This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
John Lum

From: Rick Montenegro
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:10 PM

---

My name is Rick Montenegro

My email address is rickmontenegro@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Rick Montenegro

From: Michael Kim
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 2:55:59 AM

---

My name is Michael Kim

My email address is michaelkim@pacbell.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Michael Kim

From: Gloria Keeley
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:56:28 AM

---

My name is Gloria Keeley

My email address is stilgloria@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Gloria Keeley

From: Stan Erhart
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:02:15 PM

---

My name is Stan Erhart

My email address is stan@erhart.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Stan Erhart

From: Julia Wong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:42:51 PM

---

My name is Julia Wong

My email address is juliawongsf@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Julia Wong

From: Mary Gwynn
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:01:48 PM

---

My name is Mary Gwynn

My email address is mgwynn788@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mary Gwynn

From: Frانيا Feldstein
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:45:32 PM

---

My name is Frانيا Feldstein

My email address is fran.feldstein@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Please reopen the Great Highway to vehicular traffic 24/7. Special interest groups should not have the power to shut out the majority of San Franciscans who love driving on the scenic highway along Ocean Beach.

Thank you!

Sincerely,
Frania Feldstein

From: Joan Satriani
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:27:34 PM

---

My name is Joan Satriani

My email address is joan@joansatriani.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joan Satriani

From: Thomas Snow
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 8:16:28 AM

---

My name is Thomas Snow

My email address is tomsnow24@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Thomas Snow

From: Esfir Shrayber
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 3:26:01 AM

---

My name is Esfir Shrayber

My email address is to_fira@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Esfir Shrayber

From: Tom Escher
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:00 PM

---

My name is Tom Escher

My email address is tomescher@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Tom Escher

From: Lisa Harpenau
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:36:32 PM

---

My name is Lisa Harpenau

My email address is lharpenu@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lisa Harpenau

From: William Diefenbach
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:43:11 PM

---

My name is William Diefenbach

My email address is bill.diefenbach@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
William Diefenbach

From: Takako Yamashita
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:10 PM

---

My name is Takako Yamashita

My email address is takako.y@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Takako Yamashita

From: David O'Brien
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 3:47:57 AM

---

My name is David O'Brien

My email address is davidobrienusa@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
David O'Brien

From: simmone.fichtner
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:20 PM

---

My name is simmone fichtner

My email address is simmonef67@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
simmone fichtner

From: Darcy Mironov
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:56:30 AM

---

My name is Darcy Mironov

My email address is darcymironov@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Darcy Mironov

From: victoire.reynal
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:42:51 PM

---

My name is victoire reynal

My email address is victoirereynal@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
victoire reynal

From: Richard Kawala
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:30 PM

---

My name is Richard Kawala

My email address is rkawala@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Richard Kawala

From: Carolyn Hee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:52:09 PM

---

My name is Carolyn Hee

My email address is CarolynHee@Gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Hee

From: So Kwong-Chan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 6:30:23 PM

---

My name is So Kwong-Chan

My email address is sofunkwongchan@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
So Kwong-Chan

From: Chris Conner
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:27 PM

---

My name is Chris Conner

My email address is connerama@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Chris Conner

From: Paul Roscelli
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:01:50 PM

---

My name is Paul Roscelli

My email address is paulroscelli@me.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Paul Roscelli

From: Patricia Henshaw
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:00:51 PM

---

My name is Patricia Henshaw

My email address is phmanatee@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Patricia Henshaw

From: Shu Ping Kuang
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:06 PM

---

My name is Shu Ping Kuang

My email address is spkuang92@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Shu Ping Kuang

From: Rudy Asercion
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:21:38 AM

---

My name is Rudy Asercion

My email address is RudyAsercion@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Rudy Asercion

From: Emilia Jankowski
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:11 PM

---

My name is Emilia Jankowski

My email address is ehjankowski@att.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

The Great Highway should be available to all which includes cars. We all must learn to live, play and commute together.

Sincerely,
Emilia Jankowski

From: Elizabeth Jasper
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:42:51 PM

---

My name is Elizabeth Jasper

My email address is ejasper@mindspring.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Jasper

From: Tim Runde
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:09:12 AM

---

My name is Tim Runde

My email address is tim@runde-inc.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Tim Runde

From: JOHN CERVANTES
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:06:04 PM

---

My name is JOHN CERVANTES

My email address is city10s@pacbell.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
JOHN CERVANTES

From: Philip Wing
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:21:38 AM

---

My name is Philip Wing

My email address is philip_wing@sonic.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Bicyclists don't respect the right of way of pedestrians. I've seen one *plow* through families crossing to the beach.

Sincerely,
Philip Wing

From: Elizabeth Bobier
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 8:16:26 AM

---

My name is Elizabeth Bobier

My email address is bets@amati-online.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Bobier

From: Ryutaro Hirota
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:56:32 AM

---

My name is Ryutaro Hirota

My email address is rhirota@hirotalaw.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Ryutaro Hirota

From: Laura Horihan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:32 PM

---

My name is Laura Horihan

My email address is laura.horihan@gmail.com

I oppose this nonsensical decision, which has been pushed by the self-interested bicycle coalition and bypasses the working individuals that use this HIGHWAY for transportation (as it was designed to do!!). I am sick of these rich, entitled people who work from home and take over tax-payer funded streets and highways that people RELY ON to get to work -- yes people work on weekends too!!! Ride your bike in the various parks and designated bike paths throughout the bay area...there are many! Enough of this! We are sick of people using "environmental concerns" for their own benefits and to push their own agendas. I live in this district and these activists have NO right to be taking over the streets that they don't use to get to work. Period.

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,

Laura Horihan
District 1 resident and owner

Sincerely,
Laura Horihan

From: Eugene Galvin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:57:44 AM

---

My name is Eugene Galvin

My email address is egggalvin@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Living in the Richmond District and working in South San Francisco, I could drive to work on Friday mornings but have to return on 19th Avenue which was always packed on Fridays before the weekend closure of the Great Highway, but is now impossible. There is no reasonable public transportation from the outer Richmond to South San Francisco.

Sincerely,
Eugene Galvin

From: Tony K
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:10 PM

---

My name is Tony K

My email address is fotochimp8888@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Folks, let's be sensible about this, there are bike lanes already there, the great highway has worked since it was open in it's current state, and you have created a massive spill over in residential neighborhoods which will eventually lead to more deaths vs. keeping it open. Thx for listening to the masses, not a loud voices of a few.

Sincerely,
Tony K

From: Sergey Dubenko
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:12 PM

---

My name is Sergey Dubenko

My email address is sdubenko76@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sergey Dubenko

From: Galina Rafalovich
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:59 PM

---

My name is Galina Rafalovich

My email address is rafalov@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Galina Rafalovich

From: Yuanda Zhang
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:50:40 PM

---

My name is Yuanda Zhang

My email address is yuandazhang@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Yuanda Zhang

From: Nikki Yoshikawa
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:00:10 PM

---

My name is Nikki Yoshikawa

My email address is nikkiyoshikawa@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Nikki Yoshikawa

From: Michael Cohen
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:06 PM

---

My name is Michael Cohen

My email address is mcohen@saicusa.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Michael Cohen

From: Valerie Pinkert
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:25 PM

---

My name is Valerie Pinkert

My email address is vpinkert@earthlink.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Valerie Pinkert

From: Corinne Charlton Barbour
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 6:30:24 PM

---

My name is Corinne Charlton Barbour

My email address is corinne3jr@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

Please take this Appeal very seriously. Also, I heard about this on Feb 6! Where is the notice for people who have cared about this for 3 years, and that includes me. Don't try to hide this away!!

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

The Great HIGHWAY is a major roadway to help people get from one part of the city to another. Don't even mention the treacherous and arduous 19th Avenue as an alternative. 19th has ALWAYS been bad, but now, it's impossible. EVERY citizen should have access to Ocean Beach, as it was set up. At 67 years old, and a 4th generation San Franciscan, I am physically unable to hop on my scooter bike and wing it to the beach, yet it is THE most beautiful place in town. Stop selling the soul of the city to the out of town newbie Lycra self centered bicycles coalition crowd!

Thank you very much!
Corinne Charlton Barbour
corinne3jr@aol.com

Sincerely,

Corinne Charlton Barbour

From: Brenda Goldstein
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:21 PM

---

My name is Brenda Goldstein

My email address is bgoldie27@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Brenda Goldstein

From: Paul Dalzell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:01:50 PM

---

My name is Paul Dalzell

My email address is tpdalzell@icloud.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Paul Dalzell

From: Hai Feng Wu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:50:55 PM

---

My name is Hai Feng Wu

My email address is ke668@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Hai Feng Wu

From: Steven Eliopoulos
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 8:03:09 AM

---

My name is Steven Eliopoulos

My email address is snwsteve@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Steven Eliopoulos

From: Al McDonnell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:33 PM

---

My name is Al McDonnell

My email address is lcdrmcdonnell@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Al McDonnell

From: Walter Zhovreboff
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:23 PM

---

My name is Walter Zhovreboff

My email address is z@fhicda.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Walter Zhovreboff

From: Julia Fell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:50:27 PM

---

My name is Julia Fell

My email address is jfell5@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Julia Fell

From: Jianjian Guo
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:21:39 AM

---

My name is Jianjian Guo

My email address is cyber_kwok@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jianjian Guo

From: Steven Schroeder
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:19:48 AM

---

My name is Steven Schroeder

My email address is mcma111@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Steven Schroeder

From: Yanhui Liu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:50:40 PM

---

My name is Yanhui Liu

My email address is yanhuiliu@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Yanhui Liu

From: Jennet Nazzal
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:14 PM

---

My name is Jennet Nazzal

My email address is jennetrn@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jennet Nazzari

From: Kaelin Dalzell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:01:50 PM

---

My name is Kaelin Dalzell

My email address is kaelindalzell@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kaelin Dalzell

From: Gus Zert
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 6:49:54 PM

---

My name is Gus Zert

My email address is gaszert@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Gus Zert

From: Mary Harris
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:25 PM

---

My name is Mary Harris

My email address is Maryharris_sf@outlook.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mary Harris

From: John Andrew
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:06 PM

---

My name is John Andrew

My email address is johnandrew@earthlink.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
John Andrew

From: Bradd Haley
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:59:26 PM

---

My name is Bradd Haley

My email address is sfmattie@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Bradd Haley

From: Donna Tuttle
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:56:33 AM

---

My name is Donna Tuttle

My email address is tuttut2@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Donna Tuttle

From: Nancy Hinze
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:42:47 PM

---

My name is Nancy Hinze

My email address is nanrad6@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Nancy Hinze

From: Michael Cohen
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:59 PM

---

My name is Michael Cohen

My email address is michael@apertureventures.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Michael Cohen

From: Janice Peloquin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:08 PM

---

My name is Janice Peloquin

My email address is janp45@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Janice Peloquin

From: Jo Kaufman
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:56:58 AM

---

My name is Jo Kaufman

My email address is jokaufman@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jo Kaufman

From: Deborah Thompson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:06:00 PM

---

My name is Deborah Thompson

My email address is debtz@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As a disabled senior, I dislike having more and more public areas taken away from me!

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Deborah Thompson

From: Jackie Svevo
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:24 PM

---

My name is Jackie Svevo

My email address is jackiesvevo@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jackie Svevo

From: Paul Peterson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:32:50 AM

---

My name is Paul Peterson

My email address is golfkart@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Paul Peterson

From: Elizabeth Fighera
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:16 PM

---

My name is Elizabeth Fighera

My email address is lily@lilyhats.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Figuera

From: Jeff Frankenfield
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:54 PM

---

My name is Jeff Frankenfield

My email address is jeff@jfkconstruction.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jeff Frankenfield

From: Aleksandr Kolesnikov
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:07 PM

---

My name is Aleksandr Kolesnikov

My email address is aleks_kolesnikov@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Aleksandr Kolesnikov

From: Bruce Giannini
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:05 PM

---

My name is Bruce Giannini

My email address is brucegiannini@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Bruce Giannini

From: Steven Jeung
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 8:03:06 AM

---

My name is Steven Jeung

My email address is syj1@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Steven Jeung

From: James Hudkins
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:01:52 PM

---

My name is James Hudkins

My email address is jimhudkinscpa@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
James Hudkins

From: BYRON HO
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:51:10 PM

---

My name is BYRON HO

My email address is bkh125@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
BYRON HO

From: Ilene Fohs
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:56:55 AM

---

My name is Ilene Fohs

My email address is Sunsetaqua8@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Ilene Fohs

From: JILL MORI
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:25 PM

---

My name is JILL MORI

My email address is jkmsfog1987@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Born and raised in District 1, for over 50 years in the area and IT IS RIDICULOUS on the weekends trying to get to the other side of GG Park! Go spend a day on Saturday or Sunday at Lincoln and 41st Avenue, Lincoln and Great Highway and see for yourself the congestion in the area AND IN THE PARK itself as it is used as a shortcut now for those who don't want to wait in the Chain of Lakes exodus. Less cars on Great Highway created MORE CARS IN THE PARK.... JUST leave it the way it is supposed to be, stop listening to those who think that riding a bike will save the world!

Sincerely,
JILL MORI

From: David Ferguson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:01:40 PM

---

My name is David Ferguson

My email address is ddferg@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
David Ferguson

From: Gary Kendall
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:57:13 PM

---

My name is Gary Kendall

My email address is gary_k@pacbell.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Gary Kendall

From: Tammy Bee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 6:49:55 PM

---

My name is Tammy Bee

My email address is tammybtammy@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Tammy Bee

From: Peter Batanides
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:21:40 AM

---

My name is Peter Batanides

My email address is batanides@att.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Peter Batanides

From: Sara Anderson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:33 PM

---

My name is Sara Anderson

My email address is saralee.anderson@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sara Anderson

From: Joe Schoepp
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:42:47 PM

---

My name is Joe Schoepp

My email address is crownlock@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joe Schoepp

From: Ella Leong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:58 PM

---

My name is Ella Leong

My email address is sfstock51@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Ella Leong

From: Elias Degu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:48:01 PM

---

My name is Elias Degu

My email address is ed1029@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Elias Degu

From: Erin McGrew
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:40:04 AM

---

My name is Erin McGrew

My email address is emcgrew@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Erin McGrew

From: Kevin Martin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:04 PM

---

My name is Kevin Martin

My email address is kevmartin23@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kevin Martin

From: Patrick Skain
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:01:40 PM

---

My name is Patrick Skain

My email address is patskain@att.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Patrick Skain

From: JIM MCDONALD
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:55:14 AM

---

My name is JIM MCDONALD

My email address is jimandml@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
JIM MCDONALD

From: Chloe Dalzell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:01:53 PM

---

My name is Chloe Dalzell

My email address is chloe.dalzell@icloud.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Chloe Dalzell

From: John Magee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:57:06 PM

---

My name is John Magee

My email address is jmmagee@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
John Magee

From: rami r
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:06 PM

---

My name is rami r

My email address is rami.randhawa@me.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
rami r

From: alison.wahl
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 6:50:41 PM

---

My name is alison wahl

My email address is alisonbwahl@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
alison wahl

From: Mark S. Weinberger
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:21:41 AM

---

My name is Mark S. Weinberger

My email address is msweinberger@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mark S. Weinberger

From: Janet Fowler
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:51 PM

---

My name is Janet Fowler

My email address is jfowlers@aol.com

I strongly agree with the following email. The traffic congestion is horrendous and the both Lower Great Highway and Lincoln Avenue, as well as other linking streets are impacting the community and creating dangers.

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Janet Fowler
Former resident of La Playa Avenue

Sincerely,
Janet Fowler

From: Michael Bordokoff
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:25 PM

---

My name is Michael Bordokoff

My email address is mbordokoff@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Michael Bordokoff

From: Bijan Yashar
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:33 PM

---

My name is Bijan Yashar

My email address is bijanyashar@yahoo.com

Let working people get to work. Stop making an already congested commute worse with this idiotic closure.

