation of the way the off road vehicles are driven. It should not be an opportunity for an adrenaline rush. Maybe marked roads, slow down and enjoy the scenery. They tear up property wherever they ride.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Greetings:

As a resident of Nipomo I request and urge that you please consider these points:

1. Support all the CCC staff recommendations.
2. Support upholding the Coastal Act and San Luis Obispo County and Grover Beach Local Coastal Plans which prohibit vehicles driving in Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas (ESHA).
3. Support for the phasing out of vehicles driving in EHSA, south of Pier Avenue. If you feel 5 years is too long, recommend the time frame you prefer. I prefer by January 1, 2025
4. Support for year-round protection for the threatened and endangered species found in the Oceano Dunes ESHA including California Least Tern, Western Snowy Plover, California Red-legged frog, Tidewater goby, Steelhead, and others.
5. Support for the Commission's actions to bring Environmental Justice and equitable coastal access and recreation to the underserved communities in San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties as well as the rest of California.
6. Urge the Commission to listen to Northern Chumash tribal concerns and take steps to treat their sacred sites with honor and respect.
7. Given most of the OHV riders on the dunes come from the Central Valley, they need to find a place in the Central Valley to ride. This would avoid their commuting cost and the ESHA destruction and air pollution their vehicles cause both on the beach and during their commute to Oceano Dunes.
8. I believe Parks is misinterpreting their mandate. The top priority should be to provide recreation for the nearby citizens who want to walk and camp on the beach. These citizens cannot walk or camp on the beach when OHVs are riding for fear of being run over. There are a lot more citizens who want to be able to walk on the beach than OHV riders. The PWP should be revised to support only non-motorized recreation on the beach.
9. Professor Patel's (CalPoly) report shows that the economic arguments made by ATV advocates are false and there are excellent alternative use options that would allow the local communities to prosper.
10. OHV enthusiasts have eight other inland parks that allow OHV riding and 70 other public OHV areas in California. Realistically, the local residents, especially low-income residents, only have their local beach.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Ken Oyer

Dear Secretary Crowfoot and Parks Director Quintero,

On Friday and Saturday, February 26 and 27, Nipomo residents experienced hours of the worst air quality in the entire country (see attached charts and map).
Since you know about the air quality issue created by the mismanagement of the Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area, we thought a visual would help make it real for you. This information came from the U.S. EPA website AirNow. This is what we live with.

You may not be aware that last fall as part of the Stipulated Order of Abatement, State Parks representatives only offered "temporary" mitigation for 2021. Sixty four of the ninety "temporary" acres are in the riding area. The other 24 acres are outside the perimeter fencing. Park management is still failing to realize the importance of health impacts over riding area preservation. It would be greatly appreciated if you could set the priorities straight as reflected in the Public Resources Code 5090.35 one of many regulations being ignored by your agency.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As a frequent vistor to the area and whos family owns real estate in San Luis Obispo my family enjoys going to Pismo to recreate with our motorcycles. We also enjoy visiting the businesses that support ohv in Grover Beach. We always recreate responsibly. Please ensure that our future generations can experience Pismo the way that we currently do.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Being able to get out and enjoy, explore, and have great fun in the outdoors with all of my family and friends is the most wonderful thing. Please do not take this away from me and my family!

Sincerely,

Subject: Sacrificing Oceano and Environmental Justice

It appears that we are willing to again sacrifice the environmental justice community of Oceano for the appeasement and benefit of the OHV Division and their proxy groups. I submit to you that we view this just like a rapist that gets to continue to assault their victims with approval for five more years. That is why we feel this is becoming a human and civil rights issue for Oceano.

Eleanor Roosevelt once stated: " No one can make you feel inferior without your consent."
After almost forty years of silence State Parks-OHV Division and their proxy groups no longer have our consent or permission to violate our civil rights in Oceano. We are not going to be treated as an inferior community with disposable people.

Even with the new conditional use permit driving and camping on the beach is still allowed.
We have accepted that as part of the compromise. It will be the only beach in California that this is allowed. Clearly this part of the compromise allows the OHV Division and their employees to remain in management control. That is a major compromise concession for my community. The need for no more than a one year transition is another compromise. Oceano continues to make sacrifices and good faith compromises to find a workable solution at the Oceano Dunes.Unlike State Parks,the OHV division and their proxy groups we have respetfully worked together to solve the problems and support the Coastal Commission and staff. After you make your decision we will continue to support the Coastal Commission and even more important our democratic process.

Please review all the facts and the consequences for Oceano when you consider the transition timeline for a vehicle free beach south of Pier Avenue in Oceano. Thank you.

Mr. Kahn,

The California Department of Parks and Recreation, Off Highway Motor Vehicle Division, (Division) frequently takes the erroneous position that its sole mission and primary objective is to promote OHV use, and that its funds cannot be used for non-OHV recreation or any other purpose. This is legally incorrect. Apparently the Division is advocating this false position in relation to Oceano Dunes as it advocated with Tesla Park in Alameda County.

An Alameda County Superior Court recently rejected the Division's position. The Division advocated this position in defending its position that it could only consider OHV use for approximately 3,100 acres of sensitive habitat it acquired in Alameda County. This argument that amounted to nothing more than a position that the Division was somehow exempt from CEQA was soundly rejected. Attached is Order Granting Petition for Writ of Mandate by the Alameda County Superior Court that debunked this false argument by the Division. I have also attached the Notice of Entry of Judgment and Peremptory Writ of Mandate issued in that case.

Please consider these comments to be considered and made part of the record in the upcoming Commission hearing on Oceano Dunes. I realize these are not binding appellate precedent, at least not yet, but the analysis contained in them is correct and sound, and should refute the false narrative advocated by the Commission, its staff, legal counsel and many OHV users.

Efforts by the Commission to protect Oceano Dunes from the highly destructive OHV use which the Division baselessly and falsely advocates as its only objective are greatly appreciated. It is truly unfortunate that the California Department of Parks and Recreation has abandoned its public trust role to this rogue and destructive subdivision which is nothing more than an OHV manufacturers marketing tool utilizing government funds.

If you need additional documentation, please let me know.

Thanks, Mark Connolly

Action Filed: November 23, 2016

This matter came on regularly for hearing on October 27, 2020, in Department 21 of this Court. Kathy Lee appeared on behalf of County of Alameda ("Petitioner"). Danae Aitchison appeared on behalf of California Department of Parks and Recreation, Department of Parks and Recreation Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreational Division, and Department of Parks and Recreation Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreation Commission ("Respondents").

Having reviewed the record of Respondents' proceedings in this matter, which the Court admitted into evidence, the briefs submitted by counsel, and the arguments of counsel, and the matter having been submitted for decision, the Court finds that the Certification of the Final Environmental Impact Report and Approval of the General Plan for Carnegie State Vehicular Recreation Area fail to comply with the provisions of the California Environmental Quality act in the respects set forth in this Court's January 12, 2021 ruling attached hereto as Exhibit A,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that:

1. Judgment be entered in favor of Petitioner in this proceeding;
2. A peremptory writ of mandate directed to Respondents be issued under seal of this Court, ordering Respondents to:
    a. Rescind and set aside Resolution 03-2016, Certification of the Final Environmental Impact Report for Carnegie State Vehicular Recreation Area. This resolution is remanded to Respondents for reconsideration; and
    b. Rescind and set aside Resolution 04-2016, Approval of the General Plan for Carnegie State Vehicular Recreation Area. This resolution is remanded to Respondents for reconsideration; and

Nature of Proceedings:	RULING ON SUBMITTED MATTER RE: PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDATE

This matter came on for hearing on October 27, 2020. Having considered the filings and arguments of the parties, the Court now rules as set forth herein.

I. Factual And Procedural Background

The State has operated Carnegie SVRA as an off-highway motor vehicle recreation park pursuant to a General Plan adopted in 1981. Off-highway motor vehicle recreation in the State Park System is limited to the SVRAs, of which there are nine statewide. SVRAs consist of "areas selected, developed, and operated to provide off-highway vehicle recreation opportunities… Areas shall be developed, managed, and operated for the purpose of providing the fullest appropriate public use of the vehicular recreational opportunities present…while providing for the conservation of cultural resources and the conservation and improvement of natural resource values over time." (Pub. Res. Code § 5090.43(a).) Prior to development of any new facilities as part of an SVRA, the Department "shall prepare a general plan or revise any existing plan" for the SVRA. (Pub. Res. Code § 5002.2(a).) The general plan shall be approved by the Commission. (Id. at (a)(3).)

Carnegie SVRA is located in Alameda and San Joaquin counties. The SVRA originally included 1,575 acres, and then expanded to include a 3,100-acre Expansion Area. Parks acquired the Expansion Area between 1996 and 1998 and added it to Carnegie SVRA.

In May 2012 the Division issued a notice of preparation and began the process to define the General Plan project and identify topics for EIR study. The General Plan was to cover both the Original and the Expansion Area. On April 23, 2015, the Division released a Preliminary General Plan and Draft EIR for public review. The Division released the Final EIR and Draft General Plan on September 16, 2016.

On October 21, 2016, the Commission adopted Resolution 03-2016, certifying the Final EIR for the Carnegie SVRA and adopting a Statement of Overriding Considerations. The Commission also adopted Resolution 04-2016, approving the General Plan for Carnegie SVRA. On October 26, 2016, the State of California, Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreation Division filed a Notice of Determination with the State Clearinghouse.

Petitioner has raised several challenges to Respondents' certification of the EIR and approval of the General Plan for the Carnegie SVRA.

II. Standard

In reviewing whether Respondents complied with CEQA, the court's inquiry is whether there was a prejudicial abuse of discretion. (Vineyard Area Citizens for Responsible Growth, Inc. v. City of Rancho Cordova (2007) 40 Cal.4th 412, 426.) Abuse of discretion can be established in two ways: (1) by demonstrating Respondent did not proceed in the manner required by law, or (2) by demonstrating Respondent's decision is not supported by substantial evidence. (Id.) The standard of review depends on which type of error is alleged. The court determines de novo whether Respondent has proceeded in the manner required by law, and "scrupulously enforce[s] all legislatively mandated CEQA requirements." (Citizens of Goleta Valley v. Board of Supervisors (1990) 52 Cal.3d 553, 564.) The court accords much greater deference to Respondent's factual determinations and conclusions, upholding them if they are supported by substantial evidence. (Vineyard Area Citizens, supra, 40 Cal.4th at 435; Preserve Wild Santee v. City of Santee (2012) 210 Cal.App.4th 260, 275.)

Substantial evidence "means enough relevant information and reasonable inferences from this information that a fair argument can be made to support a conclusion, even though other conclusions might also be reached. (14 CCR §15384.) It includes "facts, reasonable assumptions predicated upon facts, and expert opinion supported by facts." (Id.) The substantial evidence standard is "highly deferential." (California Native Plant Society v. City of Santa Cruz (2009) 177 Cal.App.4th 957, 984.)

Under the substantial evidence test, the court "must indulge all reasonable inferences from the evidence that would support the agency's determinations and resolve all conflicts in the evidence in favor of the agency's decision." (Id.) It must also "resolve reasonable doubts in favor of the administrative finding and decision." (Laurel Heights Improvement Assn. of San Francisco v. Regents (1988) 47 Cal.3d 376, 393.) The court "may not set aside an agency's approval of an EIR on the ground that an opposite conclusion would have been equally or more reasonable." (Citizens of Goleta Valley v. Board of Supervisors (1990) 52 Cal.3d 553, 564.) "A court's task is not to weigh conflicting evidence and determine who has the better argument. These questions are left to the discretion of the agency and its environmental consultants; it is they who decide how best to prepare an EIR to achieve CEQA's informational purpose." (San Diego Citizenry Group v. County of San Diego (2013) 219 Cal.App.4th 1, 12.)

The interpretation of statutes is an issue of law on which the court exercises its independent judgment. (See, Sacks v. City of Oakland (2010) 190 Cal.App.4th 1070, 1082.) In exercising its independent judgment, the Court is guided by certain established principles of statutory construction, which may be summarized as follows. The primary task of the court in interpreting a statute is to ascertain and effectuate the intent of the Legislature. (See, Hsu v. Abbara (1995) 9 Cal.4th 863, 871.) This extends to a challenge that a regulation exceeds the agency's authority, although the Court gives great weight to the agency's interpretation. (Nick v. City of Lake Forest (2014) 232 Cal.App.4th 871.)

The starting point for the task of interpretation is the words of the statute itself, because they generally provide the most reliable indicator of legislative intent. (See, Murphy v. Kenneth Cole Productions (2007) 40 Cal.4th 1094, 1103.) The language used in a statute is to be interpreted in accordance with its usual, ordinary meaning, and if there is no ambiguity in the statute, the plain meaning prevails. (See, People v. Snook (1997) 16 Cal.4th 1210, 1215.) The court should give meaning to every word of a statute if possible, avoiding constructions that render any words surplus or a nullity. (See, Reno v. Baird (1998) 18 Cal.4th 640, 658.) Statutes should be interpreted so as to give each word some operative effect. (See, Imperial Merchant Services, Inc. v. Hunt (2009) 47 Cal.4th 381, 390.)

Beyond that, the court must consider particular statutory language in the context of the entire statutory scheme in which it appears, construing words in context, keeping in mind the nature and obvious purpose of the statute where the language appears, and harmonizing the various parts of the statutory enactment by considering particular clauses or sections in the context of the whole. (See, People v. Whaley (2008) 160 Cal.App.4th 779, 793.)

III. Discussion

A. Requests for judicial notice.

In support of its opening brief, Petitioner has filed a request for judicial notice concerning two statutory sections. Respondents have not filed an opposition. The request is GRANTED.

In support of their opposition Respondents have filed a request for judicial notice concerning seven statutory sections. Petitioner has not filed an opposition. The request is GRANTED.

B. The EIR improperly constrained the project objectives.

Pursuant to the CEQA Guidelines, the description of the project shall include,

[a] statement of the objectives sought by the proposed project. A clearly written statement of objectives will help the lead agency develop a reasonable range of alternatives to evaluate in the EIR and will aid the decision makers in preparing findings or a statement of overriding considerations, if necessary. The statement of objectives should include the underlying purpose of the project and may discuss the project benefits. (14 CCR § 15124.)

The General Plan project objectives include,

Manage Carnegie SVRA for the protective of sensitive natural and cultural resources and high-quality OHV recreational experiences.

Manage the entire SVRA in accordance with the purpose of acquisition.

Promote public health and safety at Carnegie SVRA.

Anticipate Future demand for OHV recreation opportunities and identify strategies to accommodate them at Carnegie SVRA.

Provide management options for operating all portions of Carnegie SVRA in keeping with California's OHMVR Act of 2003, as amended.

Increase the diversity of OHV opportunities at Carnegie SVRA.

Provide interpretive opportunities for biological and cultural resources.

Provide for adaptive management of park operations and resources.

Plan orderly implementation of long-term capital improvements at Carnegie SVRA.

Guide the enhancement of recreation opportunities that support family and community-oriented use.

Provide a framework for the provision of adequate facilities for Carnegie SVRA management operations.

Comply with resource protection requirements, including air quality plans, stormwater management plans, and regulations protecting biological and cultural resources. (AR 8264.)

Petitioner asserts that throughout the EIR process, Respondents interpreted these objectives as reflecting a legal prohibition on using the Expansion Area solely for non-motorized recreation. In response to a comment that the DEIR should include analysis of a nonmotorized recreational alternative, the FEIR provides,

> State Parks has statutory jurisdiction over the planning area property and classifies it as SVRA lands. Planning efforts associated with the property must be consistent with the OHMVR Act (Public Resources Code Section 5090.01 et seq.), the OHMVR Division's mission statement, and statutory guidance for SVRA lands. The Public Resources Code (Sections 5090.02[c][1] through 5090.02[c][3]) requires the OHMVR Division to expand existing OHV recreation areas and sustain them for long-term use. The expansion area was acquired with California's OHV Trust Fund monies to expand Carnegie SVRA and provide additional OHV recreation opportunities. Therefore, the alternatives to the proposed project considered developing the planning area to provide recreational use of Carnegie SVRA while staying consistent with the OHMVR Act and the OHMVR Division's mission statement. See Master Response 7, "Draft Environmental Impact Report Alternatives Analysis." (AR 88.)

Another comment response provides, "State Parks deems a non-OHV alternative as an inappropriate alternative that would not attain most of the basic objectives of the project as presented in the DEIR." (AR 329.)

Further, in the "Project Background" section, the DEIR provides,

> SVRAs are OHV parks that are operated by the Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreation (OHMVR) Division of State Parks. OHVs are land vehicles that are used mostly for recreation purposes, such as all-terrain vehicles (ATVs), off-highway motorcycles, and 4-wheel-drive (4WD) trucks. The OHMVR Division is mandated to ensure that SVRAs are managed for long-term environmental sustainability and to comply with applicable environmental laws, guidelines, and regulations.

> The planning team took into account several considerations when it originally created a range of uses and potential alternatives for evaluation, before the team selected the preferred concept described in the General Plan. These considerations provided guidelines for the concept alternatives. If a concept alternative or use did not meet these guidelines, it was not considered as part of the General Plan process. The planning team's assumptions are listed below.
> 1. Property ownership: The property is owned by State Parks and operated by the OHMVR Division. Planning efforts associated with the property must be consistent with the OHMVR Division's mission statement.

2. State Parks land classification: The planning area is classified as SVRA lands by State Parks. Planning efforts must be consistent with statutory guidance for SVRA lands. (AR 8260.)

Petitioner argues Public Resources Code section 5090.02(c)(3) authorizes Respondents to consider the Expansion area for non-motorized recreation in order to protect and conserve wildlife and landscape features. Section 5090.02 provides Legislative findings and intent, with subdivision (c)(3) providing that it is the Legislature's intent, > [t]he department should support both motorized recreation and motorized off-highway access to nonmotorized recreation.

Petitioner argues this statutory language does not prohibit Respondents from designating the Expansion area for nonmotorized recreation and in fact encourages Respondents to consider the Expansion area as a location for solely nonmotorized recreation. Petitioner further cites to subdivision (a)(3), which provides that the Legislature has found, "[t]he indiscriminate and uncontrolled use of [off-highway motor vehicles] may have a deleterious impact on the environment, wildlife habitats, native wildlife, and native flora." Subdivision (b) provides, "[t]he Legislature hereby declares that effectively managed areas and adequate facilities for the use of off-highway vehicles and conservation and enforcement are essential for ecologically balanced recreation."

Respondents cite to Public Resources Code section 5090.43, subdivision (a) which, in 2016, provided that SVRAs, > shall be established on lands where there are quality recreational opportunities for off-highway motor vehicles and in accordance with the requirements of Section 5090.35. Areas shall be developed, managed, and operated for the purpose of making the fullest public use of the outdoor recreational opportunities present. The natural and cultural elements of the environment may be managed or modified to enhance the recreational experience consistent with the requirements of section 5090.35.

Section 3090.35 subdivision (a) provided, in 2016,

> [t]he protection of public safety, the appropriate utilization of lands, and the conservation of land resources are of the highest priority in the management of the state vehicular recreation areas; and, accordingly, the division shall promptly repair and continuously maintain areas and trails, anticipate and prevent accelerated and unnatural erosion, and restore lands damaged by erosion to the extent possible.

Respondents argue that the Expansion Area was purchased with monies from the Off-Highway Vehicle Trust Fund, which is funded by service fees for the issuance of identification for off-highway motor vehicles. (Veh. Code § 38225.) All monies in this fund are to be allocated according to Public Resources Code section 5090.61. In 2016, Section 5090.61 provided that the funds "shall be available for the support of the division in implementing the off-highway motor vehicle recreation program and for the planning, acquisition, development, construction, maintenance, administration, operation, restoration, and conservation of lands in the system." Respondents assert that section 5090.61 therefore mandates that monies from the fund cannot be used to purchase land that would be used solely for off-highway vehicle access to nonmotorized recreation.

At the hearing on this matter, Respondents argued there is a public need for additional OHV opportunities in the Carnegie SVRA. Respondents acknowledged that they must consider the Carnegie SVRA as a whole (including both the existing Carnegie Area as well as the Expansion Area) when determining whether the SVRA accomplishes the general legislative intent to provide motorized recreation as well as motorized off-highway access to nonmotorized recreation. However, Respondents reiterated their position that the Off-Highway Vehicle Trust Funds cannot be used to expand the Carnegie SVRA and then only provide off-highway motorized vehicle access to nonmotorized recreation opportunities. Respondents argue such use of funds does not further the payees' interests in acquiring more opportunities for OHV use. Respondents then argued that even if they were permitted to consider only OHV access to nonmotorized recreation in evaluating project alternatives, their failure to do so is not a CEQA violation as they argue the EIR contained a reasonable range of alternatives.

In response to Respondents' argument that the EIR contained a reasonable range of alternatives, Petitioner argues that Respondents' decisions were based on an erroneous interpretation of the law, and that their interpretation of statutory directives is subject to this Court's de novo review. Further, Petitioner argues that the application of such an erroneous legal standard is a failure to proceed in the manner required by law, and consequently is per se a violation of CEQA. Petitioner further argues that Respondents rejected one of the project alternatives on the basis.

The DEIR provides that project alternatives were considered,

> [h]owever, implementation of the proposed project...would cause no significant impacts, with the exception of air quality impacts related to operations, which are significant and unavoidable. Therefore no alternatives exist that could reduce or eliminate significant environmental impacts. However, alternatives were identified that have the potential to minimize at least one less-than significant impact in at least one resource area...The following two project alternatives are considered in the alternative analysis:
> - No-project Alternative
> - Reduced Developed Use Area Alternative
> Under the Reduced Developed Use Area Alternative, developed and OHV uses in the planning area would be restricted to a smaller area...All goals and guidelines would be implemented as described in the General Plan. This alternative is considered the environmentally superior alternative given the increased Limited Recreation areas; however, this alternative does not meet the project objectives. (AR 8248)(emphasis added.)

The Court, exercising its independent judgment with regard to Respondents' statutory interpretation finds Respondents have failed to proceed in the manner required by law. Public Resources Code section 5090.02 subdivision (c)(3) directs Respondents to support both motorized recreation and motorized off-highway access to nonmotorized recreation. The statute does not mandate Respondents to prioritize OHV use, but rather directs Respondents to strike a balance to support both activities. Respondents have not cited to any authority that prohibits them from adding acreage to an existing SVRA without including OHV recreation opportunities on the newly acquired acreage or, considering the Carnegie SVRA as a whole, utilizing the additional acreage with a reduced use alternative. Clearly, in the present circumstances OHV recreation opportunities are already available in the Carnegie SVRA, therefore if the Expansion Area includes solely off-highway motorized access to nonmotorized recreation (or, more likely, minimal OHV recreation as was presented in the reduced use alternative) the Carnegie SVRA as a whole complies with the legislative intent concerning SVRAs.

Respondents further argue that using property acquired with OHV Trust Fund monies for an alternative that bans OHVs would "violate the law" as inconsistent with this funding source and statutory purpose. The Court rejects this contention as it is based on a misunderstanding of the funding statute. Public Resources Code section 5090.61 authorizes use of the Trust Fund monies to support the Division in implementing the off-highway vehicle recreation program which specifically defines including nonmotorized recreation. Subdivision (b)(1) further states that the monies be used for the "planning, acquisition, development, maintenance, administration, operation, restoration, and conservation of lands in the system." Consideration of using the Expansion Area for non-motorized recreation or minimal OHV recreation is consistent with the statutory authority for uses of these funds, such as "acquisition, development...restoration and conservation of lands." Respondents further argue that these funds must be used to support OHV recreation; they are not available to support passive recreation that completely excludes OHVs. (Resp. Opp. p. 19:8-9.) However, Respondents conceded at oral argument that the park must be considered as a whole, including the existing Carnegie Park and the Expansion Area. The Court finds Respondents' use of monies from the Off-Highway Vehicle Trust Fund does not constrain Respondents' ability to consider other alternatives, when viewing the SVRA as a whole.

At oral argument, Respondents asserted that they had in fact engaged in the balancing test required by the statutes and that substantial evidence supported Respondents' decision to have OHV activity on the Expansion Area and in rejecting both the Reduced Use Alternative and the No Project Alternative. However, the record and Respondents' arguments concerning their statutory interpretations belie this argument. The administrative record demonstrates Respondents consistently asserted that they did not have the authority to implement a project alternative that did not prioritize OHV use. Accordingly, the Court finds there is no evidence that Respondents meaningfully considered the alternatives under the appropriate statutory directives. The Court finds that Respondents did not proceed in the manner required by law.

The Court also finds, contrary to Respondents' argument, that this error renders inadequate Respondents' CEQA compliance. The administrative record demonstrates that the entirety of Respondents' project objectives, consideration of alternatives, response to comments[1], etc. relied on this erroneous interpretation of the law in crafting the EIR and its analysis. This pervasive error makes it virtually impossible for the Court to parse out specific sections of the EIR that have been impacted and are therefore legally incorrect. Accordingly, on this error alone, the Court finds the EIR is invalid and cannot be used to support the subject project.

While the Court finds the error concerning the project objectives invalidates the entire EIR and the Court need not analyze Petitioner's additional challenges to the EIR and General Plan, the Court will provide analysis concerning several additional arguments in the interests of judicial economy.

C. Piecemealing of the environmental review process.

A program EIR is "an EIR which may be prepared on a series of actions that can be characterized as one large project are related either:

> (1) Geographically,
> (2) As logical parts in the chain of contemplated actions,
> (3) In connection with issuance of rules, regulations, plans, or other general criteria to govern the conduct of a continuing program, or
> (4) As individual activities carried out under the same authorizing statutory or regulatory authority and having generally similar environmental effects which can be mitigated in similar ways. (14 CCR § 15168.)

When using a program EIR with later activities, they must be "examined in the light of the program EIR to determine whether an additional environmental document must be prepared.

> (1) If a later activity would have effects that were not examined in the program EIR, a new initial study would need to be prepared leading to either an EIR or a negative declaration. That later analysis may tier from the program EIR as provided in Section 15152.
> (2) If the agency finds that pursuant to Section 15162, no subsequent EIR would be required, the agency can approve the activity as being within the scope of the project covered by the program EIR, and no new environmental document would be required. Whether a later activity is within the scope of a program EIR is a factual question that the lead agency determines based on substantial evidence in the record. Factors that an agency may consider in making that determination include, but are not limited to, consistency of the later activity with the type of allowable land use, overall planned density and building intensity, geographic area analyzed for environmental impacts, and covered infrastructure, as described in the program EIR.

(3) An agency shall incorporate feasible mitigation measures and alternatives developed in the program EIR into later activities in the program.

(4) Where the later activities involve site specific operations, the agency should use a written checklist or similar device to document the evaluation of the site and the activity to determine whether the environmental effects of the operation were within the scope of the program EIR.

(5) A program EIR will be most helpful in dealing with later activities if it provides a description of planned activities that would implement the program and deals with the effects of the program as specifically and comprehensively as possible. With a good and detailed project description and analysis of the program, many later activities could be found to be within the scope of the project described in the program EIR, and no further environmental documents would be required. (14 CCR § 15168 (c).)

The CEQA Guidelines also discuss the tiering process that occurs subsequent to finalization of a program EIR.

Where a lead agency is using the tiering process in connection with an EIR for a large-scale planning approval, such as a general plan or component thereof (e.g., an area plan or community plan), the development of detailed, site-specific information may not be feasible but can be deferred, in many instances, until such time as the lead agency prepares a future environmental document in connection with a project of a more limited geographical scale, as long as deferral does not prevent adequate identification of significant effects of the planning approval at hand. (14 CCR § 15152 (c).)

Petitioner argues Respondents identified the EIR as a program EIR in order to enable improper piecemealing of the environmental review process. Respondents acknowledge that the General Plan includes "facility descriptions" but argues these are not specific projects being approved as part of the General Plan's EIR. (AR 8249.) Respondents further argue the "visitor experience areas" identified are allowable uses within different parts of the SVRA, but are not commitments to a definite course of action as to any of these potential allowable future uses.