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Bijan Yashar

From: Todd Traina
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:57:09 PM

---

My name is Todd Traina

My email address is todd@trainaproductions.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Todd Traina

From: Antoinette Wythes
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:42:47 PM

---

My name is Antoinette Wythes

My email address is maitsai@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Antoinette Wythes

From: KAREN HO
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:51:12 PM

---

My name is KAREN HO

My email address is KHRN6121@YAHOO.COM

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
KAREN HO

From: Jimmy Ng
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:56 PM

---

My name is Jimmy Ng

My email address is tiredepot@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jimmy Ng

From: Henry Kwan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:47:29 PM

---

My name is Henry Kwan

My email address is hkewnarny@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Henry Kwan

From: Martha Angove
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:23 PM

---

My name is Martha Angove

My email address is martha_angove@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Martha Angove

From: Mark Rand
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:16 PM

---

My name is Mark Rand

My email address is okmor@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mark Rand

From: mei chan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:26 PM

---

My name is mei chan

My email address is ilovemydog29@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
mei chan

From: Marlen Bekirov
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:56 PM

---

My name is Marlen Bekirov

My email address is uztash@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Marlen Bekirov

From: Dennis Dybeck
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:22 PM

---

My name is Dennis Dybeck

My email address is dennisdybeck@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

In addition to the above, it's my observation that this (and similar ad hoc road closures) were done at the intense urging of special interest advocacy groups such as The Bicycle Coalition under the rationale of being Covid "safety measures", bypassing established procedure. And that The Bicycle Coalition exercises undue election help influence on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Sincerely,
Dennis Dybeck

From: Dee Doley
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:01:54 PM

---

My name is Dee Doley

My email address is ddoley@gmail.com

It is important in the event of emergencies, that we have multiple routes out. Residents of the Richmond district are being trapped in our neighborhoods. The great highway is a major north south thoroughfare. It must remain open for safety and access.

I live near the highway and use it frequently. It is much more trafficked by cars than it ever is by pedestrians or cyclists (unless part of an organized protest.). It is mind boggling that it would be closed, pushing cars to drive more miles to other routes, causing more traffic and pollution. So much for the “green” excise. There is ample space to walk on the beach, the boardwalk or the path in the east side of the highway nor in gg park.

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Dee Doley

From: Paul Wythes
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:42:46 PM

---

My name is Paul Wythes

My email address is paul@wythes.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Paul Wythes

From: John Simpson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:03:38 PM

---

My name is John Simpson

My email address is jsimpson1226@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals.

When the Great Highway is closed it turns MLK Dr. and ChainOf Lakes Dr into bumper to bumper traffic.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Sincerely,
John Simpson

From: Debi Durst
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:35 PM

---

My name is Debi Durst

My email address is dutch13@earthlink.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Debi Durst

From: Em Chiu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:47:03 PM

---

My name is Em Chiu

My email address is secrets-piebald-0r@icloud.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Em Chiu

From: Barbara Heffernan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:48:05 PM

---

My name is Barbara Heffernan

My email address is barbarajheffernan@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Barbara Heffernan

From: Dustin Lee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 6:57:36 PM

---

My name is Dustin Lee

My email address is moomaster_99@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Dustin Lee

From: Sherry Lau
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:51:43 PM

---

My name is Sherry Lau

My email address is slaufu@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sherry Lau

From: Mady Jones
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:03 PM

---

My name is Mady Jones

My email address is madyjones@me.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mady Jones

From: richard brandi
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:53:01 AM

---

My name is richard brandi

My email address is rbrandi@earthlink.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
richard brandi

From: Leanne Young
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:44 PM

---

My name is Leanne Young

My email address is leanney280@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity. Currently, commutes resulted in increased travel time on Chain of Lakes and Sunset Blvd to Sloat Blvd, Junipero Serra Blvd and Brotherhood Way.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Consideration should be given to all diverse populations who utilize the Great Highway, not just the elite few who don't work and frequent the area. Most of the nearby residents want it reopened because it affects their quality of life.

Sincerely,
Leanne Young

From: Mikhail Keselman
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:17 PM

---

My name is Mikhail Keselman

My email address is mkeselman@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mikhail Keselman

From: Greg Syler
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:05 PM

---

My name is Greg Syler

My email address is sivakitty@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Greg Syler

From: Eugene Loch
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:56:41 PM

---

My name is Eugene Loch

My email address is eugene@techshaman.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Eugene Loch

From: Anita Ho
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:45:59 AM

---

My name is Anita Ho

My email address is cordeon@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Anita Ho

From: Brooke Perkins
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:22:55 AM

---

My name is Brooke Perkins
My email address is ebhally@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Brooke Perkins

From: Janet McGee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:24 PM

---

My name is Janet McGee

My email address is janetmcgee@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Janet McGee

From: Sylvia Lee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:53:01 AM

---

My name is Sylvia Lee

My email address is linglee2004@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sylvia Lee

From: linda.sekino
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:02:47 PM

---

My name is linda sekino

My email address is lindasekino@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
linda sekino

From: Herbert Weiner
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:02:47 PM

---

My name is Herbert Weiner

My email address is h.weiner@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Herbert Weiner

From: Suzanne Schimaneck
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:46:58 PM

---

My name is Suzanne Schimaneck

My email address is s.mce.schim@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Suzanne Schimaneck

From: Evelyn Jones
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:46:37 AM

---

My name is Evelyn Jones

My email address is eviebohan@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Evelyn Jones

From: Stan Erhart
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:53:24 PM

---

My name is Stan Erhart

My email address is stan@erhart.net

Closing the Great Highway to cars, even if only on weekends, is a great disservice to the people living on the western edge of San Francisco. People won't drive 3/4 of a mile to Sunset Blvd to go across town, and they shouldn't have to. Instead they will drive down the nearby surface streets that are more suited to bicycle traffic. Which means extra noise and fumes 24 hours a day for the people living on those busy streets. This is totally unfair to them and to everyone who needs to drive north and south on the west side.

It's an obvious safety issue also, since it impacts emergency services in a very busy city. Our city is traversed daily from communities both north and south of us, and we need more good roads to handle the traffic, not less, especially since the city and state are planning to allow much more housing.

Please re-open the Great Highway to vehicles 24/7/365, even if only to Sloat Blvd. The city and its working public need it.

Thank you,
Stan Erhart
Outer Richmond, SF

Sincerely,
Stan Erhart

From: Henry Shain
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:31 PM

---

My name is Henry Shain

My email address is henryshain@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Henry Shain

From: Brian Bonham
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:36 PM

---

My name is Brian Bonham

My email address is mayumikamon@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Brian Bonham

From: betty.winholtz
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:43:06 PM

---

My name is betty winholtz

My email address is winholtz@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
betty winholtz

From: Lauris Jensen
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:29:12 PM

---

My name is Lauris Jensen

My email address is lauris.jensen@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lauris Jensen

From: JJ Hagan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:56 PM

---

My name is JJ Hagan

My email address is jh88mailbox@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Misappropriation of a public good: this road was and is paid for by the tax dollars of *all residents* and is for the use of *everyone.* The fact that a privileged minority of users, who already have unencumbered access to a bike lane in each direction, and a double-wide pedestrian path on each side, can somehow gate this asset for their own use and bar others from accessing it for its intended use is inexcusable and appalling.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
JJ Hagan

From: Brad McMillan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:47:05 PM

---

My name is Brad McMillan

My email address is mcmillan@viselect.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Brad McMillan

From: Melissa Aurand
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:22 PM

---

My name is Melissa Aurand

My email address is melissa.w.aurand@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Melissa Aurand

From: Wendy Anderson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:03 PM

---

My name is Wendy Anderson

My email address is wendy.anderson831@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Wendy Anderson

From: Wilson Lem
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:09:33 PM

---

My name is Wilson Lem

My email address is lem321@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Wilson Lem

From: Karen Pugay
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:27:39 AM

---

My name is Karen Pugay

My email address is pugaykm@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Karen Pugay

From: JOHN CERVANTES
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:18 PM

---

My name is JOHN CERVANTES

My email address is city10s@pacbell.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
JOHN CERVANTES

From: Arthur Ritchie
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:05 PM

---

My name is Arthur Ritchie

My email address is art3030@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Arthur Ritchie

From: Aisling Crowley
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:34:27 AM

---

My name is Aisling Crowley

My email address is aislingreilly@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Aisling Crowley

From: Mark Parcella
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:03 PM

---

My name is Mark Parcella

My email address is gabriela\_sf@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

Great Highway closure requires that we drive down residential streets. The traffic does not go away; it just moves it to residential.

The bike path that runs to the south of the great highway, which I use often to run, is plenty wide for recreational use. Widen that a bit if that's what's needed.

But the Great Highway needs to reopen at all times.

Thank you,
Mark Parcella

Sincerely,
Mark Parcella

From: steve omori
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:02:48 PM

---

My name is steve omori

My email address is stevlin24@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
steve omori

From: Margot Beall
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:02:58 PM

---

My name is Margot Beall

My email address is margotbeall@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Margot Beall

From: Emanuel Langit
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:29:08 PM

---

My name is Emanuel Langit

My email address is emanuel.langit@fastmail.fm

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Emanuel Langit

From: Gerald Schall
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:55 PM

---

My name is Gerald Schall

My email address is glschall@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Gerald Schall

From: Frank Cassinell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:03:57 PM

---

My name is Frank Cassinell

My email address is fcassinelli66@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Frank Cassinell

From: Robert Belli
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:45:43 AM

---

My name is Robert Belli

My email address is robbelli99@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Robert Belli

From: Robert Bevc
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:32 PM

---

My name is Robert Bevc

My email address is robertbevc@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Robert Bevc

From: Stone Melet
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:46:39 AM

---

My name is Stone Melet

My email address is stonemelet@hmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Stone Melet

From: Doug McKirahan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:23 PM

---

My name is Doug McKirahan

My email address is ratt57@pacbell.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Doug McKirahan

From: Gretta Dacquisto
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:04 PM

---

My name is Gretta Dacquisto

My email address is gretta48@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Gretta Dacquisto

From: Terri DeSalvo
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engarddiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openethegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:21 PM

---

My name is Terri DeSalvo

My email address is terride3@earthlink.net

There is already an entire wide beach and a beautiful trail down the center of the Great Highway for people to enjoy. Please leave the roadway for cars. Taking the roadway away only makes for more traffic and congestion in the residential areas. (The cars don't just magically disappear.) It also makes the beach less accessible for a lot of residents.

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Terri DeSalvo

From: Michael Dorf
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:46:49 PM

---

My name is Michael Dorf

My email address is michael_dorf@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Michael Dorf

From: Jeffrey Laffranchini
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:11:18 PM

---

My name is Jeffrey Laffranchini

My email address is jlaffr@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

As a senior citizen I object to closing the Great Highway to automobile traffic on weekends. Bicyclists and pedestrians have the center path on which they may walk. --Jeff Laffranchini

Sincerely,
Jeffrey Laffranchini

From: EDWARD KINNEY
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:22 PM

---

My name is EDWARD KINNEY

My email address is EKINNEY400@AOL.COM

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
EDWARD KINNEY

From: Pamela Sebastian
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:43:05 PM

---

My name is Pamela Sebastian

My email address is pamseb@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Pamela Sebastian

From: Joseph Bavaresco
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:36 PM

---

My name is Joseph Bavaresco

My email address is josephbavaresco@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joseph Bavaresco

From: James Argo
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:47:01 PM

---

My name is James Argo

My email address is Jamesargo32@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
James Argo

From: Donna Rand
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:21 PM

---

My name is Donna Rand

My email address is okdonna55@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Donna Rand

From: Chloe Jager
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:20:05 PM

---

My name is Chloe Jager

My email address is cxjmeister@yahoo.com

To Whom it May Concern,

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and preexisting conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Thank you,
Chloe Jager

Sincerely,
Chloe Jager

From: Jennifer Tobiason
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:03:35 PM

---

My name is Jennifer Tobiason

My email address is jentobiason@gmail.com

Dear Supervisors, especially Ms. Melgar,

Please overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Thank you,
J.Tobiason
District 7

Sincerely,
Jennifer Tobiason

From: Phyllis Nabhan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:45:42 AM

---

My name is Phyllis Nabhan

My email address is phyllisnabhan@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Phyllis Nabhan

From: Chris Fern
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:02 PM

---

My name is Chris Fern

My email address is operachris@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Chris Fern

From: Kate Qvale
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:55:40 AM

---

My name is Kate Qvale

My email address is kateqvale@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kate Qvale

From: Jennifer Dougherty
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:37 PM

---

My name is Jennifer Dougherty

My email address is dordy71@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Dougherty

From: Karen Lee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:41:55 AM

---

My name is Karen Lee

My email address is thezoohouse@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Karen Lee

From: Dennis Ilog
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:33 PM

---

My name is Dennis Ilog

My email address is dilog@att.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Dennis Ilog

From: Kevin McLoone
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:29:02 PM

---

My name is Kevin McLoone

My email address is kmcloone@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kevin McLoone

From: jennifer Yan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:47:00 PM

---

My name is jennifer Yan

My email address is jennifer.yan@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
jennifer Yan

From: Jann Jeung
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:46:49 PM

---

My name is Jann Jeung

My email address is jncao@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jann Jeung

From: Paul Mohun
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:04:21 PM

---

My name is Paul Mohun

My email address is prm5@georgetown.edu

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Paul Mohun

From: D.F. Owen
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:43:04 PM

---

My name is D F Owen

My email address is do97my@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

P. S. I've been a resident on 48th Avenue for 48 years. Currently, speeding traffic on 48th Ave. due to weekend closure of the Upper Great Highway creates dangerous issues for residents and drivers. Stop signs are constantly ignored.

Sincerely,
D F Owen

From: Anjali Billa
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:20 PM

---

My name is Anjali Billa

My email address is anjalibilla@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Anjali Billa

From: Gretel Perez
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:54 PM

---

My name is Gretel Perez

My email address is breadcrumbtrail@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Gretel Perez

From: Aaron Goodman
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardioffice@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:02 PM

---

My name is Aaron Goodman

My email address is amgodman@yahoo.com

I walk on the lower walkway which is not maintained and access poorly kept open and accessible. When u fix transit and u work on mobility access to the paths and their maintenance and access to transit u solve for the many and not the few. Too often temp quick fixes during covid ignored more substantive solutions to access and community uses and spaces. I sent emails and input on the trash issues which were improved with new cans but the path accessibility is not being vetted at the ends and where transit connects. Provide wheelchair proper access to the lower path and the entire beach front to ensure equitable access and proper maintenance and cleaning. It's not just a private parkway or high-line it's a civil engineered waterfront zone so invest properly in its access and use for the future. L taraval from west portal or stonestown to the beach comes to mind...

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Aaron Goodman

From: Devorah Joseph
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:21 PM

---

My name is Devorah Joseph

My email address is drdevisf@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Devorah Joseph

From: Claudia Hawkins
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:38 PM

---

My name is Claudia Hawkins

My email address is claudia_hawkins@gap.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

It's PAST TIME to open up The Great Highway! Give the residents and tax payers freedom to use the roads WE PAY FOR. STOP the SF Park & Rec dictatorship!! ENOUGH ALREADY.

Sincerely,
Claudia Hawkins

From: Mark Finigan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:56:37 AM

---

My name is Mark Finigan

My email address is mark_finigan@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

I live and work in San Francisco. I urge you to let a highway be a highway, reopen it. No one is closing the sidewalks.

Sincerely,
Mark Finigan

From: Marilyn Flynn
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:45:41 AM

---

My name is Marilyn Flynn

My email address is lynn.flynn@realestatesf.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Marilyn Flynn

From: Anne Sajdera
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardioffice@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:49:06 AM

---

My name is Anne Sajdera

My email address is asajdera@icloud.com

Personal request first: please keep the Coastal Highway open to all vehicles, including cars. I understand and support all efforts to combat climate change and encourage people to get out of their cars, and walk, take public transit, ride a bike, etc., but this is not the way. I own a car but I also regularly ride public transit, and I can say you will get far more people riding transit by making it safe, frequent, and clean than you will by shutting down entire highways, or making "slow streets." The Coastal Highway is a way to get from north to south in this city which we absolutely need and there is no corresponding bus route nearby that runs well enough to make it worth trying to catch one. The covid lockdown is over and we need to move on. Please return usage of streets to cars. Yes, make them safe for cyclists and definitely improve the frequency of bus routes, but let's acknowledge we all live in a city and everyone needs to be able to get around in whatever manner they need.

SOAR composed this request, but I agree with each point:

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Anne Sajdera

From: Arie Knoops
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:21 PM

---

My name is Arie Knoops

My email address is aknoops@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Arie Knoops

From: RICHERT ROBINS
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:04:24 PM

---

My name is RICHERT ROBINS
My email address is r@ricstar.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
RICHERT ROBINS

From: Robert Lim
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:20 PM

---

My name is Robert Lim

My email address is nellie44444rl@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Robert Lim

From: JeNeal Granieri
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:18 PM

---

My name is JeNeal Granieri

My email address is jenealann@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

***I am a long time San Francisco resident and I have been totally opposed to closing the Great Highway. ***There is plenty of room on either side to expand bike and walking lanes if so desired. It is so very selfish of some people to keep all of the rest of us from enjoying the drive along the ocean.

What makes bikers and walkers better than others. We need to re-open the Great Highway for all of the reasons below, as well as equity for those who don't bike or can't walk long distances.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
JeNeal Granieri

From: Diana Kaytun
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:43:03 PM

---

My name is Diana Kaytun

My email address is corex123@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Diana Kaytun

From: Kelly Kitagawa
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:46:48 PM

---

My name is Kelly Kitagawa

My email address is klkitagawa@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kelly Kitagawa

From: Brendan VanderMei
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:28:57 PM

---

My name is Brendan VanderMei

My email address is bvandermei@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Brendan VanderMei

From: Patricia Arack
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:33 PM

---

My name is Patricia Arack

My email address is parack@ccsf.edu

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Patricia Arack

From: Perry Klebahn
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:00 PM

---

My name is Perry Klebahn

My email address is perry_k2003@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Perry Klebahn

From: Joe Guido
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:33 PM

---

My name is Joe Guido

My email address is joejguido@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joe Guido

From: Alice Shen
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:06:35 PM

---

My name is Alice Shen

My email address is atomicalice@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Alice Shen

From: Alexandra Vuksich
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:47:01 PM

---

My name is Alexandra Vuksich

My email address is alexandravuksich@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Alexandra Vuksich

From: Leslie Koelsch
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:52 PM

---

My name is Leslie Koelsch

My email address is koelsvh1886@comcad.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Leslie Koelsch

From: Judy Wade
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:52 PM

---

My name is Judy Wade

My email address is judywadesf@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Judy Wade

From: mimi clarke
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:22 PM

---

My name is mimi clarke

My email address is mimiclarke@mac.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
mimi clarke

From: Michael Willoughby
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:27 PM

---

My name is Michael Willoughby

My email address is mfwilloughby@gmail.com5

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Michael Willoughby

From: Dennis McMahon
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:04:47 PM

---

My name is Dennis McMahon

My email address is wisham@siprep.org

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Dennis McMahon

From: tracy silva
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal;
chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:33 PM

---

My name is tracy silva

My email address is paravieja@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
tracy silva

From: Joanna Ng
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:38:01 PM

---

My name is Joanna Ng

My email address is woolandflax@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joanna Ng

From: Madison Clell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:40:18 AM

---

My name is Madison Clell

My email address is madisoncuckoo@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Madison Clell

From: Phyllis Nabhan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:03:54 AM

---

My name is Phyllis Nabhan

My email address is phylnabhan@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Phyllis Nabhan

From: Alanna Greenham
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:49:09 AM

---

My name is Alanna Greenham

My email address is alanna.greenham@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Alanna Greenham

From: Shiva Subramaniam
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:46:20 PM

---

My name is Shiva Subramaniam

My email address is shivsubu@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Shiva Subramaniam

From: Therese Deasy
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:00 PM

---

My name is Therese Deasy

My email address is dmcgovern@siprep.org

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Therese Deasy

From: Wesley Valaris
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:12:36 PM

---

My name is Wesley Valaris

My email address is cablecar@sbcglobal.net

STOP THE MADNESS!

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Wesley Valaris

From: Jon Tolson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:43:03 PM

---

My name is Jon Tolson

My email address is jonhtolson@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jon Tolson

From: Barry Reder
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:18 PM

---

My name is Barry Reder

My email address is unclbar@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Barry Reder

From: Peter Billeci
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:39 PM

---

My name is Peter Billeci

My email address is jumpfroginc@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Peter Billeci

From: Susan Kitchell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:28:34 PM

---

My name is Susan Kitchell

My email address is zevisema@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Susan Kitchell

From: Joan Broner
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:18 PM

---

My name is Joan Broner

My email address is jmbroner@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joan Broner

From: Susan Buckley
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:46:16 PM

---

My name is Susan Buckley

My email address is susan_buckley@att.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Susan Buckley

From: Jonathan Fong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:16 PM

---

My name is Jonathan Fong

My email address is jqfong@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jonathan Fong

From: Stephanie Peek
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:12:37 PM

---

My name is Stephanie Peek

My email address is clunks-06.vertex@icloud.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Stephanie Peek

From: Karin Hu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:51 PM

---

My name is Karin Hu

My email address is brainz_ca@yahoo.com

Please open the Great Highway to cars 7 days/week. Ample recreational space is available in Golden Gate Park.

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Karin Hu

From: Sharon Jung-Verdi
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:43:02 PM

---

My name is Sharon Jung-Verdi

My email address is jungverdi@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sharon Jung-Verdi

From: Michael Lewin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:36 PM

---

My name is Michael Lewin

My email address is Lewinprop@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Michael Lewin

From: Jennifer Kloetzel
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:11 PM

---

My name is Jennifer Kloetzel

My email address is jencricket@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast. I think about this often and it's terrifying. It's one of the few ways for many of us to leave the city.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity. This is a huge issue for me--I truly rely on the Great Highway--to get to work, to get my son to school, to go shopping, etc.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Kloetzel

From: Rachel Geiger
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:18 PM

---

My name is Rachel Geiger

My email address is cutehawaiiangrl@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Rachel Geiger

From: Carmel Passanisi
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:14 PM

---

My name is Carmel Passanisi

My email address is carmel2710@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Carmel Passanisi

From: Sheena Craig
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:58 PM

---

My name is Sheena Craig

My email address is scraigsf@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sheena Craig

From: Helen Gee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:50:13 AM

---

My name is Helen Gee

My email address is helen@pooter.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Helen Gee

From: Erica Pearson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:40:17 AM

---

My name is Erica Pearson

My email address is elpsemail@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Erica Pearson

From: Noelle Song
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:37:48 PM

---

My name is Noelle Song

My email address is noellesong008@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Noelle Song

From: Robert Fliegler
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:28:19 PM

---

My name is Robert Fliegler

My email address is nospam@fliegler.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Robert Fliegler

From: Don Climent
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:03:55 AM

---

My name is Don Climent

My email address is donc4496@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Don Climent

From: mimi clarke
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:22 PM

---

My name is mimi clarke

My email address is mimiclarke@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
mimi clarke

From: Rosemary Kondy
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:12:37 PM

---

My name is Rosemary Kondy

My email address is Vartoush@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Rosemary Kondy

From: Shelly Schaenen
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:16 PM

---

My name is Shelly Schaenen

My email address is sschaenen@earthlink.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Shelly Schaenen

From: Inna Belyaev
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:12 PM

---

My name is Inna Belyaev

My email address is belyaevi@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Inna Belyaev

From: Charles Lee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:46:10 PM

---

My name is Charles Lee

My email address is charleslee1119@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Charles Lee

From: Matthias Buehl
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:36 PM

---

My name is Matthias Buehl

My email address is baisaboy@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Matthias Buehl

From: Carol Chichester
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:12 PM

---

My name is Carol Chichester

My email address is ccchichester@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Carol Chichester

From: Suzanna Allen
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:16 PM

---

My name is Suzanna Allen

My email address is suzannasallen@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Suzanna Allen

From: DENNIS Holl
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:50 PM

---

My name is DENNIS Holl

My email address is denholl52@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
DENNIS HOLL

From: Teresa Durling
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:43:02 PM

---

My name is Teresa Durling

My email address is tadurling@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Teresa Durling

From: Kenneth Camp
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:28:02 PM

---

My name is Kenneth Camp

My email address is kennycamp@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Camp

From: Darren Yasukawa
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:51:35 AM

---

My name is Darren Yasukawa

My email address is d_yasukawa@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Darren Yasukawa

From: Lola Lee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:37:32 PM

---

My name is Lola Lee

My email address is lolalee008@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lola Lee

From: Jung Lau
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:25 PM

---

My name is Jung Lau

My email address is junglealltheway@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jung Lau

From: S.garrett
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:57 PM

---

My name is S garrett

My email address is shigar16@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
S garrett

From: Robert Pritchard
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:05:58 AM

---

My name is Robert Pritchard

My email address is ropritchard@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Robert Pritchard

From: Kim Hoffman
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:36 PM

---

My name is Kim Hoffman

My email address is k.w.hoffman57@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kim Hoffman

From: Delores Lavin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:15 PM

---

My name is Delores Lavin

My email address is deloreslavin@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Delores Lavin

From: Amanda Peltier
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:01:10 PM

---

My name is Amanda Peltier

My email address is smartpaws@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Amanda Peltier

From: Janice Fukuda
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:50 PM

---

My name is Janice Fukuda

My email address is janreiko@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Janice Fukuda

From: shasta james
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:57 PM

---

My name is shasta james

My email address is scarce.jaded0w@icloud.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
shasta james

From: Sindhura Kodali
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:12:38 PM

---

My name is Sindhura Kodali

My email address is sindhura.kodali@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sindhura Kodali

From: Andrew Churchill
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:48 PM

---

My name is Andrew Churchill

My email address is andrew2472002@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Andrew Churchill

From: Holly Sisson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:26 PM

---

My name is Holly Sisson

My email address is hollyalexississon@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Holly

Sincerely,
Holly Sisson

From: Yvette Corkrean
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:13 PM

---

My name is Yvette Corkrean

My email address is yvettecorkrean@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Yvette Corkrean

From: Jill Silverman
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:28:01 PM

---

My name is Jill Silverman

My email address is jillks@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jill Silverman

From: Edward Beltran
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal;
chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:15:09 AM

---

My name is Edward Beltran

My email address is garchdes@hotmail.com

.

Sincerely,
Edward Beltran

From: wendy.kan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 8:55:11 AM

---

My name is wendy kan

My email address is westamp@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
wendy kan

From: DEBRA HOWARD
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:11 PM

---

My name is DEBRA HOWARD

My email address is deb127@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
DEBRA HOWARD

From: Lily Lee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:15 PM

---

My name is Lily Lee

My email address is lleerph@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lily Lee

From: Lauraine Edir
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:06:40 PM

---

My name is Lauraine Edir

My email address is laurainemarie@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lauraine Edir

From: Karen Tamashiro
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 10:47:58 PM

---

My name is Karen Tamashiro

My email address is ktamashiro@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Karen Tamashiro

From: Davin McAndrews
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:12 PM

---

My name is Davin McAndrews

My email address is davin@alum.mit.edu

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Davin McAndrews

From: shandra yoshimi
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:26 PM

---

My name is shandra yoshimi

My email address is skyoshimi@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
shandra yoshimi

From: John Nulty
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:08 PM

---

My name is John Nulty

My email address is john.nulty@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
John Nulty

From: Karen Breslin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:00:50 AM

---

My name is Karen Breslin

My email address is kbsmail@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Karen Breslin

From: Tanya Lin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:56 PM

---

My name is Tanya Lin

My email address is tanyalin@fastmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Tanya Lin

From: Lindy Matula
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:38 PM

---

My name is Lindy Matula

My email address is llmatula@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lindy Matula

From: Jimmy Ng
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:00:26 PM

---

My name is Jimmy Ng

My email address is tiredepot@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jimmy Ng

From: Elizabeth Burns
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:49 PM

---

My name is Elizabeth Burns

My email address is eab2222@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Burns

From: Jimmy Yu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:14 PM

---

My name is Jimmy Yu

My email address is jy1437@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jimmy Yu

From: Daniel Choi
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:28 PM

---

My name is Daniel Choi

My email address is dchoi712@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Daniel Choi

From: Serena Chan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:19:14 AM

---

My name is Serena Chan

My email address is serenalhs@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Serena Chan

From: Mieke Vandewalle
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:15 PM

---

My name is Mieke Vandewalle

My email address is mieke@mac.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mieke Vandewalle

From: Mark S. Weinberger
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:27:52 PM

---

My name is Mark S. Weinberger

My email address is msweinberger@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mark S. Weinberger

From: Dennis Kelly
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:08 PM

---

My name is Dennis Kelly

My email address is densekelly@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Dennis Kelly

From: Katie Paige
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:47 PM

---

My name is Katie Paige

My email address is ktschwab@mac.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Katie Paige

From: Allison Wong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:12 PM

---

My name is Allison Wong

My email address is allison.r.wong@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Allison Wong

From: Kamron Shushtar
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:00:53 AM

---

My name is Kamron Shushtar

My email address is kkshushtar@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kamron Shushtar

From: Miko Maru
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:15 PM

---

My name is Miko Maru

My email address is ellen.maruoka@astellas.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Miko Maru

From: ed.kim
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:28 PM

---

My name is ed kim

My email address is etukim@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
ed kim

From: Nancy Benjamin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:19:15 AM

---

My name is Nancy Benjamin

My email address is burlesquegoddess@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Nancy Benjamin

From: Joseph Faulkner
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:56 PM

---

My name is Joseph Faulkner

My email address is joemangolf@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joseph Faulkner

From: Angela Lee
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:57:59 PM

---

My name is Angela Lee

My email address is angelalee333@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Angela Lee

From: Gerd Mairandres
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:39 PM

---

My name is Gerd Mairandres

My email address is gmairandres@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Gerd Mairandres

From: John Barkan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:16 PM

---

My name is John Barkan

My email address is johnbarkan1@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
John Barkan

From: Carol Chichester
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:26 PM

---

My name is Carol Chichester

My email address is ccchichester@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Carol Chichester

From: Linda Tabor-Beck
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 10:47:57 PM

---

My name is Linda Tabor-Beck

My email address is cane_elder@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Linda Tabor-Beck

From: lynn austin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:27:45 PM

---

My name is lynn austin

My email address is laustin395@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
lynn austin

From: Joanne Fox
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:57:15 PM

---

My name is Joanne Fox

My email address is joannefoxsf@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joanne Fox

From: T. Moore
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:14 PM

---

My name is T Moore

My email address is tad3@me.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
T Moore

From: Tim Isom
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:16 PM

---

My name is Tim Isom

My email address is timisom@comcast.net

It is a main artery for the western parts of SF.

There is a good reason it was built in the first place.

There also is a beautiful walking and bicycle path adjacent for pedestrians and cyclist - AND there is Ocean Beach

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Tim Isom

From: Minsik Pak
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:55 PM

---

My name is Minsik Pak

My email address is mmpak@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Minsik Pak

From: Catherine Sparacino
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:25:27 AM

---

My name is Catherine Sparacino

My email address is c.sparacino@google.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Catherine Sparacino

From: PAT GRAY
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:25 PM

---

My name is PAT GRAY

My email address is pat.gray8@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
PAT GRAY

From: Kristin Schober
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 10:42:43 PM

---

My name is Kristin Schober

My email address is schober2@pacbell.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kristin Schober

From: Patrice Thompson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:45 PM

---

My name is Patrice Thompson

My email address is patrica_inez@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

In addition, before the election the wrong information about the pipe that comes out at the end near the sewage plant was given in pro closure propaganda. It was completely false. I know this because I know the engineers from the city who were project engineers there.

Sincerely,
Patrice Thompson

From: Simon Miller
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:40 PM

---

My name is Simon Miller

My email address is soliddesign1@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Simon Miller

From: Eddy Sapiro
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:12 PM

---

My name is Eddy Sapiro

My email address is eddysapiro@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Eddy Sapiro

From: Marylou Medina-Bolus
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:07 PM

---

My name is Marylou Medina-Bolus

My email address is maloubolus@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Marylou Medina-Bolus

From: brenda austin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal;
chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:43 PM

---

My name is brenda austin

My email address is baaustin2003@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

Please consider upgrading the existing bike path to the east of the Upper Great Highway. It could be made a very attractive place for both walkers and cyclists.

I would also suggest that recreational opportunities abound to the west of the Great Highway in the form of our beautiful Ocean Beach. I offer this as closing a main artery for people living in the western half of this city, does not need to occur in order to provide another area to recreate.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
brenda austin

From: Grant Ingram
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:55 PM

---

My name is Grant Ingram

My email address is grant.ingram@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Grant Ingram

From: Julia Lavroushin
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:25 PM

---

My name is Julia Lavroushin

My email address is jlavroushin@gmail.com

Hello!