Prior to the hearing on this matter, the Court asked the parties to specifically address Rio Vista Farm Bureau Center v. County of Solano (1992) 5 Cal.App.4th 351, as part of their oral arguments. In Rio Vista Farm Bureau Center, the project at issue was adoption of a hazardous waste management plan, which was incorporated into the County's general plan. (Id. at 371.) The appellant argued the FEIR failed to comply with CEQA because it did not provide a "description of potential future facilities or the 'degree to which project-level decisions' have been made by the County." (Id.) The First District Court of Appeal held the EIR was sufficient as the general plan made "no commitment to future facilities other than furnishing siting criteria and designating generally acceptable locations. While the Plan suggests that new facilities may be needed by the County, no siting decisions are made; the Plan does not even determine that future facilities will ever be built." (Id.) Further, > [w]hile we agree with appellant that additional hazardous waste facilities in the County may be a foreseeable consequence of the Plan, any such facility would not alter the nature or scope of the initial assessment considered in the FEIR, which functions independently as merely a general planning device. The Plan is not, as we read it, the first part of a fragmented project; rather it provides the general guidelines required by law for any separate, but as yet undetermined, future hazardous waste management project. The scope of the Plan, as appropriately described in the FEIR, is limited to recitation of policies, requirements, and siting criteria, and designation of general areas in which future facilities may permissibly be located. No specific facility has been proposed, and the County has not committed to a definite course of action. Moreover, any future projects have been expressly made contingent upon CEQA compliance...

> An EIR is not required for an element of a master plan which has not been proposed for development. Where, as here, an EIR cannot provide meaningful information about a speculative future project, deferral of an environmental assessment does not violate CEQA. (Id. at 373)(citations omitted.)

Petitioner argues Rio Vista Farm Bureau is distinguishable because in that matter the County did not own all the land subject to the general plan. Petitioner further argues no siting decisions were made in Rio Vista Farm Bureau, whereas in this case a preferred concept for site use has been developed, including distinct visitor experience areas. (See AR 8249.) In light of these decisions having been made as part of the subject project, Petitioner argues Respondents were obligated pursuant to CEQA to provide more detailed analysis of environmental impacts resulting from these decisions than was required in Rio Vista Farm Bureau Center. (See Cleveland National Forest Foundation v. San Diego Assn. of Gov'ts (2017) 17 Cal.App.5th 413, 441.)

Respondents argue Rio Vista Farm Bureau is controlling and on point. Respondents contend the preferred concept map does not approve trails or campgrounds or specific uses, and is merely akin to, "siting criteria, and designation of general areas in which future facilities may permissibly be located." Respondents also argue Al Larson Boat Shop, Inc. v. Board of Harbor Commissioners is applicable in the Second District Court of Appeal's summarization of the law that,

> [w]hile an FEIR cannot defer all consideration of cumulative impacts to a later time, it may legitimately indicate that more detailed information may be considered in future project EIR's. " 'Tiering' " refers to "the coverage of general matters in broader EIRs (such as on general plans . . .) with subsequent .

. . site-specific EIRs . . . concentrating solely on the issues specific to the EIR subsequently prepared." (Guidelines, § 15385.)

An FEIR need only conform with the general rule of reason in analyzing the impact of future projects, and may reasonably leave many specifics to future EIR's. "CEQA recognizes that environmental studies in connection with amendments to a general plan will be, on balance, general." (Schaeffer Land Trust v. San Jose City Council (1989) 215 Cal.App.3d 612, 625.)

Deferral of more detailed analysis to a project EIR is legitimate. It has been held that "where practical considerations prohibit devising such measures early in the planning process (e.g., at the general plan amendment or rezone stage), the agency can commit itself to eventually devising measures that will satisfy specific performance criteria articulated at the time of project approval. . . [Citation.]" (Sacramento Old City Assn. v. City Council (1991) 229 Cal.App.3d 1011, 1029.) ((1993) 18 Cal.App.4th 729, 746-47.)

In response, Petitioner argues the project constitutes a site use plan. The Expansion Area was acquired for a specific use, as an SVRA, and the map demonstrates that certain uses/activities will be permitted in certain distinct sections of the Expansion Area. For example, Petitioner argues the entrance locations are clearly defined. Accordingly, Petitioner argues Rio Vista Farm and Al Larson Boat Shop do not apply and the EIR in this case improperly deferred analysis of reasonably foreseeable impacts to future phases. (See Vineyard Area Citizens for Responsible Growth, Inc. v. City of Rancho Cordova (2007) 40 Cal.4th 412, 431.)

The Court finds Petitioner is correct. The facts in this case are distinguishable from Rio Vista Farm Bureau and Al Larson Boat Shop. Here, the Respondents purchased the property with the intent of using it to expand the SVRA. Unlike the general plan in Rio Vista Farm Bureau, Respondents have ownership of and control over the entirety of the land subject to the general plan. Further, Respondents have made definitive decisions as part of the "program" EIR that make certain reasonably foreseeable impacts ready for analysis now, as opposed to a circumstance wherein environmental analysis must be detailed because the project decisions will not be made until a future date. Respondents here have committed to a selection of development "zones" such as a gathering area and interpretive facility at the Tesla Coal Mine site, Gathering and Service areas as denoted in Figure 2-3 of the Draft EIR (AR008268), as well as entrance and exit locations for the Expansion Area.

This case is analogous to Laurel Heights Improvement Assn. v. Regents (1988) 47 Cal.3d 376. Similar to the facts in that case, the intended use of the property has been established. Like the facts before the Supreme Court, the future expansion and general type of future use is reasonably foreseeable here. Respondents have clearly stated the purpose for the acquisition was to expand OHV use at Carnegie SVRA; various areas within the Expansion area have contemplated uses such as an Advanced Trails area, an Intermediate/Beginner Trails area, and a Potential Gathering Area. The Court acknowledges that case law does not require absolute precision. Although Respondents argue that the specific site of the visitors' center, for example, has not been determined, the use of the land outlined in the General Concept Map is clearly foreseeable. As the Supreme Court in Laurel Heights pointed out, "[t]he fact that precision may not be possible, [] does not mean that no analysis is required." (Id at p. 399.)

While Respondents argue a more substantial environmental review will be done at a future date, CEQA does not authorize them to delay analysis in such a manner. On this issue, the Court finds the Respondents did not proceed in the manner required by law.

D. The General Plan Guidelines

Petitioner argues that the "EIR attempted to bridge its recognition of impacts and its contrary findings of 'no significant impact' with General Plan guidelines that allegedly made the project self-mitigating." (Op. Br., p. 28.) Petitioner argues the General Plan guidelines are inadequate because (1) they defer to regulatory permitting, even where the relevant regulatory agencies found the EIR analysis, General Plan guidelines, and approach improper; (2) they contemplate 'take' of protected species as part of the project's 'self-mitigation;' and (3)...they purport to mitigate impacts, but do not comply with requirements for disclosure, analysis, and reporting of mitigation." (Id.)

To the extent Petitioner argues the EIR fails to include a CEQA required component by inadequately disclosing potential impacts, the Court's review of such action is de novo. (Citizens of Goleta Valley, supra, 52 Cal.3d 564.) To the extent Petitioner argues the General Plan guidelines do not reach the "correct" conclusions concerning significant impacts, the Court's review is pursuant to the substantial evidence standard. (Preserve Wild Santee, supra, 210 Cal.App.4th 475.)

(1) Defer to regulatory permitting

Petitioner then identifies several comments made by the "Responsible and Trustee Agencies" claiming that the guidelines are too vague, fail to consider the current level of impacts, and are doubtful in their ability to offset significant impacts to the environment. (See Op. Br., pp. 28-29.) However, Petitioner does not identify any specific guidelines, or make any attempt to establish how a specific guideline, or guidelines, is insufficient to comply with CEQA.

"A reviewing court does not pass upon the correctness of the EIR's environmental conclusions, but only upon its sufficiency as an informative document...an EIR is presumed adequate...and the plaintiff in a CEQA action has the burden of proving otherwise. (Al Larson Boat Shop, Inc. v. Board of Harbor Commissioners of the City of Long Beach (1993) 18 Cal.App.4th 729, 740)(citations omitted.) "The substantial evidence standard is applied to [the EIR's] conclusions, findings and determinations. It also applies to challenges to the scope of an EIR's analysis of a topic, the methodology used for studying an impact, and the reliability or accuracy of the data upon which the EIR relied because these types of challenges involve factual questions." (Bakersfield Citizens for Local Control v. City of Bakersfield (2004) 124 Cal.App.4th 1184, 1198.)

"As with all substantial evidence challenges, an appellant challenging an EIR for insufficient evidence must lay out the evidence favorable to the other side and show why it is lacking. Failure to do so is fatal. A reviewing court will not independently review the record to make up for appellant's failure to carry his burden." (Defend the Bay v. City of Irvine (2004) 119 Cal.App.4th 1261, 1266)(emphasis added)(see also South County Citizens for Smart Growth v. County of Nevada (2013) 221 Cal.App.4th 316, 331)(finding an EIR challenger has the "burden of setting forth all evidence favorable to the [agency] and showing wherein it is lacking.") An effort to rectify this error in a reply brief is insufficient, because "it deprives the respondent of the opportunity to respond." (South County Citizens for Smart Growth, 221 Cal.App.4th at 331.)

The Court finds Petitioner has not carried its burden to demonstrate that the guidelines are too vague or defer to regulatory permitting, as Petitioner has not identified sufficient evidence to enable to the Court to engage in a meaningful review.

(2) "Take" of protected species

Petitioner argues the "EIR's reliance on General Plan guidelines was further defective, because such guidelines assumed 'take" of special status species as part of mitigating impacts to those species." (Op. Br., p. 30.) Petitioner argues surveys are needed to determine whether special status species are present or whether a particular tiered project might cause impacts. Petitioner specifically refers to the Foothill yellow-legged frog, the California Tiger Salamander, western pond turtle, Alameda whipsnake, and American badger. Petitioner then cites to the EIR's direction that the guidelines "direct State Parks to consult with the permitting agencies on the potential effects of specific projects on special-status plant and wildlife species." (AR 31.) Such consultation could include a "take" of a special status species. Petitioner argues that allowing a take permit for mitigation evades CEQA's required analysis of avoiding impacts to special status species.

Petitioner argues the "error is most stark as to the EIR's analysis of the 'self-mitigating' impacts to the Golden Eagle." (Op. Br., p. 31.) As the Golden Eagle is a fully-protected species, it cannot be taken. Further, Petitioner argues Golden Eagles are relatively common in the Expansion Area, with specific nests observed in and around the area. (AR 29, 9714.) As the Golden Eagle is fully-protected pursuant to California law, it may not be taken or possessed at any time. (See Fish & Game Code § 3511(a)(1).) In light of the Golden Eagle's common presence in the Expansion Area, Petitioner argues there will certainly be significant impacts to the species should any OHV operation, increased human activity, or construction noise and lighting occur.

Respondent acknowledges that a "take" of a Golden Eagle is prohibited by California law and argues the EIR does not assume a prohibited "take" of this species. Instead, Respondent argues, the EIR demonstrates a "commitment to regulatory compliance" and anticipates that a "take" pursuant to Federal law may be necessary, as federal law more broadly defines the term "take" such that to even disturb the species is a violation. If such action is needed, Respondent argues the EIR indicates Parks would prepare a comprehensive eagle management plan. (See AR 29-30.)

The Court finds that at this time the impact to the Golden Eagle is too speculative, as Respondent has not prepared a map of where trails, facilities, or other recreational opportunities will be constructed. Should an illegal "take" of any species be proposed as part of any future project, the time to challenge the EIR's sufficiency will be ripe at that time. Further, to the extent any future project may cause significant impacts to other wildlife, identified by Petitioner or not, such impacts are too speculative at this point. The time to challenge significant impact determinations and proper mitigation will be at the time of EIR certification for those sub-projects. The Court does not at this time find that any General Plan guidelines are sufficient to constitute mitigation of significant impacts in connection with any species.

(3) Wildlife Guideline 1.7

Petitioner's next argument concerns improper deferring of "reasonably foreseeable impact analysis." (Op. Br., p. 35.) Petitioner argues the Guidelines are too vague and therefore defer mitigation improperly under the guise of future tiering. The only guideline Petitioner actually identifies and discusses, however, is Guideline 1.7. This guideline provides,

> If construction activities are planned within suitable upland habitat for special-status herpetofauna (California red-legged frog, California tiger salamander, western pond turtle, or tester spadefoot) and within the known maximum upland dispersal distance of those species from known breeding habitat, develop and implement appropriate measures to avoid or compensate for potential direct and indirect impacts of project-specific activities on special-status herpetofauna in upland habitats. Before the start of construction, implement any protection or mitigation measures agreed upon during consultation with the wildlife agencies. (AR 9830.)

Petitioner argues this language ignores the reality that the EIR recognizes that these species have habitat covering the entire planning area map. (AR 9704.) Accordingly, Petitioner argues, "[i]mpacts to these habitats are reasonably foreseeable and require no act of prophecy or speculation." (Op. Br., p. 36.) Petitioner argues further guidelines "typify improper deferred mitigation" and refers to several specific guidelines.

Respondents argue Petitioner fails to acknowledge the Guidelines' performance standards, and takes them out of context. With regard to Wildlife Guideline 1.7, Respondents argue that it is "one...among several that prevent significant impacts to special-status herpetofauna by requiring development of avoidance and compensation measures in consultation with wildlife agencies." (Oppo., p. 39.) With regard to four different species, Respondents assert the EIR discusses Guidelines 1.1, 1.2, and 1.3, as well as Wildlife Guidelines 1.2 and 1.7, and does not rely exclusively on any one guideline.

The Court refers the parties to its discussion below concerning the insufficiency of Wildlife Guideline 1.7 in deferring mitigation to a future "consultation." (At p. 20, post)

E. The Guidelines as providing self-mitigation

The General Plan adopts a self-mitigating approach which is not prohibited under CEQA or the cases cited by Respondents in their Opposition. Petitioners however, argue that in adopting such an approach, Respondents impermissibly failed to separately identify and analyze the significant impacts before proposing mitigation measures as the Court in Lotus v. Department of Transportation held. ((2014) 223 Cal.App.4th 645, 658.) Respondents argue that CEQA permits incorporating minimization and avoidance measures into the project and cite Gilroy Citizens and assert that the test is whether there is substantial evidence supports the impact analysis. The Court disagrees that the proper test is substantial evidence.

In Lotus, the petitioners challenged the sufficiency of an EIR approved by Caltrans concerning highway construction that passed through a state park. (Id. at 647.) The First District Court of Appeal reversed the judgment for further proceedings, finding that the EIR was insufficient "insofar as it fails to properly evaluate the significance of impacts on the root systems of old growth redwood trees adjacent to the roadway." (Id. at 648.) The Court noted that the EIR incorporated the proposed mitigation measures "into its description of the project" and then concluded that any "potential impacts from the project will be less than significant." (Id. at 655-56.)

Like the Court noted in Lotus, the General Plan should disclose the avoidance, minimization and mitigation measures are not part of the project. And as the Lotus court found, "by compressing the analysis of impact and mitigation measures into a single issue, the EIR disregards the requirements of CEQA." (Id. at 656.) Here, the EIR fails to inform the public the extent of the impacts, fails to make the necessary evaluation and determination regarding the impacts, and fails to make the necessary evaluation and any findings concerning the proposed mitigation measures, and adopt a monitoring program. The Court finds this is a structural deficiency and as the Lotus court held, "this shortcutting of CEQA requirements subverts the purposes of CEQA by omitting material necessary to informed decision–making and informed public participation. It precludes both identification of potential environmental consequences arising from the project and a thoughtful analysis of the sufficiency of measures to mitigate those consequences." (Id. at 658.)

Gilroy Citizens for Responsible Planning v. City of Gilroy cited by Respondents is distinguishable. ((2006) 140 Cal.App.4th 911.) The Court in that case was dealing with a later draft EIR which was tiered from a General Plan and for which an EIR had been prepared and certified and in which the effects of later development were examined at a sufficient level of detail. The Court held that specific impacts had already been considered in the plan. The Court in that case did not opine on the legal efficacy of the general plan and EIR containing the self-mitigating language. (Id. at 928, fn. 14.) Cases are not authority for propositions not considered. (City of Bellflower v. Cohen (2016) 245 Cal.App.4th 438, 452.)

At the hearing on this matter, Petitioner reiterated its argument that the Guidelines do not set meaningful performance standards. Specifically, Petitioner referred to Soils Guideline 1.2, which provides,

> Develop an adaptive management plan for soil resources consistent with PRC Section 5090.35(a) and the OEIMVR Division Soil Conservation Standard and Guidelines or subsequent amendments or replacement documents. Incorporate the tools and techniques identified as appropriate to site conditions at Carnegie

SVRA. Also incorporate other tools and techniques that may apply to specific facility conditions and management structure at the SVRA. (AR 9825.)

In Preserve Wild Santee v. City of Santee, the City of Santee certified an EIR for a development project. On appeal, the petitioners reasserted their claim that the EIR improperly deferred mitigation of the project's impacts on the Quino checkerspot butterfly. ((2012) 210 Cal.App.4th 260, 268.) The Fourth District Court of Appeal noted that the EIR at issue did not, > specify performance standards or provide other guidelines for the active management requirement…[it] appears the success or failure of mitigating the project's impacts to the Quino largely depends on what actions the approved habitat plan will required to actively manage the Quino within the preserve. An EIR is inadequate if the success of failure of mitigation efforts…may largely depend upon management plans that have not yet been formulated, and have not been subject to analysis and review within the EIR.

> Moreover, the EIR does not state, nor is it readily apparent, why specifying performance standards or providing guidelines for the active management of the Quino within the preserve was impractical or infeasible at the time the EIR was certified. The fact that the City and wildlife agencies must ultimately approve the habitat plan does not cure these informational defects. (Id. at 281)(citations omitted.)

The Court reversed judgment, finding in favor of petitioner's claims that the EIR violated CEQA by improperly deferring mitigation of the project's impacts to the Quino. (Id. at 292.)

The Court agrees with Petitioner's argument that the EIR does not, with regard to the Soils Guidelines, "specify performance standards or provide other guidelines for" management requirements. The future of the Guidelines and the SVRA also appears to depend upon the "tools and techniques" that will be identified in the future, which tools and techniques have not "been subject to analysis and review within the EIR."

Petitioner next identified NRM Guideline 2.4, which provides,

> Apply state-of-the-art science and ecological knowledge to the management of natural communities and associated habitat functions at the SVRA. Management strategies shall take current science and results from ongoing management and research into consideration. Work with the academic community to continue to allow research at the SVRA and apply knowledge gained through on-site and off-site research to site-specific resource management. OHMVR Division environmental scientists shall conduct research and coordinate studies with research at other SVRAs, as appropriate. (AR 9828.)

Petitioner then cited to Covington v. Great Basin Unified Air Pollution Control District, in which the petitioners challenged the approval of a geothermal power plant. ((2019) 43 Cal.App.5th 867, 871.) Petitioners challenged the adequacy of the EIR to adopt all feasible mitigation measures. (Id.) The EIR determined that certain emissions would be significant and unavoidable, even with mitigation, and that no additional feasible mitigation measures were available to further, > substantially reduce fugitive n-pentane emissions. This finding was based on the fact that the Project would include '"state of the art equipment and best available technology" to limit ROG emissions. The EIR does not define "state of the art equipment and best available technology," and comments to the EIR identified additional equipment and technology to further mitigate the fugitive n-pentane emissions. However, these additional mitigation measures were not adopted. (Id. at 877.)

The Third District Court of Appeal summarized its findings as to one of Petitioners' proposed mitigation measures,

> The point raised by petitioners and their expert is that the emissions the Project will produce will have a significant environmental effect, thus the Project should employ the stricter LDAR program that is feasible for petroleum refineries and chemical plants, and would be feasible here. The District made no attempt to show that such an LDAR program would not be feasible here. The measures proposed by petitioners do not require additional equipment—only that the leak rate triggering repair be a smaller number, and that there be an outside limit to the number of days allowed for repair. The District was required to give a good faith, reasoned analysis for not adopting the stricter LDAR program utilized in petroleum refineries and chemical plants. The stricter LDAR program may not be feasible for a geothermal plant. The point is, the District made no attempt to explain why such a program was not feasible. Accordingly, there is insufficient evidence in the record to find that no further mitigation measures were feasible. (Id. at 881.)

While the Court recognizes the language in NRM Guideline 2.4 appears problematic as it vaguely refers to "state-of-the-art science," "current science," unlike Covington, Petitioner has not identified, either in its briefing or at oral argument, additional mitigation measures that Respondent should have considered. The Court cannot find that Respondent failed to provide a "good faith, reasoned analysis" for not adopting a further mitigation measure, as Petitioner has not identified any such proposed measure.

Lastly, Petitioner identified Water Guideline 1.2, which provides,

> Work to attain no net loss of wetlands functions and values at the SVRA. If impacts on jurisdictional features cannot be fully avoided:
> > Determine the acreage of direct impacts (i.e., fill of wetlands) and indirect impacts (i.e., alterations to wetland hydrology) that would result from project implementation, and obtain necessary permits.

> Provide compensatory mitigation such that the functions and values of all affected wetlands and other waters of the United States, waters of the state, and stream and riparian habitats protected under the California Fish and Game Code are replaced, restored, or enhanced on a "no net loss" basis. Restore, enhance, and/or replace wetland, water, and riparian habitat acreage at a location and by methods agreeable to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), the Central Valley and San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Boards (RWQCBs), CDFW, and/or the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) as appropriate and depending on agency jurisdiction. (AR 9821-22.)

Petitioner argues the language concerning consultation if impacts cannot be fully avoided is problematic. Petitioner cited to POET, LLC v. State Air Resources Board, in which the Air Resources Board adopted regulations, including "the low carbon fuel standards (LCFS) regulations that require the reduction of carbon content of transportation fuels sold, supplied, or offered for sale in California." ((2013) 218 Cal.App.4th 681, 697.) The Fifth District Court of Appeal discussed the ARB's argument that it was allowed to defer the specifics of mitigation with regard to NOx emissions because it was going to "conduct an extensive testing program for biodiesel and will follow that effort with a rulemaking to establish specifications to ensure there is no increase in NOx." (Id. at 739.) The Court found this statement did not articulate specific performance criteria as required for CEQA compliance, and therefore mitigation deferral was not permitted.

> [I]t established no objective performance criteria for measuring whether the stated goal will be achieved. As a result, we and members of the public have not been informed how ARB will determine that the requirements it adopts in a fuel specifications regulation will ensure that use of the biodiesel does not increase NOx emissions. To illustrate this point, it is unclear what tests will be performed and what measurements will be taken to determine that biodiesel use is not increasing NOx emissions. (Id. at 740.)

Petitioner argues Water Guideline 1.2 cannot constitute permissible deferred mitigation because it contains no meaningful performance standards. Respondent argued at the hearing that these guidelines cannot be viewed "in a vacuum" and that just because Water Guideline 1.2 may not have a performance standard does not make the EIR inadequate.

The Court has reviewed the entirety of the guidelines appearing within "Water Goal 1: Manage the SVRA for the protection of jurisdictional waters of the United States, including wetlands and waters of the state, while maintaining a quality OHV recreational experience." (AR 9821.) Included in this subdivision are Water Guidelines 1.1, and 1.2. Water Guideline 1.1 does not include any performance standards. It simply directs Respondents to "avoid locating facilities" in wetlands and that if avoidance is not feasible to "design facilities to minimize impacts." Water Guideline 1.2, restated in full above, also does not contain any performance standards, and mimics the language found to be insufficient in POET, LLC. Accordingly, the Court finds these two guidelines are insufficient to support the deferred mitigation of Water Goal 1, in violation of CEQA.

The Court has concerns that the Guidelines are deemed to be the basis upon which the project is "self-mitigating" and yet the Guidelines seem to be very vague and speculative as to what kind of actions will be taken to indeed mitigate the significant impacts that development will have on these species. This is especially true when considering the fact that the preferred concept map has indicated what types of activity will occur within specifically identified areas of the Expansion Area. With regard to these species that have habitat covering the entire planning area map, the Court finds Wildlife Guideline 1.7 is insufficient in its conclusion that the mitigation measures that will be implemented are those "agreed upon during consultation with the wildlife agencies." The Court finds this insufficiency is not cured by NRM Guidelines 1.1, 1.2, and 1.3, as Respondents argue.

F. The EIR fails to respond to public comment.

The Court has already found, as detailed above, that the EIR's improper constraint of project objectives renders responses to public comment inadequate. With regard to comments received in 2012, prior to the issuance of the Draft EIR, Petitioner has not demonstrated Respondents violated CEQA by not directly responding to these specific comments.

IV. Conclusion

The petition for writ of mandate is GRANTED[2]. A judgment shall be issued in favor of Petitioner, and against Respondents, and a peremptory writ shall issue commanding Respondents to take action specially enjoined by law in accordance with the Court's ruling, but nothing in the writ shall limit or control in any way the discretion legally vested in Respondents. Respondents shall make and file a return within 60 days after issuance of the writ, setting forth what has been done to comply therewith.

Counsel for Petitioner shall prepare an order incorporating this ruling as an exhibit to the order, a judgment, and a writ of mandate; counsel for Respondents shall receive a copy for approval as to form in accordance with Rule of Court 3.1312(a); and thereafter submit them to the Court for signature and entry in accordance with Rule of Court 3.1312(b).

[2] The Court notes that in the related case of Connolly Ranch Inc. v. State of California (2016-80002495) the petitioner filed an "Objection to Ex Parte Communication" in connection with statements made during the hearing on the merits in this matter. The Court has not considered any comments made concerning arguments made in Connolly Ranch in ruling on the merits in this matter. The Court also will not consider any such comments when ruling on the merits in Connolly Ranch. The Court also finds that the comments do not constitute ex parte communications, and has OVERRULED the objection.

~~[PROPOSED]~~ JUDGMENT GRANTING PEREMPTORY WRIT OF MANDATE

Hearing: October 27, 2020 [CEQA hearing]
Dept.: 21

This matter came on regularly for hearing on October 27, 2020, in Department 21 of this Court. Kathy Lee appeared on behalf of County of Alameda ("Petitioner"). Danae Aitchison appeared on behalf of California Department of Parks and Recreation, Department of Parks and Recreation Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreational Division, and Department of Parks and Recreation Off-Highway Motor Vehicle Recreation Commission ("Respondents").

Having reviewed the record of Respondents' proceedings in this matter, which the Court admitted into evidence, the briefs submitted by counsel, and the arguments of counsel, and the matter having been submitted for decision, and having issued an order that judgment and a peremptory writ of mandate issue in this proceeding,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that:

1. Judgment be entered in favor of Petitioner in this proceeding;
2. A peremptory writ of mandate directed to Respondents be issued under seal of this Court, ordering Respondents to:
    a. Rescind and set aside Resolution 03-2016, Certification of the Final Environmental Impact Report for Carnegie State Vehicular Recreation Area. This resolution is remanded to Respondents for reconsideration; and
    b. Rescind and set aside Resolution 04-2016, Approval of the General Plan for Carnegie State Vehicular Recreation Area. This resolution is remanded to Respondents for reconsideration; and
    c. Suspend all activity associated with the implementation of Resolution 04-2016 that could result in any change or alteration to the physical environment until Respondents have brought the Approval of the General Plan for Carnegie State Vehicular Recreation Area into compliance with the requirements of CEQA;

With such writ further providing that:

a. Under Public Resources Code section 21168.9(c), this Court does not direct Respondents to exercise their lawful discretion in any particular way; and
b. Under Public Resources Code section 21168.9(b), this Court will retain jurisdiction over Respondents' proceedings by way of a return to this peremptory writ of mandate until the Court has determined that Respondents have complied with the provisions of CEQA; and

c. Respondents must file a return to the writ no later than 60 days after issuance of the writ.

3. Petitioner, as prevailing party, be awarded its costs of suit in the sum of $ _____.

4. This court shall retain jurisdiction in this matter to determine entitlement to attorney's fees and the amount of any award on motion by the Petitioner in accordance with California Rule of Court, Rule 3.1702.

5. This court shall retain jurisdiction over return to the writ.

Mr. Kahn,

The California Department of Parks and Recreation, Off Highway Motor Vehicle Division, (Division) frequently takes the erroneous position that its sole mission and primary objective is to promote OHV use, and that its funds cannot be used for non-OHV recreation or any other purpose. This is legally incorrect. Apparently the Division is advocating this false position in relation to Oceano Dunes as it advocated with Tesla Park in Alameda County.

An Alameda County Superior Court recently rejected the Division's position. The Division advocated this position in defending its position that it could only consider OHV use for approximately 3,100 acres of sensitive habitat it acquired in Alameda County. This argument that amounted to nothing more than a position that the Division was somehow exempt from CEQA was soundly rejected. Attached is Order Granting Petition for Writ of Mandate by the Alameda County Superior Court that debunked this false argument by the Division. I have also attached the Notice of Entry of Judgment and Peremptory Writ of Mandate issued in that case.