Please overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This experiment needs to end:

It has created gridlock along north-south roads affecting all of SF. Cars will not go away. They are essential for transporting children, elders and the disabled.

It has Increased intolerance and rage across SF in all districts frustrated with the delays/closing.

It has adversely affected the next generation by not making it possible to make it on time for after school enrichment programs that are located across SF.

Your job is to support stronger and culturally diverse youth not shackle them only to the programs offered by their school.

It will sign the death certificate for any SF residents (your districts) who need to cross town in an emergency. There can be a fire. There will be an earthquake. It is not a question of if, but when. The Great Highway needs to be a workable exit out of SF. No one is going to bike out at that time.

It has been a bad fiscal decision as it has removed a route for those in neighboring counties wanting to spend money in SF. Who wants to deal with 19th Avenue?

Please think ahead and not about what is right in front of you.

Are you prioritizing cyclists /walkers desiring an outdoor play area vs getting Richmond/Sunset areas residents out when a disaster strikes?

Are you considering the ramifications of proposed higher density housing on 19th Avenue and how that will impact everyone without an alternate route along the Great Highway?

Keep the Great Highway open. Coexistence is possible. This experiment is a failure. Safety is a priority and moving around SF should not be so onerous. Cars are necessary. Perhaps poll all of those trying to implement policy. Did they drive here from across the bridge? Do they pick up their multiple children from aftercare on a bicycle? Do SFMTA staff and Rec/Park all walk to their jobs? Working from home on zoom does not count.

Facts do not lie. It is those who try to skew them that do. Please look at the reality and see that opening and sustaining the Great Highway benefits more San Franciscans.

It is the right thing to do.

Respectfully,

Julia Lavroushin 94118

Sincerely,
Julia Lavroushin

From: Andrew B Gottlieb
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:25:30 AM

---

My name is Andrew B Gottlieb

My email address is agottlieb51@icloud.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Andrew B Gottlieb

From: XiuLing Wu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:17 PM

---

My name is XiuLing Wu

My email address is chriswu_187@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
XiuLing Wu

From: Bonnie Levitt
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:41 PM

---

My name is Bonnie Levitt

My email address is brklevitt@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Bonnie Levitt

From: Nancy Hui
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:56:49 PM

---

My name is Nancy Hui

My email address is Nchau912@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Nancy Hui

From: Lenore Yu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:07 PM

---

My name is Lenore Yu

My email address is lenore.yu@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lenore Yu

From: Susan Wong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:10 PM

---

My name is Susan Wong

My email address is saikowong@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Susan Wong

From: Burton Siu
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:13 PM

---

My name is Burton Siu

My email address is burttons@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Burton Siu

From: Laurie Candido
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:43 PM

---

My name is Laurie Candido

My email address is lauriecandido@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Laurie Candido

From: Elliot Gittleman
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:13 PM

---

My name is Elliot Gittleman

My email address is Esh.fire@sbcglobal.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Elliot Gittleman

From: Judith Parks
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:42 PM

---

My name is Judith Parks

My email address is jayho1208@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Judith Parks

From: Yedi Wong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:23 PM

---

My name is Yedi Wong

My email address is wongye@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Yedi Wong

From: Cole Sapiro
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:11 PM

---

My name is Cole Sapiro

My email address is riptidelax31@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Cole Sapiro

From: Deirdre Deasy-McGovern
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:54 PM

---

My name is Deirdre Deasy-McGovern

My email address is dmcgovern@siprep.org

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Deirdre Deasy-McGovern

From: ryan tveidt
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:05 PM

---

My name is ryan tveidt

My email address is ryantveidt@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
ryan tveidt

From: Cole Ryan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:56:49 PM

---

My name is Cole Ryan

My email address is cole@coleryan.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Cole Ryan

From: Jim Sutton
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:42 PM

---

My name is Jim Sutton

My email address is jsutton@campaignlawyers.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Jim Sutton

From: Joseph Whitney
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:12 PM

---

My name is Joseph Whitney

My email address is jscottwhitney@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joseph Whitney

From: Melissa Aurand
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:43 PM

---

My name is Melissa Aurand

My email address is melissa.w.aurand@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Melissa Aurand

From: Kate English
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:52 PM

---

My name is Kate English

My email address is kenglish1775@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kate English

From: Tessa Sapiro
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:09 PM

---

My name is Tessa Sapiro

My email address is hiatal-curly-0h@icloud.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Tessa Sapiro

From: Boris Levine
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:41 PM

---

My name is Boris Levine

My email address is borlev@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Boris Levine

From: Nuala Campbell
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:11 PM

---

My name is Nuala Campbell

My email address is nualacampbell336@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Nuala Campbell

From: Kit Chong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:44 PM

---

My name is Kit Chong

My email address is kittsechong@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kit Chong

From: Charles Lichtman
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:52 PM

---

My name is Charles Lichtman

My email address is sfphoneguy2003@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Charles Lichtman

From: Lauren Downs
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:46 PM

---

My name is Lauren Downs

My email address is cindynoodle@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Lauren Downs

From: Ken Mendonca
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:44:40 PM

---

My name is Ken Mendonca

My email address is kenmendonca@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Ken Mendonca

From: David Bancroft
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal;
chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 6:26:21 AM

---

My name is David Bancroft

My email address is sfdavidbancroft@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
David Bancroft

From: Mary Franz
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:48:20 AM

---

My name is Mary Franz

My email address is me2franz@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mary Franz

From: Joan Satriani
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:27:34 PM

---

My name is Joan Satriani

My email address is joan@joansatriani.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Joan Satriani

From: Mike Staiger
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:56:46 PM

---

My name is Mike Staiger

My email address is michael.staiger@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

The great highway closure is causing great harm to the dunes with hordes of people trampling them. The re routing of traffic is creating hazards for children. There is already path the pedestrians and merely taking streets - intended for vehicles - to use to "play" is a obscene waste of tax payer money.

Sincerely,
Mike Staiger

From: Robert Wong
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:05:08 PM

---

My name is Robert Wong

My email address is rawff@hotmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Robert Wong

From: Linda Allan
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 10:38:45 PM

---

My name is Linda Allan

My email address is linda.claire.allan@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Linda Allan

From: Shawna McGrew
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 3:02:33 PM

---

My name is Shawna McGrew

My email address is Sunsetfog@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Shawna McGrew

From: John Ng
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:45:22 PM

---

My name is John Ng

My email address is JohnNgSF@aol.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
John Ng

From: Susan McKeon
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:29:27 AM

---

My name is Susan McKeon

My email address is mckeonsf@comcast.net

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Susan McKeon

From: Beth Kellenberger
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:46:04 PM

---

My name is Beth Kellenberger
My email address is betho9@me.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Beth Kellenberger

From: Wan Lim
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:32:52 AM

---

My name is Wan Lim

My email address is wanlim@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Wan Lim

From: Donna Dare
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:35:21 PM

---

My name is Donna Dare

My email address is donna.dare84@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Donna Dare

From: brian.kim
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:02:30 PM

---

My name is brian kim

My email address is supercelpkmon@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
brian kim

From: Meina Young
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 11:26:18 PM

---

My name is Meina Young

My email address is meinayoung1@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity. Please open the Great Highway to help cars cross the Golden Gate Park and share the scenic route.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Meina Young

From: Sharon Yasukawa
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:11 PM

---

My name is Sharon Yasukawa

My email address is hugweevil@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Sharon Yasukawa

From: Kayla Yasukawa
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:00:55 AM

---

My name is Kayla Yasukawa

My email address is kaylayasukawa@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity. I work at the VA hospital so it has been difficult to get to work, especially having to detour from slow streets.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Kayla Yasukawa

From: Mary Harvey
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:17:45 PM

---

My name is Mary Harvey

My email address is harveysf@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Mary Harvey

From: Felecia Faulkner
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 7:24:18 PM

---

My name is Felecia Faulkner

My email address is feleciawynnefaulkner@yahoo.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Felecia Faulkner

From: Madelyn McMillian
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:43:52 PM

---

My name is Madelyn McMillian

My email address is 0926Madelyn@gmail.com

I urge you to overturn the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and

commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals. Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness. A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Madelyn McMillian

From: Vera Swanson
To: boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@openthegreathighway.com
Subject: I Support Appeals: 23-062, 23-064 and 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 12:28:46 PM

---

My name is Vera Swanson

My email address is vera_swanson@yahoo.com

I URGE YOU TO OVERTURN the Planning Commission's decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to support the appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This request stems not only from concerns over the impacts of the pilot program on urban mobility and public safety but also from significant procedural oversights in its implementation. SF Rec & Parks has bypassed critical steps required for such a considerable change, notably, the failure to conduct an environmental review before obtaining the necessary "Coastal Zone" permit.

This lapse in following established regulatory processes raises serious questions about the permit's validity and, by extension, the legality of the pilot program itself. The omission of an environmental review overlooks potential impacts on native species, such as the Snowy Plover, and disregards the broader ecological and community implications of closing the Upper Great Highway to vehicular traffic.

The consequences of the pilot program and the procedural oversight are manifold:

Environmental Impact on Native Species: The increased pedestrian and cyclist traffic threatens the habitat of the Snowy Plover, a sensitive and endangered species, due to the lack of an initial environmental assessment.

Emergency Response Delays: The closure significantly delays emergency responders, compromising public safety by hindering access to critical areas along the coast.

Cutting off direct access from neighboring cities into San Francisco by directing them to congested, sub-standard roads (19th Ave.) and away from shops, recreation and services in the Sunset, creating more pollution by prolonging their drive into SF. Using public transit to travel to SF is NOT an option.

Increased Traffic and Accidents: The redirection of thousands of cars to surrounding neighborhoods creates congestion and has led to a noticeable rise in traffic accidents, affecting the safety and well-being of residents and commuters alike.

Elevated Air Pollution Levels: With vehicles rerouted closer to residential areas, air pollution levels have spiked, posing health risks to the community, particularly vulnerable groups such as children, older adults, and pre-existing conditions.

Longer Commutes: For those who rely on the Great Highway for efficient travel, the partial weekly closures have resulted in significantly more prolonged and congested commutes, disrupting daily life and productivity.

Given the oversight of not conducting an environmental review and the resulting impacts, I strongly urge you to support the appeals.

Ensuring compliance with regulatory processes is essential for any project's legitimacy and effectiveness.

A more inclusive approach considering recreational and transportation needs can help the Great Highway meet our community's diverse requirements. This balance is crucial for safeguarding the environment, ensuring public safety, and enhancing the quality of life in San Francisco, all while respecting legal and procedural standards.

Sincerely,
Vera Swanson

From: GB Info
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: I support continuing having Great Hwy closed to cars
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:53:07 PM

---

Hello Commissioners,

My name is Scott Jung and I am a resident of Bernal Heights.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

I really enjoy being able to ride my bike on the Great Hwy without car traffic and so do thousands of others who walk there every weekend and most days when closed during the pandemic!

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals. Thank you.

Scott Jung

From: Jonathan Howard
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: In favor of Coastal Zone Permit for Upper Great Highway
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:41:23 PM

---

Hello Commissioners,

My name is Jonathan and I am a resident of Bernal Heights.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

I love the Great Highway for bicycle rides, up the coast. I just brought a friend through there, who was in town visiting but was afraid of cars in the city (including the continued trend of cars ignoring bike lanes). The few protected areas we have for bikes were a huge draw for her to both visit and consider moving here. It's a big differentiator in the city and a rare positive for our community when so much bad news is flowing about us in the news

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals. Thank you.

From: Alex Kleeman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: In Support of the Great Highway Park
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 9:54:59 AM

---

1. Public opinion is largely in favor of closing the great highway to cars (with the exception of the Richmond district who would prefer the highway open to make their drive prettier -- but not faster -- when they leave the city),
2. The board of supervisors voted to approve the pilot.
3. The city has set goals of reducing carbon emissions.

Why would we waste tax payer's money on an appeal?

From: Choku Proudfoot
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; MeigarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: In support of the Great Highway project
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 3:51:22 PM

---

Hello Commissioners,

My name is Choku Proudfoot and I am a resident of Lower Haight. I live at San Francisco Zen Center.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

I regularly ride my bicycle on the Great Highway on the weekends and it is a much needed way for people to be outside together safely. I always see families and many people biking and walking and enjoying the space. We need to support more spaces like this rather than less.

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals.

Thank you.

Choku Proudfoot

--

Choku Proudfoot
Pronouns: they/them

“Freedom is not a secret. It’s a practice.”
- Alexis Pauline Gumbs

From: Matthew Conlin-Elsen
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Internship Opportunity at the California Coastal Commission
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:56:47 AM
Attachments: Matthew Conlin-Elsen-Resume.pdf
Matthew Conlin-Elsen Cover Letter.pdf

---

Hello,

My name is Matthew Conlin-Elsen and I am a current student in the Paralegal program at San Francisco State University. Currently, I am in my final semester of the program and I am interested in branching out into a semester paralegal internship at the California Coastal Commission North Central Coast Headquarters in San Francisco.

I am reaching out to you today because I was wondering if you had any availability for an undergraduate intern? I would also love to hear your experience with working at the San Francisco Public Defenders office and any advice you have for the internship process. I know you are busy and would greatly appreciate any time you have. I have also attached my resume and cover letter at the bottom of this email.

Best,

Matthew Conlin-Elsen

Public comments submitted to the Coastal Commission are public records that may be disclosed to members of the public or posted on the Coastal Commission's website. Do not include information, including personal contact information, in comments submitted to the Coastal Commission that you do not wish to be made public. Any written materials, including email, that are sent to commissioners regarding matters pending before the Commission must also be sent to Commission staff at the same time.

From: Susan St. Martin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; melgarstaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:36:58 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

My name is Susan St. Martin, and I am a resident of Glen Park.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project, and please reject the appeals against it.

During the worst of the pandemic, the Great Highway provided a safe, car-free environment for my then 7-year-old son to learn how to ride a bicycle. One of our regular joys was to go for a bike ride on the Great Highway, without worry of dangerous collisions with motor vehicles. I loved seeing the roadway full of people getting fresh air and exercise. Car-free Great Highway extends the city's beloved recreational space that is Golden Gate Park. This is a much better use of the Great Highway than cars. A much higher density of people can use the Great Highway when it is a car-free space than when it is simply a road for cars. For cars, the Great Highway only has a north outlet and a south outlet and no access to any other cross street in between. Sand regularly blows onto the roadway and makes it inaccessible to cars, which is only a mild inconvenience to drivers who have literally any other numbered avenue in the Sunset they can use. More people can get to where they're going when we have more and safer (i.e., closed to cars) corridors for bicycles and pedestrians.

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, The Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan, and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals against it. Thank you.

Susan St. Martin

From: William Salit
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: It's a treasure: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 9:01:07 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I'm one of those people who heads out to The Great Highway every single Friday, rain or shine. It's such a joy to be there along the ocean, and to hear only the wind and the water, not a stream of cars and trucks.

There are people there in all weathers—it's clearly well used and loved.

Please do not take away our Friday place to stroll along the ocean—where else could we do that?

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

William Salit

From: Jenna Newgard
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep Great Highway closed on the weekends!
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 1:45:35 PM

---

Hello Commissioners,

My name is Jenna and I am a resident of Lone Mountain/Inner Richmond].

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals. Thank you.

Jenna Newgard

From: Peter Schmitz
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep Great Highway closed to cars
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 8:57:30 AM

---

Hello Commissioners,

My name is Peter Schmitz and I am a resident of District 3 in North Beach.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

My wife and I often bike on Great Highway on weekends and enjoy sharing with the many other families and individuals on that beautiful spot.

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals. Thank you.

Peter Schmitz

From: Cris Arthun
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep Great Highway Closed!
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:23:03 PM

---

My name is Cristina Arthun and I am a resident of Lower Haight.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

Right now, when the closure starts at noon, it still isnt early enough for me! :) I love biking along the ocean, and with the sand that blows over the bike lane can be a scary and treacherous place for bikers.

I go to the great highway to walk friends dogs, and enjoy the (limited!) nature of SF and wonderful environment it gives. I have been using the Great Highway closure to feel safe and connected to nature and friends for 3 years now.

I come to a neighborhood I otherwise wouldnt frequent, and I spend money at shops and markets on Noriega and Judah. The businesses along the drive see great weekend visitor uptick and it provides such incredible community for our residents.

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals. Thank you.

From: Michael Mueller
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; rcllyde@sfbike.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep Great Highway Pilot Project
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:23:07 PM

---

Board of Appeals
City Hall, 1 Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett Place Room 416
San Francisco, CA

Dear Commissioners,

I am a resident of Cow Hollow in San Francisco.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

The closure of the Great Highway on weekends has created a safe, beautiful, peaceful and popular space for cyclists and pedestrians to ride and walk without the risk of injury from cars. I've made several trips by car to the Lake Merced area on weekends as well and find that the closure did not affect my travel time, which is one more reason to let the pilot project run its full course.

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals. Thank you.

Michael Mueller

From: Sarah Jones
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep public access to Great Highway Park. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:16:55 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am the Community Development Director for Marin County, and as such I am very familiar with your role and responsibilities under the Coastal Act. Today I am writing to you as an individual citizen, and as a former resident of San Francisco and former employee of the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency, where I served as Planning Director from 2016-2021. I am writing to ask that you uphold the San Francisco Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the CDP for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

My personal experience with Great Highway Park was similar to that of thousands of other residents and visitors in San Francisco. While we rarely visited Ocean Beach before the pandemic and avoided the walkway along Great Highway, once Upper Great Highway was closed to cars my family and I biked through Golden Gate Park to the Great Highway countless times. It's a unique and extraordinary way to enjoy the coast. People of all ages, abilities and backgrounds are out there. It has transformed the city's coastline into one of the true gems of San Francisco. It's become one of the things that I urge all visitors to San Francisco to experience.

I had the pleasure of working on the Great Highway Park effort in my capacity as SFMTA Planning Director. It want to highlight a particular feature of the effort: access for people with disabilities. Early in the planning, one of my colleagues in the Mayor's Office of Disability said "Most people don't realize how difficult it is for disabled people to just be outdoors, let alone at the beach." So many times, disabled access is an afterthought or a matter of compliance. In the case of Great Highway Park, disabled access is part of the purpose and value. I saw people with disabilities enjoying Great Highway Park almost every time I was out there, enabled by the lack of cars and width of the paved space. I even saw a group of sight-impaired runners able to safely experience the smells and sounds of the beach and feel of the wind. How cool is that?!

I know well the authentic commitment to equitable access held by your Commission and your staff. I truly believe that the Upper Great Highway Pilot Project truly enhances access and the public's ability to enjoy this resource.

Thank you,

Sarah Jones

From: Fennel Doyle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep SF Coastline & Surf Culture Alive! REJECT appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:01:36 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

Cars on the endemic biodiverse rich coast = hazmat death zone. FULL STOP.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. In fact, I was forced to homeschool my Western Addition kid on our city beach (UNPAID), since SFUSD closed the schools for over 365 days. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to the safety of my entire family when we walk, skateboard, boogie board, surf, roller skate, run & bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Irie,
Fennel

D5 Weather Reporters
In the flower there is power & its called PEACE

From: Nate Gentner
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; rclyde@sfbike.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Car-Free!
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 4:01:29 PM

---

Hello Commissioners,

My name is Nate and I am a resident of NOPA.

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and please reject the appeals against it.

Biking and skateboarding with my 2 children on the Great Highway has been an amazing experience for our family. Please preserve the car-free Great Highway!

This permit is in alignment with the pilot approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in December 2022. This permit is also in alignment with San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, the Ocean Beach Master Plan, Vision Zero plan and the Climate Action Plan.

The Great Highway pilot project improves safety and connectivity for people traveling with sustainable forms of transportation. The pilot project also enhances recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and provides safe space for the entire community to recreate and get around. It is crucial to maintain this pilot so city agencies can collect data to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Again, please uphold the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway and reject the appeals.

Thank you.

Nate

From: Michael Flagg
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park -> Reject Appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:04:46 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As a resident of the outer sunset (42nd Ave) and a frequent visitor to Ocean Beach and the Park multiple times a week - i fully support the continuation of the Great Highway Park and urge you to uphold the existing Coastal Zone Permit.

The benefits of the Park are clear - with thousands visiting every week - providing a safe space for the neighborhood and visitors to enjoy walking, biking, skating, etc AND providing more foot traffic to local businesses.

Prioritize people and public safe spaces, not cars/traffic!

--

Michael Flagg
831-236-7444
flagg.mike@gmail.com

From: Mark Cordes
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park Compromise
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:57:24 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Mark Cordes
Sunset District Resident

From: Bailey Schweitzer
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park open
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:06:29 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Bailey Schweitzer
bsch29@gmail.com
205 Vicksburg St
San Francisco, California 94114

From: Kieran Farr
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise! Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:47:27 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

Do you want to be known as the City leadership that killed one of the "52 Places for a Changed World" according to the New York Times?

<https://www.sfgate.com/local/article/SF-location-made-New-York-Times-list-of-52-Places-16776101.php>

I sure hope you want to keep this treasured space!

I'm writing to insist that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

My children and their friends ages 3 - 7 years learned how to bike on this path on a weekend just like the millions of other visitors over the years of this pilot.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Kieran and family

From: Sara Schweizer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise!! Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:30:01 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend, and one of the many residents of the Outer Sunset neighborhood, the pilot program is crucial for my and my neighbors' access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. Additionally, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of my neighborhood and is vital to my and my neighbors' safety.

I deeply appreciate your keeping the vision of a better and more accessible San Francisco alive.

Kindly,

Sara M. Schweizer

From: Courtney White
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:57:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Thanks,
Courtney White

From: jessica Rix
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:22:26 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

The Rix Family our 2 boys and dog

From: Jessica Jenkins
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 10:34:41 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Jessica Jenkins

From: Emilia De Marchis
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:36:14 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Emilia De Marchis

From: Karolina Östegård Branley
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; EngardioStaff \(BOS\); info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 5:02:50 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Karolina Branley

From: Anthea Tjuanakis Cox
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 2:37:59 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Anthea N. Tjuanakis Cox
(347) 218-2063

"A culture populated by people whose imagination is impoverished has a static future. In such a culture there will be little change because there will be little sense of possibility." - Elliot W. Eisner

From: Allison Yuen
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 6:22:05 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Allison Yuen
emberhummingbird@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94116

From: Adie Sherwood
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 7:20:02 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. Before the pilot project, it was stressful and difficult to try to cross the upper great highway with my young son and senior mother, even though we always used crosswalks. We often would avoid walking to the area for this reason. The beach is much more accessible to our family now. We love the fresh air and safety that the park provides for running, playing, and riding bikes.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Adie Sherwood
39th and Kirkham

From: James Duffy
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:44:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

James Duffy

From: Stephanie Cline
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:03:43 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Stephanie Cline
scoffaney@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Alison Worthington
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:25:14 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Thanks,
Alison

From: Kendall Silva
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 4:40:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kendall

From: alan.perlmanguitars.com
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:52:05 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I live close to the Great Highway, on 48th Avenue between Irving and Judah. I bicycle and walk on the Great highway whenever it's closed to vehicles. It has been an immense source of healthy and beautiful recreation to thousands of us. As a person who also drives, I can say that it's really not needed as a vehicle roadway and, living on 48th Avenue I am absolutely not impacted by traffic changes when the roadway is closed to vehicles. It would be a brilliant act of the imagination and civic creativity to permanently turn the Great Highway into a beautiful park by the ocean. Our precious seaside is a place for people and wildlife; vehicles can drive elsewhere.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Alan Perlman

From: Daisy Allen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:22:21 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Daisy Allen

Sent from my iPhone

From: Jennifer Rosdail
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:58:24 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jennifer Rosdail
Realtor/Owner
Jennifer Rosdail Real Estate Team
a KWADVISORS Partner
415-269-4663 Direct
Living415.com
LivingTheBay.com

I want clients just like you – know anyone?
CalDRE Broker# 01349379

From: Nathaniel Edwards
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:51:26 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

Nathaniel

From: Shannon Selerowski
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:08:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Shannon Selerowski

From: Seth Prisament
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 8:19:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Seth Prisament

From: carlycmck
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:23:20 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Carly McKnight

From: Lauren White
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 3:43:33 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Lauren White
laurengallowwhite@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94110

From: Rachel Baer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:28:51 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Rachel Baer

Sent from my iPhone

From: Kendall Silva
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:06:36 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kendall

From: Lynn Pearce
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:06:37 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Austin Milford-Rosales
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 1:38:03 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I do not own a car, so this is the easiest beach for me to get to, and I enjoy both biking and walking on the great highway with friends, as well as fishing along the coast. Not only is this the most accessible beach for non-drivers, but it is the only one with a meaningful paved path for biking along or walking without having to fight the sand with every step (fun for exercise, but tough for older folks or those with mobility devices).

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Sarah Kaufman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; Great Highway Park; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:43:06 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I live on La Playa and I love seeing all the people enjoying the closed road out my window. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Caroline Fuller
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 1:24:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Caroline Fuller

Sent from my iPhone

From: Mahon McGrath
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:40:38 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Mahon McGrath

From: Parker Day
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 12:30:51 PM

---

Commissioners,

I'm writing to ask that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065 and uphold the San Francisco Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coast Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway Pilot Project.

The weekend park space has been transformative for my connection to the city, the ocean, and the community in general. It is a space that combats loneliness, is safe for families, and improves access to nature. I know I'm not alone in feeling these effects. In fact, the permit doesn't do anything revolutionary. Instead, it maintains the current compromise. This permit is in line with the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan, which call for better recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline. Rejecting this permit would be a step backward.

In addition to improving coastal access, the permit allows for traffic safety improvements in the Sunset neighborhood. These safety improvements are important and should not be delayed.

Thank you so much. I hope you will uphold the Planning Commission's determination.

Parker Day
415-488-6812

From: Brian Renz
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 10:24:04 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent by Brian R

From: Lexy Savvides
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 5:19:02 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Lexy Savvides
alexandrasavvides@gmail.com

San Francisco , California 94116

From: leslie.elwell
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 4:00:23 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Leslie Elwell
Outer Sunset District

From: Andrea Jadwin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:49:21 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Sean Courtney
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 4:49:56 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Sean Courtney
sean@seanjcourtney.com
1911 34th Ave
San Francisco, California 94116

From: Jacob Esparza
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:18:32 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

For once, can tax paying San Francisco families receive something for their community.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Eric DiIulio
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 10:22:12 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. Two of my children have learned to ride their bikes on Great Highway and it has become a wonderful place to exercise, recreate, and see our neighbors and friends. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Eric DiIulio

Sent from my phone.

From: Sonic Whenever
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:06:26 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Janet Stillman

Sent from my iPhone

From: Liz Paley
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:20:50 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Sean Leow
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:56:47 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sean Leow

From: Eric Rapin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:43:30 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Eric Rapin

From: Lynn A
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; Supervisor Connie Chan
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:49:55 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you

From: Joe Florendo
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:25:44 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jose Florendo

From: Hannah Greenberg
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 1:18:21 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Hannah

From: Penny Mitchell
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:43:06 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park on my bike or for a long walk to simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Penny Mitchell
College Ave, San Francisco

From: Steven Susaña-Castillo
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:06:03 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Steven Susaña-Castillo
San Franciscan

From: Brendan King
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:51:14 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I love this park and want it to be car free full time!

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Brendan

From: Kendall Silva
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:06:45 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kendall

From: bryn.freitag@gmail.com
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 7:06:50 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Brynna

From: Andrew Stutz
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 2:24:22 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Andrew Stutz
andrewcstutz@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Tim Courtney
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:24:44 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Tim Courtney
timcourtney.net
+1.860.967.2468

From: Nathaniel Jordan
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 3:31:34 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Sydney Simpson
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 4:24:07 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Sydney Simpson
sydneysimpsonrn@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94103

From: Cynsa Bonorris
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 11:26:55 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

Please, please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

The Great Highway Park is LIFE. It's San Francisco at its finest. It is an artery of joy running to the Pacific Ocean. To see little kids rollerblading and riding little bicycles next to their parents, people walking and jogging, folks enjoying the Pacific on a warm Fall or chilly Summer day (heh) spreads joy.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Cynsa Bonorris
1247 Harrison Street #25
San Francisco, CA 94103

This electronic communication and the information and any files transmitted with it, or attached to it, are confidential and are intended solely for the use of the individual or entity to whom it is addressed and may contain information that is confidential, legally privileged, protected by privacy laws, or otherwise restricted from disclosure to anyone else. If you are not the intended recipient or the person responsible for delivering the e-mail to the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any use, copying, distributing, dissemination, forwarding, printing, or copying of this e-mail is strictly prohibited. If you received this e-mail in error, please return the e-mail to the sender, delete it from your computer, and destroy any printed copy of it.

From: Kalina Jordanova
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:27:16 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Kalina Jordanova
kalina.jordanova@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Madison Norman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:08:50 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Nadya Mikhaylovskaya
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:07:51 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I am one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park and enjoy the beautiful beach and ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Nadya Mikhaylovskaya
nnm32@cornell.edu

San Francisco, California 94117

From: Andrew Seigner
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 12:27:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Brian Heung
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:49:12 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Brian HEung

From: Lauren Mizock
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:41:12 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Megan Klevze Sutter
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 4:24:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

My family and I visit the Great Highway park almost every weekend and have attended multiple events such as Halloween trick or treating and the Easter egg hunt. It is where my two daughters are learning how to ride their bikes and scooters. A vibrant community requires safe car-free spaces to gather in nature with each other and the Great Highway Park has been that for us as members of the outer sunset community.

The pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Megan Sutter
District 4

From: Michelle Deely
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:58:04 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

The Deely Family, SF residents

Michelle Deely, MFT
Relief for Burned Out Moms
Therapy in California
3896 24th Street
SF, CA 94114
www.michelledely.com
michelle@michelledely.com
415-371-9828

From: Kelly Knox
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 1:07:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kelly Knox

From: Nicola Parisi
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:08:11 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I've lived in San Francisco for over a decade and one of my favorite parts about it is the amazing access to outdoor space.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you!

Nicola Parisi
Richmond District

From: Allison Gans
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:19:11 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Allison Gans
alliefink@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Martin Munoz
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:42:56 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Martin Munoz
954-756-4292

From: Sergey Goder
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:17:52 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Sergey Goder
sergeygoder@gmail.com
1634 22nd Avenue
San Francisco , California 94122

From: Alessa Moscoso
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:06:24 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Les

From: Meagan McNabola
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:55:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Alex Gregor
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:24:02 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. It is my personal opinion that these appeals are a spurious and dishonest attempt to use legislation designed to protect public and community access for individual and self serving desire to drive at high speed. Shame on those bringing these anti-progress appeals.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Alex Gregor
District 9 resident
713 376 7399
argregor@gmail.com

From: Isabela Celedon
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:49:36 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Isabella Celedon

From: Steven Ray
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 3:04:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset (which should be implemented in the Inner Sunset as well). This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Steven Ray

From: Mandy Twigg
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:48:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Linda Marquardt
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardioffice@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 3:41:12 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

In addition, we spend many weekends visiting our granddaughter and walking the Great Highway with her. We've seen that there are large numbers of people biking, running, hiking etc and enjoying the fresh air and exercise. There are also numerous children walking the highway, being able to ride their first bikes with lots of room to learn, being able to use their scooter bikes to help them learn before an actual bike and just running and playing. We got to see our granddaughter see her shadow for the first time on the broad expanse of the highway! She was so exuberant and excited!! The narrow sidewalks and trails in San Francisco or even along Ocean Beach without the Great Highway Park on the weekends do not allow for any of that. It's such a special place for families! It's also good for the environment to not have all the pollution from cars! Please do not shut this down!! It's such a special place. It's a perfect solution for everyone to allow cars during the week for commuters to get to work and then open it up to families, bikers, runners, etc on the weekends!

Thank you,

Sent from my iPad

From: Dave
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:48:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

David B. Farrell

From: Nicholas Lipanovich
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:20:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Nick Lipanovich, Outer Sunset resident

Sent from my iPhone

From: Bruce Osterweil
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; Supervisor Connie Chan
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:08:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Bruce P Osterweil

From: Nik Kaestner
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org; melgarstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 12:17:18 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

-nik

—o
 \<,
..... ( ) / ( )

From: Kyle William Smith
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 6:44:01 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Garen Checkley
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 9:56:49 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

The city needs more parks, not highways.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Garen
D2

From: Spencer Warden
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:23:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

Great Highway Park is simply the greatest improvement in San Francisco in the last 30 years. I live on La Playa Street in the Outer Sunset. I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Spencer Warden
spencerwarden@gmail.com
831-247-3931

From: Lauren Dunford
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 12:59:54 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I have a 10-month old and taking her in the stroller on the Great Highway is the best way for us to enjoy weekends together.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Lauren Dunford
laurenedunford@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Heather Bhide
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 10:09:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Heather bhide

Sent from my iPhone

From: Dane Barca
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 10:42:59 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Dane

Sent while walking and chewing gum.