Please consider these comments to be considered and made part of the record in the upcoming Commission hearing on Oceano Dunes. I realize these are not binding appellate precedent, at least not yet, but the analysis contained in them is correct and sound, and should refute the false narrative advocated by the Commission, its staff, legal counsel and many OHV users.

Efforts by the Commission to protect Oceano Dunes from the highly destructive OHV use which the Division baselessly and falsely advocates as its only objective are greatly appreciated. It is truly unfortunate that the California Department of Parks and Recreation has abandoned its public trust role to this rogue and destructive subdivision which is nothing more than an OHV manufacturers marketing tool utilizing government funds.

If you need additional documentation, please let me know.

Dear California Coastal Commission:

Thank you for making this decision and answering the CA State Parks "Draft Public Works Plan" for the Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area. Please make all the ATV riders happy by suggesting they meet their friends at one of the other State Parks Vehicular Recreation Areas. Then, they can also make plans to meet their friends at the beautiful beaches south of Pismo Beach.
There they can swim, surf, boogie-board, bike, build sand castles, gather around a safe campfire and sing together. Have a terrific time! We did this with friends for many years. Also, we had two families of friends who met to ride their ATVs and camp at various desert sites together. Their children still do, and have a great time.

CA State Parks should not be in the business of running VRA at the beach. They should sell the 116 acres of "prime farmland" they own and invest the money for funds to add native trees, facilities for campers at these beaches and any valuable improvements not connected to ATV use. Please phase those out within 2 years!! Please make the right decision for all the people of Oceano and nearby towns.

Please enforce your correct decision, California Coastal Commission!

With Hope,
Bonnie Young

Subject: Please oppose restricting or ending powersports access to Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Subject: Pismo Beach "Highway"

Categories: Public Comment

Dear Commissioners

Pismo Beach was the unspoiled paradise of a wide fine-sanded beach that it was meant to be when Covid-19 required it's closure. The bird population increased, as did the amount of people who were actually able to enjoy the beach. There were family picnics, parties, walkers, bikers, horseback riders, surfers, kite surfers etc as far as the eye could see looking south from Grand Avenue.

My husband and I have were able to walk the length of the beach without fear of injury and especially harassment from every kind of vehicle imaginable racing up and down the beach for the first time ever. No one screamed at us, threw things out their windows, or sounded long loud horns to get us out of their way. So many of us who live in this community were overjoyed.

Sadly our voices are often drowned out by people who tend to shout louder and litigate more.

The mixture of vehicles on the beach, walkers, bike riders and horseback riders is not a good one
The worn out rationale for this situation which exists between Grand and Pier Avenues is that driving on the beach brings in millions of dollars. I believe this is untrue, as has been shown in recent studies.

With the closing of both entrances, Grand Avenue in Grover Beach, and Pier Avenue in Oceano the communities would benefit greatly. Property values and subsequent steady regular revenue for the cities would increase, not to mention making it a much more attractive location for a hotel and new restaurants. The long lines of idling trucks and cars and the and smell of exhaust would be replaced by clean air for pleasant outdoor dining etc.

Regarding the OHV riding in the dunes, I would bring all the same arguments to bear, while also stating that the Parks Department has had AN ABSOLUTE CONFLICT OF INTEREST, in this. It is my understanding the rangers' salaries etc are funded through these activities, which makes the idea of Pismo Beach State park rangers in any kind "caretaking" role ridiculous. This was clearly demonstrated, most recently, last Fall when they graded known snowy plover nesting areas.

The fact that the Parks Department orchestrates meetings not only in the area affected, but in the Central Valley as well is outrageous. Local taxpayers and residents are the people affected by the noise, pollution, hazardous waste dumps of oil, mountains of litter and habitat destruction.
I would also like to point out the underhanded and cynical timing of the release of The Parks Department most recent plans.
"Follow the money" is a phrase which comes to mind.

I understand that people who live not only on the Central Coast, but the majority of people who come from the central valley count this as their vacation spot, which is wonderful. Maybe an OHV riding area can be carved out of some of the Phillips Petroleum site, with it's own entrance, and boundaries. Let's provide inexpensive parking lots along Highway One. The revenue could support the Parks department, after all they only charge

$5.00 per vehicle for all day at the beach. Lets build boardwalks to the beach from the parking lots to make sure everyone who wants to come and enjoy it can easily do so.

There is an opportunity for the Coastal Commission to finally put an end to this mess.

Please don’t waste it.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

I oppose the State Parks “improvement” plan for Oso Flaco Dunes. The plan shows no understanding for the area as it stands which is rarely overcrowded. Opening the area up with urbanized paving and amenities will stress the natural environment unnecessarily. Humans can park nearby and walk in as they do now, allowing nature to co exist peacefully as possible. Please preserve the essence of the reason to visit this area. There are other areas of the beach open to noisy vehicular traffic.
Please deny this bad plan.
Thank you.

Subject: Protect Oceano Dunes from Destructive Off-Highway Vehicle Impacts

Dear Executive Director Jack Ainsworth,

The Oceano Sand Dunes are recognized by scientists, conservationists, government agencies and the public as the finest, most extensive coastal dunes remaining in California. The beach and dunes offer critical habitat for endangered shorebirds and other rare plant and animal species. Unfortunately, off-highway vehicle (OHV) activity has been allowed to degrade this beautiful area for decades.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Oceano Dunes was closed in March to all vehicle activity. Since the closure, the dunes and beach have transformed into a vibrant, safe and clean environment for beachgoers of all kinds.

California State Parks recently drafted a Public Works Plan, a Habitat Conservation Plan and an Environmental Impact Report for the area. All of these documents still need to be reviewed and approved by state and/or federal agencies before they can be implemented.

However, at its earliest opportunity, California State Parks intends to reopen the park to vehicle use before these plans are approved, which will reimpose immediate threats to wildlife, sensitive habitats and community health and safety.

Surfrider and our partners would like to see a new, inclusive vision of recreation and conservation at Oceano Dunes that will secure environmental justice for surrounding communities, ensure better protection for wildlife and the natural environment, boost the local economy and respect the area?s cultural heritage.

Until State Parks receives necessary approvals on Public Works and Habitat Conservation Plans, as well as the EIR, the Park should remain closed to OHV activity to prevent continued violations of the Endangered Species Act, the California Coastal Act and the Local Coastal Program. In the interim, all parties should continue to develop solutions that advance real conservation of natural resources and environmental justice for the local communities.

I implore you, as a state agency leader, to adopt recommendations that will keep Oceano Dunes closed to OHV use until the Public Works Plan, Habitat Conservation Plan and the Environmental Impact Report have been approved and implemented.

Sincerely,

We saw just how many more locals started using the beaches between grand Ave and pier street once they became closed to vehicles. The true potential for both habitat and humanity started to re-emerge.
It's crown jewel that doesn't get the respect it deserves.
When someone drives for hours just to drive on sand and leave mountains of garbage disrespecting the local community whose thankless volunteers constantly pick up the pieces. It has to stop!

Never once have I scene the bro -dozer monster truck culture care for anything other than themselves.
What part of there culture focuses on picking up after themselves and there fellow culture?
Even those who don't litter and destroy themselves still don't disown their ken folk.

As a home owner in grover beach it sickens me to turn left on grand from highway 1 and look at the broken down ATV business with sheet metal lean to buildings looking like a chop shop.
It shows poorly for our community as a whole.
What a difference in appeal would our community have if it wasn't a door mate for those who frequent the dunes once there own sand box gets to warm.

Most of them don't even use the ocean. Its purely a background for selfies as trash piles at their feet.

Time we see what kind of potential we have environmentally with tourism. The dune culture of blasting around on quads and atvs would have no match in comparison to nature hiking and camping once it's restored.

Imagine weekends where people could pack it in and pack it type existence?

Sure camping should go on in safe and sane manners but not everyone needs a 50' trailer with every comfort of home minus regular garbage collection.

Why not have it be horse camping and increase the fun of experience for everyone. Better yet people back pack.

I personally started surfing and enjoyed beach bone fires with friends once we didn't feel like we were constantly dodging trucks and careless drivers.
It has to stop.

Dear Members of the California Coastal Commission,

My name is Milli Atkinson. I was raised in Oceano, California. I attended Oceano elementary school and the local high school in Arroyo Grande. I left my hometown for college, but visit and spend time with my mother, sister, nieces, nephews and cousins in Oceano several times a year.

I am writing because I oppose the Draft Public Works Plan (PWP) and associated Draft Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for Pismo State Beach and Oceano Dunes SVRA and demand that the Coastal Commission continue to allow vehicle and camping access to the Oceano Dunes SVRA.

I oppose the draft plan because I grew up in the area and the individuals that are advocating for the end of vehicle access in Oceano do not represent the majority of the community in Oceano. My grandmother was an elder in the local Chumash community and I feel the connection to her and my own ancestry every time I am able to spend time at the beach in Oceano.
When I was growing up, before my mother remarried, she was a single mom raising three girls on a very limited income. She regularly took us to the beach because it was an affordable way for our family to spend time together. She could not afford lavish vacations or trips for us, but she knew that we could have a fun, active day packing up the car and driving onto the beach. Some of my first driving lessons were on that beach. Our family gathers there every fourth of July for a bonfire and I have so many beautiful memories with my cousins, aunts, uncles, siblings, nieces, nephews and lifelong friends with our cars parked together celebrating in what I believe to be one of the most beautiful and unique beaches in California. Please do not limit access to so many people who rely on vehicle access to vist our beach. There are so many miles of coast in California for people who want to enjoy the beach without vehicles. In fact, anyone who is bothered by the vehicles in Oceano, only need to head a few miles down the road and access the beach north of the pier. There are so many options for people who don't care for the vehicles in Oceano, whereas, there is no place else in California for those who wish to drive on the beach. The recreation area in the dunes and the ability to drive along the water, is something that sets our community apart and is something I come back to again and again and feel connected to. I can only imagine how our local businesses will suffer if you shut down one of our biggest tourist draws.

Vehicle access is not only vital for those that enjoy off roading in the dunes, but also people like my mother, who have difficulty walking in the sand from the parking lot. My sister works with disabled adults in Grover Beach and Arroyo Grande and relies on vehicle access so that her severely disabled clients can also enjoy our beach. On top of that, my 9 year old niece grew up riding an ATV and is a rockstar on the dunes.

During Covid-19 I was fortunate to spend several weeks at a time with my mother in Oceano and work remotely from the home where I grew up. During this time I would regularly go to the beach with my 76 year old mother and 9 year old niece and 14 year old nephew to spend time together. It was hard for my mother when the beach was closed to vehicle access because of COVID and we would have to leave her in the parking lot while the children played near the water. A permanent closure would a terrible blow to my family and so many others in Oceano.

Please do the right thing and listen to the majority of our local community members before making decisions that impact our happiness, our needs as a community and our local economy. VEHICLE ACCESS FOR ALL!

Sincerely,
Milli Atkinson

Dear Members of the California Coastal Commission,

My name is Jackie Rawhoof. I grew up in the 5 cities area in southern San Luis Obispo County. I went to elementary, middle school and high school here. I have lived at the same address in Oceano, California since 1983, fewer than 2 miles from the Oceano beach ramp.

I am writing because I oppose the Draft Public Works Plan (PWP) and associated Draft Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for Pismo State Beach and Oceano Dunes SVRA and demand that the Coastal Commission continue to allow vehicle and camping access to the Oceano Dunes SVRA.

I oppose the draft plan because as a Californian, with Chumash ancestry, the Central Coast, Santa Barbara to San Luis Obispo is my homeland.

My family moved to Grover City from the Santa Ynez valley in 1950 and playing in the sand dunes and clamming almost daily, all my childhood memories centered around driving on the beach. Our beach isn't much of a swimmer's beach. It's more often cold ,windy or foggy. The water is cold and the rip currents are common. I raised my family here and they have loved the freedom of driving on the beach using our car ready packed for the beach for an hour or for the day. Now I'm 76 years old and my grand children enjoy the beach and ride their quads and camp with their family and friends. Going to the beach with my grandchildren and watching them play is one of the most special times I have with them. My husband is retired and we are living on a fixed income, so this is one of the few ways we can spend time with them that is meaningful, affordable and accessible. I can't walk to the beach from the parking lot at the Oceano or Grover Beach ramps. I've had 2 hip replacements and the walk through the sand is difficult. My husband is 80 years old with lung disease and walks with a cane. It saddens me that I might not be able to park on the beach in my warm car with my husband and enjoy spending time with my family, watching the ocean and our beautiful sunsets. Your proposal to close our beach to vehicles is an attack against our community members, especially the seniors who rely on vehicle access to enjoy the beach.

It is critical to our local economy to keep vehicle access available at Oceano Dunes SVRA and important for our community to allow VEHICLE ACCESS FOR ALL!

Sincerely,
Jackie Rawhoof

I am against any additional vehicles in the area of Grand Avenue, the sand closures to protect snowy plovers, and cancellation of the environmental damages of continuing OHV's damaging this natural wonder of the ocean. Please put 100% safety of the Oceano Dunes, in our opinion, second place to the great environmental priority to eliminate or substantially minimize Nipomo and the Dunes community's intense pollution and grave environmental impacts to open

We also note, to our utmost surprise of the lying environmental activity of the Oceano area by the OHV vehicles documented by the recent Draft EIR, is incomplete, empty. We know and estimate that the normal use of OHV activity will not substantially harm the environment.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

I am opposed to further opening up Oso Flaco/Oceano Dunes natural areas to an increased usage including recreational vehicles, camping, commercial development and the like. As it stands right now, Oso Flaco is accessible to anyone lodging in the near-by cities and towns surrounding this unique natural area. Current residents of California must practice good stewardship over the unique natural lands we all cherish here in California. It is the job of the California Coastal Commission to help protect our coastal lands and waters from increasing demand from recreationists who only see these areas as places to drive off road vehicles. Preserve our natural areas for generations to come and for the creatures, flora, and fauna that inhabit them.

Subject: OCEANO DUNES CLOSURE TO OHV

Categories: Public Comment

Good afternoon,

I'm writing this email in favor of closing the Oceano Dunes area to ATVs/OHVs and overnight camping on the physical beach as well as the actual Oceano Dunes recreation area that is fenced off just off the beach.

My family and I live on the Mesa in Arroyo Grande and not only are the noises of dunes activity loud, but the pollution is irritating. Sound travels and each weekend and every day during the summer we are subjected to the roaring sounds of ATVs and/or OHVs driving in low gears on the dunes. Unfortunately, the noise doesn't end at curfew, if there is one, they go on well past 10pm and at times past midnight. I should not have to close my HOME windows to get peace and quiet from recreation vehicles on the beach. I can only imagine what it must sound like for those living in closer proximity!

In addition to noise level, driving south on Highway 1 from the bend in the road by Primary Care Animal Hospital to Phillips 66 driveways you can see the air quality shift from clear to hazy because of people driving on the dunes. I continuously have had sand IN my house, in my windowsills, as well as outside my house on the patio. This sand is being carried by those driving on the dunes. And while State Parks has been busy planting scrubs and leaving hay bales, it is not enough to protect the topsoil nor stopping the topsoil from traveling by way of the onshore winds.

Furthermore, according to The Tribune dated June 26, 2019, over 10-year period over 40 people have died on our Oceano Dunes! Setting that number aside, multiple arrest for drunken driving, serious injuries like broken backs, speeding, reckless driving/driving to close, and be ejected from thier vehicles! Really?! A Cal Poly student died at the intersection of El Campo and Highway 101 and Cal Trans calls intersection a "top priority", The Tribune dated October 19, 2018. Within one-year El Campo intersection was closed along with 3 other left-hand turns just south of El Campo. What are The State Parks waiting for - a death toll in excess of 100 for them to take notice and close it down?!

I must add, that while the Oceano Dunes and the beach was closed to ALL vehicles, it was beautiful to walk that stretch of the beach unmolested by traffic, speeding vehicles, and stupid drivers not paying attention. We will NOT attempt to walk south of Grand Avenue ever again if vehicles are permitted. We have this beautiful coastline and it's unfortunate that it is being ruined by ATVs/OHVs, drivers and campers who don't respect the land.

Keep the Oceano Dunes free of ATVs/OHVs and overnight campers!!

Thank you,
Tifnie LaCabe

Dear Chairman Padilla and Coastal Commissioners,

I kindly ask you to please support the February 16, 2021 staff recommendations for the Oceano Dunes SVRA and the State Parks' draft PWP/EIR. These thoughtful recommendations would finally resolve the long-standing conflict in the dunes and it's the right answer for the Central Coast, from the perspective of public health, wildlife protection, environmental justice, economic vitality, compliance with the Coastal Act, and equal access for all to the coast. These topics are all very important for us.

Thank you!

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

Please support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes, and amend the State Park's Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Ave. vehicle access, preserve the snowy plover exclosures, and leave the Oso Flaco Lake area as it is. Above all, start the clock on the phase-out of OHV activity.

The Oceano Dunes will continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking, birding, fishing, horseback riding, and hiking the dunes; the kind of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California - with the exception of Oceano.

I grew up in San Luis Obispo county and care about our economy. HOWEVER, please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park's closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California's coast.

The residents of Oceano (and the rest of us locals) who try to walk on their own beach, with OHV activity, do so with great risk. And they are watching the coastal dunes complex – their defense against rising sea levels – being eroded away.

The unhealthy air, from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road vehicle activity, continues to stretch from Nipomo to Guadalupe.

All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to adequately protect the environmentally sensitive habitat. In fact, they've come up with the opposite and it's disheartening and horrifying. It is past time to hold them accountable now.

Sincerely,

Carrie Miller

I have lived in San Luis Obispo County since 1984. I am a hiker and a birder and until this last year, had never walked on the section of beach open to off-road vehicles. Then the beach was closed to vehicles and I discovered a paradise for birding and photography, for meditative walks. I was never alone: there were dog-walkers and fishermen, kids tossing Frisbees, surfers and artists. I saw plovers and pelicans, sanderlings, western sandpipers, curlews, whimbrels, willets, terns, and gulls.

These birds are depending upon us. We won't get a second chance to protect them.

Please vote to phase out all vehicles on the beach.

I am an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.
Losing access to this area would be equivalent to the death of a family member for the OHV community!!

Sincerely,

Tim Nowak

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Laren Kessler

Subject: Sacrificing Oceano and Environmental Justice

Categories: Public Comment

It appears that we are willing to again sacrifice the environmental justice community of Oceano for the appeasement and benefit of the OHV Division and their proxy groups. I submit to you that we view this just like a rapist that gets to continue to assault their victims with approval for five more years. That is why we feel this is becoming a human and civil rights issue for Oceano.

Eleanor Roosevelt once stated: " No one can make you feel inferior without your consent."
After almost forty years of silence State Parks-OHV Division and their proxy groups no longer have our consent or permission to violate our civil rights in Oceano. We are not going to be treated as an inferior community with disposable people.

Even with the new conditional use permit driving and camping on the beach is still allowed.
We have accepted that as part of the compromise. It will be the only beach in California that this is allowed. Clearly this part of the compromise allows the OHV Division and their employees to remain in management control. That is a major compromise concession for my community. The need for no more than a one year transition is another compromise. Oceano continues to make sacrifices and good faith compromises to find a workable solution at the Oceano Dunes.Unlike State Parks,the OHV division and their proxy groups we have respetfully worked together to solve the problems and support the Coastal Commission and staff. After you make your decision we will continue to support the Coastal Commission and even more important our democratic process.

Please review all the facts and the consequences for Oceano when you consider the transition timeline for a vehicle free beach south of Pier Avenue in Oceano. Thank you.

To whom it may concern,

I am opposed to all elements of the Oso Flaco Lake "Improvement" Project contained in the Draft PWP/EIR. I believe the project to be bad for people, detrimental to the rich and ecologically diverse wildlife, contrary to the coastal act, and very unpopular.

The California Coastal Commission says that the Oso Flaco Lake project "presents what appears to be serious LCP inconsistencies related to agricultural conversion and ESHA degradation" .

I do not believe that the public works plan is moving in the right direction.

Dear Chairman Padilla & Commissioners,

Please implement amendments to usage of the beach and dunes in Oceano as recommended by the Coastal Commission. Eliminating OHV activity is crucial to protecting our wildlife, vegetation and use by residents and visitors. The dangers to walkers, horse back riders, surfers, fisherman and playing children is obvious and cannot be denied. It's time to protect and preserve what can never be replaced once destroyed by a limited population just because they've "always done it".

Who will step up and hold State Parks accountable for their violation of this misuse of our most valuable coastline.

Thank you for your consideration of the local population who continue to recognize the future of possibilities once off road vehicles are prohibited.

Subject: Please close the beach again

Categories: Public Comment

Dear Coastal Commission,

I am writing today because I am so sad to see the Oceano beach and sand dunes open again to vehicles. It was SO NICE when the beach was closed to traffic due to COVID-19. We could walk for miles without being run over by obnoxious vehicles, ruining our beautiful beach! I collected 100s of perfect sand dollars, and saw thousands of shells that were not shattered into pieces. The beach was so quiet, so scenic, so beautiful. And I'm sure the wildlife was thrilled to enjoy their natural habitat without the threat of noisy cars, trucks, motorhomes and ATVs running them over (like us beachcombers, as well!)

It's so sad to see the beach covered in tire marks now, and to see the constant traffic going up and down the beach on any day of the week. I stay far away on the weekends when the "Bakos" and valley people are here raising havoc and destroying our beaches and surrounding areas. The trash, the noise, the FIREWORKS (year round) and the pollution on our beautiful coastline—it's disgusting. And with no vehicles allowed on the beach and sand dunes, think of all the lives that would be saved! There are so many deaths every year in those sand dunes! It's getting out of control! Plus, I live a few miles from the beach, and I noticed a huge difference in the amount of sand that blew into my windows when the beach and sand dunes were closed to traffic. My windowsills stayed much cleaner! Amazing!!

Please, please, please consider closing the beach to traffic once again, and this time permanently. Don't let the OHV "lobbyists" convince you that it's good for our economy. I think we have the most beautiful coastline in the state, with such wide, long, pristine beaches, and then to let vehicles and campers destroy them is most likely scaring people away who would otherwise love to come here and enjoy the uncrowded and natural coastline, and spend a lot more money than the OHV crowd!

Thank you for listening. Please save our beautiful beach and pristine coastline!

Subject: Public Comment for Oceano Dunes Park

Categories: Public Comment

This email is my public comment prior to the March 18th hearing. I oppose the expansion of the Oceano Dunes State Park and in fact, would hope that the State Park would be held responsible for their permit violations regarding air and water quality and destruction of protected species habitat.

The State Parks department needs to be shown there are consequences for blatant disregard of permit conditions and requests from not only the Coastal Commission but the APCD and RWQCB. There has been no regulatory consistency when it comes to the Oceano Dunes park, and there needs to be action on each state agency's part ASAP.

Aside from regulatory inconsistencies, the land is managed in contradiction to CEQA and from a local's perspective, I see no mitigation for the following safety concerns and environmental impacts:
- Impacts to local emergency services: San Luis Ambulance reports that 92.8% of ambulance calls from the Ocean Dunes park involve people who reside outside of San Luis Obispo County, and there have been 6 vehicle-related deaths and a mass shooting since 2019.

-Impacts to recreation: State Parks department does not consistently enforce speed limits or respect for walking/jogging pedestrians, including children, who remain in harm's way essentially sharing the beach with a highway of mostly oversized vehicles.

-Impacts to Biological Resources and Habitat: Vehicles and protected species habitat are inherently juxtaposed to each other. The land cannot be a successful OHV park and simultaneously preserved for federally and state protected species for any significant duration. The proof is in the expansion of the snowy plover and California least tern nesting areas during the 2020 shutdown. Nesting activities were reported to increase during the shutdown due to the return of suitable habitat and resources, such as the increase in available space to nest and increase in prey due to lack of disturbance of the wrack line. However, several snowy plover scrapes were destroyed to deter the federally-protected species from expanding their nesting area to ensure future nesting would not interfere with the OHV operations. In addition, vehicle traffic and "maintenance" grading contribute to coastal erosion at vehicle entrances.

-Impacts to water quality: OHV and camping activities result in high trash accumulation, primarily plastic debris, on the beach and dunes which if not picked up by good samaritans, inevitably will end up in the ocean environment. In addition, campers and OHV leak oil and other toxic fluids on the beach, and have been documented driving through the flowing creek mouth and ocean with no oversight or monitoring from State Parks.

- Impacts to Traffic: Track-out devices at beach exits are ineffective and up to 40 tons of beach sand must be hauled to a landfill each week.

-Impacts to local economy: Despite state park fees and profits from tourism, both the Grover Beach and Oceano park entrance "downtown" areas show little improvement over the 40+ years and primarily remain depressed areas with vacant buildings and lots, in comparison to adjacent towns of Pismo Beach and Avila Beach, which do not provide vehicle access to the beach.

Thank you for your consideration on the subject. I appreciate your efforts in resolving this matter for what is best for our coastal communities and setting a new precedent for the management of the Ocean Dunes State Park.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

To whom it may concern,
The picture of the cute, kid drawn protect the dunes, is from yesterday. I found it on the northern section of the dunes closer to the AG creek. The other ones are from a few days ago as I walked closer to the northern boundary of the open OHV area.

It is further testament that the Dunes needs to be closed to vehicles ASAP for the protection of all those that call this amazing treasure of a fragile ecosystem, home!

It has endured years of abuse, noise pollution, litter and the constant churning of the sand and grounding of sand into smaller particles.

It is time to admit the inherent destruction of vehicles on the dunes and beach and take action instead of bowing to a few powerful interest groups and their noisy supporters.

We need to more forward to protect and let our precious dune ecosystem heal for the benefit of all!
Oceano resident,
Diane Dolden

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

Please support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes, and amend the State Park's Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close Pier Ave. vehicle access, preserve the snowy plover exclosures on a year-round basis, and leave the Oso Flaco Lake area without further development. Most importantly, begin the phase-out of OHV activity.

Having seen the OHV section of State Parks in action at multiple hearings of the Coastal Commission and San Luis Obispo Air Pollution Control Board, I understand they are a formidable force. The Coastal Commission is the sole entity that can protect the ESHA of Oso Flaco from encroachment by camping and off-highway vehicles, and enforce the staff recommendations.

A wonderful thing happened when the Lake Oso Flaco area prohibited vehicles, revegetated with native plants, developed a boardwalk, and created an area of natural beauty and serenity enjoyed by wildlife and pedestrians alike. This area is used by school children on fieldtrips, birders from around the world, and people like me who enjoy the beauty without distraction.
Imagine if that return to nature could be extended to the entirety of the dunes. For those who are affected economically, perhaps they could invest in escorted small group tours, horse rides, bicycle rentals, kite boarding, and other ventures that are less detrimental than the OHV activity.
Our natural environment is precious, yet State Parks seem to regard the dunes complex as an area of exploitation, not one requiring protection.

Please, enforce the staff recommendations, and hold State Parks responsible for following the recommendations.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I have enjoyed Camping and OHV recreation for the last fifty years. It has added value to my life and the people in my life. It has provided my way of making a good living having worked in the Powersports industry for most of my life. I believe that the loss of Powersports tourism to the area would be financially crippling to many small family businesses in the area. The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

Please do not support the plans that State Parks has for Oso Flaco, Phillips 66 and OHV use in the Oceano Dunes.These uses are incompatible with the preservation and conservation of the flora and wildlife of the region.

I support a phased out ending of OHV use in the dunes. I support beach camping and ADA access from Pier Ave. to Post 6.

Sincerely,

Mark Skinner

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Dear Commissioners and Staff,

I'm writing to urge you to oppose State Parks proposal for the Oso Flaco area. It is inconsistent with the General Plan of the county and runs contrary to the preservation of prime agricultural lands.

This proposal is divorced from State Park's own mission statement:

Dear Chairman Padilla and Coastal Commissioners:\

Please support the February 16, 2021 staff recommendations for the Oceano Dunes SVRA and the State Parks' draft PWP/EIR. These thoughtful recommendations would finally resolve the long-standing conflict in the dunes, and it's the right answer for the Central Coast, from the perspective of public health, wildlife protection, environmental justice, economic vitality, compliance with the Coastal Act, and equal access for all to the coast.