From: Nancy Arbuckle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 2:58:14 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Nancy Arbuckle

From: Gina Price
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:42:37 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Sarah Roquemore
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardioffice@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:57:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I live on 48th avenue and use the Great Highway Park everyday it's available. My kids and I constantly long for the days when it was a park everyday. Cars regularly run the red lights on great highway and I'm always worried one of my kids will die when they walk to the beach. Please please please keep this invaluable space open to us! We run, we bike, we walk, and we meet new friends and grow our community.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sarah Roquemore

From: Tracey Johnson
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:10:19 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Tracey Johnson

From: Terry Sayre
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 1:06:52 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Lena Corwin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:55:36 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I live a block away from the Great Highway and having the road closed to traffic has improved our quality of life immensely.

Lena

From: preston.rhea@gmail.com
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 3:06:11 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Preston

From: Mark Nguyen
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:03:52 AM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you, Mark N

From: Kate Ursu
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:57:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

The park is now a highlight of my weekends and symbolizes a step in the right direction as we continue to create a better future for our environment and our communities.

Thank you,
Kate Ursu

Sent from my iPhone

From: Katie Biber
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:23:57 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

Come on guys! Are we really talking about the Great Walkway again? :)

Please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project, and please reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

The park is amazing. It's already a compromise. Please do not take it away. Every day the leaders at SF chip away at the quality of life but please let us keep this one. <3

Katie Biber
katie.chen@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94118

From: Matt Hoevet
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 5:58:08 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

- Matt

From: David Marquardt
To: Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:23:52 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

As a father that lives on the great highway, the park is truly amazing for my family with a 2 year old daughter. A safe place to walk and play and learn, and build community with neighbors.

Thank you,
David Marquardt

From: Sonja Steck
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:46:14 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Chris Bergeron
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:19:34 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the tens of thousands of San Franciscans and visitors who visit Great Highway Park to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk, bike, or take the bus to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses and homes.

Thank you,

Chris Bergeron
(802) 825-1874

2346 Clement St Apt 2
San Francisco, CA 94121

From: Carrie Royer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:08:25 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Carrie Royer
Zip code: 94122

From: Amira Atallah
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org; catherine.stefani@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:47:11 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

As a resident of District 2, I would visit more often if the Great Highway was available for recreation on more days during the week as well, and I have discovered (and continue to visit) many businesses in the Sunset district that I would have never otherwise have known about.

Thank you,

Amira Atallah

2201 Francisco Street #11

94123

From: Amelia Essman
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 1:16:16 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Amelia Essman

From: Mark Grothman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 10:04:54 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

My name is Mark Grothman and my family and I are residents of the Outer Sunset. We are alarmed to hear of the potential for the Great Highway Park to not be closed to car traffic during the weekends. This existing compromise (only weekends/holidays, starting on Fridays at noon) has transformed the shoreline experience for both ourselves and many friends and families across the Bay Area, providing something akin to a boardwalk experience this wonderful city deserves. I do believe having the Great Highway open to car traffic on weekdays during work travel is a great compromise, and there should be no need to cut off what is a perfect balance of public space usage.

With that said, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my family's safety when we walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Mark Grothman

From: Martha Abbene
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 10:08:29 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Martha Abbene
4316 Kirkham Street
SF

Sent from my iPhone

From: Sarah Cannon
To: Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:48:10 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sarah Cannon
San Francisco

From: Elena Caceres
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 9:10:17 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Elena Caceres
elcaceres@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Boris Shkurko
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 10:50:42 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Jonathon Schmidt
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:06:19 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Jonathon Schmidt

Sent from my iPhone

From: Jesse Wayne
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:42:18 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jesse Wayne

From: Will Tachau
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:42:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Will Tachau

From: Andrew Judd
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 3:01:35 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Andrew Judd
Strange typos compliments of autocorrect

From: Yi-Li Chuang
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 6:00:33 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Yi-Li Chuang

From: Joseph Tartakovsky
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 5:33:25 AM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

From: Mike Sallaberry
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:50:03 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Mike Sallaberry

From: Tom Fenwick
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 2:52:46 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. It also allows me to make bonds with neighbors and friends I often see walking, biking, strolling, or running along this wonderful park. I wish it could be 24/7, but I understand the need to do studies to figure out the long term vision for this peaceful stretch along the ocean.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Judy Tomasso
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:08:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Judy Tomasso
2330 48 th Avenue

From: david.english
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:21:24 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

david.english
action.doves0w@icloud.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Adam Cline
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 8:57:38 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Adam Cline
adamcline11@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Maxwell Gara
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:45:06 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Julie Newhouse
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 3:02:43 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Julie Newhouse

Sent from my iPhone

From: Alyssa Barnett
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:45:43 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Alyssa Barnett

From: Patty Esposito
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:39:38 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Patty Esposito

Sent from my iPhone

From: Timothy Ward
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 2:56:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Edward Abraham
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 10:06:25 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Edward Abraham
Outer Sunset Resident

From: Gene Miguel
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:19:27 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

Gene Miguel
(415) 294-0722

From: Donna
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:02:38 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I am one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Please keep the Great Highway car free !

Thank you,

Donna Fotoohi

From: Michelle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 10:06:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Best Regards,

Michelle Fongson

Commercial Learning Manager | Intuitive Surgical,
Inc. | 1020 Kifer Road, Sunnyvale, CA 94086|
Phone: 408.482.0774

From: Joey Babbitt
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:59:46 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Joey Babbitt
jrbabbitt@gmail.com
23 Alta Street
San Francisco, California 94133

From: Alessa Moscoso
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:05:46 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Alessa

From: Ruth Rainero
To: Stokle, Brian \(REC\); boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardistaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:48:10 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

My husband and I are retirees and long-time residents of the Sunset District. We walk or bike along the Great Walkway nearly every weekend and wish that it were closed to vehicles more than two days per week. It's wonderful to see the number of walkers, runners, and bicyclists -- with or without dogs and kids -- enjoying the proximity to the beach and ocean without hundreds of noisy, polluting cars whizzing by. We are SO fed up with car owners attitude that their wishes dominate at the expense of everyone else.

Thank you,

Ruth Rainero & Pieter de Haan

From: Sarah Boudreau
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Cc: info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:23:25 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Sarah Boudreau

From: Lina Leon
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:42:05 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,
I love the great highway park!!

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Lina Leon

Sent from Gmail Mobile

From: Lily Daniel
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 12:19:58 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Lily Daniel

From: Emily Hittle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:57:02 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Emily Hittle
Resident of Outer Sunset, SF

From: ashley restauro
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:41:56 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

As a resident who actually lives on Lower Great Highway, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I personally witness the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, and I can attest that the pilot program is crucial for our access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. Being a resident with an address on Lower Great Highway, there has not been an increase in traffic in front of my residence. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Ashley Restauro
Ashley.Restauro@gmail.com

From: nick.sousanis
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:20:41 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Nick

Nick Sousanis
nsousanis@gmail.com
<http://www.spinweaveandcut.com>
Tw: @nsousanis

1245 Masonic Ave
San Francisco, CA 94117
M: 415-745-0194

From: Andrew Camp
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:17:25 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Andrew Camp
(Concerned Outer Sunset Resident on Judah)

Sent from my iPhone

From: Ellery Long
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:44:43 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Ellery Long
D4 Outer Parkside resident

From: Natalie Carnes
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 2:55:37 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Natalie Marquardt

From: Paul Greening
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:54:03 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Paul Greening
paulchristengreening@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Nancy Beam
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:08:03 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who regularly visit Great Highway Park to walk and enjoy the Pacific Ocean without having to worry about getting hot ta car, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Nancy Beam
Sunset Resident
District 4

From: Cedric Crocker
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:59:49 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Cedric Crocker
San Francisco resident and Sunset district native

From: Dara Bu Elliott
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:50:00 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

From: Kieran Byrne
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 3:26:09 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Born 'n Raised in the Sunset,
Kieran Byrne

From: Michael Zimmerman
To: EngardioStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:39:12 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Michael Zimmerman
On behalf 47th Avenue community

From: Jeb Hollingsworth
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Cc: Jeb Hollingsworth
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 10:22:01 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

This is essential to the Sunset community and others who come visit to walk/bike/run etc on the weekends. All you need to do is go down and see it for yourselves. Frankly, it should be expanded on and money invested to create proper lanes and instruction for people biking running and walking, direction for flow of traffic etc. This would improve safety for those that enjoy it.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jeb Hollingsworth

From: Kelly Arbuckle
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 8:45:24 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Kelly Arbuckle
arbuckle.kelly@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Jamie Williams
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 2:55:37 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

We visit the park often with our children on the weekends. They love scooting and biking down the pavement, looking for kites and planes; it's been a highlight of their childhoods and park of what makes living in the city so special.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Jamie Williams
jamielee.williams@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94116

From: Laura Checkley
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 10:06:27 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Laura Checkley, M.D.
Emergency Medicine Resident, PGY-4
University of California, San Francisco
Laura.checkley@ucsf.edu

*Please excuse the brevity of this message; it was sent from a mobile device. Thank you.

From: SKIN x STONE
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:44:21 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Alfonso Embid-Desmet
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:57:00 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Siddharth Ramakrishnan
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:48:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Cat Sommer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:23:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Cat Sommer
Sunset Resident

Sent from my iPhone

From: Catharine Lamb
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 10:03:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Catharine Lamb

From: Carolyn Chang
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:05:44 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Carolyn
Sent from my iPhone

From: Peggy Flannery
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:41:30 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Peggy Flannery

Outer Sunset resident

From: Susan Sutton
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 2:53:05 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Susan Sutton

Typed by opposable thumbs

From: Brian Andersen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:05:15 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Brian Andersen

From: Alexander Maldonado
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:18:15 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Sasha

From: Michael Joseph
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:45:10 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

I live in the Outer Sunset and this issue is very important to me — if the Upper Great Highway pilot project were terminated my family and I would be less interested in living in this neighborhood.

Thank you,
Michael

From: drew.madsen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 10:09:12 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Drew Madsen

From: Loc Thai
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 12:17:32 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Brett Bertocci
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:42:30 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Brett Bertocci

From: Maxwell D
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:39:11 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Max Davis

From: Jo Lo
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; Great Highway Park; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:56:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Ryan Malabed
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:56:03 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Ryan Malabed

From: Michael Lynch
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Tuesday, February 6, 2024 8:20:40 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Michael Lynch
lynchmg@hotmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Kali Perry
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:43:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Karen Scruggs
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:48:24 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Karen Scruggs

From: richie rifle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:16:38 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I'm a resident of the Outer Sunset, and a regular user of the Great Highway Park.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: José Pablo González-Brenes
To: Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:59 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

--

José P. González-Brenes
gonzalezbrenes.com

From: Lindsay Meisel
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:23:02 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent via Superhuman

From: Megan Leung
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 2:09:47 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Best,
Megan

From: Sanae Rosen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:07:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sanae Rosen

From: gentle.volunteer.dn3r8@aleeas.com
To: chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardioffice@sfgov.org; melgarstaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org
Cc: boardofappeals@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:37:40 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Donald Gentle

Sent with Proton Mail secure email.

From: Софья Анисович
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:59:34 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Tarin Towers
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:41:42 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

The Great Highway Promenade provides increased coastal access and decreased pollution. It's good for residents' health in terms of both recreation and the environment, as well as giving a safe place for kids and adults to play and ride bikes.

This is a brilliant example of early-pandemic innovations that show how local, state, and federal government can work together to benefit the people.

I hope to see the road closure become permanent and 24/7, but in the meantime, please uphold the weekend compromise.

Best regards
Tarin Towers
D9 resident

From: Monbureau, Marie
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, February 7, 2024 11:12:21 AM
Importance: High

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I live on La Playa Street @ Judah and as such, the impact of these decisions effect my day to day significantly. While I would love to see the Great Highway be a permanent space for families like mine to use and enjoy, I am content with the compromise of at least having the space on the weekends and holidays. If that privilege were taken away from my family it would thwart my children's freedom and development significantly. When the highway is closed to cars they are allowed to adventure to the dunes on their own to play, which gives them the sort of autonomy and freedom that is hard to give to children raised in a larger city, like San Francisco. I sincerely hope that the city will not remove one of the safe and healthy places where my family, along with all residents and visitors can experience the outdoors. This would give families one more reason to be forced to move out of San Francisco and to the suburbs.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Marie Monbureau

From: Caitlin Stanton
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:58:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Bernie McGinn
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:54:25 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I have been a resident of the Outer Sunset for 12 years, and have been a homeowner on 42nd Ave for 7 years. The Great Highway park is one of the best things that has happened to for residents in the Outer Sunset in my time here.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

-- -- -- --

From: KC Ellis
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:41:13 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I can't believe I have to write this, but I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kent Ellis
San Francisco Resident

Sent from my iPhone

From: Pauline LEGENDRE
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:56:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Pauline

From: Bobi Adle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: phoca2004
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 9:12:44 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jeffrey Gray
District 1 Resident

From: Susan Witka
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:07:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you, Susan Witka 94121

From: Sasha Ponomareva
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; chanstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:15:02 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. Without exaggeration, this park has changed my life for the better. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Sasha Ponomareva

Sent from my iPhone

From: Sabra Chambless
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:47:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

It's amazing to be able to walk the Great Highway. I've brought my friends, daughters and parents who have mobility issues. It's such a unique experience to be able to walk and be so close to the ocean with out having to navigate walking in the sand or contending with cars. Please don't take this away.

Sabra

From: Elena Gutteridge
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:18:01 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

I grew up in the sunset and would go frequently to beach. Now 70 years later I still enjoy it. Super nice when I can quietly stroll there and not have din of traffic everyday

Elena Gutteridge
elenagutteridge@gmail.com
2479 31 Ave
San Francisco , California 94116

From: Kimberlee Howley
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:21:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Kimee Howley

From: Stephen McCallion
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; Great Highway Park; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:38:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I'm a man in his late 70's and Great Highway Park has become an important part of my exercise — it's ideal for older people like me. The aforementioned permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach, Golden Gate Park, and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Pranav Harathi
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 11:48:45 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Nicole Jung-Alexander
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:04:49 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Nicole Jung-Alexander

From: Julie Newbold
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:41:09 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for all San Franciscan's access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to safety for all who walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

People are more important than cars.

Thank you,
Julie Newbold

From: Kylie Stoneking
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; melgarstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:33:31 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Kylie Stoneking

From: Ally Ochoa
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 1:52:19 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Ally Ochoa
ochoa_allyson@yahoo.com
1475 18th Ave
San Francisco , California 94122

From: Zoe Phillips Williams
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 2:47:43 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Zoe Williams

From: Sarah Katz-Hyman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:15:01 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Also look at this photo of my dog, literally sleeping in a bike basket on the Great Highway a few weekends ago. What a dream come true, please don't take that away.

Thank you,

Sarah Katz-Hyman

From: David Enloe
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:57:37 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

David Enloe

--

David Enloe
415-260-6332

From: Kelsey Guarino
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:49:50 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: M. Valeska G-D
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; melgarstaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:17:34 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Get Outlook for Android

From: Jonathan Dirrenberger
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:41:22 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Jonathan Dirrenberger

From: Evelyn Ho
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:33:00 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. As a resident of the Outer Sunset, it's sad to see other parts of the city getting traffic calming that makes biking and walking easier and none of this for us.