The health of residents, wildlife and environment should be the top priority; no one should have the right to put health, wildlife and the environment in danger just to be able to drive on the dunes. Plus the local hospital emergency room is burdened by the injuries resulting from the recklessness of those driving on the dunes.

Thank you,
Dennis & Claudine Lingo

The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Subject: Oceano and Environmental Justice Are Being Left Behind

Categories: Public Comment

As so often happens environmental justice and equality are being forgotten as we approach March 18. I feel like we are being left behind again in Oceano because of the Five Year Transition plan that unfairly penalizes my low income community. This creates a new long term embedded disporportinate impact within the document that we must overcome in our struggles against discrimination, poverty, health problems, safe beach access, equal economic opportunity and degradation. Essentially we cannot move forward until we have a more appropriate date for a safe vehicle free beach access zone and can breath fresh clean healthy air in Oceano.

I still support the Coastal Commission compromise recommendations and new conditional use permit for the Oceano Dunes. My question is do we really want to wait five more years to bring environmental justice and equality to Oceano? That is the question we must all answer before March 18.

If this was happening in your community of; Santa Cruz, Marin, San Diego, Long Beach or Lake Tahoe how would you feel about living under these conditions for Five more years? I think we know the answer. This is not about prevailing in some theoretical debate, for me this is about helping my friends and neighbors who live in the low income-minority community of Oceano. I watch these people struggle everyday and we should all want to help and protect them. They are only asking for the opportunity to improve their community and quality of life. This transition timeline is now centered directly on human and civil rights.

We must carefully evaluate the transition timeline and ask ourselves if we can all accept the consequences of our actions if we vote for the current Five Year Transition Timeline and the long term impact it will have on Oceano. That is all I request.

Dear Coastal Commissioners,

I am in favor of following the CC staff recommendations, except for the idea of phasing out OHV's in five years. I would like to see OHV use immediately terminated. It is clear that State Parks has not done a good job protecting our coastline and it will take years for the natural dune formations to return after 40 years of OHV riding.

Please do your job and protect our coastline, air quality and endangered species.

To whom it may concern,

We have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes on several occasions over the past years. We want to express our strong support for the report and the recommendations which are set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" which has been prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

We appreciate that the CCC Staff has taken a lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan and the developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for the future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with the State law and begins to restore the seriously degraded and unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

Most sincerely concerned,
Greg and Claudia Myall

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Nick Collin

Subject: Oceano Dunes-

Dear CCC

I recently listened in to a meeting in February. I found the staff recommendations on the McCarthy/Ontario Ridge Trail very relevant to the Oceano OHV use issue.

Your staff said multiple things in that statement which I think apply direct to the Oceano OHV area.

One of the reason for not letting McCarty move the trail is that it was “The existing trail on the McCarthy property is well used and very popular because the trail is located adjacent to, and connects with, all of these related public access features, it provides dramatic and sweeping vistas of the ocean and coastline, and its steepness provides for a unique and long-standing user experience of a straight ascent from Cave Landing Road to the top of the ridge. The County-approved replacement trail would provide a different experience that would be generally more meandering and have a more gradual ascent and descent than the existing trail.”

The OHV area is well used and very popular. It provides dramatic and sweeping vistas of the ocean and coastline, and its steepness provides for unique and long-standing user experience. The County is not replacing the Oceano OHV area with anything and telling them to go to one of the few other places that allow OHV in California use doesn’t provide the same experience. There is nothing like driving next to the ocean feeling the sand beneath your tires.

“The Coastal Act and the LCP require that existing public accessways be protected and that public recreational access be maximized. In particular, it applies to low- and no-cost access such as public trails. In short, the Coastal Act and LCP are strongly protective of existing public trails and public recreational access rights, such as exist in this case currently. This trail has a very loyal following of trail users that specifically seek out this trail due to its unique slope and stunning coastal vista.”

How is taking away a type of recreation maximizing it? Driving and camping on the beach is well loved by many people. It allows family and friends to come together, play, spend time and enjoy the beach. All this for a low cost of $5 for day use or $10 for overnight camping. Can you tell me where to find lodging for my whole family for $10? The OHV area has a very loyal following that specifically seek out the Oceano OHV area due to its unique experience and stunning coastal views.

“The County-approved project is inconsistent with Coastal Act and LCP public access and recreation policies because it effectively extinguishes this unique and heavily used public trail, thereby reducing access for those members of the public who enjoy the existing trail for its unique attributes that would not be replicated by the County-approved replacement trail.” The “public’s right of continued use was likely formally established as a prescriptive right through historic use,” which is held by the public at large.

By taking away the Oceano OHV area you are effectively extinguishing the unique and heavily used public area, thereby reducing access for those members of the public who enjoy the existing area for its unique attributes that could not be replicated. Historically, the Oceano Dunes have been open to OHV use way before the McCarthy Trail was open. There are pictures of Model-Ts on the beach and even earlier pictures showing cars on the beach in 1915. Why is this CENTURY old recreational activity not being protected?

OHV use also allows all kinds of disabled people to fully access the beach that otherwise is not available anywhere else in California. Removing vehicle access would directly impair all kinds of disabled people’s access to the ocean and the dunes at large.

Please keep Oceano Dunes open to ALL types of recreational activities, including vehicle access. Shutting down OHV use goes against your own principles and would hurt the local people and greatly restrict access to the beach and ocean. Don’t stop the century old traditions of countless people that come and spend money in our local economy, making memories with family and friends, and enjoy the unique experience that Oceano OHV offers.

Subject: This LUDICROUS "Plan"

Adding my voice to say H--- NO! to the Oso Flaco "Planned CITY".
"Plan A" is just putting a foot in the door to push the door open.
Disclosure - I retired after working 12 Seasons at ODSVRA Natural Resources Division

I'm certain I won't say anything that's not already been said but...

The park visitors that camp on the beach have little regard for laws -
* keeping dogs on leash
* they leave trash everywhere - which will attract more predators to Oso Flaco "Natural Area"
* they use the beach as a toilet
* they trespass into closed nesting areas (walking with 1 foot of posted "DO NOT ENTER" signs) and they shoot the signs with BB or pellet guns
* they don't follow NO FIREWORKS LAWS
* If they trespass and fire off fireworks in the current beach camping area, it's guaranteed they'll trespass and shoot fireworks on the Oso Flaco shoreline and surrounding dunes... where Plovers nest and raise chicks.
* they drink and drive, do drug deals, graffiti restrooms, benches,signs etc

* OMG the noise this plan will create! People who enjoy nature / bird watching must be able to hear... and the poor wildlife. An ATV training / staging area will destroy all that.

How is traffic on Hwy 1 going to be addressed? And at what cost!?
How is the narrow road from Hwy 1 to Oso Flaco Lake (OFL) going to be made wide enough - and at what cost!? It's LUDICROUS!

Where will the farm workers park - how will they be safe? They currently park on both sides of the road to OFL.

It's not just endangered animals and plants that will be affected. There's an entire ecosystem that will be impacted - including animals like mountain lions, bobcats,and So many others. They will likely be killed to protect humans who want to play in their territory.

Off roaders claim to "Love nature" - No, they love being outdoors - they destroy nature. I've witnessed riders intentionally racing (yes racing) into flocks of gulls and Sanderlings. If there's a plant outside of a fenced area - they run it over.

When I hear park visitors say they've been coming to the park for generations, I want to say "So what - the wildlife has been there for eons! People have actually said to me "The birds don't belong here". WHAT!?

Where did the idea come from that people who want to protect and preserve are the "bad guys"? Damn Environmentalists!
While those who are destroying the environment are doing something good? Do they think they're "more American" because they fly a big flag from their gas guzzling truck.. THEY ARE NOT.

To: California Coastal Commissioners and Staff

I have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes on several occasions over recent years. I am writing to express my strong support for the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

I appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with State law and begins to restore the seriously degraded and unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

The Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes are unique in their beauty, and I am encouraging the Coastal Commission to preserve that beauty for now and for future generations. We have family who own a beautiful home on the end of Strand Ave, and that residence/locale has been the center of many family gatherings and celebrations through the years. I have seen the beach during the pandemic, when no cars or dune buggies were able to drive on the beach. The undisturbed beach and environs were stunning when no cars, trucks or dune buggies were allowed. It is the first time I have relished the scenery in a safe and unobstructed manner.

I encourage you to support the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" recommendations.

Sincerely,

snowy plover at Oso Flaco.jpg;

Good day. I would like to add my 2 cents to the discussion regarding the State Parks plan to develop Oso Flaco. I was out there today with a friend surf fishing and bird watching, as were a lot of folks. There were families, like always, enjoying the day. Snowy plovers were seemingly everywhere on the beach. (See above) We have been going to Oso Flaco regularly for 40 years, and about every 6 weeks during the pandemic. On weekends the parking lot has been packed. We obviously aren't the only locals who enjoy the serenity of this beau. ful place.

The State Park's "improvement plan" would so drastically change the area, most locals who go there now would find no reason to visit. Right now the only sounds you hear are the birds, the waves and at times off road vehicles north of the beach and lake. I understand that off road vehicle enthusiasts and campers enjoy the area, and right now they have one. If State Parks is looking for ways to make more money from this area, it seems like there are 2 viable solutions: 1) Charge more money for those driving onto the beach at Grand and Pier avenues, and for camping privileges; 2) Station someone at the kiosk at Oso Flaco and charge the $5 that people are willing to pay to enter. I haven't seen anyone at the kiosk in 2 months. They have been missing out on a lot of revenue.

I lend my voice to those who recommend against the State Park plan.

Respectfully, Tim Davis

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Allie Palmer

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

I'm writing to voice my support for the CCC staff recommendations being submitted to the California Coastal Commisioners.

Specifically, I am in favor of -
a. closing the Pier Avenue Beach entrance to vehicles
b. allow only pedestrian and bicycle access to the beach area south of Pier Avenue
c. limiting car camping and vehicles to the beach area between Grand Avenue and Pier Avenue
d. eliminating all Off Highway Vehicle (OHV) use on the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes within the next five years.

I've witnessed the impacts of both limiting beach access, and opening up beach access, in the areas noted. My fear is that this is a one-way street. If vehicles are allowed access to the beach areas specified, it will (a) lead to a despoiling of the entire beachfront area and (b) only increase demand for additional access.

Please consider following the prudent guidance of the CCC staff.

Thank you.

RE: Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area Draft Public Works Plan

We respectfully request that State Parks reconsider the proposed public works plan to renovate and develop new facilities at the Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA). We appreciate State Parks recognizing the broad range of interests and needs for many outdoor enthusiasts. We also appreciate the need to preserve and protect our natural and cultural resources now and for generations to come. The ODSVRA is one of the best of California's natural and cultural history collections that State Parks is mandated to protect and preserve.

For a very long time now it has been recognized the Oceano Dunes (ODSVRA) is a location where the needs of off-highway motorized vehicle (OHV) enthusiasts and the need to preserve and protect our natural and cultural resources conflict in a significant way.

- We support the possible expansion of affordable, low impact car beach camping towards the north as suggested by the California Coastal Commission in their July 12, 2019 letter.
- We support a controlled number of designated Hike-in and Bike-in camping areas farther south in ODSVRA. We support allowing limited hiking trails through the dunes area.
- We support development of a new RV park on the adjacent old refinery property should it become available in the future.
- We support State Parks MOVING the Off-highway vehicle (OHV) use to a different location inland away from the coastal zone; perhaps in the open lands area between San Luis Obispo county and Kern counties in a more accessible and less ecologically sensitive area.

We agree with the California Coastal Commission that it is time to transition the ODSVRA away from OHV use to other forms of public access and recreation. In fact we believe this is long overdue!

Subject: Public Comment on State Parks Public Works Plan for the Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Public Comment

An unforeseen outcome of the COVID pandemic has been a period in which the birds, the beach, the air, and the public has been able to take a breath and enjoy the natural, national treasure of the Oceano Dunes.

Because vehicle traffic and use in the Oceano Dunes State Vehicle Recreation Area (ODSVRA) was halted to curb the pandemic, we've been able to see and appreciate the Dunes and Oso Flaco Lake for what they are.

I commend the California Coastal Commission for releasing a staff report that provides a vision of the future in how we can preserve, protect, and offer public access to this unique resource: the largest intact coastal dunes system in the world.

State Parks, on the other hand, seems intent on catering to a narrow constituency that would off-road and degrade this gem to death, a plan that robs future generations of this natural wonder. The Coastal Commission staff report shows that off-road riding degrades the habitat, causes air quality issues, and does not economically contribute to Oceano. It's no surprise that off-road riders want the public to believe otherwise.

What does State Parks propose? Certainly not phasing out harmful vehicle use! Instead, they propose dramatically scaling up development in Oso Flaco, changing land use where Phillips 66 is into an area with everything from a gun range to more riding, as well as increased traffic, light, noise, and air pollution.

Please save the Oceano Dunes and Oso Flaco from environmental degradation!

The pandemic has brought heartache and untold suffering, but it also provided an opportunity for us to appreciate the Earth's needs. Let's use this moment of clarity to embrace the necessity of clean air, the blue wonder of clear skies—and the fragility of our natural world.

Dear Coastal Commissioners:

I strongly support your Staff report relating to the Oceano Dunes and the Oso Flaco Lake Natural Area. With respect to Oso Flaco Lake, what State Parks wants to do with that precious habitat is appalling. I moved to the Central Coast in 2003 and have visited Oso Flaco once in the last 18 years -- only one time because the beauty and sounds of nature were drowned out by the roar of OHVs. I found it too horrifying to return. The most recent proposal by State Parks? Joni Mitchell put it best: "They paved paradise, put up a parking lot. Don't it always seem to go that you don't know what you've got till it's gone?"

Likewise, I've been to the Oceano Dunes one time in the last 18 years. I witnessed trucks, cars, and OHVs destroying Mother Earth in so many ways. I wondered then and do now how this was ever allowed to happen. When I get my water bill in the mail there is often a flyer included that reminds homeowners not to allow oil and other pollutants to go into the streets or down storm drains -- these lead to rivers and the ocean. The IWMA website states: "Used motor oil is a major contaminant of waterways, so never dump down the drain or in the trash. Filters also leak toxic materials into waterways, which are slow to break down in the environment." Some vehicles leak oil, that's just a fact. Over the decades how many barrels of oil have been leaked by OHVs and other vehicles directly into the ocean? Why is it allowed to continue?

I've been to Coastal Commission meetings where off-roaders pack the rooms and claim that what they are doing is their right, their family tradition. This seems like the same mentality of people who claim it is their right not to wear masks (no matter if they kill themselves or others). One white man gallingly used the words of a Chumash elder and applied them to himself -- the dunes and the coast were his "heritage."

I am fortunate to live in Los Osos -- but I do not believe the ocean and the Back Bay are "mine." I strongly support public access to beaches and the ocean regardless of where people live. However, vehicles on the beach, especially OHVs, prohibit access for the vast majority of people. As noted by your Staff, driving at the Park makes it "difficult for the public to walk, swim and enjoy other non-vehicular activities at the beach and dunes" -- that in addition to the fact that it "has degraded dune habitats, harmed native species [and] caused air quality and public health issues." Right now, the best, saddest image of the Oceano Dunes is a small crushed Snowy Plover in a tire track.

For these reasons I strongly urge the Commission to phase out all vehicles on the beach and dunes within the next five years. I also urge you leave Oso Flaco Lake Natural Area natural. Please, no more pavement in paradise.

Respectfully,
Alice Welchert

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

I agree with the Staff's report that Off-Highway vehicles should be phased out.

The State Park should be a respite for people to get away from the hustle and bustle of life rather than a continuation of the 405.

As stewards of our natural resources, we should give the snowy plovers, the least turns, the grunions and all the other shoreline animals a chance to survive rather than running them into

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

The lockdowns imposed by cities and states due to COVID-19 have resulted in an increase in outdoor recreation use nation-wide. Across all activities, age groups, and types of users - the statistics from 2020 show huge increases in people wanting to recreate in the outdoors. Oceano Dunes provides such a unique powersports opportunity for enthusiasts who enjoy the area, and being able to recreate with their families. This tradition must continue for the mental health and well being our our citizens. The Coastal Commission and the other governing agencies must work in collaboration with the organized groups and allow them to volunteer to help maintain the area with the use as it has existed prior to the restrictions and reductions proposed in the Draft PWP and EIR.

It's always easy for agencies to say NO and close an area than it is to work hard and come up with ways to keep it open. Keep it open. Don't shut the people out of their public lands.

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Amanda Liu

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Dear Coastal Commision,
As you consider the future of the Oceano State Park, we would like to express our concerns.
We have lived in the Callender-Garret area of the Mesa for 43 years. We have seen the off-road use grow to insane numbers in the summer and holiday weekends. We can hear their motors roaring in the middle of the night, and read about all the injuries and deaths that have occurred on the dunes. We also have our air quality impacted from these vehicles.
We have also enjoyed the quiet and peaceful with the closure of the dunes this past year. Walking on the beach and into the dunes at that time was a wonderful experience. The bird life grew in abundance and the snowy plovers were everywhere. People loved walking the beach in safety.
What prompts this letter is the expansion the State Park is planning. Our greatest concern is opening anything near Oso Flaco. Off-road vehicles are destroying a sensitive, ecological gem, but to ruin Oso Flaco would be a serious mistake.
Walk the high road and stop all off roading in the dunes and protect our Oso Flaco.
Thank you
Robert and Carol Scott 573 Winterhaven Way, Arroyo Grande 805-343-2375

The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Dear Coastal Commission,

In my opinion, Oso Flaco Lake should remain for Day Use only, to preserve its fragile ecosystem, (one example: endangered snowy plover) and unique lake, dune, beach experience.

The parking lot situation could be improved, some more paid spaces needed. I think a nominal fee should be collected 100% of the time, (full time attendant, automated entrance, season pass) to generate funds for its maintenance.

We visit Oso Flaco frequently, (walking, birding, beaching,) in fact, my husband and a friend are there right now, shore fishing. We've visited Oso Flaco for years, since before the boardwalk. The boardwalk has been a positive, preserving the ecosystem, and allowing more public access. It is uplifting to see all the families, with all ages of children and often with the grandparents, enjoying the Oso Flaco experience, learning about and appreciating nature.

I cannot see how this unique environment and experience could be preserved and continue, with the State Parks current plan for adding camping, RVs and hookups, buildings, OHV access, etc.,.

I understand the need to replace lost beach camping and allow some OHV use. But transforming Oso Flaco is not a good solution.

The upcoming availability of the Union 66 refinery property seems to offer possibilities that make more sense, reclaiming property for camping, OHV use, etc.,.

Thank you for your attention,
Cathy O. Davis

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. Dear CCC

I recently listened in to a meeting in February. I found the staff recommendations on the McCarthy/Ontario Ridge Trail very relevant to the Oceano OHV use issue.

Your staff said multiple things in that statement which I think apply direct to the Oceano OHV area.

One of the reason for not letting McCarty move the trail is that it was "The existing trail on the McCarthy property is well used and very popular because the trail is located adjacent to, and connects with, all of these related public access features, it provides dramatic and sweeping vistas of the ocean and coastline, and its steepness provides for a unique and long-standing user experience of a straight ascent from Cave Landing Road to the top of the ridge. The County-approved replacement trail would provide a different experience that would be generally more meandering and have a more gradual ascent and descent than the existing trail."

The OHV area is well used and very popular. It provides dramatic and sweeping vistas of the ocean and coastline, and its steepness provides for unique and long-standing user experience. The County is not replacing the Oceano OHV area with anything and telling them to go to one of the few other places that allow OHV in California use doesn't provide the same experience. There is nothing like driving next to the ocean feeling the sand beneath your tires.

"The Coastal Act and the LCP require that existing public accessways be protected and that public recreational access be maximized. In particular, it applies to low- and no-cost access such as public trails. In short, the Coastal Act and LCP are strongly protective of existing public trails and public recreational access rights, such as exist in this case currently. This trail has a very loyal following of trail users that specifically seek out this trail due to its unique slope and stunning coastal vista."

How is taking away a type of recreation maximizing it? Driving and camping on the beach is well loved by many people. It allows family and friends to come together, play, spend time and enjoy the beach. All this for a low cost of $5 for day use or $10 for overnight camping. Can you tell me where to find lodging for my whole family for $10? The OHV area has a very loyal following that specifically seek out the Oceano OHV area due to its unique experience and stunning coastal views.

"The County-approved project is inconsistent with Coastal Act and LCP public access and recreation policies because it effectively extinguishes this unique and heavily used public trail, thereby reducing access for those members of the public who enjoy the existing trail for its unique attributes that would not be replicated by the County-approved replacement trail." The "public's right of continued use was likely formally established as a prescriptive right through historic use," which is held by the public at large.

By taking away the Oceano OHV area you are effectively extinguishing the unique and heavily used public area, thereby reducing access for those members of the public who enjoy the existing area for its unique attributes that could not be replicated. Historically, the Oceano Dunes have been open to OHV use way before the McCarthy Trail was open. There are pictures of Model-Ts on the beach and even earlier pictures showing cars on the beach in 1915. Why is this CENTURY old recreational activity not being protected?

OHV use also allows all kinds of disabled people to fully access the beach that otherwise is not available anywhere else in California. Removing vehicle access would directly impair all kinds of disabled people's access to the ocean and the dunes at large.

Please keep Oceano Dunes open to ALL types of recreational activities, including vehicle access. Shutting down OHV use goes against your own principles and would hurt the local people and greatly restrict access to the beach and ocean. Don't stop the century old traditions of countless people that come and spend money in our local economy, making memories with family and friends, and enjoy the unique experience that Oceano OHV offers.

To Whom It May Concern,

I believe strongly that the economic impact will be minimal and may actually stimulate the economy of the area. Normally those that camp or spend the day riding at the dunes bring their own food, their own beverages, fuel up at home and don't stay in the neighboring hotels. They spend five dollars for the day or $10 for the night to spend their time in their entirety at the dunes.

It's time that we start taking care of this beautiful and precious area that we live in and protect and restore it for the generations to come. It is ridiculous to allow for a group of people, mostly that aren't even from this area, to destroy all the precious resources that we have been blessed with. Let's truly Save The Dunes like they were originally meant to be, a wonderful and peaceful home to many native plant and animal life and a peaceful place to appreciate and enjoy!

To Whom It May Concern: The California Coastal Commission has FAILED to fulfill its mission as it pertains to the Oceano Dunes. The Commission is accountable and responsible to ALL parties not just their own interests or those belonging to environmental extremists. It has been made very clear that the Oceano Dunes and the experiences/opportunities they provide to the families, businesses, and patrons are priceless and the use of the Dunes for OHV is a key part of the California experience.

Past claims of dust pollution and other false positions in an attempt to reduce the OHV footprint have all but been debunked now that the dunes have been closed, yet the dust continues to travel to the residences behind the dunes and adjacent areas.

The Oceano Dunes should be fully opened effective immediately and the OHV area should be expanded to allow for use of ALL dunes areas.

Sincerely,
Samuel Shaaya

As a concerned citizen that lives in the Oceano Dunes area, I would like to point out the various reason why the off-road vehicles and motorized vehicles should permanently be excluded from being on the beach in this area:

*Proliferation of particulate matter into the air due to the motorized activity is very unhealthful for human beings to breathe.

*Tearing up the precious dunes with vehicle activity is just a real shame! Why allow a natural preserve to be decimated?

*Terns, snowy plovers, etc. should not have to be ran over and killed just so people can recreate.

*Why allow people who do not even live in our area come and destroy our natural beauty? Sure, there are riders from our area but the vast majority come from the central valley, decimate our area, then pack up and go home without realizing the horrible consequences they have left us with.

*Pollution from these vehicles should not be allowed to pollute our air.

*It has been proven that during the covid period where riders were not allowed, the area did not suffer financially! This cannot be used as an excuse to allow the riders to devastate our area by polluting the air, leaving their litter, wrecking the Oceano Dunes habitat and having a negative impact on our already fragile infrastructure.

*Future plans that have been discussed re relocating dunes entrances, Oso Flacco development, etc. are plans that would just add fuel to the fire. Those plans are completely ridiculous!!

Thank you for considering to do the right thing by shutting down the vehicle activity at the dunes.

Please accept my thoughts and feeling on the future of the Oceano Dunes.

I am currently retired and residing in Nipomo on the central coast. I am not a native of California but feel I am blessed to be able to live and enjoy the unique nature and outdoor experiences that exist in and near the Oceano Dunes. I confess I am a nature enthusiast. Over the years, I have visited numerous state and national parks. Repeatedly I am in awe of the sights, sounds and experiences. Often, I pause for a moment and wish I could express my thanks to those forward-thinking individuals that also had a vision and passion for these special lands. They genuinely loved these areas and I feel likely fought many difficult battles to keep and preserve the lands. So that, even after many decades, individuals like myself and future generations can still use, enjoy, and experience those same sights, sounds, and smells in a non-destructive fashion. To me, it feels like we have the same inflection point with the Oceano Dunes area. The dunes are a truly totally unique ecosystem. We have limited time to still protect this remaining environment. By protecting the dunes, many future generations in California and other parts of the country may be able to view and enjoy this nature setting. Or we can proceed on a short-sighted journey of abusing and destroying the dunes for a short-term thrill. I strongly urge you to take future focused actions. Thereby future generations will be presented this gift and enjoy the unique natural sights, sounds and smells. Not a churned destroyed series of sand dunes that have lost all look and feel of what the dunes are / were.

Thank you – Ron Schmidt

Dear members of the Coastal Commission,

Oso Flaco Lake is one of our favorite places to hike and to bird watch. It is a place of solace and quiet and beauty, and we are appalled at the idea that a project as large as the one that has been proposed is being considered. The natural habitat would be seriously damaged and we would no longer have a desire to visit there. They have done a beautiful job of restoring much of the native environment and it would be tragic to overturn that hard work.

What is proposed seems highly inappropriate for the area. We have followed the news closely for years about the problem of allowing recreational vehicles along the Oceano dunes, and permitting additional access to the beach from the Oso Flaco parking lot can only further increase the environmental hazards and destroy more habitat.

Please do all you can to prohibit this project, so that we may continue to have this lovely resource in our county.

Thank you for your consideration,
Chris & John Parker-Kennedy

Dear CCC,
Please support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes, and amend the State Park's Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Ave. vehicle access, preserve the snowy plover exclosures, and leave the Oso Flaco Lake area as it is. Start the clock NOW on the phase-out of OHV activity. The fears and economic arguments against doing this are unfounded and were disproven during the park's closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California's coast.
I, as a resident of Oceano, cannot walk on my own beach, with OHV! And I see the coastal dunes complex – the defense against rising sea levels – being eroded away every day.
The unhealthy air, from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road vehicle activity, continues to stretch from Nipomo to Guadalupe.
All of this is an environmental injustice. State Parks is not fixing the problem and has ignored your directive to come up with a plan to adequately protect the environmentally sensitive habitat. It is past time to hold them accountable.
Respectfully, Fern Godden.

I would like to offer my input and express my concerns regarding the initial phase and future phase proposals put forth by the State Parks for the Oso Flaco Lake area.

First, as a resident of Guadalupe I enjoy Oso Flaco just the way it is. I like that it seems remote and has limited accessibility. However, I realize the area is growing and I can't keep it all to myself. I do not object greatly to the initial phase proposals, except for the proposed new off highway vehicle trails. Bad idea!

My chief concern is with the 300 campsites and other facilities proposed for the future phase. I don't see how these proposals can in any way be consistent with meeting the goal of protecting our coastal environmental resources. Please don't turn the Oso Flaco Lake area into another overrun recreation area! In this case less is more.

Dear Executive Director Jack Ainsworth,

The Oceano Sand Dunes are recognized by scientists, conservationists, government agencies and the public as the finest, most extensive coastal dunes remaining in California. The beach and dunes offer critical habitat for endangered shorebirds and other rare plant and animal species. Unfortunately, off-highway vehicle (OHV) activity has been allowed to degrade this beautiful area for decades.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Oceano Dunes was closed in March to all vehicle activity. Since the closure, the dunes and beach have transformed into a vibrant, safe and clean environment for beachgoers of all kinds.

California State Parks recently drafted a Public Works Plan, a Habitat Conservation Plan and an Environmental Impact Report for the area. All of these documents still need to be reviewed and approved by state and/or federal agencies before they can be implemented.

However, at its earliest opportunity, California State Parks intends to reopen the park to vehicle use before these plans are approved, which will reimpose immediate threats to wildlife, sensitive habitats and community health and safety.

Surfrider and our partners would like to see a new, inclusive vision of recreation and conservation at Oceano Dunes that will secure environmental justice for surrounding communities, ensure better protection for wildlife and the natural environment, boost the local economy and respect the area?s cultural heritage.

Until State Parks receives necessary approvals on Public Works and Habitat Conservation Plans, as well as the EIR, the Park should remain closed to OHV activity to prevent continued violations of the Endangered Species Act, the California Coastal Act and the Local Coastal Program. In the interim, all parties should continue to develop solutions that advance real conservation of natural resources and environmental justice for the local communities.

I implore you, as a state agency leader, to adopt recommendations that will keep Oceano Dunes closed to OHV use until the Public Works Plan, Habitat Conservation Plan and the Environmental Impact Report have been approved and implemented.

Sincerely,

When the City of Pismo Beach closed the ramp for driving vehicles on the beach their was no long transition. The City Council made a decision and then departments worked together to accomplish this new policy objective. After the ramp entrance was closed Pismo Beach became a safe and vibrant beach town where businesses and the community are thriving and successful. Even then their were those who claimed it will destroy the economy. It did not.

It is hard to understand why now Oceano is treated with such a vastly different set of rules and values when it comes to having a vehicle free safe beach, closing Pier Avenue, protecting the environment and improving public health. These serious problems demand immediate attention and action. This is why we need to reevaluate the Five Year Transition plan.

In the compromise recommendations vehicles and camping are still allowed at the Oceano Dunes.

I believe my community of Oceano deserves to be treated equally and fairly. The Five Year transition is excessive and I do not believe it helps accomplish the goals and objectives set forth in the new conditional use permit for the Oceano Dunes.

Subject: Protect Oceano Dunes from Destructive Off-Highway Vehicle Impacts

Dear Executive Director Jack Ainsworth,

The Oceano Sand Dunes are recognized by scientists, conservationists, government agencies and the public as the finest, most extensive coastal dunes remaining in California. The beach and dunes offer critical habitat for endangered shorebirds and other rare plant and animal species. Unfortunately, off-highway vehicle (OHV) activity has been allowed to degrade this beautiful area for decades.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Oceano Dunes was closed in March to all vehicle activity. Since the closure, the dunes and beach have transformed into a vibrant, safe and clean environment for beachgoers of all kinds.

California State Parks recently drafted a Public Works Plan, a Habitat Conservation Plan and an Environmental Impact Report for the area. All of these documents still need to be reviewed and approved by state and/or federal agencies before they can be implemented.

However, at its earliest opportunity, California State Parks intends to reopen the park to vehicle use before these plans are approved, which will reimpose immediate threats to wildlife, sensitive habitats and community health and safety.

Surfrider and our partners would like to see a new, inclusive vision of recreation and conservation at Oceano Dunes that will secure environmental justice for surrounding communities, ensure better protection for wildlife and the natural environment, boost the local economy and respect the area?s cultural heritage.

Until State Parks receives necessary approvals on Public Works and Habitat Conservation Plans, as well as the EIR, the Park should remain closed to OHV activity to prevent continued violations of the Endangered Species Act, the California Coastal Act and the Local Coastal Program. In the interim, all parties should continue to develop solutions that advance real conservation of natural resources and environmental justice for the local communities.

I implore you, as a state agency leader, to adopt recommendations that will keep Oceano Dunes closed to OHV use until the Public Works Plan, Habitat Conservation Plan and the Environmental Impact Report have been approved and implemented.

Sincerely,

Sarah Orth

Subject: City of Pismo Beach Plan and Driving on the Beach

Categories: Public Comment

When the City of Pismo Beach closed the ramp for driving vehicles on the beach their was no long transition. The City Council made a decision and then departments worked together to accomplish this new policy objective. After the ramp entrance was closed Pismo Beach became a safe and vibrant beach town where businesses and the community are thriving and successful. Even then their were those who claimed it will destroy the economy. It did not.

It is hard to understand why now Oceano is treated with such a vastly different set of rules and values when it comes to having a vehicle free safe beach, closing Pier Avenue, protecting the environment and improving public health. These serious problems demand immediate attention and action. This is why we need to reevaluate the Five Year Transition plan.

In the compromise recommendations vehicles and camping are still allowed at the Oceano Dunes.

I believe my community of Oceano deserves to be treated equally and fairly. The Five Year transition is excessive and I do not believe it helps accomplish the goals and objectives set forth in the new conditional use permit for the Oceano Dunes.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
John Landmann

Dear California Coastal Commission,

As a fourth-generation born Californian and a lifelong resident until 2020, I must speak up. The Coastal Commission has, over decades, saved our coastal habitats from destructive overuse by humans. This wonderful, beautiful state belongs to all its residents, furry, fluffy, and otherwise. Off-roading isn't a human right and should never be given precedence, for any reason, over habitat needs of naturally-occurring specides.

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Many years ago I road a dirt bike in the desert. IF I had any idea of the damage I was doing, I would NOT have participated in this activity. Especially with age, I have realized we NEED this planet, its other beings, and the eco systems. We, as humans, need to figure out how to have have fun without damaging our planet. Our current actions are like destroying our home because we have a party. It makes no sense. It is time for us to grow up, find other ways to have fun and take care of and protect our planet. It is time to STOP using the dunes as a play ground. It is time to start respecting the dunes as an eco system that we need to preserve, respect and enjoy in other ways. Please do NOT open the dunes to any vehicles. Let nature take over and recover from the damage we have already done.

Thank you.

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

We must all stop aiding and abetting State Parks and the OHV Division and their proxy groups at the Oceano Dunes.

It is time to make protecting people, the environment, habitat, vulnerable communities and improving public health outcomes our top priority in the new conditional use permit. Immediate relief is needed and justified.

Clearly the new conditional use permit transition timeline only delays full implementation of this outstanding compromise planning document. The current transition timeline prioritizes the OHV Division over people and the environment again. In fact this transition timeline will only make things more difficult over the next five years at the Oceano Dunes. It becomes the poison pill within this document.

A one year timeline is sufficient time to implement fully the new conditional use permit at the Oceano Dunes. Preparing to transition for a vehicle free beach south of Pier Avenue should not take 5 Years ! We know this is a realistic objective because they did it in a shorter time in October last year.

With most other violators they are given 30 days or a reasonable length of time to correct the violations or face daily fines. We have not done that at the Oceano Dunes.

TO: California Coastal Commissioners and Staff

We are writing in strong support of the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

In 1972, while attending California Polytechnic State University, I was a participant in a California coastal bicycle ride to raise funds to establish the Coastal Commission! It was a California ride, border to border along Highway 1, south to north. Over the subsequent 49 years our family has frequently returned to the beach and dunes for vacations and reunions, and we are concerned over the use of these environmentally sensitive areas.

We appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes. This Report and Plan is consistent with State law and begins to restore the seriously degraded and unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

Please do not allow State Parks to move ahead with their development plans for the Oso Flaco Lake area of the Nipomo/Oceano Dunes. This area is a place to be treasured as it is, the proposed developments would completely alter the character of the area and destroy the wilderness aspect a day spent here.

I support the staff report regarding the removal of OHVs in the dunes. In addition to the continued degradation and destruction of potential endangered species habitat, this activity posses a real health threat the those downwind and it is an economic hardship on Oceano as the community has not been able to develop their beach area as adjacent communities have.

Dear Coastal Commissioners:

The recommendations for the Oceano Dunes SVRA and the draft PWP/EIR begs your support. These recommendations would bring the area in compliance with the Coastal Act, providing access to this area of the beach for many more people. This area of the the coast has been mostly inaccessible for decades until the closure this earlier this year. It was joyous to go to Oceano ramp and on to the beach and see so many appreciate our public beach.

Many hikers, walkers, and beach users availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy this portion of the Coast without the dangers of off road vehicular traffic during the closure. In addition to the beach being safer, the air was cleaner and there wasn't the noise pollution.

Economically deprived area Oceano would likely benefit from more access to the beach without off road vehicular traffic. Having lived in this County for most of my life, I stopped going to Oceano many years ago because of the dangers and the noise.

But really, the biggest issue is the air quality. It appears to me that the health of people should surpasses our desire for recreational uses, period.

Thank you in advance for your consideration and your staff's efforts in this matter.

Sincerely

Susan Devine

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Subject: Please oppose restricting or ending powersports access to Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Subject: State Parks' Oso Flaco Plan

Categories: Public Comment

Dear Coastal Commission,

Thank you for the opportunity to email you regarding my thoughts on the Oso Flaco Improvement Project and the Oceano Dunes SVRA area in general, before your hearing on March 18, 2021.

I have reviewed all the State Park plans and attended a Zoom event put on by the League of Women Voters of SLO County on February 15, 2021. I just moved up to Guadalupe CA. from Los Angeles CA on October 1, 2020. It's a breath of fresh air up here in Guadalupe and Oso Flaco Lake. I go to Oso Flaco Lake often to walk in the peace and serenity, study the birds, the plants and appreciate the quiet. One cannot get this kind of quiet in Southern CA — where with the Pandemic, I could not find a free space to walk in Santa Monica, Los Angeles or Will Rogers State Park — There was no place for quiet and to spend time with nature.

I'm very concerned about the State Parks plan to "improve" Oso Flaco Lake. Why improve what's already great. Why does there have to be a campground at Oso Flaco Lake? With all the birds — a campsite plus the potential of another SVRA entrance — would drive all those various species of birds away. I can see adding a few more trails — but Oso Flaco Lake seems a very odd place for campsites. Aside from being a bird sanctuary, it's some of the richest soil in the state — it's needed for agriculture, not for camping. A campsite at Oso Flaco Lake would also mean widening the road that goes to Oso Flaco Lake which mean taking away more agricultural land — It just doesn't make organic sense to put a campsite there.

Phillips 66 just a little North on Hwy 1 is going to be up for sale. Why doesn't the State Parks buy that land — refurbish it, get rid of the oil — and put campgrounds there — it will be closer to Oceano Beach — and it's a better spot for campgrounds, with more space for Parking(without taking away agricultural land) and potential food stands, & picnic areas. Up the coast a little farther Diablo Power Plant is closing down — that's another great area for camping.

The State Park Plan for Oso Flaco Lake is not thought out properly — That campsite, noise and growth will destroy the bird sanctuary — plus surrounding agriculture. If the State Parks want to expand SVRA — they should acquire Phillips 66 — and use that area, where the noise won't bother nature or people.

ThIs just needs to be a better thought-out plan. I urge the Coastal Commission to "Pass" on this Oceano Dunes, Oso Flaco Lake State Park Plan. This current plan, the way it is proposed now, if we move forward with it, we will regret for generations to come.

Thank you,

To Whom it May Concern, re Oso Flaco Lake Natural Area:

I am very opposed to development of this area into a campsite and RV park. We need to conserve MORE wild spaces for wildlife on the planet, not usurp it for those who do not even respect it. The proposed development of this park will encroach on and inhibit the proliferation of all animals that frequent the lake and the surrounding vegetation. Now, it is a refuge for them; if these plans materialize, it will be their demise for lack of habitat. The noise, the traffic, the litter created and left behind; all will desecrate this pristine area. Not to mention the campfires with all-night parties; drugs and alcohol that will bring accidents and emergencies to this area. Many of the people who want to develop this park do not live in the area. They come from Arizona and Nevada to have the freedom to desecrate with their cars, motorcycles and dune buggies, what is struggling to survive: the dunes and local wildlife that live on them and near the lake.

I vote a loud 'NO FURTHER DEVEOPMENT' of the beaches on the Central Coast, for vehicle and related-type usage.

The park/lake is not a place to 'citify' or destroy by paving it over; - if we do, it is one more step toward living in a 'cement jungle' with all the inherent ugly factors, and very little if any, wildlife. I concur heartily with the CCC's recommendations, all of them. We need to consider leaving a legacy that enhances our natural environment and protects it - not deplete and exploit it, which development will do.

Dear California Coastal Commission representatives,

I support submitting San Luis Obispo County and Santa Barbara County staff's Section 30244 Mitigation Fee Alternative (Alternative 3) to the Commission for Oceano Dunes (CDP).

I support staff's overall recommendations, especially highlighting the following:

- The phase out of vehicles driving on ESHA is south of Pier Avenue.
- Year-around closure for the Snowy Plover Habitat Area (Snowy Plover ESHA) including Callendar Beach Park, Pismo Dunes, Pismo Creek/Meadow, and Arroyo Grande Creek.
- Water conservation projects (phase 1) to ensure that Pismo Creek and Arroyo Grande Creek are flowing year-round, which is the minimum condition for the Commission to consider the Oceano Dunes SVRA project as a viable project. Water conservation projects must be established by the Commission's recommendation to the Coastal Conservancy. Other recommended projects like the Oceano Community Services District's (OCSD) Pismo Creek Diversion Project, a water recycling project, and the Lopez Water Pipeline Project, a supply line to Oceano, are also the subject of Section 30244 Mitigation, namely the Commission's recommendation to the Coastal Conservancy that

Dear Coastal Commission;
Please do not support the State Parks plan for Oso Flaco; it is a natural wonder flush with birds, fish, and other living natural inhabitants.
The State Parks plan will make their pristine habitat unsustainable.
I do not support opening up this area to vehicles or overnight recreational use. The dunes are already open to them. Keep Oso Flaco in it's present state and nature lovers can enjoy the area for decades to come.

From: Susan G. Rodkin

Our family has been visiting Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes since the 1960's and built a home in Oceano in 1978. I am writing to express my strong support for the Report and Recommendations set forth in the Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review prepared by CCC Staff.

I have read the California State Parks DEIR and am dismayed with the "blinders on" bias that is inherent in the writing. I am currently a proud State Park volunteer docent in northern California and expect more stewardship and visionary leadership from our California State Parks at Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes. I can only conclude that the State Parks at Pismo/Oceano Dunes has a bias and is highly attuned to the OHV lobby. My close reading of the DEIR leads me to the conclusion that bottom line for the State Parks is an overriding concern about the potential decrease in income should anything change at the park. The DEIR communicates with both direct statements and innuendos that the State Park system at Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes has by default been given the run of the operation there through more than forty years so what currently IS serves as their status quo, their right and domain. Despite repeated requests over many years from the CCC for the California State Parks to consider alternatives, all future plans as delineated in the PWP are UNBELIEVABLY related to expansion – more access points, more OHV's, more opportunities, then, to harm the sensitive habitat areas and tribal sacred areas and make beach play precarious and unsafe for those who choose to access and enjoy the beach on foot, by bike, or by a car that is driven on the beach close to an entrance point and parked for the day.

I am disappointed that the California State Parks DEIR does not model open thinking about the possibilities of reimagining the beach and dunes as places where all people can have equal access and opportunity to enjoy with beach without concern about safety and degradation of the coastal environment from the constant and pervasive movement of vehicles on the beach. At this time, it is clear that people in parading vehicles literally over-run other activities on the beach and put lives in jeopardy. People in moving vehicles, and people who are not simply are not compatible any longer on the beach.

Over the years, I have been frustrated on many occasions to note the lack of supervision by State Park officers for vehicles not following safe driving practices (speeding, spinning donuts, drag racing, weaving unnecessarily close to people at water's edge, even driving through the water perilously close to swimmers and to family day sites). As dog owners, we have noted that the State Park officers are highly vigilant about enforcing leash laws (we understand and support leash laws in this setting), but rarely if ever stop a speeding vehicle or a vehicle that cruises with no concern, for example, by a young child who is trying to run safely from the ocean's edge across the OHV vehicle parade to his/her family's day set-up located on the beach several feet from the ocean. Safety is an enormous concern that cannot be mitigated with the continuance of the OHV use at Pismo Beach and Ocean Dunes.

As a retired California public school teacher and principal for 35 years, my primary responsibilities were to educate and nurture the growth and safety of children. As a mother of two grown sons, we frequently vacationed at our home in Oceano, and especially when our children and their friends were young, beach play at the ocean's edge was a constant worry largely because of the danger of passing and frequently speeding cars, trucks, jeeps, huge trailers carrying loads of OHV's for rent, etc. Though Pismo Beach is one of the most gorgeous and expansive beaches on the California coast, we could not truly relax when trying to build sand castles, boogie boarding, skim boarding or engaging in many other activities at ocean's edge because of the "vehicle freeway" that immediately intrudes and threatens.

I have also found it interesting that the State Parks tout, with seeming pride, that Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes is the now only drive-on beach area in the State of California. To my way of thinking this statement provides perfect evidential support that beach OHV use should no longer be an option at Pismo any more than it is at any other California Beach. Too much destruction, too much unleashed chaos caused by OHV use. The beach is literally torn up. That time has passed and our earth is crying out for rest and reclamation.

During the months of beach closure because of the Covid-19 lockdown, we had the unique opportunity to witness for the first time the beauty and serenity of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes not just because there were no OHV's, but because the shorebird and seabird life (we have dozens of photos of groups of peliicans, gulls, and other wildlife) grew exponentially as did the opportunity to walk by the ocean and on the dunes in the absence of tire tracks, and moving OHV's. We experienced the beach and dunes beginning to renew themselves. Breathtaking!! Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes are some of the most beautiful coastal areas in the world, yet on weekend days when hundreds upon hundreds of OHV's parade the ocean front, the beach becomes a freeway and that beauty is hidden and desecrated.

As a family who loves Pismo Beach this has been our dream for decades … to see the beach in its natural form once again. The year is 2021 and we realize more than ever that we must protect the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes natural resources from the ravages of policies that have been left to fester and destroy for over forty years. I am completely in favor of increasing access for all beachgoers, but it is clear to me that continuing OHV activity on the beach is clearly no longer a viable or desirable option.

Right now, we have the perfect opportunity for Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes to come into the twenty-first century with policies to renew, nurture, and save the fragile coastal environment for all who wish to safely enjoy the its beauty without causing more degradation and irreparable damage to flora and fauna of the beach and dunes for generations to come.

I encourage the California State Parks and the California Coastal Commission to work together to phase out OHV presence on Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes and to embrace the other recommendations as set forth in the California Coastal Commission staff report.

Save Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes!! Now is the time. Let us not hesitate to take bold moves.

Subject: Comments on the Report and Recommendations set forth in the Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review prepared by CCC Staff.

Our family has been visiting Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes since the 1960's and built a home in Oceano in 1978. We are writing to express our strong support for the Report and Recommendations set forth in the Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review prepared by CCC Staff.

As a retired Professional Engineer who spent 45 years working in the CEQA process in the preparation of EIR's, as a consultant to city and county governments in preparation and assessment of various projects and Plans, and to State agencies including Caltrans and The California Energy Commission, I was tremendously relieved to see that CCC Staff reached many of the same conclusions I did after reviewing the State Park Plan and its associated EIR, and articulated them much more clearly and completely than I could possibly have been able to.

One of the many glaring deficiencies in the EIR is in the development and assessment of Alternatives to the proposed Plan. It was unconscionable that a test to determine the viability or preference of an Alternative seemed to be whether or not it furthered off-road vehicle use. The concept of an environmentally superior alternative was missing from the document because no effort was put forth in developing one. The lack of balance in the Alternatives evaluation demonstrates a strong bias in favor of continued (or expanded) vehicular and OHV use from both State Parks and the preparers of the Plan and EIR. My comments on the Noise analysis are provided in a separate memo.

Another key deficiency in the Plan and EIR was the establishment of the degraded condition of the beach, resulting from years of abuse caused by on and off-road vehicle use, as the "baseline". Given this assumption the existing devasted environment, whether it is the air quality, acoustical quality, or biological diversity of the area is established as the standard against which impacts of the Plan are assessed. David Attenborough, in his recent book A Life on Our Planet, refers to this as the "shifting baseline syndrome". Each generation comes to accept a more degraded condition as "normal", not realizing what has been lost. That is exactly what the EIR has accomplished with this incorrect "technical" assumption and it undermines the entire analysis.

The CCC Review is thorough and fact based. As an "old timer" I appreciate that this beach has had vehicles on it for about as long as there have been cars. (But, of course, before the late 1970's these mostly consisted of the occasional home-made dune buggy or jeep that would venture inland from the beach, and "traffic" on the beach was the occasional tourist or local). So I support the CCC Staff recommendations for trying car camping, fishing, and other recreational day uses, and the accessibility that are facilitated by on-road vehicle access between Grand Avenue and Pier Avenue. I support all the CCC Staff recommendations.

We are hopeful that there is a lot that can be restored, and even improved, at the beach and dunes, and it became evident for the first time in decades during the pandemic. As noted in the Report on page 15: “the period of time that the Park was closed to vehicles/OHV due to Covid-19 in 2020 allowed the community to evaluate the Park without vehicles and OHV use. Without such more intensive uses, the Park still saw significant general beach use fronting both Grover Beach and Oceano, where such uses did not have to dodge vehicles. In addition, the Park also saw a significant increase of habitat activity in the southern part of the Park as the beach and dunes were left alone, and sensitive species thrived. And during all of this time local government and community leaders confirm that the local economy did not precipitously decline, rather that economic activity in the communities actually increased, despite the restrictions imposed due to the pandemic.”

Our family now spans four generations that have been able to enjoy this beautiful beach and dunes. But this is the first time in decades that we see the possibility of it returning to the way only a few of us can remember, a normal beach, safe from the danger of automobiles, natural, and quiet. Pismo State Beach and the Oceano Dunes are places on the Earth that require the opposite of the State Parks Plan, a rejuvenation or even “re-wilding”, that can begin with phased reclamation. Blessedly such a plan has been set forth by the staff of the California Coastal Commission. It is my hope that California State Parks and the Coastal Commissioners will embrace this plan and begin the renewal of one of the most beautiful beaches in California.

Subject: Comments on the Noise assessment in the Pismo State Beach and Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area Draft Public Works Plan and Draft Environmental Impact Report (December 2020).

Our family has been visiting Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes since the 1960's and built a home in Oceano in 1978. In a separate letter we expressed our support for the CCC staff review and their recommendations for Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes.

In this letter I offer comments, as an expert, on the noise section of the DEIR. I am a registered Mechanical Engineer in California and received an M.S. in Mechanical Engineering from U.C. Berkeley specializing in Acoustics. Beginning in 1973, I spent 45 years working as an Acoustical Consultant, focusing in the areas of Environmental Noise, Architectural Acoustics and Industrial Noise Control. I worked continuously in the CEQA/NEPA process in the preparation of Noise Sections of EIR/EIS's, assisted local governments throughout California in the assessment of noise issues and the preparation of noise policies and regulations, and as a consulting expert to State agencies including Caltrans and The California Energy Commission.

The DEIR does not provide a thorough or complete evaluation of the unusual noise issues resulting from vehicular traffic on Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes. The complex issue of what constitutes the baseline condition is not addressed. There is, amazingly, no assessment of the impact of noise generated by vehicles operating on Pismo Beach and the Oceano Dunes upon beachgoers and the residential neighborhood of Oceano south of Pier Avenue, despite the following statement "For the purposes of this EIR, sensitive receptors are considered to be public park areas and residences in the vicinity of proposed project sites." An assessment of the long-term "operational noise", that is, the noise resulting from the implementation of the Plan, is non-existent.

When noise from a project could affect sensitive species the impact assessment of noise on wildlife would normally be found in either the Noise section or the Biology section of the EIR. Effects on wildlife (particularly nesting birds and raptors) are not mentioned in the Noise chapter. My review of the Biology chapter did not find any assessment of the effect of vehicle noise on wildlife, despite that adverse effects have been identified in numerous studies (e.g., Caltrans Report - The Effects of Highway Noise on Birds Prepared by: Robert J. Dooling and Arthur N. Popper - https://dot.ca.gov/-/media/dot-media/programs/environmental-analysis/documents/env/bio-effects-hwy-noise-birds-100707-a11y.pdf)

The first noise related CEQA checklist question states: "Would the project result in exposure of persons to or generation of noise levels in excess of standards established in the local general plan or noise ordinance, or applicable standards of other agencies?

Other State and Federal agencies have addressed the effects of noise on wildlife. These should be reviewed and included where applicable; The County of San Luis Obispo has adopted a quantitative noise ordinance in the municipal code and a Noise Element of the General Plan setting forth goals, policies, standards. While these local standards may not be binding on a State sponsored project they should be articulated and considered as significance thresholds where applicable. The absence of absolute noise thresholds is a significant omission.

Establishing the baseline conditions at the most affected sensitive receivers for this project is extremely important and somewhat complex. Over the last 40+ years, the acoustical environment of the beach and dunes has been progressively degraded as the intensity of motor vehicle use has been allowed and facilitated to increase. The changing soundscape at the beach was never predicted and accepted, it was just allowed to evolve. David Attenborough, in his recent book A Life on Our Planet, refers to this as the "shifting baseline syndrome". Each generation comes to accept a more degraded condition as "normal", not realizing what has been lost. Before accepting the currently degraded noise environment of the Beach and Dunes as the 'baseline" one must determine its acceptability with respect to appropriate norms and standards.

Noise measurements are used for two purposes in an EIR, to assist in establishing the existing environment at sensitive receivers against which project generated noise is compared; and, to quantify noise levels resulting from noise sources associated with the project to facilitate the impact assessment.

Existing ambient noise levels were discussed in Section 16.2.2.2 of the DEIR. The noise measurements were conducted in November 2020. It is not stated why the noise survey was conducted in November. Studies had certainly been on-going for some time. These measurements were used to both qualitatively characterize and quantify the noise environment in the area. There was no attempt to place this brief snapshot in time into the context of the tremendous daily, weekly, and monthly variations in the noise environment resulting from the fluctuations in the intensity of use. (Measurements and modeling of noise along SR 1 were of minimal value the study). During this period the beach had only recently reopened after the closure for the pandemic, and was closed to camping and most OHV use, so it certainly would not provide a true picture of the vehicular noise. From personal observations I can state that the level of vehicle activity during weekdays in November is much lower than the weekends in November, and orders of magnitude lower than what it is during the summer when the campground and OHV operations are in full operation.

There was no analysis of the measured data to establish representative existing noise levels at the two identified sensitive receiver locations, public park areas (presumably where people are trying to enjoy the beach), the residential neighborhood adjoining the beach, or habitat areas. There was no attempt to normalize the data quantitatively, using, for instance, the number of cars on the beach during the measurement days compared to during other levels of use. The noise study did not adequately address either of its purposes, to correctly, qualitatively and quantitatively, describe the noise environment at sensitive receivers in the area, and to establish noise levels resulting from vehicle use on the beach and dunes to assist the impact assessment. Clearly, much more work is necessary to understand the existing noise environment in the area.

The Impact Assessment is flawed because it does not establish objective standards to judge the acceptability of vehicular noise generated at the Beach and Dunes. While this study is unique because this is the only location in California where vehicles drive onto a beach and travel back and forth for a distance of miles to access a campground and OHV park, it is not without comparable projects. This situation is analogous to a quarry seeking to extend a use permit, often for 20 – 40 years into the future. First, the noise from existing operations must be compared to objective noise standards or criteria (e.g., the limits set forth in a noise ordinance, or quantitative speech and sleep interference thresholds) to determine objectively the acceptability of the noise. If the existing noise exceeds allowable limits then the "baseline" is lowered to what is allowable. Noise levels from any future development allowed by a permit would not result in a substantial increase in noise because the aggregate noise would be regulated to an acceptable level equal to or less than the existing level.

In the case at hand, ignoring the applicability of the first CEQA checklist question and its purpose has led to the conclusion that no objective quantitative criteria should be applied to the noise of vehicles on the Beach and Dunes. The assessment accepts the existing vehicular noise without knowing what it is, and the significance of the impacts the noise may have on persons and wildlife in the area. This underlying assumption is flawed because it denies decision makers and the public critical information necessary to evaluate the noise effects of the project.

Section 16.3.2 omits important significance criteria necessary to assess the impact of project operations (see above).

Section 16.3.3 addressing "impacts from PWP development projects and small development projects and mitigation" is misleading and incomplete. The assessment of the impact of noise from project operations is dismissed with the following: "Park operation under the PWP would be the same as or very similar to existing conditions and would not increase the noise level in the project area above the existing noise environment. Therefore, PWP operations will not be further discussed, and the analysis in this section focuses on construction noise only." This is an astounding omission that can only be understood given the chain of incorrect underlying assumptions and conclusions discussed above.