Thank you,

Evelyn Ho
94116

From: Eric Mar
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 11:20:51 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Eric Mar
emailericmar@gmail.com
825 La Playa St, #130
San Francisco, California 94121

From: Jeffrey Freschl
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 2:19:24 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Jeffrey Freschl
jlfreschl@gmail.com
1447 45th ave
San Francisco , California 94122

From: Peter T.
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 1:39:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Peter Tangprasertchai
Sent from my iPhone

From: tomo.Hiratsuka
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:30:44 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Kristen Daniel
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:56:02 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Kristen Daniel

From: Diane Lopez
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:07:22 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Diane Lopez

Sent from my iPhone

From: Timothy Humphries
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:21:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Tim Humphries

From: Julia Nalven
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:39:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Julia Nalven
jpnalven@gmail.com

From: Jörg Fockele
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:49 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jörg Fockele
Producer/Director

jorg@fockele.com
917.371-8890
www.eclecticmedialab.com

From: Steve Beyatte
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:04:21 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Dibya Mukhopadhyay
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:40:22 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Claire Jean Uy
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:35:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Hank Rosenblum
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:46:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Hank

From: Helen Vander Wende
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:39:03 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Helen Vander Wende

From: Eric Pascual
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:45:55 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: John Espenhahn
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:49:05 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
John Espenhahn

From: Gabriela Vasconcellos
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:45:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Gabriela de Vasconcellos

From: Lauren Mizock
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:39:04 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Dan Kletter
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:14:57 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing in support of upholding the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As someone from the south peninsula who visits Great Highway Park every chance I get to walk and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. And we usually go to nearby businesses afterwards for food and fun! This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

—dk

From: William Wolf
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:45 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
William Wolf

From: Sasha Ponomareva
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; chanstaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:14:46 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. Without exaggeration, this park has changed my life for the better. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Sasha Ponomareva

Sent from my iPhone

From: David Simpson
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:29:18 PM

---

To the Commissioners,

I urge you to support the Planning Commission's unanimous decision to grant the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and to deny appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I am one of the many San Franciscans who frequent Great Highway Park every weekend to enjoy the Pacific Ocean and its surroundings. The pilot program is essential for me to access and appreciate the coast. This permit preserves the existing compromise that the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed endorsed in 2022 and aligns with the goals of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by promoting recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and creating a safe space for kids, seniors, and the whole community to enjoy the coast. Keeping this pilot enables City agencies to gather data and engage with the community to shape the long-term vision of the Great Highway.

Moreover, the permit allows for important traffic calming measures in the Outer Sunset. This has considerably increased the safety of the neighborhood and is essential for my ability

Sincerely,

David Simpson
Richmond District resident, 94121

From: Paul Lee
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:56:17 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Paul Lee
1311 La Playa St, San Francisco, CA 94122
415-845-4940

From: Yuliya Benkhina
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 2:10:58 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

I look forward to the Great Highway opening to pedestrian traffic every weekend, and I have seen firsthand the joy it brings to San Franciscans and residents from around the Bay – as well as the foot traffic it drives to local Outer Sunset businesses. It's a shame that a minority group is aggressively pushing their vision of a car-centric city against the wishes of San Francisco voters and residents. Don't let them win.

Thank you,

Yuliya Benkhina
Outer Sunset resident, registered voter, & frequent Great Highway Park visitor

From: Carly June Haase
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:55:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Carly

From: danial.chawkins
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:39:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Dania

Sent from my iPhone

From: Alison Worthington
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:21:16 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Cole Imhoff
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardioffice@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 11:30:49 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am a resident of Miraloma Park, and I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I regularly enjoy the Great Highway Park every weekend to walk and enjoy the shoreline and this pilot program is crucial for my access and enjoyment of the land.

This permit maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

Thank you,

--

Cole I.
ci@avicora.com

From: Bridget Buescher
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:29:33 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Bridget Buescher-Dunbar

Sent from my iPhone

From: Karen Kreider Yoder
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:03:09 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Karen Kreider Yoder

Sent from my iPhone

From: Phoebe & Jason Ford
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:07:19 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I am one of the thousands of San Franciscans that visit ocean beach and the Great Highway every weekend and only on the weekends. Last weekend my 3 year old and 5 year old rode their own bikes all the way to the beach, on the sidewalks until the Great Highway park, with the little guy ruining a pair of shoes instead of using a break. When we are at the beach, I can let them roam, because we aren't at the edge of high speed traffic. The weekend Great Highway closures enhance access to the shoreline for families like mine and protects the ocean from pollution generated by cars and tire dust.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast.

Thank you,

Phoebe Ford

From: Maci Britt
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:32:38 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Maci Britt

Sent from my iPhone

From: Dare Cruz
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:42 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

Hello! Im writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I use the Great Highway regularly on weekends to walk, run, bike, skateboard, etc. I even recently taught a friend to ride a bike on the Great Highway! It's such an incredibly welcoming and beautiful part of life in this city and I honestly can't believe there are folks who oppose it. I see so many people of all types coming out to the Great Highway to recreate — even on some of the gloomiest coldest days. There are various routes people in vehicles can take as options when the great highway is closed to car traffic. It's an incredibly reasonable compromise and I couldn't imagine life in the sunset without it.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Dariel

From: Suzanne Armstrong
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:14:18 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

My daughter, husband, and I are among the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Suzanne Armstrong
zan.armstrong@gmail.com
1256 2nd Ave
San Francisco, California 94122

From: rhian.miller
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 1:52:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Rhian Miller
Thomas Graven

From: Sandeep Tata
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:47:59 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sandeep

From: Greer Monteverde
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:55:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Greer

--
Greer Monteverde
310 387 0060

From: Gregor, Eugene C.
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Cc: Eugene Gregor
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:36:57 PM

---

Commissioners --

I am writing as a senior resident of the inner Richmond to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This is an easy decision prompted by a meretricious effort by a small but noisy group of city residents unwilling to accept the city wide views expressed in a recent referendum vote to support converting the great highway north of Sloat from car to pedestrian and cyclist access.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Best regards.

Eugene Gregor
SF district 1 resident

From: Alan Marquardt
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 11:03:18 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Adam Levin
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:21:13 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Adam

From: pierre-marie Martin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:01:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Annie Armstrong
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:31:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Annie Armstrong

From: Sierra Barsten
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:14:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Sierra Barsten

From: Laurel Sipes
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:53:22 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Laurel Sipes, San Francisco resident

From: Lynn
To: Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:06:44 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

--

Sent from my cell phone. Apologies in advance for typos and bad grammar.

From: Jina B
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:44:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jina B

From: Marla Landa
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Monday, February 5, 2024 7:13:48 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I live in lower great highway and taraval and I beg that we make the great highway more friendly to the people. I see the joy and the benefits firsthand!

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Marla Landa
marlalandagmail.com

San Francisco, California 94116

From: Shah, Tarang
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:32:45 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

TArang Shah

From: Hanna Pittock
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:13:04 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Hanna Pittock

Sent from my iPhone

From: Ron Hirsch
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:38:36 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

Note: I live on 46th Ave near Balboa, just blocks from the Great Highway. I own and use a car daily, and STILL I think a park is more important than a highway.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

ron hirsch
714 46th Ave
SF, CA 94121

From: Ruth Jewett
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:38:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Meredith Nelson
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:05:18 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Comcast
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:13:29 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: MALINDA WALKER
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:37:28 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Patricia Mara-Smith
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:23:24 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Patricia L Mara-Smith

From: Sabine Angulo
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:38:38 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sabine Angulo

"Kindness is the language which the deaf can hear and the blind can see."
~Mark Twain

From: Lauren Sloss
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:41:06 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Lauren Sloss

From: stephanie\_haumueller
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:59:34 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Stephanie

From: Derek Duan
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardlostaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:06:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

From: Tugce Yegul
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:43:45 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Nakiye Tugce Yegul

From: Julie Kessler
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:54:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Julie Kessler

From: Ashlyn Kong
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:20:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Ashlyn Kong

--

Ashlyn Kong
kong.ashlyn@gmail.com

From: Tosca Magnus
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:44:18 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Tosca Magnus

Sent from my iPhone

From: Avanti Mankar
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:11:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Pascoe, Jason
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:27:35 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Dr. Jason Pascoe

From: rohitvarkey@gmail.com
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 1:03:45 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

rohitvarkey@gmail.com

,

From: Lawrence D Hammer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 10:34:22 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This is of particular concern to me as I live less than 300 yards from the Great Highway.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Patricia
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:30:01 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Best,
Patricia Fonseca Flores
San Francisco resident

From: nicholas.price
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:34 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Nicholas Price

From: David Dunford
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 9:00:56 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

David Dunford
dhdunford@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Sara Barz
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:11:42 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

California would look so stupid to remove a beloved Oceanside park in favor of allowing auto access (and not even parking!) on a limited-access road against the will of the voters. Please please please deny this appeal.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Sara Barz
skbarz@gmail.com
342 Hearst Ave
San Francisco, California 94112

From: Uzes Charm
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:06:26 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Cora ♀

From: John Oram
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 1:02:09 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
John Oram

From: Joe Fish
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:26:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Joe Fish

From: Steve Matthews
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 9:56:26 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Steve Matthews

Sent from my iPhone

From: Max Hurley
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Kevin LaPorte
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:39:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Hannah Warden
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 8:58:48 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

Losing this beautiful park to cars would be a travesty!

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Hannah Warden
hef.warden@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Tara McAteer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:39:34 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Frida Pensamiento
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:18:52 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who values the importance of access to green spaces in the midst of a crowded city, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Frida Pensamiento

From: Caterina Belardetti
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:37:05 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Caterina Belardetti
2118 44th Avenue, SF

From: Adelina Aramburo
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:20:23 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Adelina Aramburo
1372 La Playa St.
San Francisco, CA 94122
415 682-7758

From: Roan Kattouw
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:09:52 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Roan Kattouw

From: GLORIA ROMERO
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:59:19 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Gloria Romero Romerog1222@gmail.com
925.597.8993

G. Romero

From: Michael Spring
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:54:50 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Sonia King
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:04:55 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sonia King
<http://www.mosaicworks.com>

"Mosaic is hard. Art is harder."

From: Frederik Nielsen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:44:10 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Frederik Nielsen

From: Michael Lopes
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:26:14 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
MICHAEL LOPES

From: Kim Vinh
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:38:08 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Kim Vinh
Outer Sunset resident, educator, parent

From: Adrienne DuComb
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 1:00:28 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Kathryn Carney
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 3:01:00 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I walk along Great Highway several times a day with my family and wheel assisted dog. Every single morning without fail I see people speeding through the red lights on Upper Great Highway. Not only is the park an amazing resource for families and neighbors to enjoy the coast, but closing the street to cars is a safety issue. As a resident of 47th I have seen the traffic calming measures ease the reckless driving that can come with street closures.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Kathryn carney, 47th Ave resident

Sent from my iPhone

From: Tara McAteer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:39:25 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Tara McAteer
Outer Sunset

From: Chris Windbiel
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:20:18 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Chris Windbiel

From: Erinne Davis
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:59:09 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Erinne Davis
1939 47th Ave
San Francisco, CA 94116

From: Eric Wooley
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:37:33 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park regularly walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Eric Wooley

From: peter.munks
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:10:33 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

peter munks
petemunks@gmail.com
2266 42nd Ave.
sf, California 94116

From: Michael Grizzle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:44:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Mike

From: catherine
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:01:17 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Catherine

From: Sarah McLaughlin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:54:45 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I am also a home owning resident of the Outer Sunset (I live just 4 blocks from the park) and it has greatly improved our neighborhood. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Bauer, Scott
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:37:31 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Scott Bauer, MD

---

Scott R. Bauer, MD, ScM

Assistant Professor of Medicine, Urology, Epidemiology & Biostatistics
UCSF and San Francisco VA Medical Center
4150 Clement St, Building 2, Room 135
Office: 415-221-4810x24322
Pager: 415-607-3598
<https://vadgim.ucsf.edu/>
<https://profiles.ucsf.edu/scott.bauer>
For meetings, you can see my availability here.

Pronouns: he, him, his Anticipated out of office dates: 12/23 – 1/2 (holidays)

From: Sophia Williamson
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 9:38:05 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Shira

From: Max Elman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:26:06 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Max Elman

From: Julia Reiff
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 9:35:24 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Dana Dunford
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 8:47:06 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I live on Great Highway and would sell or move out of this city if you don't keep the Great Highway for the people. This city has gone downhill and having this parkway is one of the few things making it beautiful and attractive again.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Dana Dunford
danahdunford@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Tryg
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:23 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Lynn
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:06:22 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

From: Nicole Birch
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:36:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Nicole Birch | ACD Art Director

From: Julia Street
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:24:55 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Julia

Sent from my iPhone

From: Zoe Pilla
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:44:05 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This is a regular reminder that cities should be designed for their people and public access, not for cars.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast.

Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you, Zoe Pilla!

From: Debbie Leifer and Howard Schwartz
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; melgarstaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org; Great Highway Park
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:33:56 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Debra Leifer

Sent from my T-Mobile 5G Device
Get Outlook for Android

From: vanessa.altman-siegel
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:54:40 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Jon Pierucci
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:01:03 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I am a native and lifelong San Franciscan who grew up close to the Great Highway—right near the zoo—and have never been able to enjoy the GH and environs as much as now with the road closed. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jon Pierucci

From: Alexis Flores
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 9:00:21 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Alexis Flores
alexisf681@gmail.com

San Francisco , California 94116

From: Nikolas Ignacio
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 2:59:01 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to bike and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Furthermore, I find it offensive that detractors to this are trying to use the coastal commission as a means to circumvent the will of the voters who organized and showed up on the ballot to make their desires known. Must we all attend every coastal commission hearing on our own limited personal time to further voice our support? Please... let us have the park that we fought for.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Shayla L
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 9:22:27 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, skateboard, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

I do wish there were some beautification inclusions but regardless, there should not be a highway on the beach. We voted, we won, let's put this to rest.

Thank you,

From: Maxim Derbin
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:22:56 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

This is especially close to my heart since I'm residing at 2136 Great Hwy, San Francisco, CA 94116 and this matter will affect mine and my neighbors life significantly!

Thank you,
Maksim Aleksandrovich Derbin

From: Tyeler
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:58:17 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Tyeler Quentmeyer

From: Deb Wells
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:33:43 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Jan Scott
To: Brian Stokle; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 5:09:45 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As a 50-year Sunset District resident, it is very important to maintain this pilot. I strongly support the compromise approved by the mayor and the Board of Supervisors in 2022 and the re recreational uses of the Great Highway.

Thank you,
Joanne Scott
District 4

From: Scott Bauer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:36:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Scott Bauer

From: Colleen Beach
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:09:28 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

In addition, to allowing San Franciscans to enjoy the shoreline, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Colleen Beach
lizardinthewires@gmail.com

San Francisco, California 94127

From: Andrea Davis
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:19:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

I live in the Outer Sunset, and traffic calming is essential. I walk and run in the neighborhood multiple times a day, and I don't think there is a day that goes by that I don't witness driving that endangers pedestrians. I've even experienced a driver yelling at me "Wait until I hit you, then you can worry."

The Great Highway offers a safe way for me as a pedestrian or a cyclist to move between the north and south parts of the neighborhood.

Thank you,

Andréa

From: Van Rookhuyzen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:06:22 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Van Rookhuyzen RN

Sent from my iPhone

From: Michelle Fliegauf
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:10 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As a home owner on the Great Highway and one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Michelle Fliegauf
1626 Great Highway
#3
SF, CA 94122

From: Kendra Pinkerton
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:36:44 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kendra Pinkerton-Smith

Sent from my iPhone

From: Seth Tanen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 12:27:21 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

My best,

Seth

From: Gregory Condes
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:17:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Gregory Condes

From: Genevieve Levin
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:36:00 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Jessica S.
To: Brian.stokle@sfgov.org; Boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 9:20:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Jessica Straits
1933 Ulloa Street

From: COURTNEY HOGENDORN
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 2:55:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Suzanna Park

Sent from my iPhone

From: Sarah Rogers
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:05:56 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. I cannot believe that we are still having to address objections from opponents who want unfettered driving access to this incredible public resource.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

The Great Highway park is accessible and welcoming and is a great place for me to meet friends young and old who have physical limitations that make much of San Francisco infeasible. It's a happy, welcoming, and community-oriented park on the weekends and should be celebrated.

Sarah Rogers
serogers@gmail.com
371 Elsie Street
San Francisco, California 94110

From: Lisa Perlmutter
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:32:36 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Caitlin Madrigal
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:36:42 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Caitlin Madrigal

From: Trisha Cassidy
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 3:27:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Andrew Watson
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:19:47 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Andrew Watson
(443) 668-9972
3945 Lincoln Way
San Francisco, CA 94122

From: Bethellen Levitan
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:57:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Bethellen Levitan

From: Christy Smith
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:18:25 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Anna Cressman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:08 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Charlotte Mooney
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 7:59:55 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

Dear Joel,

I live in your district and was excited to vote for you last when, after 13 years of living in San Francisco, I finally became a US citizen. I am writing to ask for your support for a safer great highway. Specifically, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I'm a single mom, and the Great Highway is extremely important to me and my two young children. We visit regularly so that the children can practice riding their bikes, and every time I feel incredibly lucky to live in such a stunning locale, as well as a rare place in America that supports residents to develop sustainable, active and safe transport. My kids ride their bikes to school, taking one car off the road, because of initiatives like the weekend compromise. People in cars have many, many other roads to choose from. Young children have few safe options. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you for considering,
Charlotte, Sam (6) and Eve (9)

Charlotte Mooney
char.mooney@gmail.com
1701 25th avenue
San Francisco , California 94122

From: Leah Sakamoto
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:44:05 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Kind regards,
Leah Sakamoto
415.828.4140

From: Jim Boyer
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:31:09 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Let's make the Great Highway a fun and safe place for visitors.

Thank you,

Jim & Judy Boyer, 2510 47th Avenue

From: Laurence Delisle
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:00:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Gene Thompson
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 12:20:20 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Gene Thompson
gthomp11@mail.ccsf.edu

San Francisco, California 94122

From: Priscilla Choi
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:05:55 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Best,

Priscilla Choi

From: Lola Beast
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:54:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Angela

From: Star Beltman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:16:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Star

From: Rachel Behler
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:51:19 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Rachel Behler

Sent from my iPhone

From: Roxy Bowerman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 3:19:26 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Roxana Civitello

Sent from my iPhone

From: Gaelen Gates
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:57:49 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Gaelen Gates
530 Staples Ave.

From: Kelvin Yap
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:27:27 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Cheers,
Kelvin

From: Frances Elsberry
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:47:02 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Frances Elsberry

From: Jonathan Gripshover
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:19:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Charles Whitfield
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:18:19 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Charles Whitfield

From: Rachel Staff
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:25:29 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Rachel Staff

From: Steven Grafton
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 12:19:14 PM

---

Dear Commissioners, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses. Thank you,

From: SUE DRAKE
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Cc: Elliot Drake
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:36:01 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park weekly to walk, or bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Susan Drake

Sent from my iPad

From: Cristina M
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:54:35 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. The Great Highway park and the closure to cars of this space is one of the highlights of San Francisco, for the majority of residents and for visitors to our city. It is also safer for pedestrians, and more environmentally friendly.

I drive in the city as well and don't feel that the closure of the great highway hinders me at all.

Please keep the park closed to cars.

Thank you!

Maria Stan

1222 Clayton St,
San Francisco, CA 94114

From: Erin Mountain
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:41:58 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Erin
Sent from my iPhone.

From: Elliot Schwartz
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:05:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Elliot Schwartz

From: Friday Apaliski
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 7:57:54 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you please uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Friday, Jason, and Everett Apaliski
SF Residents

Friday Apaliski
541-510-3893

From: Steven Cipriano
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:35:30 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who has visited Great Highway Park to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Steven Cipriano

From: Paul Doerr
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 2:51:06 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Paul

From: Cory Jircitano
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:00:15 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Cory

Sent from my iPhone

From: robin.kutner
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:03:55 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

robin kutner
rlk\_117@yahoo.com

san francisco, California 94117

From: Kira Barsten
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:14:07 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kira Barsten
San Francisco resident

Sent from my iPhone

From: Hench, Kat
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:47:38 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

*****

The information in this email is confidential and may be legally privileged. It is intended solely for the addressee. Access to this email by anyone else is unauthorized. If you are not the intended recipient, any disclosure, copying, distribution or any action taken or omitted to be taken in reliance on it, is prohibited and may be unlawful. When addressed to our clients any opinions or advice contained in this email are subject to the terms and conditions expressed in the governing KPMG client engagement letter.

*****

From: Melissa Marfell
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:35:16 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

-Melissa Marfell

From: eyon finney
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:41:44 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Sivan Adato
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:02:16 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sivan Adato
Sent from my iPhone

From: David Getzler
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 7:57:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I am a 68 year old cyclist and love enjoying the Great Highway on Friday afternoons and weekends. I take my granddaughter often and she has the freedom to ride her stryder bike alongside me without the threat and danger of cars. The enjoyment of the ocean is crucial to my health and well being and if you saw how many of us enjoy it, I think it would bring a smile to your faces knowing you are doing the right thing by upholding the Coastal Zone Permit.

I live in the Outer Sunset and the Great Highway Park has greatly improved the safety of my neighborhood when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

David Getzler
415-816-5477

From: Uchenna Okoye
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 7:30:02 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Uchenna

From: Carol Brownson
To: Stokle, Brian \(REC\); boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 3:19:13 PM

---

Commissioners:

I'm a great lover of the Great Highway Park. I'm also disabled. I get around San Francisco on a mobility scooter and public transit. I can no longer drive.

On page 71 of the appeal packet (section E2) I read that "many elderly and disabled people are unable to walk to Ocean Beach. They access Ocean Beach and the coast by driving along the Upper Great Highway, taking in the view and perhaps rolling down the car window and breathing in fresh air."

I see they want to limit my access to the Great Highway Park to finding someone to drive me along it and a perhaps roll down the window.

What I do now: Either I roll through Golden Gate Park to Lincoln and the Great Highway, or take the 1 California to 32nd, transfer to the 18, get off at Lincoln and Great Highway, roll right on to the Lincoln end of the Park and go! I don't have to breath gas fumes as I roll along smelling the sea air and listening to the birds and the laughter of little kids enjoying their small bikes and scooters. I can stop and watch the waves breaking. There's been some excitement there this winter. I want to take my time watching.

I didn't realize there were local businesses until I rolled along the Great Highway Park, stopped off for lunch at one of several nearby restaurants. I had fun chatting with other gardeners and bird lovers when I rolled back from Sloat Garden Center with cigar plants in my front basket. "Yes, indeed the hummingbirds like them. That's why I'm planting these."

Please reject this appeal so the pilot can gather the data that is needed.

Carol Brownson

--

Carol Brownson

From: Lara Klemens
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 2:42:57 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I have lived in the city my entire life and never witnessed so much community use and enjoy of the area until the Park was instituted.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Lara Klemens

From: David Alexander
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:54:11 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Thank you,

Dave

From: Kevin Smokler
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 12:16:30 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

My name is Kevin Smokler, a 23 year resident of San Francisco. I write to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

The permit also authorizes important traffic reduction in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Kevin Smokler

From: Erin Smith
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:57:00 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Christy Smith
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:18:08 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Claire Vela
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:22:39 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Claire Vela

Sent from my iPhone

From: Melissa Arioli
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:46:56 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Melissa Arioli

From: Stephen Lambe
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:08:52 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Stephen Lambert

From: Mathew Bittleston
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:11:27 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Mathew Bittleston
mbittleston@gmail.com
2859 Harrison St
San Francisco, California 94110

From: Seiken Nakama
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:35:39 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

The information in this message may be confidential, proprietary, or subject to privilege. If you are not the intended recipient, you should not copy, distribute, disclose, or use this message or any information it holds (including attachments). If you have received this message in error, please let me know immediately, and permanently delete it. Thank you.

From: Bea B
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:18:49 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend (& on Fridays as I have a variable work schedule) to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is vital for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Bea Batz

From: Jerry Reiva
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:05:46 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Jerry Palarca-Reiva
Outer Sunset Resident

Sent from my iPhone

From: Joshua Lewis
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 11:47:40 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Joshua Lewis
joshglewis@me.com

San Francisco, California 94112

From: Camille Laturno
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:06:18 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Camille Laturno
Sent from my iPhone

From: Cara Eisenberg
To: Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 7:25:07 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. I personally get to bring my disabled mom down to beach to stroll each weekend in comfort because of the park! This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Cara Eisenberg

From: Katie Parks
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:17:06 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Katie Parks

Sent from my iPhone

From: Mariana Prutton
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:40:08 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Tyler Jones
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 7:57:30 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Tyler

From: Rachel Hartman
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:01:52 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Rachel Hartman, District 1 resident

Rachel Hartman
rachelhartman@gmail.com
811 41st Ave
San Francisco, California 94121

From: Dasha Yurkevich
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:10:30 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Dasha Yurkevich
Leader of Youth Bike America

From: Hwaji Shin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:05:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Hwaji Shin

From: Holly Ruxin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:34:09 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Barbara Butler
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:22:31 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Barbara Butler
650-333-6953
Sent from my mobile

From: Scott Sharpe
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:34:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I've been biking along that highway for over a decade, but only after it was closed could I actually enjoy it. Though I would prefer it stay closed permanently, the weekends it's closed are fantastic. The pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Scott Sharpe

From: Peter Vitt
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 2:40:26 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Peter vitt

Sent from my iPhone

From: roz.arbel
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; ChanStaff \(BOS\)
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:56:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. And as a person with mobility issues, I see this as a perfect opportunity to practice walking and try to rehabilitate myself. Last summer BORP had adaptive vehicles, and what a wonderful program!

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Roz Arbel

From: Kevin Starr
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 2:27:27 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I live at 1448 La Playa, on the last row of houses. We look across the Great Highway to the drones and ocean. It is a delight to see families enjoying the Great Highway on weekends.

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This permit, of course, simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022. I have lived on the Great Highway since 1984 and this was a huge step forward.

With the Highway closed it is an inconvenience to drive surface streets when we need to go south. We'd happily spend triple the additional time if it meant keeping the Highway closed to cars and open to families on the weekend.

Thank you,

Kevin Starr
1448 La Playa
(415) 999 2640

Kevin Starr, MD
CEO
Mulago Foundation

From: Michel Lavoie
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:53:55 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Merci / Thank you
Michel D Lavoie

From: Victor Cee
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 8:22:50 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Elan Levin
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:46:48 PM

---

Hey— Keep the Great Highway for the people. the people on bikes, walking, running. I'm a driver in San Francisco and i'm the first to say that we need more spaces safe from the dangers of vehicles. JFK is amazing. The Great Highway is amazing. Please don't make them into just another car thoroughfare in SF. It's special- please help us keep it that way.

Elan (resident of D9)

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Tag Savage
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:18:49 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Jason Dewees
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 11:43:11 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

As a resident of the Sunset, I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Andy Ia
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 9:06:12 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Patrick Lindley
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 2:40:18 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Patrick Lindley
San Francisco

From: Andrew Mullan
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 7:16:46 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Andrew Mullan
askmullan@gmail.com

San Francisco , California 94124

From: Alexandria F
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:15:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to keep safe all visitors to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Alexandria

From: Elliot
To: MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; chanstaff@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:33:18 PM

---

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As local Richmond residents/home owners, our family supports the Great Highway park weekend compromise.
A coastal park promenade increases coastal access and allows San Francisco more flexibility to protect coastal habitats by removing car pollution from the coast.

Elliot Drake & Kwankao Bhuto

From: Matt Korman
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:53:48 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Matt Korman

From: Luisina Barba
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 2:20:25 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you, Luisina Barba

Enviado desde mi iPhone

From: Terry Sayre
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:56:29 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you, Terry Sayre, Richmond District Resident

From: Lucas Lux
To: Stokle, Brian \(REC\); boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardistaff@sfgov.org; Great Highway Park; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:05:35 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Lucas Lux

sent from my smart phone

From: Lillian Archer
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:04:41 PM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Lillian Archer
lillian.b.archer@gmail.com
1578 8th Avenue
San Francisco, California 94122

From: Teo Zanella
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:34:53 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Teo Zanella | <https://teoz.us>

From: Gustav Lindqvist
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:18:44 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Nichole Gangitano
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:34:51 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Nichole Gangitano
Sunset resident

From: Emily Voigtlander
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:21:27 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Emily Seliger

From: Tim Durning
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 10:00:42 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Tim Durning
timothydurning@gmail.com
2760 41st Ave
San Francisco, California 94116

From: Vanessa Gregson
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:46:23 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Vanessa Gregson

From: JS
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 7:56:20 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
John Springer
42nd avenue

Sent from my iPhone

From: Elaine Perez
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:39:12 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Elaine

Sent from my iPhone

From: Matthew Stevens
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 8:59:20 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am a San Francisco resident and writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Matt Stevens
San Francisco Resident

From: Hannah Russell
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:53:32 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Best,
Russell
(859) 421-7899

From: Katrina Sohriakoff
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Sunday, February 4, 2024 2:09:19 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Katrina Sohriakoff

From: Peter O'Neil
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 4:31:08 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As a neighborhood resident and one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Pete O'Neil
3234 Santiago St
SF, CA
94116

From: Lindsey Lutts
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 7:10:38 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Lindsey McGuire

Sent from my iPhone

From: ian.hespelt
To: ChanStaff@sfgov.org; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; brian.stokle@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 12:02:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065. As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway. In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

I live in the outer sunset neighborhood and this has a massive impact on my quality of life as a resident. My family and I make use of this space for recreation every weekend, we need more car free spaces in San Francisco. Do not allow the group with the biggest lawyers to decide the outcome for the people who live here. Please allows the enjoyment of this public space to continue, free from dangerous distracted drivers and pollution.

Thank you,

Ian Hespelt

From: Rick
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 6:56:25 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

This is like a nightmare replaying over and over again. My wife and I have been to the GREAT HIGHWAY PARK numerous times and it's always filled with people of all sorts. The people have spoken through the ballot box. Please do not let these squeaky wheels get there way. My only complaint is that it's not closed to cars 7 days!!

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Katie Chung
To: NorthCentralCoast@Coastal
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Saturday, February 3, 2024 6:52:42 AM

---

Honorable North Central Coast Coastal Commission,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

My child learned to bike ride in Great highway and it continues to be one our favorite places to ride on weekends - it is the only flat and protected place with ample space for all to enjoy in the city allows for this.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and are vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Katie Chung
katie.chung.01@gmail.com
31 Ashton ave
San francisco, California 94112

From: Kippy Chan
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 6:38:54 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

From: Brent Robinson
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 2:46:09 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am a regular voter, a civil rights lawyer, and a homeowner in Supervisor Melgar's district. I write to urge you to affirm the Planning Commission's unanimous decision to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project, and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park regularly to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety and that of my family when we walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Brent A. Robinson

From: davidperrysf@gmail.com
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiosstaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com;
MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Friday, February 2, 2024 11:14:59 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

I'm old and I walk the UGH every day it is car-free.

Thank you,
David Perry
2134 46th Ave

From: Alex
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 5:14:41 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Sent from my iPhone

From: Christopher Plaskett
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:18:43 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Christopher

From: Laura Wood
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 2:26:22 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,
Laura Wood

From: Viet-Hung Nguyen
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Thursday, February 1, 2024 9:55:05 AM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

As one of the thousands of San Franciscans who visit Great Highway Park every weekend to walk, roll, jog, bike, and simply enjoy the Pacific Ocean, the pilot program is crucial for my access to and enjoyment of the shoreline. This permit simply maintains the existing compromise approved by the Board of Supervisors and Mayor Breed in 2022 and furthers the objectives of the Coastal Act and San Francisco's Local Coastal Plan by enhancing recreational use of the Ocean Beach shoreline and providing safe space for kids, seniors, and the entire community to benefit from the coast. Maintaining this pilot allows City agencies to collect data and perform community engagement to help determine the long-term future of the Great Highway.

In addition, the permit authorizes important traffic calming in the Outer Sunset. This has greatly improved the safety of the neighborhood and is vital to my safety when I walk and bike to Ocean Beach and nearby businesses.

Thank you,

Viet-Hung Nguyen
USF

From: Matt Paulus
To: brian.stokle@sfgov.org; boardofappeals@sfgov.org; engardiostaff@sfgov.org; Info@greathighwaypark.com; MelgarStaff@sfgov.org; NorthCentralCoast@Coastal; chanstaff@sfgov.org
Subject: Keep the Great Highway Park weekend compromise. Reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065
Date: Wednesday, January 31, 2024 3:33:38 PM

---

Dear Commissioners,

I am writing as a SF resident on 47th Ave in the Outer Parkside district to ask that you uphold the Planning Commission's unanimous determination to issue the Coastal Zone Permit for the Upper Great Highway pilot project and that you reject appeals 23-062, 23-064, 23-065.