The real problem in this EIR began with the Plan developed by State Parks that reinforces and expands on- and off-road vehicular use on the Beach and Dunes without considering any environmentally superior alternative. Clearly the position of State Parks set the tone of the EIR. Pismo State Beach and the Oceano Dunes are places on the Earth that require the opposite, a rejuvenation that can begin with phased reclamation, and blessedly such a plan has been set forth by the staff of the California Coastal Commission. It is my hope that California State Parks and the Coastal Commissioners will embrace this plan and begin the renewal of one of the most beautiful beaches in California.

RE: Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes SVRA

The Board of the Morro Bay Open Space Alliance (MBOSA) has reviewed the DraP EIR and workplan for renovaRons and development at the Oceano Dunes State Vehicular RecreaRon Area (ODSVRA). We are strongly opposed to the new development (initial or future) at Oso Flaco Lake. Further, we oppose the development of a southern entrance to the park, especially if it is located to feed off the proposed 'future' campground at Oso Flaco.

Oso Flaco Lake, with its access to the unspoiled beach, is one of the most precious natural habitats in San Luis Obispo County, and perhaps in the state. The diversity of life at Oso Flaco is astonishing, but it is also fragile. There is simply no way that building a large new campground with faciliRes and trails virtually next door to the lake can help but degrade, and therefore destroy, the environmental character of Oso Flaco Lake. There is absolutely no way to "miRgate" this degradaRon, and the DraP EIR documents do not show how this might be done.

The mission of MBOSA is to preserve natural open spaces for future generaRons and also for the passive recreaRonal uses of current ones. Honoring this mission requires us to oppose the motorized use of rare natural areas, like a beach and its adjacent dunes. A more appropriate goal for State Parks at Oceano Dunes would be to rehabilitate the exisRng SVRA to add more beach campgrounds, which are in high demand, and terminate motorized use. Evidence indicates that these two moves would enhance the local community's economy and improve its quality of life.

We understand that State Parks believes it is mandated to provide motorized use, partly based on an obsolete 45-year-old General Plan, but this can be changed. A true miRgaRon of the ODSVRA would be to move it to a place where sensiRve and rare ecological habitats would not be destroyed.

Sincerely,

The Board of the Morro Bay Open Space Alliance

To Whom It May Concern:

Oso Flaco is one of the most beautiful, peaceful places in this county. The proposed plan by the State Parks department to add more trails, campsites and parking would disrupt the natural environment.

It happens to be the number one bird watching area in the entire San Luis Obispo county. More people, campground noise and bicycles will destroy this wonderful birding site.

The area is also popular for fishing and hiking.

The proposed changes are inconsistent with the California Coastal Act that protects natural habitats.

Oso Flaco Lake is great the way it is.

Please do not move forward with this project.

Regarding: Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area Controversy

My 20-year history in Oceano and the Oceano Dunes Recreational Vehicular Area

Dear Coastal Commissioners:

I am a 72-year-old property owner, having owned a 6-unit, multi-family complex at 2445 Beach Street in Oceano, CA since 2001. During this time, I have watched the management and use of the Oceano Dunes Off-Road State Vehicular area up close.

For perspective, I grew up in rural Humboldt County, and from an early age I have owned and been an advocate of off-road motorcycle riding, ATV's, 4-wheel drive vehicles and dune buggies. I understand the good, bad and the ugly of them, and their potential impacts on the environment and nearby residential neighborhoods. As a child, I traveled to many of California's state parks with my parents, who loved camping and outdoor activities. Both my sister and I learned early to protect whatever environment we found ourselves in. This included off-road vehicle use, which my father taught us, and enjoyed himself.

The Oceano Dunes State Parks Off-Highway Vehicle area is, in my opinion, the worst managed state park I have ever visited. "The Gateway to the Dunes" sign as it is advertised by State Parks is known by locals as "The Doormat the Dunes". The massive numbers of people, vehicles, RV's, motorcycles, monster trucks, dune buggies and 4-wheel drive vehicles allowed in this park- especially on holidays- is nothing more than state-sanctioned chaos resulting in environmental abuse. A large part of the problem is that State Parks allows too many people and vehicles into this area: State Parks' inability to manage it has been covered extensively in the press. As the use has intensified and increased over the years, park employees I have talked with agree that over-use and over-population of the area is the biggest problem.

By July of 2019, 6 people had already died in Off Road Vehicle accidents at the Oceano Dunes. These incidents are well documented by various news agencies and the San Luis Obispo County Sheriff's Office. Then on May 5th of 2019 at about 12:00 AM, Oceano Dunes was the scene of a shooting wherein 6 individuals were shot by Francisco Orozco of Sacramento during an unpermitted musical event. Some believe it was gang-related. Oceano Dunes State Park has a "reputation" as a place where "anything goes". My family and friends no longer visit Oceano Dunes. It is just too noisy, dangerous and chaotic for family-oriented use.

If you examine the Oceano Dunes OHV map and brochure (offered at the Pier Avenue kiosk in Oceano), you will note the bulk of the off-road vehicle area, the unimproved camping area, and related activities are located a long distance from the park's entry kiosk at Pier Avenue. This area is isolated by the Pismo Dunes Natural Preserve to the north, Oso Flaco Lake to the south, and private property to the east. This isolation encourages those who wish to ignore or otherwise break the law. Law enforcement and State Parks patrol vehicles are a considerable distance away. Access is by way of "The Sand Highway", a one-way in / one-way out, unimproved sand road. Illegal fireworks, alcohol use, drugs, and all activity (illegal or otherwise) is far removed from the eyes of park employees and law enforcement. The remoteness also contributes to the frequent ATV and ORV accidents- some resulting in death, many in major injuries.

During peak season it devolves into a cacophony of open exhaust noise at all hours, excessive speeding, illegal fireworks, drugs and drunkenness, overflowing litter, and a constant threat to pedestrian or normalized beach activities. The existing environment eliminates many outdoor enthusiasts and tourists, which is a much larger group of potential users than the off-road vehicle crowd.

You can Google "Oceano Dunes ORV use" and see videos of 800 horsepower "monster trucks" getting air (flying thru the air) and drag racing, and all manner of reckless and mindless vehicular behavior. The 15 MPH park "speed limit" is meaningless and ignored with impunity. Excessive speed is just one of the reasons for the death and carnage witnessed at the Oceano Dunes. Holidays are worse, because State Parks allows up to 30,000 people plus their off-road vehicles into this area. For $5 per vehicle, $10 for overnight camping, people are given free rein to destroy sensitive habitat, ignore safety and speed restrictions, and party all night. These fees are far below other California State Parks' fees – for beaches that do not allow motorized vehicles.

After living with the Oceano Dunes ORV Recreational area for 20 years, both as a citizen of Oceano and an ATV recreational advocate, I can no longer support off-road vehicle use at Oceano Dunes. Its time to end ALL vehicular use and implement more inclusive, low impact, broader spectrum recreational opportunities for all of us, not just the Off-Road Vehicle proponents. The following are some of my reasons:

1) The impacts on those of us who live and work in Oceano and the Nipomo Mesa have become more extreme as State Parks has increased the intensity of use over the years. State Parks now claims 1.5 million visitors a year. The noise, traffic, litter and crime that is generated is not compatible with residential neighborhoods. The continual annoyance of ambulance and law enforcement sirens, and related Dunes traffic speeding up and down Highway 1 is a problem for all of us who desire a "normal" lifestyle. Because State Parks allows ORV use 24 hours a day 7 days a week, the noise from illegal fireworks, ATVs, motorcycles, "monster trucks" and other vehicles can be heard in many residential neighborhoods in both Oceano and the Nipomo Mesa at all hours of the night and day. The noise levels at times exceed San Luis Obispo County Noise Ordinance-mandated levels for residential neighborhoods.

2) The Oceano Dunes is a sensitive habitat for many species. The environmental damage incurred by massive numbers of campers allowed into the "unimproved" camping sites, as well as damage by ATV's, motorcycles, monster trucks and related traffic is well documented by the Coastal Commission, the Sierra Club, and many others, yet this has been mostly ignored by State Parks for decades.

3) State Parks has a long history of ignoring recommendations by the Department of Fish and Game, The Coastal Commission, Air Quality Control, both local and state, and The San Luis Obispo County Board of Supervisors, all of whom acknowledge the negative effects the ORV Park has on the beach environment and in adjacent neighborhoods.

4) In their latest Public Works Plan, State Parks seeks to inflict even more damage on the environment and the community, by actually expanding the area of use and increasing the numbers of people allowed on a daily basis. The current PWP also advocates moving all ORV access from the Pismo area down to Pier Avenue in Oceano. This compounds the problem by increasing the traffic loads on Pier Avenue and on the streets in Oceano.

5) The off-road vehicle use at Oceano, by its sheer size and numbers, excludes more popular, less intensive, and more environmentally compatible uses such as hiking, beach-combing, nature walks, fishing, surfing and family-oriented uses which are far less expensive for the public. Encouraging environmentally friendly recreational uses would, over time, exceed the revenue generated by off-road vehicle use, and eliminate the many environmental impacts on the Dunes and neighboring property owners.

6) Pier Avenue in Oceano, the main access to the Oceano Dunes State ORV Recreational area looks much the same today as it did when I moved here 20 years ago. Uninviting, dirty, and impoverished. Anyone turning from Highway 1 onto Pier Avenue will not find a prosperous or inviting California beach town. In 2001 Pier Avenue looked like a beach access from a third world country, and it looks the same today. There are a few more ATV rental businesses, but absent are the nice motels, hotels, restaurants, museums, Bed and Breakfast establishments, and the usual tourist businesses associated with normal, prosperous California beach towns. Where in Oceano can all the "benefits" of the ORV use be seen? Unfortunately, the answer is nowhere - they simply do not exist.

The nice hotels, motels, restaurants and tourist businesses are in Pismo Beach, NOT in Oceano or Grover Beach. The reason is that Pismo Beach stopped all vehicular use on their beach in the mid 1970's. Pismo Beach has all the amenities seen in prosperous California beach towns. Beautiful beaches, hotels, motels, restaurants of all types, and tourist-oriented business have now transformed Pismo Beach into a pedestrian-safe and family / tourist destination.

"Getting cars off the beach has been the single most important occurrence bringing about the economic transformation of Pismo Beach from a "honky-tonk" town to the destination jewel it is today". These are the words of Evelyn Delany in the March, 2010 'Santa Lucien', the Sierra Club monthly news publication.

"Over a two-year period following the closure of the beach to vehicles, Pismo Beach was transformed. In rapid succession, upscale hotels were built, the Sea Gypsy, the Sand Dollar, the Sea Venture, Shelter Cove Lodge, Pismo Lighthouse Suites and the Kon Tiki". "All of a sudden, Pismo Beach was a destination resort. People came to walk on the beautiful beach. It was quiet. It was safe for dogs, children, and granny. People came and spent money."

And who is Evelyn Delany? A person with a lot of experience around Pismo Beach and San Luis Obispo County. Evelyn Delany was a San Luis Obispo County Supervisor for District 3, from 1985-1997, a County Planning Commissioner from 1978-1984, a Pismo Beach Planning Commissioner from 1975-1978, and a Pismo Beach Parks and Recreation Commissioner from 1972-1974.

Also from Delany's article:

"If vehicles on the beach were an economic asset to a community, why hasn't a Pismo-style boom hit Oceano or Grover Beach? The answer is simple, there is NO economic asset." Let's look at those who drive motorcycles and ATV's on the beach. Most of them don't live here. They come in their rigs and sleep in them or on the beach. They don't sleep in motels. If they did, there would be motels in Grover Beach and Oceano for them to use. They bring their own food and cook it on the beach or in their RV's."
Off Roading has not transformed Oceano or Grover Beach into profitable beach-oriented communities, as claimed by State Parks or the off-road Vehicle community. To the contrary, off-road vehicle use has retarded normal economic growth in Oceano.

Finally from Delany's article:

"Business failures on Pier avenue in Oceano, other than ATV rentals, suffer even more than those on Grand Avenue in Grover Beach. KFC and IHOP are just two of a long succession of failures on Grand Avenue. They may buy gas for their trips back home, food supplies from Vons supermarket, but they buy their expensive RV's, their ATV's, their motorcycles, their riding paraphernalia where they live, not here. They may be big spenders, but they don't spend it here."

To summarize, State Parks has failed to protect the environment, failed to comply with the Endangered Species Act, failed to comply with the Coastal Commission Regulations, failed to comply with the Air Quality Control Boards, failed to comply with the Department of Fish and Wildlife Regulations, and failed to keep traffic, noise and trash from adjacent Oceano neighborhoods. There is little or no economic benefit locally. Why should State Parks be rewarded for their behavior when they continually violate the laws that would protect our citizens, our natural resources, the air, the water and the environment? The reason off-road and motorized vehicles are not allowed on other California beaches is the same reason they should not be allowed at Oceano Dunes.

How can we transition out of the damaging and limited uses of the off-road debacle? Phase out all off-road use over 5 years. This would help the ATV businesses who are the only current financial benefactors of the Oceano State Parks ORV area. Then expand low-impact, environmentally sensitive recreational activities like elevated walk-ways thru the dunes, bicycle paths, hiking trails, nature walks, educational kiosks or State Parks Ranger-led instructional classes, initiate educational programs thru local schools, create beach friendly areas for surfers and (non-motorized) watersports, birdwatching, parasailing and windsurfing instruction and rentals. The State could create a "History of the Dunes" kiosk that highlights the history of the Dunes dating back to the Chumash era. There are hundreds of viable activities that would encourage broader public support and participation, and eliminate the damages currently inflicted by Off Road Vehicle use.

It is simple common sense: Oceano Dunes is a priceless and irreplaceable natural resource. Oceano Dunes should not be sacrificed for the exclusive use of the off-road cartel. Preserve it for all Californians, preserve it in perpetuity, and preserve it in the most natural state possible.

Respectfully,

Hello,

We are writing to support the closure of the Off-Highway Vehicle Recreation area at Oceano Dunes within five years (or less!). It really is inconceivable that this is still open, due to the noise, pollution, riding deaths and environmental degradation.

That area should be restored to its natural habitat and made available for use by all Californians as a peaceful place to recreate --- like every other beach in the state.

Thank you very much.

Dear CA Coastal Commissioners:

Enclosed please find 21 cards that were signed by beach users yesterday, Wednesday, February 24. I collected these signatures between 1:00-2:00 PM from people using the pedestrian beach entry and board walk terminus at Grand Avenue. Although it was very windy, these people were out enjoying the environment and took time to talk with me and sign the cards. Others took cards or coloring sheets so that their children could color them and send them in to you.

Approximately 3/4 of the people I approached signed or accepted these cards. The local people expressed great hope that vehicles might be banned from the beach and dunes citing concerns about the environment, the noise and the lack of safety in using the beach where vehicles are allowed. Several of them expressed both shock and sadness about the recent return of the vehicles to the beach saying they had very much enjoyed the quiet use of the beach during the recent months-long ban of vehicles due to COVID. One woman who lives on Nipomo Mesa said she now again hears the noise from the OHVs all weekend long and it is very distressing after the months of quiet she enjoyed.

The people who were visitors to our area and signed the cards said they were truly shocked to see the vehicles on the beach—and said they really couldn't understand why it was allowed. They said it detracted from an otherwise beautiful beach experience.

Regarding the people who did not sign the cards (1/4 of those approached)—approximately 1/4 of those were too busy with kids to stop and chat, 1/4 had "no opinion" on the issue and 1/2 were in favor of keeping the vehicles and some of those were actually campers.

So, that is a snap shot of how it is for our mostly local population—the majority of us want the vehicles off the beach. Please, close our beach/dunes to vehicles—now, not in five years. Please return the peace, quiet and safety we enjoyed last year—that ban has only highlighted how intolerable the status quo is.

Very truly yours,

Categories: Public Comment

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Matthew Peterson

Subject: Please oppose restricting or ending powersports access to Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

James Dan

To: California Coastal Commissioners and Staff

I have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes on several occasions over recent years, most memorably in my childhood. I spent a lot of time walking on those beaches, running the dunes with my cousins and siblings. I am writing to express my strong support for the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

I appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with State law and begins to restore the seriously degraded and unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

I hope that these words will be considered!

Respectfully,
Elizabeth Girvan

I emailed this to Oceano Dunes state park.

I strongly oppose the Oso Flaco project in the Oceano Dunes PWP.

I grew up in Santa Maria in the 60s and 70s and (dispersed) camped at Oso Flaco (pre-boardwalk) and entered the dunes in my friend's buggy via the maintenance road. No doubt it was a fun time and a love of the outdoors was one of the greatest gifts my hard working parents gave me.

But the land needs us more now than to have uninhibited access in the dunes. I moved to Lake Tahoe in 1980 and continue to visit family in the area. I've since gone on to become a wildlife biologist and enjoy exploring the Sierra. While it was fun enjoying OHV activities as a kid, I am in awe of how Mother Nature has recovered...to see the vegetation that has grown in among the sand dunes...to see Osprey, Sora, raccoons and hear the call of the Virginia Rail from the boardwalk fills my heart with delight. The biological species diversity in the 1970s was no where near as expansive at Oso Flaco as it is today. I routinely see Snowy Plover scurrying around on my trips to Main Street beach - I never saw them when I was growing up. I commend the state parks and San Luis Obispo and Santa Maria board of county supervisors for setting boundaries in this beautiful area instead of allowing humans free range in the dunes and on the beach. We can accommodate multiple uses on the central coast but it will takes a lot of effort and a lot of hard work. Oso Flaco is not the place for a 200 space campground.

Another concern is how recreation enthusiasts will access this area. Oso Flaco Road is shared with the general public and agricultural workers now add another use on top of this existing road or will they create a four lane highway? Which also has an active railroad line running through it. There is no direct way to get to Oso Flaco. With this new access being moved south some vehicles will access through Santa Maria and Guadalupe. There is no direct way to get to Oso Flaco. With this new access being moved south, some vehicles will access through Santa Maria and Guadalupe. Santa Maria already receives its share of big rig truck traffic as they drive to the farms and packaging sheds. Now let's add impatient toy haulers and valley people driving across town and on the already deadly highway 166/Main Street road.

I think the Phillips 66 property is a much better site for OHV activities. Please look harder at this site even if it means postponing for a few years. Maybe it could phased in over several years. Please keep the serenity and tranquility of Oso Flaco and her beauty alive for passive recreation - birdwatching, photography and fishing, etc. Too many places and wetlands have been destroyed in California by the heavy footprint of humans, let's not add one more to the list. I share your vision that maybe it's time to remove vehicles from the beach.

Thanks for your hard work!

Respectfully,
Sheryl Ferguson

Subject: Why A Five Year Transition Is Not Viable At The Oceano Dunes

As a resident of Oceano I do not believe a successful Five Year Transition is possible at the Oceano Dunes.

First, to have this transition as a viable option we need a partnership between the Coastal Commission and State Parks and the OHV Division. We do not have this partnership. It is quite the opposite, we have an adversarial relationship that is quite contentious at every level. Even after clear guidance and the compromise recommendations the OHV division has ignored everything and made a professional accountable decision to present a PWP that expands OHV activities. They clearly never intended to work with the Coastal Commission, other local agencies and community environmental groups in collectively solving the problems at the Oceano Dunes. The same will be true with the new conditional use permit.

Next, the OHV Division continues its battle against the compromise recommendations and encourages their OHV proxy groups to fight their public battle against the Coastal Commission for them. If they were serious about a partnership then a public statement should have been made by State Parks that they look forward to working together with the Coastal Commission on an orderly transition at the Oceano Dunes in the spirit of professional courtesy and respect. That has not happened and unfortunately will never happen. A lot could have been done to deesculate the tension before the March meeting. They have done nothing and continue to add fuel to the fire at the Oceano Dunes.

We must all be concerned not only with the OHV Divisions recent actions but past actions as well if we want a successful new conditional use permit. From a financial impact report that was not accurate, to a cease and desist order, willful continual violations of the past conditional use permit and misuse of their power under the color of authority we have an organization that has not earned our public trust or confidence.

A successful new conditional use permit should allow for a one year transition or well defined benchmarks that clearly spell out reductions in the number and types of vehicles allowed at the Oceano Dunes.

Let us not permit history to repeat itself at the Oceano Dunes.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I ask that you not approve the State Parks plan to develop the Oso Flaco Lake natural areas. The Oso Flaco Lake and sand dunes are valuable and cherished by the local citizens and residents on our central coast. I am a fifth or sixth generation of the central coast, and I love the land that my family and friends have lived on for multiple generations. The Oso Flaco Lake and surrounding areas consist of environmentally sensitive swamp and wetlands that are crucial for animals, birds, and fish that thrive in their own ecosystem and habitat.

Nothing at all needs to be "restored" or "improved" in the sand dunes areas of Guadalupe, Oceano, or Pismo Beach. Please do not approve the State Parks p-lan to destroy the local habitat of Oso Flaco Lake and sand dunes area.

Thank you.

Dear Coastal Commission Members,

Please, I am asking you to please consider getting rid of the ATV and other vehicles that are creating one of the most beautiful and unspoiled places remaining in America. Making the OCEANO pandemic a time to rest, rebuild and refocus that our natural resources are not sacrificed to feed the illegal use of vehicles. We already have enough pollution in our world and we have the chance, currently, to make a difference. Please do not allow this to continue. Thank you for listening and for your time.

Subject: Plans for the Dunes Area

My husband and I moved here less than 3 years ago and love it. It took us 4 years to choose Monarch Dunes and manage to afford to retire here. My husband was a general contractor specializing in green building and I was a Kindergarten teacher for 32 years.
We moved here unaware that vehicles drove on the beach or that there was an air quality issue. We did have experience with State Parks and believed them to be places that protect nature while allowing visitors to see it. We never would have thought that the State Park would be a place that destroys the habitat and allows recreational vehicles on the beach, or more importantly, allows activity which costs lives! We are sickened at the thought that this agency has changed so much in our lifetime.

Now we have been informed that the plan for the Phillips 66 site is for increased OHV use, multi use tracks, police training, gun ranges, and lots of camping along with the necessary facilities that go with that. We are totally dismayed. We can no longer afford to move from here. We are in anguish about the noise that will come up the mesa from vehicles and weapons, the increased traffic on our entry road, the kind of population that would be attracted to that, and the continued destruction of the ecosystem. These things will destroy the beauty of this place for us.

When vehicles were not allowed on the beach due to Covid restrictions we had the opportunity to take walks on that pristine area that is usually crowded with cars and rowdy people. We were able to grab some food in Oceano and had a really nice time. In our dreams that would be everyday. We feel that Oceano and Grover Beach would prosper if OHVs were restricted because we know that we would frequent that area often and so would our neighbors.

People are dying on our beaches and the State Parks are allowing, in fact fostering, it. Shame on all of us for not correcting this error in judgment.

Why can’t the State Parks system create dune riding and OHV tracks and gun ranges for police training in the desert where they are not disturbing the local population? The current plan just doesn’t make sense to me and doesn’t leave a better world for my grandchildren. It destroys what we have. Why would we do that?

Dear Members of the Coastal Commission:

I am pleased that a proposal for the future use of the Oceano Dunes has come forward to better regulate the use of the beach for all people. I wholeheartedly support the conversion to picnicking and camping be allowed but that the recreational vehicles be phased out over five years.

It seems to me that satisfies the imperative need to change this behavior that ruins the air quality in Nipomo to deleterious health affects for its residents. It is completely unacceptable that behaviors that are so damaging to people be allowed to continue simply because they have been done it for so long. Correction is long overdue, and I encourage you to face this issue objectively and for the betterment of our local environment.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

I am a frequent visitor to the Pismo Beach/Oceano Dunes area. Currently the beach area south of Pier Avenue is unsafe and unusable Friday through Sundays due to the massive vehicle traffic. The Park Service Plan will only make this environmental disaster worse. I strongly support the findings and recommendations of California Coastal Commission regarding the Draft Public Works Plan and Draft EIR submitted by the state park service. At the very least camping and off road vehicle use should be banned for the entirety of the plover and tern nesting season.

I urge you to support the February 16, 2021 staff recommendations for the Oceano Dunes SVRA and the State Parks' draft PWP/EIR. These thoughtful recommendations would finally resolve the long-standing conflict in the dunes. Dear Coastal Commission,

I am a resident of Grover Beach but before the pandemic I never used the part of the beach in use by recreational vehicles because I was intimidated by the vehicle use and did not feel safe as a pedestrian walking on that stretch of the beach. With the pandemic and limited vehicle use of that section of beach I have been able to walk and jog on the beach safely and comfortably. I have noticed many other people also now walking and running on that section of the beach which once was rarely used by pedestrians because the ATVs scared them off and posed a very real danger I(drivers did not look out for pedestrians). With limited vehicles back things have been OK, but I fear if all ATVS are brought back and expanded we will once again lose the beach to anyone who is not using an ATV. Once some ATV use was brought back I noticed the adorable snowy plovers that frequent the beach had gone into hiding and the seagulls that remained were carrying around beer cans that had been left behind.

Air quality for local residents is also much worse when there are many ATVs on the beach and expanded ATV use would be detrimental to the communities who live nearby, continuing the inequalities in living conditions that so plague our nation. We have the chance to learn from the pandemic and one thing we have seen is that the beach can be used by all, including birds and walkers, when vehicle use is limited and ATVs are slowly phased out. A more diverse beach can survive and prosper without ATVs but with ATVs only one group benefits, let's learn from the present and improve the situation for everyone including the birds and people who live here. I hope you will consider my comments.

Thank you,
Katya

Subject: Please oppose restricting or ending powersports access to Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Dear Commissioners,

It's snowy plover nesting season now at the Oceano Dunes. It's a great time to truly protect these birds by banning vehicles from the dunes and surrounding beach areas, starting immediately.

Will you tolerate five more years of endangered species habitat destruction? We all know that State Parks OHV division has no interest in protecting the plover. After decades of expansion of OHV use on the dunes their new proposal includes even more OHV use! Even more habitat destruction!

We are counting on your wisdom and power as protectors of our coast and beaches. Immediately shut down OHV use on the dunes. Ban vehicles south of Pier Ave. Allow only street legal vehicles with ADA plates or placards between Grand and Pier Avenues. Close vehicle access at Grand and Pier and open a new access that does not disrupt our communities.

Thank you for your service.

Sincerely,
Alice Reinheimer

Subject: Protect the Oceano Dunes

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

Please support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes, and amend the State Park's Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Ave. vehicle access, preserve the snowy plover exclosures, and leave beautiful, tranquil and natural Oso Flaco Lake area as it is. Above all, start the clock on the phase-out of OHV activity.

The Oceano Dunes will continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking, birding, fishing, horseback riding, and hiking the dunes; the kind of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California - with the exception of Oceano.

Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park's closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California's coast.

The residents of Oceano who try to walk on their own beach, with OHV activity, do so with great risk. And they are watching the coastal dunes complex – their defense against rising sea levels – being eroded away.

The unhealthy air, from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road vehicle activity, continues to stretch from Nipomo to Guadalupe.

All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to adequately protect the environmentally sensitive habitat. It is past time to hold them accountable now.

Sincerely,

Judy Clement

Dear Coastal Commission Members:

As a resident of Oceano I had the wonderful pleasure of experiencing the natural beach environment during the COVD shutdown.

Our beach is a community asset for family recreation and the development of the local economy. This asset can only be appreciated when vehicles are no longer dominating the natural environment and creating health and safety hazards.

I wholeheartedly agree with the Staff recommendations to immediately close the Pier Avenue entrance. In addition I would like to see that vehicles are eliminated south of Pier Avenue.

Lastly, the Oceano Dunes and Oso Flaco are a unique, natural environments that should be preserved. The State Parks plan is overly ambitious and would have detrimental impact on a natural environmental asset that could not be recovered.

Please give Oceano an opportunity to prosper.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Irina Clark

Re: Public Works Plan/Environmental Impact Report

As a resident of San Luis Obispo County/Nipomo, I find this plan deeply flawed and unacceptable for many reasons – some of which are listed below -- and urge that this plan not be approved.

--The draft PWP/EIR severely downplays the air pollution created by its present operations. Instead of dealing with the current pollution issues, the plan proposes to double the size of the riding area which results in more air pollution for Mesa residents.

--The draft PWP does not address the multiple issues and negative impacts that would result from the use/overuse of the Park: degrading of habitat, harming protected and native species, exacerbating air quality issues that lead to public health problems, trampling on Tribal Rights and others.

--The draft plan is inconsistent with the Coastal Act and the Grover Beach and San Luis Obispo County Local Coastal Plans, which are the standard of review for the Public Works Plan.

--The DWP proposes to develop the Oso Flaco Lake area, which would result in devastating effects on the protected wildlife and plant life that flourish there.

--The plan includes a proposal for very significant development at the Phillips 66 refinery site that would create more air pollution, noise, traffic, and light pollution in a sensitive habitat area.

For all these reasons – and others – I urge the rejection of the Public Works Plan and the Environmental Impact Report.

Subject: The Forty Year War at the Oceano Dunes

Can you imagine what would have happened if President Lincoln declared a truce and told the states that in five years the civil war is ending ?

In Oceano this is a war about discrimination, poverty, the environment and just breathing healthy air. I think where we make a strategic error is in thinking we can use a business transition plan model for decommissioning a nuclear power plant to solve the problems at the Oceano Dunes. It will not.

This is not Diablo Canyon or a Desalination Plant. This is a conflict between an outdated state agency trying to survive and anti environmental OHV groups living in the past against those who want civil rights for people, communities and the environment. The OHV division and these groups are not going to give an inch and will use absolute resistance over cooperative democratic governance and the rule of law to undermine and circumvent the new conditional use permit at the Oceano Dunes.

Sometimes conflicts must end and this is that time for the Oceano Dunes.Their are many options available to the Coastal Commission using the conditional use permit to implement the compromise recommendations that we continue to support with enhaced enforcement. I submit to you that if we really want to solve the problems at the Oceano Dunes we must not wait five years to fully implement these compromise recommendations. Clearly the OHV division will never support the good faith transition principles or new conditional use permit.

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Subject: We Need To Go Big at the Oceano Dunes

When the Coastal Commission adopts a new revised conditional use permit this month my biggest concern is with the five year timeline. Rewarding State Parks,the OHV Division and anti environmental groups with a 'Golden Parachute Bailout'is not warranted and does not reflect the intent of the law or values of Environmental Justice and Equality.

At the very least we need to include a shorter timeline and immediately lower the caps more on the number and types of vehicles permitted into the park in the revised conditional use permit for the Oceano Dunes.

I certainly understand the need for a reasonable transition period for State Parks to unwind all the problems that they have created over the past years at the Oceano Dunes. Where we are all concerned and respectfully disagree is in the ability of the OHV Division to faithfully follow the law,implement the new conditional use permit and Coastal Commission compromise recommendations. Without more structure and guidelines in the conditional use permit the OHV Division will do the minimum and then close the park to vehicles at the five year deadline 'Without Any Transition'. It is part of their corporate culture and their is no indication that this has changed.

It is my hope that the Coastal Commission and staff will consider lowering the caps more on the number of vehicles allowed into the park and include a shorter timeline in the revised conditional use permit for the Oceano Dunes.

Hello,
I just moved into a home a few miles east of Oceano Dunes. I've visited the dunes a few times, once when there were off-road vehicles and once when there weren't any. I'm shocked that the commission would even consider allowing off-road vehicles to continue using the area. The noise, air, and environmental pollution off-road vehicles generate is appalling. Not to mention the dangers of being on the beach when off-roaders are haphazardly driving around. Oceano Dunes is a beautiful area, but not when it's overrun with extremely noisy and high-polluting vehicles. To a newcomer to the area, the choice to ban them seems blatantly obvious: Please stop the destruction of Oceano Dunes.

I have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes on several occasions over recent years. I am writing to express my strong support for the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

I appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with State law and begins to restore the seriously degraded and unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

Hello,

My wife and I frequently enjoy hikes around the Oso Flaco Lake area. It is pristine, quiet, and abundant with wildlife - a refuge for people, plants, and animals.

I believe this development will endanger the habitat of this valuable natural resource.

Increased noise, dust, fumes, traffic, and off-road vehicles can only have a detrimental impact on this area.

In addition, it will cause the conversion of prime agricultural land to a high density campground.

The proposed changes are inconsistent with the California Coastal Act that protects natural habitats.

Please do not move forward with this development.

This report is thorough and recognizes bringing the delicate and magnificent Oceano Dunes back into compliance with the Coast Act. As your report stated, this area is a geological wonder and is the largest intact coastal dunes system in the world. Sadly, this are has been by passed by pedestrian visitors for years because it has been hijacked by state parks and the OHV riders. Except for this past year when it was closed many locals and visitors have never been able to enjoy it. It is an outstanding park and visitors abound when they are not fearful of motorized vehicles.

There is a false narrative that the OHVers are an economic engine to the local area.
Nothing could be farther from the truth. There are exaggerated claims of how much money is brought in. If that were true, why is the infrastructure so poor in these communities?
Have you ever seen a beach community shut down? No, if anything when opened up to more visitors the areas thrive. The economy will improve if the area is opened up to more people and attract more businesses.

Then there is the air quality issue. Those of us living on the mesa did experience better air and on the really dusty days (there were alot of them in 2019) the upsurge in air pollution was for a shorter time and not the very high numbers we have experienced in past years.

It does take years for a beach to heal. We understand clean air doesn't happen overnight.

But, now the draft PWP wants to exasperate the problems and move it south with negative consequences for more people.

You have the legal authority and full responsibility to ensure that a change to low density use of the dunes occurs well within the next five years. Thank you for doing what the Coastal Commission was originally created to do..protect our coastal areas.

Subject: / OSO FLACO LAKE / Oceano, CA / comments re STATE PARKS plan

Categories: Public Comment

I am directing this specifically and only to the CA Coastal Commission....State Parks is oblivious to anyone who might disagree with them, to my concerns or the Coastal Act. I do not feel that STATE PARKS can be trusted.

Who am I :
I am NOT an ecologist or a biologist.
My website is www.800stone.com there is a linkedin link there also....
You will see that I'm very well entrenched with development around the world... I do not fear it.
In light of that you will find my opinion curious....Possibly, not what you would expect.

1.) "WE(as a species) ARE PART OF SOMETHING CONTINUOUS"
This quote explains why all this is important.
It (life) started in the oceans. Elements of "it" moved from saltwater to freshwater and then land.
It made this leap from the great oceans to land at places like OSO FLACO LAKE.
OSO FLACO LAKE has been specifically designated as one of the most environmentally sensitive areas in our large state.

2.) The Oceano Dune System with OSO-FLACO brackish water lake [in the middle of a 20 mile long Dune System] is to be treasured....It's been there, in that state(state-of-being), for at least 500,000 years, possibly millions.
It's been heavily used in that developmental time... not only by humans..but mostly by other species.
The migratory birds have been returning there for as long as there have been birds.
It truly is special.

3.) Now, STATE PARKS has a plan to change it.
They wish to develop it into an RV overnight camping spot to serve the OHV park next to it.
STATE PARKS wants to trample all over it. STATE PARKS intends to charge money to trample on one of the most ecologically sensitive small parks in this large state....

4.) Please keep in mind STATE PARKS is the same group who regularly hides behind the mantle of "serving the public good" while knowingly or clumsily destroying and mis-managing super-sensitive areas. They want to squander this treasure and get CCC to sign off on it.

5.) In the 1950's, fathers cobbled together the 1st " dune buggies" from an odd combination of junk yard auto parts.
Chuck Yeager had just broken the sound barrier... we could do anything....
That was then.....and this now.. a different time... I understand people want to go back to the days of riding and camping on the Dunes.. I would like to go back too... But that was when San Luis Obispo County had a population of 51,000. We are now more than 5.5 times that.

6.) Seven decades later, we know how special it is.... we still can do anything

7.) summation: STATE PARKS (who has a history of misleading you) wants to put a KOA style RV park on top of one of the more environmentally sensitive parks in the state....and get you [CCC] to approve it, so if anything goes south they can say....but, but..The Coastal Commission approved it... They want to transfer the magnitude of this desecration to the CCC.

If OSO FLACO should be anything, it should be an open-air classroom for students to see and understand where life came onto land.. If State Parks wished to do anything there it should organize volunteers to make traditional Chumash lodges to be used as classrooms. Doing outreach to grade schools.....This super-sensitive area is not the proper place for a KOA style RV PARK.

Subject: Another reason to ban OHV use--sea-level rise

Categories: Public Comment

Dear California Coastal Commission,

I am an oceanographer and coastal engineer who has published extensively on sea-level rise, tides, and coastal flooding (https://scholar.google.com/citations?user=UrUnFuQAAAAJ&hl=en).

I strongly support the findings of the staff report prepared by Ainsworth, Carl, and Kahn, titled "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review", and submitted to the Commissioners on February 16, 2021. Ainsworth et al. have convincingly shown, in my opinion, that the environmental and health issues caused by off-road vehicles are significant and should not continue to be ignored by the State Park system.

I agree with the report's finding that off-road vehicle use is likely detrimental to the ability of local communities to adapt to climate change. As described in the report, and as corroborated by studies around the world, sand dunes and the beach itself form a natural protection against coastal flooding. By creating plumes of dust, off road vehicles diminish the sand supply and over time degrade the dunes and beach. The experience of other communities (e.g., on the East Coast) is instructive. When a beach is degraded, bigger waves come closer to shore, causing more erosion. Sea-level rise then accelerates this process, by creating deeper near-shore conditions and enabling even bigger breakers to get even closer to shore. For this reason, large stretches of coastline are protected by (expensive) rip-rap seawalls or similar. To provide maximum future protection for people and communities such as Grover Beach, the dunes, the beach, and the sand supply within them need to be protected.

The alternative to natural dune protection is often quite expensive. Along the German North Sea-coastline, models suggest that coastal dikes will need to be raised at around twice the rate of sea-level rise. This is because waves that previously broke far offshore will, in future storms, break right on and over the defense structure. See https://www.nature.com/articles/srep40171 . Taking care of the dunes and the beach, as the Dutch do, is good economic policy.

For all these reasons, I strongly support the banning of off-road vehicles from the Oceano Dunes area.

Best regards,

Dr. Stefan Talke

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

In July 2019 I attended the California Coastal Commission Meeting at the Embassy Hotel in San Luis Obispo, when commissioners voted 8-2 to allow the California Department of Parks and Recreation a year to complete a management plan, giving in to public works' plea for more time to sort out the issue.

Commissioners acknowledged that the Parks' plan impacted endangered species and air quality, but rejected the commission's staff recommendations.

Commissioner Steve Padilla was quoted saying: "This is a slow-moving environmental disaster. It is that slow train wreck that we're all standing there watching and we're paralyzed about what to do about it — because we're all under competing pressures. Big political pressure. I have friends on all sides of this issue."

Now, 18 months later, State Parks' submitted another draft management plan that doubles down on off-road expansion. Their plan proposes a new 33-acre OHV obstacle course, a mile-long track, an OHV staging area, 225 RV sites, an OHV museum, a weapons range, and more – all in environmentally sensitive habitat.

Please reject the State Parks' plan. It is not compatible with air quality, wildlife protection and other park-goers' enjoyment at Oceano Dunes. Moreover, the plan violates several sections of the California Coastal Act, such as the conversion of prime agricultural land to other land uses. Oso Flaco Valley region contains the largest concentration of Class I and Class II soils in the San Luis Obispo County. Protection of agricultural lands in the coastal zone is mandated by the Coastal Act

I strongly support your staff's recommendations. Please vote to implement a phase-out of high-intensity OHV activity in favor of low-impact public beach access and recreation

Kind regards,
Petra Clayton,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

I urge you to support your staff's recommendation for Oso Flaco and the Oceano Dunes. Please vote to implement a plan for phasing out high-intensity OHV activity in favor of low-impact public beach access and recreation.

The State Parks' draft management plan is not compatible with the protection of a fragile coastal dunes complex, threatened species, and environmentally sensitive habitat. Creating a new 33-acre OHV obstacle course, a mile-long track, an OHV staging area, 225 RV sites, an OHV museum, a weapons range at Oso Flaco violates the California Coastal Act. It must not be approved.

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. Why would this ever be allowed?! It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. To me, this spells catastrophe, as it leaves very little room for wildlife (and their lives matter as much as anything else); not to mention that this ridiculous development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please, please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your own staff. Do the right thing for these helpless and hapless animals and their habitat.

As a resident of the area I was able to visit the dunes with vehicles and then without. The contrast was evident as to noise, dust and the ambiance created when people can quietly walk and visit in nature vs turning nature into a theme park . In the time of such environmental concerns anything we can do to reduce pollution, noise and vehicles in a place that should emphasize tranquility smacks of profit over people and a disrespect for nature. Keeping our beaches free from development and public access to pollution free areas should be a priority. The east coast failed at this and we should not do the same.

Dear Coastal Staff and Commissioners,

Please support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes, and especially the "Dune Habitat Complex" that protects the sensitive habitat for the Western Snowy Plover. I believe that you, the Coastal Commission, can protect the Dunes. Please make sure you do so. Please make the most of the opportunity to protect the Dunes.

The Oceano Dunes is the only place on the Pacific Flyway where plovers can rest and recuperate on the dunes during a full tide. Nesting, feeding, foraging, and resting. The dunes are the only place where they can do this. Please protect the dunes for the plovers.

Please, do not let the Oceano Dunes be destroyed for the sake of a few off-road vehicles driving. Off-road vehicles destroy the habitat for the Western Snowy Plover. Please protect the plovers.

The Coastal Commission has the authority to direct and require the State Parks Division of Off-Highway Vehicles to protect the Western Snowy Plover habitat. Please do not allow the Oceano Dunes to be destroyed for the sake of a few off-road vehicles.

Please, do not let the Oceano Dunes be destroyed for the sake of a few off-road vehicles.

Subject: The Forty Year War at the Oceano Dunes

Can you imagine what would have happened if President Lincoln declared a truce and told the states that in five years the civil war is ending ?

In Oceano this is a war about discrimination, poverty, the environment and just breathing healthy air. I think where we make a strategic error is in thinking we can use a business transition plan model for decommissioning a nuclear power plant to solve the problems at the Oceano Dunes. It will not.

This is not Diablo Canyon or a Desalination Plant. This is a conflict between an outdated state agency trying to survive and anti environmental OHV groups living in the past against those who want civil rights for people, communities and the environment. The OHV division and these groups are not going to give an inch and will use absolute resistance over cooperative democratic governance and the rule of law to undermine and circumvent the new conditional use permit at the Oceano Dunes.

Sometimes conflicts must end and this is that time for the Oceano Dunes.Their are many options available to the Coastal Commission using the conditional use permit to implement the compromise recommendations that we continue to support with enhaced enforcement. I submit to you that if we really want to solve the problems at the Oceano Dunes we must not wait five years to fully implement these compromise recommendations. Clearly the OHV division will never support the good faith transition principles or new conditional use permit.

The Oceano Beach Community Association wishes to express our unanimous opposition to this PWP's proposed use of Pier Ave as a permanent access point for the Oceano Dunes SVRA.

In 1982 this entrance was defined as temporary and yet almost 40 years later, it is still in use with massive increase in traffic volume which impacts our community in many negative ways. In addition, the PWP proposes major and costly upgrades to this entrance. The Pier Avenue ramp must be demolished, not improved and made permanent.

Oceano is a disadvantaged, unrepresented, predominantly Latino community. State Parks is in violation of California's Environmental Justice Policy because it has historically excluded Oceano from accessing the benefits of coastal development and resources due to the discriminatory and de facto exclusive use of our beach as a veicular entrance to the SVRA and to the exclusion of Oceano from the decision-making process.

This exclusion of Oceano from economic and recreational benefits is because our beach is filled with cars, trucks,and luxurious mobile homes; therefore, people who do not want to drive on the beach are at physical and emotional risk when seeking to recreate on the beach and therefore excluded. Vehicles, animals, and pedestrians are not compatible on a road, let alone on a beach, where pedestrians go to find tranquillity and relief from traffic.

The legislation classified the Oceano Dunes SVRA for off road use. However, this SVRA is landlocked; there is no entrance except through Oceano beach. The legislation did not give off roaders the right to drive on our beach. You can land your ATVs on the dunes with helicopters if you wish, but you should not carry them on our beach. Please stop using our beach for your profit and fun. It is unhealthy, environmentally damaging, dangerous, and most of all, it is illegal.

The temporary use of Pier Avenue, the main access route to our beach front, has been dominated by motor vehicles which is an inappropriate use of a public beach. This temporary use has resulted in economic and recreational losses to our community. Unlike other California beach communities, Oceano has never been able to achieve any significant benefits from coastal development because the great majority of Californians (and locals) do not want to recreate on a beach made dangerous and uninviting by thousands of motor vehicles. Pier Avenue is a shabby, rundown hodgepodge of ATV rentals and off-roader accessories and supplies stores. Vehicles track out almost 40 tons of beach sand weekly which blows in the streets and air of our community.

Our neighboring town of Pismo Beach only became a desired tourist destination after it banned vehicles from its beach. We want the same opportunity to develop our local economy, create hundreds of new jobs, and have a beach where our families, children, grandparents, and visitors can RELAX, rather than dodge vehicles and stress about their kids playing in the sand. We are long overdue for our chance to enjoy and prosper from a vehicle-free beach.

Finally, as stated in our Local Hazard Mitigation Plan For the Oceano Community Services District of March 2019, the Oceano beach community is at risk of inundation: “In general, much of the coast of the County is protected by wide beaches, coastal dunes, or sea cliffs that provide protection for coastal developments. Areas most vulnerable to the tsunami hazard are developments or infra-structure near the mouths of streams that drain into the Pacific Ocean. In the District and immediate area this would include...the Pier Avenue beach ramp... Most of Oceano and Halcyon is protected from flooding by the Oceano Dunes…” Unfortunately, our beach community is not protected by foredunes anymore because vehicular traffic and grading done by State Parks to accommodate it has destroyed them. The ramp has become a funnel through which, during heavy storms or as a consequence of sea level rise, the ocean could flood Pier Avenue.

Oceano has too long suffered from State Park’s policies, procedures, and operations that continue to use our beach as the access to the SVRA thus excluding non-drivers from beach use and placing our community at risk of inundation from storms and sea level rise.

Sincerely,
Luca Casalinuovo, president
Oceano Beach Community Association

RE: Oceano Dunes and Oso Flaco Lake project

I am in complete agreement with the League of Women Voters regarding the Oso Flaco Lake project, and I believe it is FAR to extensive for this very sensitive area. I have walked the current Oso Flaco Lake trail and have been overtaken by the serenity. I have seen the many birds, ducks, and even raccoons and I have been thankful that the trails are so respectful of the habitat. A development that includes hundreds of campsites, RV sites, and homes could not do anything to improve what is already there.

Oso Flaco Lake is what it is because it is not developed. PLEASE leave this small quiet place the way that it is. There are so few places to escape crowds... and developing this site will ruin what it is now.

Thank you for your time and attention.

RE: Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes SVRA
The League of Women Voters of San Luis Obispo County (LWVSLOCO) has reviewed the Public Works Plan (PWP) for the Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA, or the "Dunes") and its accompanying Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR). LWVSLOCO will not be providing in-depth comments on the technical aspects of the DEIR, but rather offers the following comments and recommendations.

1. There are several components of the proposed PWP that have the League's support: namely, improvements to the Monarch Butterfly Preserve area, addressing flooding and updating of existing campgrounds, and conducting maintenance/repair projects, such as replacing the aging boardwalk at Oso Flaco Lake.
2. The PWP represents a tremendous departure from the existing situation at the Dunes and is not appropriate for the area. Creating a large campground with RV spaces, cabins, service support (i.e., convenience store), large parking areas, and other features at the end of Oso Flaco Lake Road will require a tremendous change in infrastructure and will negatively impact a sensitive area of unique environmental value. This development would completely change the character of the Oso Flaco Lake area and conflict with the League's adopted position to "preserve and protect the shoreline, including estuaries, marshland, and other transition zones"; and to "adhere to local coastal plans that support these goals." Future plans to convert the 109 acres currently leased for agricultural production are also in conflict with LWVSLOCO's position to "Pursue policies and actions that further the goals of the Agricultural and Conversation and Open Space Elements to conserve agricultural lands, protect open space, and prevent urban sprawl."

3. The potential acquisition of the Phillips Refinery site, while bold, appears speculative and too intense for the area. Although perhaps better suited for infrastructure support, which are likely already present, the site contains other drawbacks (i.e., hazardous wastes) that will complicate any repurposing of the site. The establishment of a major access to the Dunes riding area from this location would have the damaging effect of cutting through the middle of a designated Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Area (ESHA) with what would certainly be a very busy transportation corridor. This corridor would also require the construction of a major new bridge over the railroad tracks.
4. The past use at the ODSVRA generated the need to develop Habitat Conservation Plans and Particulate Matter Reduction Plans; it does not appear appropriate to introduce disruptive uses into additional sensitive areas that would exacerbate impacts to habitat and potentially increase particulate matter release into areas currently not impacted by these issues.

For the above reasons, the LWVSLOCO recommends that the State Parks Department reconsider the scale, location, and timing of any new development proposed for ODSVRA, to recognize that changes in public policy and our knowledge of impacts regarding the Dunes area have occurred in the intervening years since this use was first introduced to the Dunes. Plans for future improve- ments need to address the increasing concern of the public for the coastal environment and preser- vation of resources. LWVSLOCO recognizes the state directive to provide affordable access to the coast for the benefit of all residents. There are other options that are not dependent on allowing machines to tear up the very resources to which affordable access is desired.

Thank you.

I have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes many times over recent years. I am always surprised vehicles are still allowed on the beach. I've been purposely splashed by a truck while walking the shore line. Parties go on all night with fireworks set off after dark.

I'm writing to express my strong support for the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

I appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with State law and begins to restore the seriously degraded and unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

Over 30 years ago, I used to ride a 3 wheel Honda 90 ATV on the dunes. It was a very time and I learned to be very careful because if the engine wasn't strong enough to climb up a dune, it could fall backwards. That was before helmets and I learned how to quickly turn the handlebars and go back down. Later I bought one with a slightly bigger (110) engine and seldom had that problem any more.
We drove from the San Joaquin Valley to camp on the beach with our friends, a group of firefighters, nurses and paramedics. Those were some of the most enjoyable, relaxing times I've ever had. Nobody ever got badly hurt, our ATV's all had mufflers and were fairly quiet. We were careful not to disturb plants or threaten wildlife. We stayed on the trails or sand highway. I seriously doubt we polluted the air with sand.

My point is that this state park has been here for many years, long before people chose to build their houses overlooking the dunes and, of course, with their million dollar views of the ocean. The fact that they want to close the beach to cars and recreational vehicles is, in my opinion very selfish and short-sided.

We moved to Arroyo Grande in 1987 and, although we seldom ride ATV's on the beach any more, I think we should leave things the way they have been. Tourism at the beach helps drive our economy. The ability to drive on the beach and camp there is a huge draw for tourists.

The people who live in those beautiful homes can afford air purification systems and shouldn't have the right to change everyone else's lives just to make their own the way they want them. Let's not let them get away with getting what they want by spending money to influence policy.

Yours truly,

Laurel Neufeld-Williams

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

Please support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes and amend the State Park's Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Ave. vehicle access, preserve the Snowy Plover exclosures, and leave the Oso Flaco Lake area as it is. Above all, start the clock on the phase-out of OHV activity.

The Oceano Dunes will continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking, birding, fishing, horseback riding, and hiking the dunes; the kind of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California - with the exception of Oceano.

The economic arguments against the phase out of OHV activities were rebutted during the park's closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California's coast. The residents of Oceano who try to walk on their own beach, with OHV activity, do so with great risk. And they are watching the coastal dunes complex – their defense against rising sea levels – being eroded away.

The unhealthy air, from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road vehicle activity, continues to stretch from Nipomo to Guadalupe.
All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to adequately protect the environmentally sensitive habitat. It is past time to hold them accountable now.

Subject: Proposed Public Works Plan for Oso Flaco

Categories: Public Comment

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to urge you to accept the Coastal Commission recommendations and not implement this plan, which would be disastrous for Oso Flaco, bringing in up to 200 RV campsites, 100 drive-in tent campsites, an off-road riding trail adjacent to the north end of the lake, and much, much more development. The plan could cause Least Terns to abandon use of Oso Flaco for foraging and drive many other bird and wildlife species away from the lake and surrounding area. It would completely alter what is now the top birdwatching spot in SLO County.
Moreover, it is contrary to the California Coastal Act and Local Coastal Programs, which protect prime agricultural land and environmentally sensitive habitat areas (ESHA).

Sincerely,

Kenneth Pearlman

Dear Coastal Commission,

Our California coast should be for people, not vehicles. I recently hiked the dunes north of Grand Avenue where vehicle have access to the beach, and it was so wonderful to be among the most beautiful, quiet, and pristine dunes I've ever seen. When I finally reach the ocean, that all changed. I know you have heard it all, regarding the noisy pickup trucks, the huge motorhomes, the loud and obnoxious ATV's , and the many, many confederate flags being flown as they destroy our beaches. We, the people of California depend on You, the one body of government that has the capacity to change what currently happens on our coastline. You've heard all the reasons why it needs to be stopped, so I will not go into listing them.

The main reason should cover them all, it's the RIGHT thing to do, now and for all future generations who deserve a safe and beautiful coastline, for all wildlife that lived in these dunes and on the beach way before we did, and because way more Californians and others can enjoy this area, than the number of people that currently destroy it for their own personal pleasure.

Sincerely and with great appreciation for all you do,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

We have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes on several occasions over recent years. What a beautiful area! We am writing to express our strong support for the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

We appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with State law and begins to restore the seriously degraded and unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

Thank you for considering our thoughts,

We moved from busy Bay Area to find some peace and quiet at the Central Coast.

With the latest news about Oceano Dunes and the plans of State Parks' permit for the Oceano Dunes SVRA, creating the most significant opportunity to correct the longstanding issues plaguing the park since its formation more than 40 years ago.

PLEASE PRESERVE THE BIRD SANCTIUARIES, AND ALL THE WILDLIFE THAT IS PROTECTED THERE TO SAVE FOR OUR FUTURE CHILDREN AND THE ONES TO COME AFTER THEM. I would Like to comment on the PWP for our Oso Flaco Lake and coastline. As a 22 year resident of Santa Maria I have come to treasure our wild and remote Coastine which lies beneath Pismo Beach. I have been to the area many times over the years to watch birds, check out the wildlife on the lakeshore and enjoy the quiet dune and seashore walks.
I watched the LWV-SL0 presentation on the PWP plan for the area and was appalled. I cannot believe that any naturalist would recommend the amount of expansion and access that would be created with this plan.
The area is already designated as Environmentally Sensitive Habitat, it would be damaging and disruptive to the area to permit that much development, no matter how carefully it was planned.
Also to open access to the dunes off road riding area when Locals have been fighting the presence of the current access for years because of habitat destruction and dust generated seems shortsighted and insensitive.
I recognize as population increases there is increased need for public access to parks and recreation areas along the coast, but this is not right area to develop.
In short myself and my family are strongly against this development plan.

Subject: Please oppose restricting or ending powersports access to Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Subject: The PWP for Pismo State Beach and Oceano Dunes SVRA should is not the right development and the Draft EIR is fully inadequate

Categories: Public Comment

Dear State Parks,

This is to express our view that the proposed PWP for Pismo Beach and the Oceano Dunes, while ambitious and comprehensive, is the wrong development for this environmentally sensitive area, especially if managed by your agency. We also believe the Draft EIR is unacceptable for any decision about the property, and should be rejected.

Parks' stated mission is "To provide for the health, inspiration and education of the people of California by helping to preserve the state's extraordinary biological diversity, protecting its most valued natural and cultural resources, and creating opportunities for high-quality outdoor recreation" (www.parks.ca.gov). The massive construction and intensive use described in the PWP is demonstrably inconsistent with the thrust of this mission.

Instead, implementing the PWP would destroy the area's sensitive habitat as well as prevent visitors from being immersed in the wonders of this special place on California's coast. Unlike everywhere else in your system, the PWP concept is more like a theme park than a traditional RSA.

Besides, dealing with this level of intensive use could be well beyond the capabilities of State Parks. Already inadequate control exists over the crowds and activities of the Oceano Dunes OHV park, as evidenced by the deaths, injuries, crowd incidents, and degradation of the present park property. We cannot be confident that State Parks, or any concessioner, could deal with the challenges of managing the proposed much larger multiuse facility.

The upcoming Coastal Commission meeting is an opportunity to learn about State Parks' concept and the consequences of the PWP. Unfortunately, the draft EIR is woefully inadequate in addressing a multitude of the proposed development's issues. The EIR cannot be accepted as the basis for a final decision. Here are our concerns:

1. As noted by the California Coastal Commission staff report, the PWP is inconsistent with the California Coastal Act and local Coastal plans. These must be followed for any development in the area.
2. The impacts of degraded habitat, harm to protected and native species, air quality and public health, and Tribal and Environmental Justice rights have not been satisfactorily addressed.
3. No significant measures are given to deal with downwind air quality problems.
4. The proposal for the Oso Flaco Lake area would ravage its treasured serenity and habitat protection.
5. The concept for the Phillips66 refinery property would further compound denigration of the site.

California State Parks are intended to preserve nature for human health, education, and inspiration, not to be centers of intense activity. The recent closure of the OHV showed how magnificent and pleasurable the area can be, and has evoked strongly positive responses from folks who could finally explore and enjoy the area's nature, without worrying about safety, noise, and destruction. While arguments are made about positive economic value to the area, that has yet to be established and, since this effect is not in Parks' mission, it must be only a minor consideration.

For all these reasons, we strongly support the recommendations of the Coastal Commission staff in eliminating OHV use over time, fostering low-intensity use, and restoring the Dunes' natural habitat and air quality, and we are opposed to the PWP.

Thank you for your agency's commitment to preserving California's nature; do not be distracted from this responsibility by chasing the illusory value of high intensity use.

Categories: Public Comment

Can you imagine what would have happened if President Lincoln declared a truce and told the states that in five years the civil war is ending ?

In Oceano this is a war about discrimination, poverty, the environment and just breathing healthy air. I think where we make a strategic error is in thinking we can use a business transition plan model for decommissioning a nuclear power plant to solve the problems at the Oceano Dunes. It will not.

This is not Diablo Canyon or a Desalination Plant. This is a conflict between an outdated state agency trying to survive and anti environmental OHV groups living in the past against those who want civil rights for people, communities and the environment. The OHV division and these groups are not going to give an inch and will use absolute resistance over cooperative democratic governance and the rule of law to undermine and circumvent the new conditional use permit at the Oceano Dunes.

Sometimes conflicts must end and this is that time for the Oceano Dunes.Their are many options available to the Coastal Commission using the conditional use permit to implement the compromise recommendations that we continue to support with enhaced enforcement. I submit to you that if we really want to solve the problems at the Oceano Dunes we must not wait five years to fully implement these compromise recommendations. Clearly the OHV division will never support the good faith transition principles or new conditional use permit.

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners:

We urge you to support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes, and amend the State Park's Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Avenue vehicle access, preserve the snowy plover exclosures, and leave the Oso Flaco Lake area as it is. Above all, start the clock on the phase-out of OHV activity.

The Oceano Dunes will continue to offer unique experiences which characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California - with the exception of Oceano.

Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park's closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California's coast.

The residents of Oceano who try to walk on their own beach, with OHV activity, do so with great risk. And they are watching the coastal dunes complex – their defense against rising sea levels – being eroded away. We shouldn't be introducing disruptive uses into additional sensitive areas. This will only exacerbate impacts to the environment, habitats and human health.

The unhealthy air, from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road vehicle activity, continues to stretch from Nipomo to Guadalupe.

All of this is clearly an environmental injustice. State Parks has not earnestly worked to correct the problems. Furthermore, they have not heeded your directive to develop a plan to adequately protect the sensitive habitat. Now is the time to hold them accountable.

Sincerely,

Dear Chairman Padilla and Coastal Commissioners:

Please support the February 16, 2021 staff recommendations for the Oceano Dunes SVRA and the State Parks' draft PWP/EIR. These thoughtful recommendations would finally resolve the long-standing conflict in the dunes and it's the right answer for the Central Coast, from the perspective of public health, wildlife protection, environmental justice, economic vitality, compliance with the Coastal Act, and equal access for all to the coast.

Thank you.

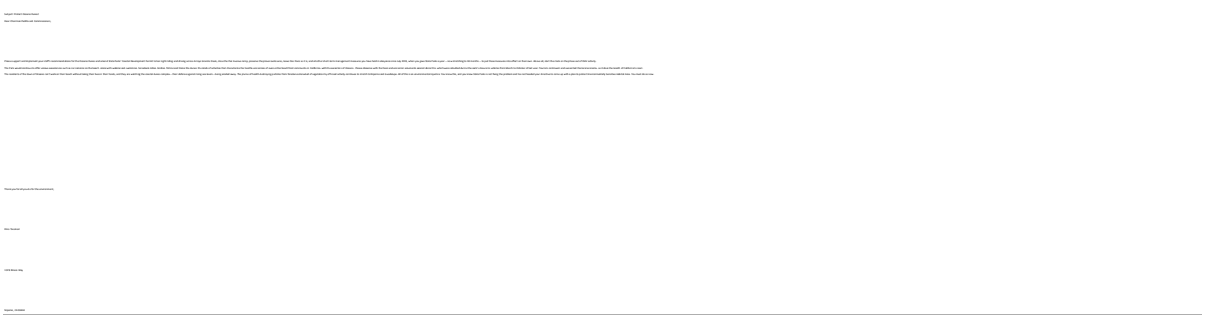
Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.



Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Subject: Please oppose restricting or ending powersports access to Oceano Dunes SVRA

Categories: Oppose Staff Recommendation

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

We are ardent nature lovers and birders, active members of the Morro Coast Audubon Society (MCAS). We are frequent visitors to Oso Flaco Lake, where we greatly enjoy the incredible bird life there. We are shocked and dismayed at the outrageous plans for the future of this fabulous place by State Parks. We completely subscribe to the objections cited by MCAS to the State Parks plan as copied below.

Please abandon this obscene idea and leave Oso Flaco as the fabulous place it is now.

Uniqueness of Oso Flaco Lake Natural Area

• Critical habitat along the Pacific Flyway for migratory birds.
• Numerous Special Status bird species known to breed in the area, and many more California Bird Species of Special Concern found here.
• Hottest hotspot in San Luis Obispo County for birding according to eBird – with nearly 300 bird species and 2000 checklists reported.
• Oso Flaco Lake is part of the Santa Maria River Valley Important Bird Area (IBA), designated by National Audubon Society by reason of the unique habitats in the riparian, dunes, and beach areas, and the number of sensitive species these habitats support.
• Guadalupe-Nipomo Dunes is one of 36 National Natural Landmarks in California. This program recognizes and encourages the conservation of outstanding examples of the natural history of the United States.
• The 1980 U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service designation as the most unique and fragile ecosystem in California, ranking #1 on a list of habitats in need of protection.
• Contains natural communities protected as Environmentally Sensitive Habitat Areas, (ESHA) under the California Coastal Act.
• Oso Flaco region contains the largest concentration of Class I and Class II soils in San Luis,Obispo County. Classified as prime agricultural land under the Coastal Act.
• A very special place for people to connect with nature, by supporting nature study and outdoor education for groups such as the Dunes Center students, the Santa Barbara and Morro Coast Audubon Societies, the Central Coast Natural History Association, the California Native Plant Society, the Morro Bay Winter Bird Festival, and more. Even with this distinction and uniqueness, the Oso Flaco area still provides those who visit a "stillness" – a stillness that is increasingly rare in a world addicted to speed and noise.

We love walking on the beach but it is often unsafe as people drive everywhere. We have to take our grandchildren up to Pismo or Avila just for safety.
We live on the Nipomo Mesa and can see clouds of dust move inland especially up Black Lake canyon. And can hear ATVs at all hours of the night.
Car camping would be fun for all ages and would help local businesses.
As it stands, it seems unfair that Oceano residents are basically denied access to the beach just steps from their home.

Once again State Parks, an agency that should be serving the public and the environment, needs to be reminded that their unrelenting efforts to continue maintaining the Off Road Vehicular killing fields in the Oceano Dunes are a violation of the law of the land as well as of standards of decency.

Fortunately they are at least held in check by other government agencies and the tireless efforts of responsible citizens. I'm writing in support of the Coastal Commission's staff report calling for the five-year phase out of off-highway vehicles at Oceano Dunes.

I have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes on several occasions over the recent years. I am writing to express my STRONG SUPPORT for the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

I appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with State law and begins to restore degraded and unsafe conditions of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

We thank you for your support with this important decision.

To whom it may concern:

Once again State Parks is squandering taxpayer money in relentless efforts to promote projects and activities which have the exact opposite effects of what this agency is supposed to be doing.

As a result of tireless efforts of individuals and conservation groups over many years Oso Flaco Lake Natural Area remains a beautiful, peaceful, ecologically productive natural feature. The present proposal is a sure way to destroy the values it maintains.

One distinction of this place is the contrast it provides to the off-highway noise making and killing field that State Parks has insisted on developing and supporting right next door.

What is it with this agency?

I presume that the primary motivation for such behavior must be monetary. Just as the OHV recreation area is a cash cow, its managers want to increase their revenues by extending their influence further.

You've heard the arguments, but this is not a case where rational or moral discourse prevails.

Hopefully if enough citizens rally behind the heroic champions opposing this folly, our noise will at least neutralize if not drown out yours.

Expansion of Oceano Dunes would be a huge mistake for SLO County. It has been shown that ORV use brings little to the area besides noise and dangerous pollution.
Imagine a thriving beach town similar to everywhere else along the coast. That is the potential for the struggling community of Oceano. Without the noise and pollution that is currently taking place, a thriving economy is within your power by closing the area to ORV use and replacing it with normal beach activities. This use would increase revenue and families would flock from all over to be able to vehicle camp in the area, large hotels and other higher uses would thrive and the increase in tax revenues would rise exponentially. This is so obvious to many people that I can't imagine any other decision that could be made.

Dear Chairman Padilla and Commissioners,

Please support and implement your staff's recommendations for the Oceano Dunes, and amend the State Park's Coastal Development Permit to bar night riding and driving across Arroyo Grande Creek, close the Pier Ave. vehicle access, preserve the snowy plover exclosures, and leave the Oso Flaco Lake area as it is. Above all, start the clock on the phase-out of OHV activity.

The Oceano Dunes will continue to offer unique experiences such as car camping on the beach, along with walking, birding, fishing, horseback riding, and hiking the dunes; the kind of activities that characterize the healthy economies of every other beachfront community in California - with the exception of Oceano.

Please dispense with the fears and economic arguments against doing this, which were rebutted during the park's closure to vehicles from March to October of last year. Tourism continued, and supported the local economy, as it does the length of California's coast.

The residents of Oceano who try to walk on their own beach, with OHV activity, do so with great risk. And they are watching the coastal dunes complex – their defense against rising sea levels – being eroded away.

The unhealthy air, from foredunes denuded of vegetation by off-road vehicle activity, continues to stretch from Nipomo to Guadalupe.

All of this is an environmental injustice. You know this, and you know State Parks is not fixing the problem and has not heeded your directive to come up with a plan to adequately protect the environmentally sensitive habitat. It is past time to hold them accountable.

As a more personal note, as an avid birder,, Oso Flaco late is the premier location on the central coast for hundreds of species of migrating, over wintering and endemic species. This unique and relatively unaffected by human encroachment is a mecca for bird watchers and nature enthusiasts. Every time I visit I meet people from all over the world as well as locals, enjoying this highly valued location. It needs to be protected.

Best Regards,

Cindy Ochoa

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Natalie Ischer

I spent every summer of my childhood at Avila and Pismo Beaches. We have friends there now and so have visited Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes on several occasions over recent years. In addition to fond memories of the beach and dunes, I am a Board Certified Orthotist and worked in clinics in both spinal and orthopedic clinics in San Luis Obispo treating patients with sever neck and spinal injuries as a result of what we used to call "Dune Buggy" accidents. It is a very dangerous and damaging sport.

I am writing to express my strong support for the report and recommendations set forth in the "Oceano Dunes Coastal Development Permit 4-82-300 Review" prepared by California Coastal Commission (CCC) Staff.

I appreciate that CCC Staff has taken the lead on reviewing the California State Parks Draft Environmental Impact Report (DEIR) and Plan, and developing recommendations describing an alternative plan for future use of the Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes that is consistent with State law and begins to manage the unsafe condition of Pismo Beach and Oceano Dunes caused by excessive vehicle use.

With appreciation,

As a resident of the Central Coast, avid beach goer and committed protector of California nature resources, I absolutely disapprove of the proposed development plans at the Oceano Dunes. The proposed development is at odds with the delicate nature of the subject lands, appears to be designed to increase rather than to simply satisfy use demand, will stimulate active off-roading which is inappropriate for passive enjoyment of the beach area and, in any evaluation, is inappropriate in the scale of proposed alterations to the environment none of whose effects can be reasonably mitigated.

I was very disappointed to see State Parks' plans for Oso Flaco, and for the Phillips-66 land. In both instances, they have gone way off mark from what the Coastal Commission has expected

The Oso Flaco Lake Nature area is an important part of the Guadalupe-Nipomo Dunes National Wildlife Refuge. Off-road vehicles do not belong near that area. Please permanently retain the natural beauty of that area.

The Phillips-66 land is across the street from over 2,000 residences:

Proposing what amounts to an off-road vehicle amusement park (on P-66 land) in close proximity to these homes would devastate quality of life and property values. As it stands now, with off-roaders on the dunes, the un-mufflered noise and dust for residents over 2 miles away is obnoxious. Bringing the same activity right next door to residencies would pose a major negative impact on quality of life.

The closing of Pier Avenue implies that off-road vehicles will enter the dunes at Oso Flaco, or at Phillips-66. All of that traffic would go through Nipomo (mostly on Willow Avenue). That would exasperate our air quality problems on the Nipomo Mesa, with vehicles carrying sand onto roads when leaving the park. It's a major problem in Oceano (Pier Ave.). Moving that problem to Nipomo will cause a jump in the number of days Nipomo violates air quality standards. As you know, Nipomo has some of the worst air quality in the nation, due to the damage of-roaders have caused to the dunes.

Please see that State Parks stays within the area currently allocated for off-roaders, and please force them to finish the foredune berms. Vegetating the foredunes sounds promising for air quality, without significantly cutting back on areas for off-roaders.

Respectfully Yours,

Please stop the vehicular traffic on Oceano Beach. Sooner than later.

I'm just afraid that State Parks will not coop in this so called phase out. It may well be a call to action. I fear it will not go well. Please consider a full stop to this madness. Say full stop now .... nothing less will even register with state parks as they managed to run the show for 40 years.

I say please do your job and I and millions support you.

Please call it off. No more vehicles on the beach! It is Oceano Beach. It's their life line. Preserve and protect it forever.

I wish to register my opposition to the State Parks proposal for the development of the Santa Maria Refinery land, the Oso Flaco area, and the extension of ATV activity beyond the current Oceano area.

As proposed, the State Park plan would destroy areas that currently are devoted to natural conversancy. To develop the Santa Maria refinery site and "develop" Oso Flaco with low impact camping as well as recreational vehicle camping, vehicular access, a shooting range, concessionary areas, and ATVs on the Dunes, would continue the destruction of wildlife and plant life along the coast. It is unclear why the State Parks wish to widen the area in which respect for the environment is at such a low level, While impact on wildlife is an important consideration, the negative impact on the human population is also important. The development of the Ocean Dunes between Oceano and Guadalupe, particularly the Oso Flaco and Santa Maria Refinery area would contribute to degrading the air quality and therefore the health of the humans close-in neighborhoods. The Nipomo area already has an air pollution problem. Expanded hard use of the Dunes resulting in degradation of plant life would only exacerbate the already intolerable air quality. Noise pollution, already a bane from the ATVs on the Dunes making the Mesa area sound like a race track, would worsen with this plan.

While the State Parks believes their plan would not contribute to unplanned growth—it would be far worse. It would be exploding the daily population in the area but not resulting in any positive investment in land resources, property values, or property taxes to support the strain on roadways.

For these reasons and more, I respectfully request that the Coastal Commission deny the planned project for the Ocean Dunes.

Respectfully,

Dear Commissioners,
How can State Parks seriously propose expanding Off-Road-Vehicle riding on the Phillips 66 Property? Why would you allow more vehicles to ride on the dunes, compounding the air-quality problem on the Nipomo Mesa, at an even shorter distance? This is not how to solve the most critical problem on the Central Coast, Air Pollution from the dunes. This proposal shows that State Parks has not accepted the fact that riding on the sand dunes causes the air pollution we experience on the Nipomo Mesa. The OHV's riding on the sand dunes breaks the crust, thus releasing the sand particles into the air to smash into each other, and subsequently with the wind sending hazardous PM10& PM2.5 particles in a plume across the Nipomo Mesa. While the OHV dune riders are having a great time zipping around the dunes with abandon, we on the Nipomo Mesa, would be subjected to breathing more concentrated hazardous particles blown our way.

State Parks should be concentrating on uses of the Phillips 66 Property that would decrease environmental damage and pollution, not increase it.

We do not approve of any:
OHV riding, parking, staging, practice tracks, Pro-track for Motocross, midget riding, obstacle course, night riding track. etc. No weapons range, no outdoor concert/special event venue. These ideas would only create more air and noise pollution.

The Phillips 66 property would be a valuable asset to the State Parks system if it is developed responsibly, taking into account to protect its ecological resources, wildlife habitats, and the well-being of the health of the neighbors living on the Mesa.

Thank you for considering my comments.
Sincerely,
Marcia Johnson

My husband and I, and later our two sons, have enjoyed the peace and tranquility of the Oso Flaco area for probably 50 years. This area is truly a sanctuary from the busyness of everyday life. We have enjoyed spotting birds and wildflowers, and just winding down with a walk over the lake and to the ocean. Our biologist son even led a few nature walks for school children through the Dune Center.

Please do not allow this area to be destroyed with new roads, facilities and RV camping. The proposed "improvements" would totally change this gem of the central coast forever. It would be totally against what State Parks is supposed to be all about: "To provide for the health, inspiration and education of the people of California by helping to preserve the state's extraordinary biological diversity, protecting its most values natural and cultural resources, and creating opportunities for high quality outdoor recreation."

Dear Coastal Commissioners,
We would like to comment on the proposed Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) Public Works Plan (PWP specifically the Oso Flaco Improvement Project.

We believe developing the Oso Flaco area for high intensity use would be a grave mistake that would involve loss of sensitive habitat for the wildlife & birds that live there. Oso Flaco is renowned by Bird Watchers everywhere. Where else can you walk across a lake & be up-close to so many different birds? Oso Flaco as it exists now is one of the Central Coast's best over-wintering habitats for many migrating birds. It is visited by birders from across the state & US. With more human contact from the increased traffic from cars, large RVs, not to mention allowing camping, campfires with smoke filled air pollution and the planned hiking trails that would loop & encircle the wildlife, we are afraid that these added human pressures will eventually make Oso Flaco a very inhospitable place for the wildlife that call it home. Deer, racoons, bobcats, & even bears are known to roam the Oso Flaco area. With more human traffic comes increased noise, air pollution, and lots more trash. More trash, brings the nuisance of more scavenging racoons, & maybe even bears. This planned project would essentially turn Oso Flaco into a high density human playground, that would put unnecessary pressure on all the wildlife that exists or travels through the area.

The bottom-line we feel is there should be: No Camping, No Campfires, No RV's, No Large Buses, No Off-Road Vehicles allowed at Oso Flaco. The main improvements should be improved restroom facilities, and more trash and fishing line receptacles. Another beneficial improvement would be a Natural History Kiosk/Display near the picnic table area. That would be geared for school children to learn about the park and how they can be good stewards of the land and wildlife.

I hope you will seriously take our comments into consideration, before allowing State Parks to go ahead with their so-called "Improvement Project". Please don't destroy the gem that is Oso Flaco!

Sincerely,
Marcia & Dale Johnson

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

We are writing regarding the plan for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area that is on your March 18 hearing agenda.

In recognition of the fragile coastal dunes complex, threatened species, and environmentally sensitive habitat area, the Coastal Commission in 2019 advised the CA State Department of Parks and Recreation:

"It is time to start thinking about ways to transition ODSVRA away from OHV use to other forms of public access and recreation that better respond to the current realities that affect and are affected by activities at this shoreline location…"

In keeping with this advice, please reject the Parks Department's draft management plan that ignores this instruction and instead expands off-road uses, including a new 33-acre Off highway vehicle obstacle course & mile-long track, an OHV staging area, 225 RV sites, an OHV museum, a weapons range, and more – all in environmentally sensitive habitat.

At your March 18 hearing, please adopt your staff's recommendation to phase out of off-roading at the dunes and amend the management plan to favor different types of recreational use that won't harm coastal resources, like car-camping on the beach and hike-in/bike-in camping. Off-road enthusiasts will continue to be able to ride at eight other State Parks that allow vehicular recreation, as well as at nearly 70 other public OHV areas in California.

Thank you,

Dear District Supervisor Kahn,

As an outdoor enthusiast who enjoys powersport activities, I'm concerned about the proposed Public Works Plan (PWP) for Oceano Dunes State Vehicular Recreation Area (ODSVRA) which was released on December 30, 2020. I am opposed to several provisions in the proposed PWP.

As drafted, the proposed PWP supports reducing and ultimately even eliminating off-highway vehicle recreation at ODSVRA. Within the PWP, the most concerning proposals are:

• Proposes an immediate 42 percent reduction of OHV day-use limits, from the current 1,720 vehicles/day, down to 1,000/day (p. 78 of the PWP).

• Proposes ending OHV/ATV rental concessions when their current contracts expire in 2022. Phasing out of OHV rental concessions would require visitors to bring in their own OHVs and would impact low- and middle-income individuals. (p. 79 of the PWP).

• Proposes an Environmental Impact Review (EIR) alternative to consider phase-out of OHV recreation over five years (see Volume 3, Chapter 2, Alternatives).

• Proposes to conduct an "independently peer-reviewed carrying capacity study" to determine appropriate limits for beach camping and day-use by OHVs and street-legal vehicles and update use limits accordingly, which could further limit access/use by OHV in the SVRA (p. 76 of the PWP).

The off-highway vehicle community strongly advocates for responsible use of our natural resources and ensuring powersports enthusiasts are well-trained in the proper use of their vehicles to foster an enjoyable and safe riding environment. Many people cannot afford to purchase their own vehicles and eliminating the rental option is something that would not only kill local jobs, but would also disenfranchise lower income individuals who rely on the ability to rent powersports equipment. The Oceano Dunes SVRA has been a significant part of many individuals' lives in the outdoor recreation community. It has been a place for people worldwide to gather and enjoy powersport use and beach camping. The proposed PWP could end access to the park for many Californians, hundreds of thousands of individuals, and their families who have been recreating the dunes for decades. At a time when so many people have turned to outdoor recreation as a form of stress release, we should be looking at ways to expand recreation opportunities, not eliminate them.

Please strike these provisions from the PWP and preserve access for a diverse group of recreation interests at Oceano Dunes SVRA.

Sincerely,

NICHOLAS HARRINGTON

What a beautiful day walking on the dunes except for the whine of motorized vehicles in the distance. These are some pictures as I got closer to the OHV area.

The pandemic pause was beautiful! It was wonderful to be able to enjoy Oceano Beach, access to the ocean, and dunes without worrying about being run over, the noise, or worse pollution from exist or blowing trash it left behind campfires. I can't imagine all the animals and plants that had a break from the relentless destruction inherent with driving off road vehicles over an ecosystem that's trying to survive!

Oceano Dunes is a criticality unique coastal dunes system. The motorized vehicles need to be eliminated for the benefit of the fragile ecosystem.

The Parks Plan is a disaster without considering the plants and animals it's supposed to be protecting!

It's time to wake up and acknowledge the eco destruction of OHVs and the State Park system role to protect the natural areas, not aiding to destroy them.

More importantly is considering the lives saved due to the closure. People weren't killed, maimed, or injured, due to the inherent label of danger that comes with OHV activities! Yay!! Our local emergency response teams, hospitals and clinics weren't overburdened due to OHV related injuries.

Oceano Dunes needs to be vehicle free! I'd love to be able access my local beach freely without worrying about my health and well-being and that of others riding on the dunes.

Pier Ave. can be revitalized, promoting vehicle free activities! Many years of neglect are obvious! The campers and OHVs just hurry on past, waiting to rip it up in the sand, causing more problems for the Nipomo Mesa! This fun is destructive to other humans and especially the ecosystem that's trying to survive! It's time to move forward into the future and prohibit vehicles!

Protect the Oceano Dunes!

Dear California Coastal Commission,

Please reject the Public Works Plan for Oceano Dunes State Park. This plan doesn't adequately protect coastal resources or endangered species, and it doesn't comply with the Coastal Act.

Your commission directed State Parks to evaluate phasing out off-roading and transitioning the park to nonmotorized recreation. But this plan prioritizes off-road recreation over protection of wildlife and doesn't address the resource-protection issues your agency raised. It utterly fails to evaluate the five-year off-road vehicle phase-out, limited beach driving and camping alternative proposed by your staff.

The plan punts on solutions to specific issues you requested be addressed, such as Arroyo Grande Creek crossing, endangered shorebird nesting plans, nighttime off-road riding, and vehicle and camping use limits. Instead, the plan offers inadequate interim measures and promises future studies and plans with uncertain outcomes.

The Public Works Plan would open more sensitive dune habitat to off-road vehicles and slash protected breeding areas for threatened snowy plovers and least terns by one-third. It also proposes a massive 120-acre development near Oso Flaco Lake, including yet more off-roading, hundreds of campsites, huge parking lots, offices, residences, and other infrastructure. Leaving little room for wildlife, the development would destroy one of the best birdwatching spots in San Luis Obispo County.

Please reject this plan and impose your own permit conditions and a phase-out of off-roading, as recommended by your staff.

Sincerely,
Joyce Crowley

Here are my comments for you to consider when making the decision regarding the flawed State Parks Proposed Public works plan vs supporting the Coastal Commissions vision of the Parks future.

Please do not support the State Parks Proposed Public works plan!

The State Parks Plan, instead of incorporating the Commission's 15 recommendations for improving the park, it does the opposite - expands OHV riding, reduces protection for the sea birds, brings air, noise and light pollution even closer to Mesa residences. The proposed plan includes such items as a weapons range and a Pro-OHV riding area and negatively impacts the environmentally sensitive habitat area of pristine Oso Flaco, etc which we do not support.

PLEASE FOLLOW AND INSIST ON COMPLIANCE WITH THE COASTAL ACT!

For the first time I truly believe the momentum exists to make incredible change to embrace environmental justice; finally deal with public health issue caused by air, light and noise pollution; reduce carbon print affecting our climate; address Oceano's ethnic/racial/financial injustice caused by the park's current exclusive high intensity use; and create a park for EVERYONE to enjoy that protects its natural beauty and resources for future generations.

Commissioners, the legal authority and full responsibility to ensure that a change to low intensity use of the dunes occurs well within the next five years rests within your power! On behalf of the environment and us, the general public, insist on compliance with the Coastal Act

Decide on March 18th to create a beach for everyone to enjoy by protecting our future and planning to reimagine Oceano Dunes and Protect Oso Flaco. Below see several reasons and justification for my support:

The Project Overview by the California Coastal Commission (CCC) to Consider New Activities at Oceano Dunes provides substantive framework to reimagine its use. The park would finally operate in line with the Coastal Commission Act.

Restoration of the dunes and growth of vegetation would gradually occur without constant destruction by vehicles. Native species would be restored. Snowy plovers will no longer be in jeopardy. Public health issues caused by bad air quality would be resolved.

Expansion of non-invasive recreational uses of the Park is in line with preserving and protecting the coast's natural habitat.

bird watching, walking, horseback riding, hiking, swimming and other activities, such as beach volleyball.

Campsite car camping experience can be enhanced by vehicular ADA access; non-vehicular public recreational access south of Pier Avenue would allow low-intensity hike-in/bike-in camping opportunities further south.

Enhanced habitat protection measures in the Pismo Beach Butterfly Habitat and in the southern portion of the Park closest to the environmentally sensitive Oso Flaco Lake area and within Oso Flaco Lake are a must have!

The underserved community of Oceano would be able to directly connect with its beach, thus allowing it the economic opportunities already present in the surrounding 5 cities area.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Sirs,

As a former San Luis Obispo resident growing up and spending a good part of my life in San Luis Obispo County, and enjoying the outdoor life and parks, I would like to contribute my comments on the future use of the Oceano Dunes.

We continue to visit San Luis Obispo County multiple times a year and greatly enjoy visiting and hiking in the parks.

I fully support the more environmentally balanced Staff recommendations "...

I am completely against expanding off highway vehicle (OHV) areas I feel this space for this activity should be reduced for the same reasons the California Coastal Commissions called out, "...
